He expects to return in a few days to his ranch on Cedar river, at the mouth of Timber creek with stock that will improve our breeds of hogs, horned cattle, horses and mules.

—We give the list of laws as signed by the Governor. It will be noticed that the "capitol steal" title reads "A bill to provide for the erection of a wing to the capitol building," &c., and not the Capitol building, &c. Of course Lincoln thinks she has secured the Capitol for all time to come, because of the enormous expenditures that have already been made by the State at that point.

Mr. Wiggins congratulates himself upon the possession of one of the best little farms in the country.

—When the swallows come we naturally think that balmy days will follow, and when the vendor of cheap jewelry comes we naturally look to see some person duped, and are not often mistaken. On Monday, the cheap jewelry man was here and many were his victims, but he met one woman who raised his hopes only to dash them to earth, and leave him a poor disconsolate peddler "all forlorn." She invested, then repented, then went for the peddler and persuaded him to swap the money she had invested for the jewelry she had bought. It was a lively discussion, but he swapped.

—Have you homestead rights or timber claims you wish to dispose of? Have you bought railroad lands and are unable to meet your payments? Have you improved or unimproved deeded lands you wish to sell? R. lands, large numbers of persons from the east correspond with or make personal application to them in regard to lands. Now is the time to dispose of your lands, as the tide of immigration has already set in, and a great number of land buyers from the east will be in this country during the present month.

—A convention is to be held at the Grand Pacific, Chicago, March 17th, in the interests of immigration, and the settlement of the great west. There will be delegates from all parts of the States interested. The Catholic Bishop here has appointed Rev. Fathers Ryan and Smith of Platte county to represent Nebraska at the convention, and it is to be hoped that great good will result from their deliberations. Father Ryan has long been in the harness, knows the needs of the country thoroughly and has always taken a lively interest in immigration matters. Father Smith is younger by far, but has an excellent head on his shoulders, and will make a good member of the convention.

—George Rieder has removed his grocery from Nebraska Avenue to Eleventh street, and will hereafter occupy the new brick building between Dr. Heintz's drug-store and Gerber's furniture store. Geo. has been very successful in business here, and well deserves it because he is considerate and obliging, and besides, furnishes excellent goods at living rates. He desires it to be understood that he wishes to see all his old customers at the new place, together with as many new ones as possible of those particular kind of individuals that will talk only in one tongue, but will speak to you in English, German, Swiss or—well we don't know how many other languages he knows.

—Justice, Bateman & Co. of Philadelphia, in their circular of March 1st, say: "The wool market of February is moderately active. Prices of all qualities were firm. The light, open medium wools or those improved by merino crosses are in most request, and scarce; prices for the latter showed considerable buoyancy. The London auctions now progressing for the colonial wools opened quite too high to admit of importations to America, and our markets are unaffected by it. We think the future of the wool business presents encouraging features. The severe cold weather of the past winter has caused larger consumption of wool goods than for several years, which undoubtedly will encourage the running of all the woolen machinery now in motion. At this season of the year territorial wools are scarce, and very good prices can be had for all good lots as fast as they arrive."

—Wanted Immediately. A girl to attend to children and assist generally. Apply to Mrs. Carow on 11th street, 2 doors west of John Stauffer's.

—Lumber Given Away. This is the heading to a partial price-list just printed by us for Messrs. Jaeggi & Schupbach. Our young friends but recently entered the lists as dealers in lumber, and are ambitious enough to throw down the gauntlet and defy competition in prices. It takes time to accomplish great moves, but they have taken the time, and they authorize us to say that their prices are fearfully and wonderfully low for central Nebraska. Such prices were never before known here, and these gentlemen deserve the thanks of the community for bringing them down to the very bed-rock, which will enable every man to make desired improvements. Cheap lumber has been the crying want of the country heretofore, and we are glad to know that that want is now supplied. Call on them and get a price-list.

District No. 8. G. B. Darr's school in this district closed last Friday. From Sup't Barrett, who was present, we gather some facts in regard to the school and the district. The Board, consisting of W. D. Davies, Director, Peter Wheeler, Treasurer, and Mr. Losey, Moderator, take a very lively interest in school matters. Every facility for teaching, and for the comfort and convenience of the children, is provided. Mr. Barrett reviewed the classes on Friday last, and was well pleased with the school. He pays the parents of the district a high compliment in saying that there were more of them present on the occasion mentioned than he has seen all the year in all the other schools besides.

Memoriam. Died, Feb. 15th, 1879, Pearl A., infant daughter of Barclay and Rebecca Jones, aged 9 months and 15 days. Draw the curtains, softly tread In the room where baby lay. Piercing thought, our Pearl is dead. Baby died to-day.

Put away her tiny dresses,— Dolls and playthings put away. We shall miss sweet Pearl's caresses, Since she died to-day.

Leave the casket with its treasure— Lovingly baby turned to clay. She is happy with the angels, Since she died to-day.

Give her now your latest kiss,— Dry those tears and come away. In a happier world than this Baby lives to-day.
