The Mænnerchor.

Monday evening's train brought from Omaha Mr. H. Strasburg, president, H. Raven, leader, and twentytwo members of the Omaha Mænnerchor, to take part in the exercises of the Columbus Mænnerchor given at the Opera House on Monday evening. They were met at the depot, and with the Cornet Band escorted to the rooms of the Mænnerchor club opposite the Court House, where a good time was had in toasts and speeches.

The leader of the Omaha club in his speech stated that they were pleased to meet their friends of Columbus, and with them participate in exercises which were ennobling and elevating. Music hath its charms, and since David sang to Saul it has obtained generally that music has much to do with suppressing evil. And here, said he, is a matter of which I desire to speak. We are, or profess to be temperate, While we are not temperance men, nor have we views in accord with the movers of the bill in the present legislature of Nebraska, still we are temperate in all things, and we believe this right.

In the evening the Opera House was filled with the music-loving citizens, and the Columbus society, led by Emil Pohl, rendered the music set forth in the programme, exceedingly well, and demonstrated that few societies anywhere have such a collection of good voices. Their rendering of "Come where my love lies dreaming" was good and was loudly applauded, affording the audience an opportunity of realizing and enjoying the force and compass of Mr. Gores's voice. The Omaha club rendered several pieces in admirable style. The entertainment throughout was good, and of a nature to do credit to the performers and leaders.

A New Firm.

C. E. Morse and Phil. Cain, both well-known to most of our Nebrasreaders, entered into partnership Saturday, and will hereafter conduct the Tattersall as a livery, feed and sale stable. Charley has been engaged in the business here for a number of years, and has, so far as we know, given universal satisfaction. He has always employed only the most careful and considerate help, and so the public who have patronized him, have been well served at all times. A new building has just been completed and entire structure 84x61 :t. 84 -- fronting here as there, tax-payers will not be on Olive. The new building will be able to see the reason why he is not used exclusively for livery, and has all the appointments of a firstclass livery, including shelter for buggies and carriages, harness wardrobes, &c., &c. Large additions have been made to the livery stock, in the line of buggies, horses,

&c., and the old reputation of the Tattersall will be fully sustained by the new firm.

Fruit Prospects. EDITOR JOURNAL :- Your correspondent from Rising City asks "through the JOURNAL whether the late severe cold weather has injured any portion of the fruit prospects for next season?" Music Hall Association.

The annual meeting of the above named association was called to meet on Saturday evening last at the Opera House. The president was there ready to preside, the treasurer to report the state of the finances, and the secretary to give an account of his department, but as only ten shares were represented, not being a quorum, no business could be transacted. It will not, therefore, be out of order for the JOURNAL to give a statement in brief of the matters of the association as they would have been set forth to the stockholders, if a quorum of them had been present. The total receipts for the year ending Saturday were $732.50; the disbursements have been, for sidewalk, $140; taxes, 2 years, $84; janitor's services, $130; insurance, $45; the mortgage debt of the association has been reduced $225. The remainder of the receipts was used for fuel, lights and orders not paid the previous year. The present indebtedness is $1200. The officers deserve great credit for the manner in which they have exercised their trust, and the stockholders should at least have been present to signify their approval of the economic care
