As we go to press Tuesday evening, we have no opportunity to review matters that take place on Tuesday evenings. The masquerade ball, for instance, at the Maennerchor Hall, was no doubt a pleasant social affair; and the exhibit of Sullivan's Mirror of Ireland, was certainly all that our exchanges have praised it to be.

The ladies of the Congregational church will give an English tea party on the evening of Tuesday, Nov. 30th, for the benefit of the church. Tea served promptly at 8 o'clock, tickets 25 cts. each. The entertainments after tea will consist of instrumental and vocal music readings and recitations. Invitations cordially extended to all, as an enjoyable time may be expected.

—E. E. Post, Esq., of the York Republican is in the city visiting friends.

—A child can buy as cheap as a man at the Boston Shoe Store, opposite office.

—Charlie Morse is at Denver. He is, we learn, shipping hay to that point for sale.

—Hear Miss Josie Morris Sullivan in her serio-comic songs to-night at the Opera House.

—A surprise party at Dan. Kavanaugh's Monday evening was a very enjoyable affair.

—Ed. North came down from Madison yesterday, and will eat turkey to-morrow at home.

—The Kummer Guards will give the "boss" ball of the season, Thanksgiving night, at the Opera House.

—The boys of the Kummer Guards will have a street parade Thanksgiving afternoon, Nov. 25th, and drill, before the ball in the Opera House. Everybody invited.

—Henry Luers is about completing his two-story brick business house on Eleventh St. It is all enclosed, and is a valuable acquisition to the business houses of Columbus.

—Col. Geo. Woodford, at the Congregational church Monday evening, began his series of temperance meetings. Mr. Finch endorses him as one of the most eloquent speakers in America, and this repute he has also from others who have heard him.

—J. C. Kimball, a brakeman on the Republican Valley road, met with a sad accident last Friday at David City, his foot being caught in the rails while switching, and a train crushing over it. It is said that his leg was terribly mashed, and must be amputated.

FOR SALE.—A dwelling-house and lot in a very desirable part of the city. Will be sold at a sacrifice, as the money is needed. The house is new and cost more money than is asked for both house and lot. For further particulars inquire at the JOURNAL office.

—The Fairy Grotto, O'Connell's Monument, Black Rock Castle, Vale of Avoca, Giant's Causeway, Limerick, City of Cork, Birthplace of Father Matthew, and a great number of other scenes on the Green Isle, will be given to-night at the Opera House.

—A literary society was organized Friday evening by the pupils of Prof. Cramer's school. Twenty-five names were enrolled; "Vollie" Weaver was elected president, and Lillie Ragatz secretary. Such societies, when properly conducted, are among the best of schools.

—One hundred beautiful paintings of Ireland, with grand moonlight effects on the lakes of Killarney, concluding with the beautiful Fairy Grotto and three allegorical pictures—Irishland as she was in her glory; Ireland as she is, a captive bound in chains; and Ireland as we hope to see her.

—The tax on dogs goes into the school-fund, and for this county ought to amount to a considerable sum. Can some of our officials tell us the state of dogdom in this county—how many there are, and how much they add to the school-fund? One of our friends says that there are more actual dogs than dogs that are taxed.

—Every farmer thinks he ought to have the privilege of saying who shall pasture on his land, but now and then you will find a man who would like to have the "exclusive benefit" of any land lying around loose, as it were. Every man wants his own, and fortunate is the community when all are disposed to give each his own.

—A boy about seventeen years old was arrested here Monday morning by officers Huber and Wake on a charge of stealing $55 from a man on Cedar river. The money was recovered, which is probably the reason that we could not learn the names and other particulars. The telegram was received Sunday night. We again advise scamps of every grade to steer for Columbus if they wish to be caught.

—There is no piece of machinery that the farmer buys that he can think so well of as a good windmill, and none that pays a better investment. Among all the mills sold, the Halladay stands in the front rank. W. H. Lawrence, opposite the post office, sells this mill, and he will give you satisfaction in his line of business, mills, pumps, tubing, &c. Give him a call.

—On Thursday last Charles Bader, considerably the worse for liquor, started from Columbus for his home in Shell Creek precinct. He drove a pretty lively pair of mules, and he passed several teams on his way home. When within about two miles of home one of the springs to his wagon-seat broke, and he was precipitated to the ground, the blood gushing out of his nose, ears and eyes. He lay there all night, and when found he was frozen stark. In the darkness of the night several teams had passed him, but his wife was the first to find him, which she did at about 8 o'clock on Friday morning.

—We are informed that a Colorado dealer has sold quite a number of scabby sheep in the western part of the State. If the present laws of Nebraska are not adequate to remedy this evil (so far as law can be adequate) there ought to be additional legislation, because there is no industry known to our people that will begin to compare with that of sheep husbandry when once under way, and the infected flocks of the west must not be allowed to overrun us, and destroy this industry. Only those can know what the malady is and what a costly nuisance it is, who have had experience with it in large flocks of sheep.

—As shelters are not yet built for the winter, and as there are some who are not so well versed in such matters as they would like to be, we give the following as a very common method: uprights should be good, stout posts, six inches in diameter for sheep, hogs and calves and at least 4x6 for cattle. For the former, the roof at the lowest part, should be three feet high, and for cattle seven feet from the ground to the roof. Eighteen inches or two feet is not too deep to plant the posts, which should always be upright, because thus they have the greatest sustaining power. In building anything, the force of our winds must be continually borne in mind. The posts should not be further apart than eight feet, and if the connecting beams are of square lumber, they might be of 2x6, spiked at the top. To complete the roof timbers take poles eight feet long and two to four inches in diameter, flat them so as to lay solid, and spike them fast, placing them pretty close together. On top of these and at right angles lay light brush, as thick as you may desire. On this put straw, hay or slough grass. This is the common prairie shelter, the sides being made sometimes of boards, and sometimes of sod. We believe in a close cover of boards, then the sheds can be open on the south. At the same time that the solid fence furnishes a good wind-break from every direction, it is so close that the boards remain in their place, the stock having no opportunity to get them out of place.

In Memoriam.

At a meeting of the members of the Columbus Bar, held on the 5th day of November 1880, Charles A. Speice, chairman, and A. M. Post, secretary. On motion A. M. Post, J. G. Higgins, and W. S. Geer were appointed a committee to draft resolutions on the death of Nelson Millet, which committee afterwards presented the following report: The undersigned committee having been heretofore appointed at a meeting of the Columbus Bar to draft and submit resolutions expressive of our feelings on the death of Nelson Millet, beg leave to present the following: We the members of the Columbus Bar, entertaining and cherishing the profoundest respect for the memory of our deceased friend and brother, Nelson Millet, and recollecting his great kindness of heart, his high order of ability, his varied experience and learning as a lawyer. Resolved, That we feel especially called upon to deplore the death of our esteemed brother, who for nearly forty years has occupied a position of well deserved honor as a lawyer, and who has been distinguished for his upright and his uniform course of manner and the scrupulous fidelity with which he discharged every duty alike to neighbor and client. That in his death the State has lost a worthy and exemplary citizen, his family a devoted husband and father, the older members of our Bar have lost an esteemed associate and companion, and the younger among us a generous and prudent counselor. That we deeply lament his death, and sincerely sympathize with his family in their affliction. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased and furthermore to the papers of Platte county for publication. That a committee be appointed to present these resolutions to the District Court at its next sitting and ask that they be spread upon the records thereof.

At a meeting of the Columbus Fire Department Monday evening, Nov. 8th, 1880, the following resolutions and resolutions were unanimously adopted: WHEREAS, It has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the universe to remove from our midst our worthy brother John M. Harrigan, and WHEREAS, In view of the loss we have sustained by the decease of our worthy brother and of the still heavier loss sustained by those who were nearest to him, therefore be it Resolved, That it is but a just tribute to the memory of the departed to say that in regretting his removal from our midst we mourn for one who was in every way worthy of our respect and regard. Resolved, That in the death of John M. Harrigan Columbus Pioneer Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1, and the Fire Department have lost an active member whose utmost endeavors were exerted for its welfare and prosperity, and a friend and companion who was dear to us all. Resolved, That we sincerely condole with the family of the deceased on the dispensation with which it has pleased the Divine Providence to afflict them, and commend them for consolation to Him who orders all things for the best. Resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy of all members of the Columbus Fire Department be extended his family in affliction. Resolved, That these resolutions be placed on the records of the Fire Department, and a copy be transmitted to the family of our deceased brother and to each of the newspapers of Columbus for publication.

Resolved, That we feel especially called upon to deplore the death of our esteemed brother, who for nearly forty years has occupied a position of well deserved honor as a lawyer, and who has been distinguished for his upright and his uniform course of manner and the scrupulous fidelity with which he discharged every duty alike to neighbor and client. That in his death the State has lost a worthy and exemplary citizen, his family a devoted husband and father, the older members of our Bar have lost an esteemed associate and companion, and the younger among us a generous and prudent counselor.
