The Democracy held their primaries Saturday last. We suppose that it was as lively a day as the Democracy are used to having. It certainly was in this precinct, and we reckon that the several sects of the Democratic church in old Platte were equally as anxious concerning the contest in the outlying vicinities. There is considerable at stake, and there are two elements, perhaps three, that are as antagonistic as fire' and water. If both these elements prove strong the heat of the contest on the 20th, at the county conven-
