Echols for your wall paper, where you can get it furnished on the wall cheap. —Col. Higgins started yesterday for Santa Fe, New Mexico, which he will make his future home.

—Sixty-five Polanders went by way of Central City Friday to David City to work on the A. & N. —Service in the Episcopal church Sunday next, at 11 a. m. Also on Easter Sunday the 17th, at 11 a. m. —Chas. McIntire of Missouri arrived in the city Saturday on a visit to his brother Robt., who is sick. —A good family driving horse for sale; also a set of single harness, nearly new. Inquire at JOURNAL office. —At the school meeting in dist. 13 it was determined to charge pupils from other districts $1 a month tuition.

—It is reported that every bridge on the Loup river in Howard county was swept away by the high water last week. —The attention of bridge builders is called to an advertisement in the Commissioners elsewhere published in to-day's JOURNAL. —Farmers, bring your poultry, butter and eggs to Lamb's near the post-office, and get the highest market price in cash for them. —Little Lizzie Hauey, it is said, lived six days without any food whatever, and twelve days thereafter on nothing but a little wine. —Rev. J. A. Fiehring was reported quite unwell last week, at his new home at Harvard, Neb., and failed to fill his appointment. —We hear that Henry Lukker had a second runaway yesterday with one of R. Stewart's teams, damaging the buggy considerably. —W. N. McCandlish of Creston was in the city Saturday. He says that there is a great deal more snow in their section of country than there is here. —The calico ball on the first of April was a charming success in every social particular. We have not learned the proceeds in dollars and cents.

—Jacob Ernst, jr.'s pair of ponies ran off from Henry Lukker Monday, being frightened by pigs at Moore's brick yard. The buggy was somewhat disabled. —Chas. Reinke tells us that the Shell Creek mills will probably be running in six or seven days—as soon as the water gets low enough to set the wheels. —On Thursday Stewart's dray team ran off, and nestled Barney McTaggart's wagon and on Friday Hoeber's horses and also Judge Geer's ran off, with no particular damage. —Marens Harris for a long time connected with L. Kramer's store, started for Chicago Thursday last. He has an engagement with Leopold Bros. as traveling salesman for Kansas and Nebraska.

—One of our exchanges characterizes the April number of the Nursery as a charming specimen of this best of all little magazines for little children, a sentiment which we fully endorse. Nursery Publishing Co., 36 Bromfield street, Boston, $1.50 a year. —Odell & Harman's drug-store at Fullerton, Nance county, was burned, with all its contents, on Tuesday of last week. Insurance on building $600, on stock $1,000; loss, over and above insurance, $800. So says the Journal. —The Maennerchor give a concert at their Hall Thursday evening of this week, for the benefit of sufferers by the flood, and after the concert a ball. The object is a very commendable one and there should be a full house. —Geo. Turner, brother to Abner of the State Bank, and who is well known by the business men of Columbus and Schuyler, is here on a visit. He has been in the west, California, Nevada and Utah, for a number of years. —The ferry boat which is being built by John Hammond will be ready for duty the first of next week. H. H. Ames will take charge of it. It will be able to carry a team and loaded wagon, and the charge cannot exceed one dollar. —H. L. Small, who has for the past six or seven years been freight agent at the U. P. Depot, has resigned his position and will engage in the butter and egg business, having secured the excellent rooms of M. Smith, in the basement of his brick house. Success to him.

—Dr. Stillman purchased Wm. Hunneman's dwelling-house Monday, and has in it a bargain, and one of the handsomest and most convenient dwellings in the city, besides being in an excellent neighborhood. Mr. Hunneman has business interests in Chicago, to which city he will shortly remove. —Mr. Berhaupt has moved his tailor shop to the room formerly occupied by J. C. Elliott, who has removed to the room lately used by Morrissey & Klock. The latter firm go to Plattsmouth, where Mr. M. has been for some time, dealing in grain. We can commend them as straightforward, business men. —The Democratic ticket of yesterday was headed by J. R. Meagher for Mayor; John F. Wernuth was nominated for treasurer, and Israel Gluck for councilman in the second ward. For members of the school board, the ticket spoken of elsewhere was voted, also one with Charles A. Speice's name substituted for John Rickly. —The remains of Mrs. F. George, who lately died at Clarksville, were interred in the Columbus cemetery Sunday last, followed by a large family of mourners, and many friends. Mrs. George was the mother of Mrs. George Hulst and Mrs. D. T. Martyn. She has left a family of two sons and six daughters to mourn her loss. —Robert McPherson and his team of horses in attempting to cross the McAllister slough on Wednesday of last week, got into deep water, and his horses were drowned, and he barely escaped with his life. He was insensible when rescued from the water, but the prompt use of means restored him, and he is reported well now. —Pat. Murray got into his buggy Monday, and was just about to drive off, when his attention was called to the fact that it would be just as well if the halter was loosened from the hitching post. It wasn't the first of April either. Pat. is usually found with all eyes and ears open, but railroad excitement may be chargeable with his inattention to ordinary business on this occasion. —In the chronicling of local events we always act upon the theory "better late than not at all," because otherwise a record could not be kept, for the reporter will sometimes fail to note, and fail to remember what he happens to hear. We know that when he arrives at the age of discretion, J. H. Galley's fourth son, born on the night of the 16th ult., will excuse us for this late mention. —The citizens' meeting of April 1st passed resolutions expressing hearty approval of "the able and economical administration of our present city government" in the collection and disbursement of the revenues, and especially for the great reduction in the expenses of the city government; also approving their action in the passage of the liquor ordinance to conform to the change in the State law about to go into effect. —At a meeting of citizens held in City Hall, April 1st, the following ticket was nominated: Mayor, J. E. North; Treasurer, Jno. W. Early; Clerk, H. J. Hudson; Engineer, L. J. Cramer. Councilmen,—let ward, Gus. Schroeder, 2d, John Wiggins, 3d, A. A. Smith and Julius Rasmussen. J. E. North afterwards declined, and J. P. Becker was prevailed upon to accept. J. W. Early also declined, and W. H. Winterbotham substituted. —During the flood of Saturday week a coil of rope was provided and used at the foot of I st., in saving houses from being carried away by the flood. After the excitement was over it was found that a considerable portion of the rope was missing. We are informed that there are certain parties, whose names were not divulged to us, who know where the missing rope is, but refuse to tell. Such conduct is certainly very reprehensible, and may result seriously to those who persist in it.

—D. C. Loveland returned from Omaha Saturday. The expected rise of the Missouri had not yet amounted to much when he left—only a few inches. It seems that the thirty feet depth of river, reported on Thursday last at Yankton, was caused chiefly by gorges, and that the cold weather since, together with the setting out in the wider valley of the lower country, has had the effect of dissipating any fears of destruction that were entertained at Omaha. —From Sheriff Spielman we get some particulars of the alleged burglar at Humphrey, Saturday night. In Louis Schroeder's absence, he had left a Mr. Gabriel in charge of his saloon. Some time in the night, what hour we did not learn, Gabriel found Thos. O'Neil in the saloon, having broken through a locked door. It is charged that he took an account book, $3 in money, besides what whisky was necessary to fill him up. We are not informed as to his preliminary trial. —R. F. Steele of the Central City Item, will deliver his unique lecture on Julius Caesar, at the Congregational Church, Friday evening, April 8, for the benefit of the Hook and Ladder Company. The lecture is said to be '60 per cent. wit, 30 per cent. pathos and 10 per cent. eloquence.' "Twenty-five cents admits one to any part of the corral, quiet children under 12 years of age, fifteen cents," so say the bills. Three admissions, 40 cents. Do not open at 7; eruption of volcano at 8. Those who have heard the lecture say it is "tip-top."

—George R. Nunnally, otherwise known here as "Antelope Dick," is in trouble in Columbus, Kansas. It seems that, by some chance, he first obtained a list of subscribers for a new paper, which he is now having printed at the Courier office. He claims that two rivals, by the names of Edmondson & Frye, have taken unfair advantage of him and that one of them has forged a letter to S. P. Rounds of Chicago, which was the cause of his material being shipped to Columbus, Neb., instead of that place, and that thereby Frye hoped to get his paper started first. On the 27th ult. Nunnally gave Frye a severe tongue lashing and intimidated him to the effect that he would, one of which Frye might have to work with. Nunnally threatens to use Frye for a street mop should he continue in his work of establishing a democratic paper. —Sam. Rickly and Joe. Miller were over from the ranche (for the first time since the flood), on Wednesday last. Their hut and ranche are situated near the confluence of the Loup and Platte, and while the Loup was on the rampage with enormous cakes of ice crowding their way down stream, the outlook for these young men, surrounded by water, was not very cheering. Their stock were kept in the corral, and on "the move," with the loss of only three during the whole ice period of the two rivers. The water was so deep for most of the time lately that they hoisted their bed to the ceiling and for four days and nights they lived on top of their hut and in a tree. Sam. says that after the waters subsided, and the stock had dry soil under them, they would skip and jump about in wild fun, evidently relishing the change in affairs, and Sam. acknowledges that he was a little tickled himself. —Yesterday afternoon about two o'clock, one of R. Stewart's dray teams became frightened at an engine near the depot, and ran east on 11th street. When occupied by Kramer's they passed a buggy occupied by Mrs. Wm. Hunneman and her daughter Mamie. The horse driven by them was naturally nervous by having the buggy tipped against him, but used excellent horse-sense under the circumstances, Mamie was thrown out of the buggy and immediately rushed to the horse's head, while Mrs. Hunneman was thrown under the buggy, close to the horse's heels, and some say that the wound on her head was caused by the horse tramping upon her. Mamie was not hurt, and Mrs. H. not seriously. The horse they were driving was one of those noble specimens of the noble beast, the greatest helper of man; had been fractions or foolish or wicked, the probability is that the lady would have been killed.

—Death of R. T. Ballard. The Nance County Journal of March 31st, says: "Yesterday morning our energetic and respected citizen, Mr. R. T. Ballard, in company with H. W. Rick, proceeded to the sand bank near the Loupe to get a load of sand. Mr. Ballard dug under the bank and threw the sand to Mr. W., who in his turn loaded it into the wagon. They had proceeded in this manner for some time, when, without a moment's warning, the overhanging bank, weighing many tons, fell upon Mr. Ballard as he stood in a stooping posture, crushing him to the ground. He called on Mr. W. Rick to clear the sand from his face, which request was complied with as rapidly as the frozen earth would permit. After letting air to his face, W. Rick dispatched a boy, who happened to be near at hand, with all speed on a horse to town for help. Mr. Spackman, who was out hunting, at this moment came upon the scene, and the two men set vigorously at work, but with the united efforts of two loads from town, it was some twenty minutes before the already lifeless body of the unfortunate man could be released. The sad news was broken as easily as possible to the bereaved wife and children, and then he who but an hour before had left his home in vigorous health was brought back as lifeless as the earth which ended his existence. "Ah, helpless man! a blind fatality sports with thy destiny!"

—Humphrey Items. Humphrey is a busy, bustling little town for one so young. A new grocery is in full blast; one dwelling house has just been completed, and several more are waiting for the assurance that "blizzard" time is past, when they will spring up like Jonah's gourd. A great many men come here on business and the most of them seem to be thirsty, whether they are hungry or not. Ninety beer kegs were emptied here in February, and "trotted out" to be re-filled! But the consumers of the beer must be good-natured people, or else the beer must be good-natured stuff, for there are few, or no "rows." The straw stacks around here have been mostly used up this winter, but the stock look well, considering the amount of bad weather. A few hogs came to an untimely end by being buried alive, and others had hair-breath escapes. —In one of the storms, a farmer lost five hogs, and after six days, their whereabouts was made known to him by their making a slight noise. He dug them out; they were all alive, but he said they were weaker, if not wiser, than before the storm! A. HUMPHREYTE.

—Patent Fire Kindlers. Just the thing for these cold mornings. A full supply at Hudson's. —Good Work Horses. Three, for sale cheap, at Stynger's. Call soon. —Wanted. I will deal direct with customers, and guarantee everything I sell. Prices given on application.

—Railroad. In pursuance of the spirit of the railroad meeting reported in a JOURNAL extra of last week, the committee went to Omaha on Thursday last and had a conference with Mr. T. L. Kimball, of the U. P., the result of which was reported at length at a called meeting at the City Hall Friday evening. Very briefly stated, the committee has been informed that the rule adopted by the Company for the construction of short lines and spurs was that those desiring them should furnish the right of way, grading, bridging and tieing, when the Company would agree to iron and operate the road. The committee were informed that what ever was done must be submitted to and decided upon by Mr. Dillon, and Mr. Kimball did not wish to refer a proposition to him, unless he was pretty sure it would be accepted. This, he knew, would, and he reckoned the expense roughly at twenty to twenty-five thousand. A number of other matters were reported on, as to the manner in which the committee had been received, the importance of acting immediately upon the proposition, etc. After considerable talk upon the general subject and upon the situation of affairs as laid before the meeting by the committee, J. E. North moved that the Company be offered a guarantee of the right of way, which was carried. A committee of five, consisting of J. E. North, L. Gerrard, J. P. Becker, John Wiggins and M. K. Turner, was appointed to secure from citizens a guarantee; confer with U. P. managers and report progress. That committee are now at work, and we believe if the citizens of this precinct respond, as they may readily do, the result will be that we get what we want. If this opportunity (which the raging waters of the Loup have thrown to us) is let slip, it may be our very last in this direction, and it becomes us to use every effort for success. —Butler County. Ed. JOURNAL.—The snow-drifts are almost gone, a few more sunny days and the long, tedious winter of nearly half a year, with its "blizzards" and extreme cold, will be a thing of the past, always to be remembered, and never, no never forgotten. Feed for stock, and even work teams, is, and will be very scarce this spring; some are even now feeding straw from the piles that have stood on the farm two winters and one summer, and but a little even of that remaining. There will be but very few fat hogs to place on the market next winter, as nearly everything in the shape of the "porcine genus" has been marketed, on account of the lack of corn to feed them until after harvest, and even so early Col. Roberts has commenced to ship in corn, and at least one-half the farmers will be compelled to buy more or less. Oats and potatoes will also be very scarce for seed and planting. Invenst & Co. are trying to close out their stock of general merchandise, at auction, but it is slow work. In fact everything is getting down to hardpan here and no doubt when our boom comes round again it will be all the larger and more substantial. There will be some building here this spring, but nothing very costly. Mrs. Allen, our P. M., is fixing up a nice building, in order to give us better P. O. facilities, which is a much needed improvement. The Independent will also shortly build a nice building, in which to publish to outsiders the news, good or bad, of west Butler. A part of our papers are publishing resolutions of stern rebuke on the acts of part of our delegation to Lincoln, during the late legislative session, and the balance doctored editorial taffy, in order to let them down as easily as possible. Such, dear JOURNAL, has been the general outcome of nearly all who have represented Butler county at Lincoln they have found it a very MILLIONS as well as a very hard road to travel. Why Not. Rising City, March 25th, '81. For the Journal.
