"Jimmy" Cady, one of the Cadiz boys, dropped into the Journal office Saturday very unexpectedly. He is in good health, and full of business. He brings news and glad tidings from our friends and acquaintances. He goes from here to the southern part of the State.

Just Begun. It was rumored on our streets Monday morning that the railroad to carry on the contest with some show of success, the Union Pacific R. R. Co. were on the eve of starting here two newspapers, one Republican and one Democratic, for the purpose of worming into the affections of the people. We have, in our time, heard of so many new papers starting in Columbus that we had almost lost interest in such reports, but this bit of information gives the projects a certain degree of novelty, at least. We have not yet learned who are to be put into the editorial chairs, but of course shall know in due time, if the work | Gray Mrs M C goes forward. As the Journal and Era have both been preaching competion in railroad business pretty strongly of late, it is presumed that somebody is interested in compelling them to swallow a dose of their own physic, with the hope, perhaps, that it will do them good. All we have to say is that if the new papers | there will be a special meeting this shall bear the same ratio in public (Wednesday) evening, for the transfavor as the U. P. did in the election Saturday, we should think the new editors of the new papers would rather serve the general public.

The Celebration. Saturday evening was an old-fashioned, redundant celebration of one the completest victories ever gained by a people. Columbus, in fact, was full of people, happy people, jolly people, talkative people and yelling people, all filled with joy at the result of the day's work. Of course there was a bon-fire, and fire-works. with the loud-mouthed anvil's belching voice. The Cornet Band furnished some of their choicest marks were made by Sup't. Good U. P. legal authority (so we are told) holds to the proposition that they cannot. As Loveland would say, "time will tell."

The Great Day of Rest and

Recreation. Both the brains and bodies of hard-working men cty daily for rest, until complaining nature finally breaks beneath the burden of tho't and toil, and the unheeded voice of warning is stilled forever in the premature grave. Rest and recreation are the very handmaidens of intelligent, successful and profitable labor, and he who dismisses them as idle, worthless companions, closes the door against those recuperative agencies, without which the machinery of both mind and body runs with dull, heavy, constantly increas- Uhlig's. ing friction, and finally suddenly goes all to pieces, like the deacon's celebrated one-horse chaise. Time is valuable--in fact, invaluable--but not for the slavish pursuit of gain alone. At the needed and proper time it is invaluable for rational relaxation and amusement, and he who teaches his children this, as taught in the Scriptures themselves, Bros. at 65 cts. per pair. will make of them wiser, and better, and healthier, and more useful, and more noble men and women. Take our advice, then, and leave the hard-hearted, iron-fisted, wrinkled, grimy old curmudgeon there. when Anderson & Co.'s Great World's Menagerie and International Circus exhibits at Columbus, on Wednesday, June 25th, and if you don't go back to your homes with lighter hearts, clearer heads, stronger hands and sunnier minds, the price of admission will be refunded and all expenses paid.
