—G. W. Clothier has been confined to his room by sickness since Friday last.
—Hulet & Price have got their feed mill started in connection with their elevator.

—Go to Mrs. M. S. Drake's for millinery, fancy goods, and Parker's patent mottoes.
—Call at Marshall Smith's and see Miss Sheffield operate the Davis Sewing Machine.

—Farmers say that the cornstalks this year are sweeter and more nutritious than usual.
—County Commissioners were in session Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday last week.

—At a drawing at Thomas Blandford's on the 23d ult., M. Maher secured the prize ticket.
—Mr. Loran Clark, of Albion passed through the city Saturday on his way home from Kansas.

—Two very brilliant "sun dogs" guarded the sun as she sank behind the horizon Saturday evening.
—A. W. Crites of Plattsmouth is in the city and will remain until after the coming session of the district court.

—Prof. J. T. Mallien of Gibbon called at Journal headquarters Monday. He is making his mark in the State as an educator.
—Farmers, bring your poultry, butter and eggs to Lamb's near the post-office, and get the highest market price in cash for them.

—Joe Gross went to Chicago Thursday with three car-loads of fat cattle and one of hogs from Gross Bro's farm in Boone county.
—Born.—Saturday afternoon last to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Woods, an 8 pound girl baby. "Fatty" is the happiest man in all the land.

—Frank Clark, who is working with one of the U. P. bridge gangs, was in the city Saturday and Sunday visiting "the old folks at home."
—Miss Sheffield, the lady who operated the Davis Sewing Machine at the State Fair, will be pleased to see you all at Marshall Smith's.

—Mrs. A. M. Jennings returned home Friday evening last from Minnesota, where she has been visiting friends for some time past.
—Seward county's sheep king, Mr. A. D. Ritchie, suffered no losses during the recent storms that told so heavily upon poorly cared flocks.

—The new apportionment gives Platte county two representatives, Colfax one, and both together, a "float." The senatorial district is as before.
—Born.—To Mrs. W. H. Lawrence, of this city, on the morning of the 23d ult., a bouncing boy baby. Will think he can soon learn the pump business.

—Hon. David Hall, Nance county's contingent member of the legislature, spent the first of the week in this city. Another time he may get "there."
—Mrs. Maggie Sibley, of the Grand Island Independent, passed through the city Friday last on her way to Washington to attend the inauguration.

—Mr. E. Weinschenk, manager of L. Kramer's branch store, at North Platte has returned from a trip to Chicago. He took the U. P. express for North Platte Saturday.
—John Coffroth, E. q., lately of Washington, D. C., who spent a few days here several months since, has returned. We learn that he is negotiating for the purchase of the Era.

—Quite a number of farmers were in town Monday, laying in supplies. The roads are now reasonably good, though the volume of snow seems to be very little lessened by the recent sunny weather.

—"We's" notes from Platte Center were very acceptable, and we publish them this week as they came to late last week's JOURNAL. We shall be pleased to hear from the same source often.

—A. W. Courtright was in the city Saturday. He is teaching school this winter in the northern part of Colfax county. He must be in a good district, as his enrollment shows thirty-five scholars.

—The Messrs. Ernst, successors to Schutte & Pohl, have on hand a large supply of agricultural implements, and are making preparations to supply all demands. Look out for an advertisement next week.

—J. E. Moncrief, the new Sup't of public instruction, was in the city Saturday, and fixed upon Saturday March 12th, '81, for holding a meeting in this city for the examination of teachers and other school business.

—James Murrin, with St. Louis branch Campbell Press Co., was in the city last week. If Mr. Murrin is not a complete success in his business, it can never be from a lack of geniality or departing from the deportment of a gentleman.

—The Kendall's concluded an engagement at Seward last week. Something in the conduct of the agent displeased the editor of the Reporter, who gave him the benefit of a little personal mention not very complimentary in its tone.

—D. W. Kinsey, of Lost Creek precinct, has been very sick for the past two weeks. He was first attacked by a severe cold, and now the disease has settled upon his lungs, and when last heard from he was still confined to his bed.

—We are sorry to hear that Chas. Schroeder has recently lost thirty-five head of cattle by some lung disease. They have had, through the storms of the winter, good warm shelter, so that it has not been through neglect that they died.

—A fine gold watch and chain were presented to B. D. Slaughter, Chief Clerk of the House of representatives, by his friends. "Gad" filled his position admirably, as he always does, and is well deserving of any kindness his friends may tender him.

—David Anderson, has just sold to W. T. Rieckley, one of our city butchers, twenty head of fat young cows, and two-year-old steers. So that our citizens are guaranteed choice beef during the Spring, which is rarely to be had, during April and May.

—Messrs. Gus. Schroeder & Emilie Pohl have entered into partnership in the hardware business, at Schroeder's old stand on 11th street. They are both excellent, upright business men, and will of course have their full share of patronage, being well and favorably known in our community.

—The general break up which had a good start last week, "struck bad luck" Friday night, hung on the "ragged edge" of doubt and uncertainty all day Saturday, and was "knocked clean out of the box" Saturday night and Sunday and now have to "borrow a stake" from March winds and sunshine and commence again.

—R. C. Moran of this county, returned from his visit to West Virginia last week. The winter there has been long and severe. He says the hills and rough country appear to him now a great deal higher and uneven than when he resided there. He expressed the opinion that there will be some emigration from W. V., in the spring to Nebraska.

—The Ancient Order of Hibernians of this place are bound to make the 17th of March, or St. Patrick's Day in 1881, long remembered in Columbus as a day of jubilation and festivity never before exceeded. A grand parade, addresses upon Ireland's grievances by eminent speakers, and a ball and feast at night are the main features of the programme.

—Messrs. Smith Bros. have on hand and are laying in a full line of farm implements. Spring work for the farm will soon be upon us, and the JOURNAL is of opinion that when it comes it will be all at once, so that it will be well for farmers to make preparations in time. When you are considering what implements you need don't forget to call on these gentlemen.

—One of our correspondents desires to express his thanks publicly to his neighbor's daughters who so kindly remembered him on St. Valentine's day. We put his verse into prosy space: "The archer Cupid against me has plotted, with the grave St. Valentine; that I must yield, my armored shield of calm content and fancy free, to feel each thrilling glance of thine."

New Music.—John Smith's March by Lamartine. This is the title of the latest novelty for organ or piano. It has become so popular that dealers buy it by the thousand. All who want an easy and pretty march for the organ or piano will be delighted with John Smith's March. Sent post paid on receipt of price, 35 cts. Published by Will. L. Thompson & Co., East Liverpool, Ohio.

—All well members of a family when sickness enters, should do everything promptly and cheerfully to aid the sick member, and render him or her comfortable in every way possible. Often young people do not realize the importance of thus acting in the family, even where the head of it is prostrated by disease—but the remedy we judge is not the bending of the "twig" while it is young, with a talk, but a quiet and reasonable talk, presenting to the mind the true situation and the necessity of prompt and dutiful action.

—It was reported and published in the newspapers of recent date that Dr. G. Sperry of Utah, during the great snow storm was smothered to death by the roof of his house falling in and the snow drift burying him under the ruins. H. T. Sperry, a resident of this county, and brother of Dr. Sperry, received a letter last week from the Doctor, stating that he was still living, but had a narrow escape for his life, having been buried ten hours under the snow drift, and must have died had not his Chinaman cook dug him out. One man died under the same drift before he could be reached.

—A number of persons who attended the sociable given by the teachers and pupils last Friday evening in School Dist. 13, this city, under the presidency of Prof. McGintie, expressed themselves pleased with the entertainment, and calculated to result in great benefit to the scholars. The recitations, readings, &c., from H. W. Longfellow were very creditable to all who took part in the exercises; and the music by scholars and teachers showed culture and harmonious sound. The tableau of "The three Fishers," appeared to be the crowning feature with the school children, judging by the manner of the expression of their feelings in the way of applause.

—As the merry maskers at the "Hoogie" ball Tuesday night were gathered at the Opera House for a night of amusement, by the steady revolutions of our cylinder press, the JOURNAL edition was being printed, so that a notice in last week's paper was impossible. There was not so large a number in attendance as upon many previous occasions of the kind, but all participating seemed to enjoy themselves, and in a social light the ball must be accounted a success. But our particular object in a notice at this late hour is to thank the young lady who represented the JOURNAL. If the precepts of this paper shall ever admit of such representation, then shall it be conducted as we would have it.

—Gambling leads to bad habits and generally to worse associations. Young men should avoid the exciting amusement by never beginning it, and married men who have engaged in it, should have strength of will to quit it at once. It invariably leads to other vices and we want no better evidence of the fact than the case which recently occurred in this city with one who has been induced through the losses thus sustained to commit a crime which in his previous life he would have shuddered at the mere thought of doing. By his crime he afflicts a dear wife and family. How sad the picture! Everybody should cultivate will power, and make it strong enough to resist forever the desire to engage in it.

—Mr. John Harris, the gentleman who has been engaged in this city upon the invention of a machine for the manufacture of rope and who since the completion and patenting of the same has interested himself in efforts looking to the establishing of a factory at this place, is now about ready to make a practical test of the utility of his invention. A large machine capable of turning out rope from clothesline to inch in size at the rate of 25 to 30 feet a minute has been built and placed in S. C. Longshore's big wind mill building, and so soon as the yarn which has been sent for, arrives will be set in operation. Mr. H. claims that with his machine, rope can be manufactured from any description of yarn, and feels perfectly confident that the test will demonstrate its perfect success and practicability in every respect, after which he hopes to be able to form a stock company here for the manufacture of rope upon a large scale, or, with a like object in view, secure the assistance and capital of some individual as a partner with himself. The JOURNAL has previously spoken encouragingly of an undertaking of this character, which if properly managed would no doubt result in good to the city and county, and we hope in the near future to be able to announce as a certainty that a rope factory will be started here, and that the enterprise shall have such a healthy inception as shall insure it a position in the front rank of the business interests of Columbus.

Shell Creek Happenings.
James Burrows refused six dollars per ton for his hay in the stack.
Frank Melotush of Jackson, has been visiting friends at the Center.
Mrs. Mike Reagan, on Shell creek died last Friday and was buried on Sunday.

We are glad to hear of the appointment of Mr. Ed. Moncrief for school superintendent.
John Mackon has leased the barn and hotel of George Scheidel at Platte Center, where he intends doing business hereafter.

Judge John Maughen had a severe attack of mumps. He says he feels all right again and as hearty as a three-year-old mustang.
Mr. Edward Perkinson, Sr., who has suffered for a long time from a nasty cough caused by a diseased liver, is rapidly improving.

Willie Maughen, who lately returned home from Cheyenne utterly helpless from inflammatory rheumatism, is able to be around again.
George Thomazin who suffered a prolonged siege of sickness, is rapidly recovering through the medical aid of Drs. Edward & Sanderson.

Mike Clark of Shell Creek, has lately married Miss Mary Sheady of Columbus. We wish them a smooth sea and a long and happy voyage.
Mr. Pat. Galligan is soon to commence the erection of an addition to his house on the old homestead. The young folks may look out for a big night.

We are sorry to hear that there is a new and disastrous epidemic prevailing among the swine on the Loup valley. It is called the hungry cholera.
Eugene Macken prides himself on having the best colts in Platte county. He is twenty months old and weighs in the neighborhood of eleven hundred; he calls him the Barnum colt.

The literary society at Lost Creek (we have yet to learn its name), appears to be making the old school house fairly howl, so animate are the discussions that are held weekly within its walls.
Considerable sickness seems to prevail in this vicinity at the present time. The grim messenger of death has visited more than one Shell creek home within the past few weeks, and young and old alike are numbered among its victims.

Mr. Kenoth, a resident of Newman's Grove, left home two weeks ago to St. Paul, Minn. Getting as far as Sioux City, was detained there ever since on account of deep snow and no trains running, he finally returned home to await fine weather before again undertaking his viatic proceedings.

It is hoped that a permanent change in the weather will have a tendency to make the times more healthful. The weather at present seems to be a shade finer and the sleighing excellent, and the young folks are having a high old time. We are of the opinion that good sleighing and social gatherings, readings, etc., are favorable to matrimony, as many of our young men who seemed to enjoy the distinction of being staunch biogamists, have lately declared that all the efforts to resist the wiles and guiles that women work, are wholly futile and the result is that old hymen will reap a bountiful harvest in the near future.

SHILL CREEK ROVER.
Platte Center.
EDITOR JOURNAL: Not having noticed anything from here in your valuable paper for some time, I thought an occasional few lines would not be amiss.

Thoroughly appreciating the splendid sleighing our citizens are spending their spare moments in the most delightful of sport sleighing, and the merry sleigh-bells may be heard jingling far and near, but we fear it will be woe unto Platte Center, when this snow melts, it being in so low a situation that some suppose it will be washed down to the Loup.

Valentine's Day is past and still our Postmaster is constantly handing out.
And what has become of our Hon. Co. Superintendent, is echoed from ear to ear.

Miss Mary Steinbaugh of Watsville, has been paying the family of Mr. William Bioedorn a pleasant visit the past week.
Last Saturday was a busy day for I. Niemieller, Esq., our grocer, and yet he was not to be found at his place of business.

Again one of our citizens joined the bonds of matrimony Mr. George Brown, his amiable wife being a lady from the east.
We learn that Mr. Lynch of the firm of Hayes & Lynch of your city intends going into the grocery business at this place ere long. It affords us much pleasure to welcome Mr. Lynch to our business circle, and we wish him much success in the business, he is about to engage in at this place.

It seems that the U. P. railroad company are meeting with quite a number of accidents this winter especially on this branch, having run over a span of horses of Mr. Hennessy and a cow belonging to a Mr. Fielder, and breaking something on an engine all in one week.
We learn that Mr. Timothy who has been teaching our school will close his engagement March 1st. So says JOWLER.

Newman's Grove.
The early storms last fall found most people unprepared—stock without shelter, corn in the field, &c. The warm spell which followed was well improved, building, shedding, gathering corn, plowing and other fall work. But much corn still remains in the field and much less plowing was done than usual. The severity of the winter makes fodder scarce; most of the straw in the neighborhood will be fed as carefully as hay, and scarce at that.

It is thought that the winter indicates a good season for crops, but fears of the chinch bug are entertained, and it is a question of what crops will be safest. Perhaps the JOURNAL or some of its contributors can advise. It is admitted all round that the chinch bug did more harm to the crop last season than the drouth.

George Howland is doing business in his new store, (a building that would do credit to a much larger place). He has fitted up his old building for a dwelling.
Knut Bakkerud owns and occupies the building formerly occupied by John Sorenson.

Platte Center.
PLATTE CENTER, Feb. 19, '81.
As our town has not been represented in your columns for some time, we take this opportunity to let you know of what has been happening in our vicinity.

A cow belonging to Ernest Feidler has his foot out of the Albion branch train a mile south of here this afternoon.
George Scheidel intends to quit the saloon business soon and try farming again. "Johnny" Macken will rent his place, and keep a livery stable in connection with it.

George Brown, living a mile southeast of here has joined the ranks of the Benedictines. He was married to a lady from Michigan. George is a good fellow and the best wishes of his friends accompany him and his bride.

There are rumors of another wedding soon to take place about eight miles up Shell creek, but they as yet haven't taken tangible shape.

COLUMBUS, NEB., Feb. 25, '81.
ED. JOURNAL:—The Farmer that wishes the Commissioners to rise and explain why he has not been paid for setting out six rows of trees on North section and 1/2 section lines, should inquire of Rutherford B. Hayes. He would know as much about it as any other officer, so long as there has been no report made, and he has not otherwise complied with the law in the case.
JOHN WISE,
Chairman Board Comm.

Notice to Teachers and School Officers.
