The Commissioners of Seward county have given notice for holding special elections in certain precincts on the 31 day of June, 1879, in that county, for precinct bonds and tax for the Lincoln & North-western railroad or the Blue Valley & Northwestern railroad,—the A. & N. interest.

A. & N. Triumphant.

At the meeting of the County Commissioners yesterday it was agreed to submit the A. & N. proposition for $100,000 to vote as soon as practicable. The U. P. officials refused to submit to vote a similar proposition for $95,000. The call for election will be made next week.

THERE appears to be trouble with the railroads leading west from Chicago, as they have already been notified that freight will be diverted from Chicago by apportionment in New York, but the St. Louis trunk lines will be allowed to pro rate on through business to Missouri river points until the Chicago roads recede from their western low rates.

DURING the month of April last the Union Pacific railroad company sold 23,529.72 acres of land; the amount realized was $110,147.35; number of purchasers, 305. By recent public demonstrations of the people one would form the opinion that the democratic representatives in congress have made and forced an issue upon President Hayes in the manner of presenting the army appropriation bill, which promptly induced the President to veto the same, will in the end come back to give them much trouble as a political issue in future contests.

CHARLES F. FREEMAN of Pocasset, Mass., a Second Adventist, killed his little daughter on the 2d inst. He says the Lord had directed him to sacrifice her, as she would rise again in three days. This religious fanaticism undoubtedly insane and his brethren should have found it out and confined him in a lunatic asylum before he committed so inhuman an act as murdering his own child.

BEN. BUTLER still manifests symptoms of kindness of heart that would be very difficult from the evidence adduced to disprove. He owns about twenty thousand acres of what he calls good farming lands in Wisconsin, and offers it all, to be divided up into proper sized farms, for migrating negroes. Ben. Butler cannot be such a terrible old sinner after all.

PRESIDENT HAYES sent back to the House of Representatives on the morning of the 29th ult., the army bill with his veto. The message is somewhat lengthy, discussing all the questions involved in the bill in a candid and masterly manner. We hope to find space for the publication of the message or a portion of it in some future number of the JOURNAL, and believe every citizen should read it.

The army appropriation bill was taken up in the house on the 1st inst., and the question being, shall the bill pass notwithstanding the objections of the President, thereupon the house refused to pass the bill over the President's veto, the vote standing yes 120, yea 110, not being a necessary two-thirds vote in the affirmative. It was a strictly party vote. Three of the greenbackers voted for the bill, and nine against it.

LOUISIANIANS are getting somewhat alarmed about the negro exodus and have passed resolutions in their Constitutional Convention to reassure the negroes who are fleeing from the State. Such proceedings will give them no additional rights, and the fact is now published to the world that the lives and property of negroes in Louisiana are not protected by the law officers, and men who murder and rob them are never punished for their crimes.

Some General Considerations. At this writing (Tuesday morning), we do not know in what shape the railroad question may be submitted, but there are some general considerations, we think, that can be treated of without doing the least injustice to any third Company that may yet lay its propositions before the voters of Platte.

We must assume that men, as individuals or as united in communities and corporations, will work for their own interests, or what they consider such. In this problem, Columbus, the main, market-town of the county, has no interests which are not those of the county, as well. What benefits her will benefit the county; what hurts the county will hurt her.

The voters of Platte will be asked for money—money, which will have to be raised by taxation; money, which, until paid, will be a mortgage upon your lands, your houses, your property of every description. You know what taxes are, and how difficult it is to provide for their annual payment. This is all the expense to you, and the practical question for each man to answer for himself, when the day of election comes in, Will it pay me, as an investment?

The situation of the U. P. R. R. Co., in this contest is somewhat peculiar. She has considerable property in the county, and pays, roundly, about one-third of the taxes. It will, very readily, be seen from this the great interest she will take in endeavoring to defeat the voting of bonds to any competing company. Self-defense is one of the laws of nature which railroad companies are not slow in obeying. In some quarters it is said that the U. P. scheme from Columbus to the Niobrara is only to head off the A. & N. out of that section, and that if the A. & N. is not successful in reaching Columbus, nothing further will be done by the U. P. We can not believe this. In such case they might possibly not push forward so rapidly, but we believe they intend to build the road, and that too, the coming season, for the simple reason that the carrying of the products is so valuable that they can not afford to let it slip from them into rival cars, as it will do if no obstacle is interposed. As will be seen elsewhere in to-day's JOURNAL the proposition to donate the bonds of Madison county to the Elkhorn Valley R. R. (a competing line), for extension from Wisner, was defeated Saturday last, and it is not to be presumed that the result was due simply to the growing sentiment against voting "aid" to railroad companies. The U. P. was no disinterested spectator. She evidently took a lively hand in the campaign, and the result was neither unexpected nor undesired by her. In Seward county, the Omaha, Seward & Republican Valley R. R. Co., under the management of Claudius Jones and E. C. Carnes, and supposed to be backed by the U. P. R. Co., is a scheme evidently gotten up to head off the A. & N. in Seward and Butler counties.

The contest deepens. The A. & N. line will now start from Lincoln, and by the time bonds are to be voted in Platte the excitement will run high. The line is in great favor from here to Lincoln and the present prospect is that the bonds will be voted in Seward and Butler.

The JOURNAL's railroad creed is: an independent, competing line from the southeast, eventually to go north-west; an independent, competing line from the northeast, eventually going southwest; no benefits, no bonds; one railroad is a great deal better than none, and if its rates were satisfactory we should have no particular need for any more; but two roads are better than one, because even if they should "pool," the strong probability is that the profits on rates will be lessened; the same reason holds with much greater force when there are three competing lines.

It is singular that just at this time so many rumors and stories are put in circulation bearing on certain railroad companies. The latest we have noticed was recently published in the St. Joseph Herald claiming that the headquarters of the Union Pacific railroad were to be removed from Omaha to St. Joseph. It is claimed that Jay Gould has fully secured control of the Denver line, and that already the route is being surveyed from Hastings to Grand Island on the Union Pacific to make the extension mentioned. Great strength is given to this view of the case from the report now in circulation that Gould has in some way fallen out with the Chicago & Northwestern road, and is said that they have declared that they shall have no more freight from the Union Pacific if he can help it. The through traffic from the west will be switched off at Grand Island and run down the St. Joseph & Denver to St. Joseph, thus leaving the eastern line of the U. P., from Grand Island to Omaha to be operated as a branch. We do not understand these rumors any more than we can comprehend the one that Columbus is soon to be made a grand station on the U. P. with arms or branches extending to Madison on the north and south to David City and Lincoln. In time, we never did have any doubt but that there would be two more roads constructed and operated north and south of Columbus, but we confess we are incredulous of having two more roads go into operation in one year from date, but strange things do happen in this world of ours, and no amount of guessing will stop the building of railroads in this level country.

The annual meeting of the State Temperance Society of Nebraska, will be held at Lincoln on May 22d, 1879. Fire Near Fremont. A Special to the Omaha Republican of the 3d says: "A fire this morning at 2 o'clock destroyed the barn on the stock farm of Geo. G. Godfrey, near Fremont, together with twenty-five horses, one a valuable stallion; sixteen cows and calves, some sheep, a large lot of farm machinery and grain. Estimated loss, $8,000. The result of a careless smoker and an old pipe. The building was partly insured."
