Ireland's Troubles.

Last week's evictions in Ireland by her Majesty's troops are indeed sad sights to witness. Near Limerick a family by the name of Kennedy with their household goods were turned out of their home, the door barred up and the police departed; the mother and six little children were found either sitting or walking about the premises of their once happy home. Night was coming on, and there was nothing between them and the blue canopy of heaven, and nowhere to go, and thus they were left without a ray of hope to cheer them.

A serious riot occurred at Cork last week. Houses in two streets were completely wrecked. A large party of military went to Mitcheltown to aid in evictions. Five persons were arrested near Killarney for attacking a house and cutting off a tenant's ear.

At Limerick a very disorderly scene occurred at the railway station, the panic-stricken police attacking a quiet crowd of people with the butts of rifles, and afterwards charging them with fixed bayonets.

MISS FRANCES A. WILLARD, who recently returned from the South, where she has been in behalf of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, makes good report of the people there, in praise of whom and of their elegant manners and generous hospitality, she is quite enthusiastic. In illustration of the willingness of the South to take up the temperance topic with the North, she recalled the following incident of the two armies in the Rebellion, that lay within sound of each other, on either side of the Rappahannock: "The bands of the rival armies would play their favorite tunes; when one would start up the 'Star Spangled Banner' the other would play 'Dixie.' One day a single trumpet in the Union army, in a lull of band practice, started 'Home, Sweet Home,' one instrument after another in the Union army took up the refrain, and finally it leaped the river, and the Confederate forces echoed back the music."

LAST week at Golden Terra mine, Deadwood, Dakota, a dozen men were crushed beneath a slide, instantly killing Thomas Green and seriously injuring John Bates, Wm. Wren, Matten Lago, John Hall, Charles Rouse, Patrick King, Timothy Sullivan and T. B. Sullivan. A number of others escaped unhurt through the tunnel. Among those known to be buried beneath the cave and probably killed are James Farley, L. Weigand, J. Wedlock, John Miller, Thos. Thomas, S. Galvin, Angus McAlain, Jack Beavy, Jack Eddy, Joseph Harkins and McCormick. Later news received from the scene of disaster shows that the men called to assist in clearing the tunnel, by superhuman efforts rescued all the sufferers except Thos. Green, James Farley and Beatty, killed, and five slightly injured.

NEW READINGS.

"And Agrippa said unto Paul, With but little persuasion thou wouldst fain make me a christian."

"Forgive us our debts as we have forgiven our debtors."

"Take no thought for the morrow," becomes, "Be not anxious for your life."

"The love of money is a root of all kinds of evil."

That verse in the fifth chapter of St. John about the angel troubling the water has been rejected as spurious.

"What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith and have not works. Can that faith save him?"

REPORTS last week come from Texas of wind, rain and hailstorms in various portions of the State, and in many instances totally destroying fruit and seriously injuring the corn, cotton and wheat crops. A number of farm houses were torn down, and in the north part of Belle county one lady was killed and two men badly hurt. At Taylor the Christian church was blown from its foundation. The Catholic church and Odd Fellows hall were totally wrecked. Nearly all barns and outhouses were demolished. Fences were blown down, and trees uprooted for miles around.

The headless corpse of a man found in the woods near Chicago still continues to be a mystery. Since the discovery of the corpse a bundle of clothing, hat and coat were discovered, stowed away where the head was found. The hat and coat were unusually fine material, but evidently of foreign manufacture. The pockets contained the cards of a hotel in Bremen, printed in German and Bohemian. The identity of the man is still a mystery. Everything tends to show that he was a newly-arrived foreigner, and had been murdered for his money.

The voting for senators at Albany, N. Y., on the 31st ult, didn't really decide anything, but it showed a state of feeling in favor of Conkling and Platt that may be hard to get rid of—two votes were taken in the House—Conkling received 26, Jacobs 47, Wheeler 15. To fill Platt's vacancy the vote stood Dewey 14, Kernan 47, Platt 21, Cornell 12. In the Senate the vote stood 8 for Platt and 7 for Kernan, 9 for Conkling and 6 for Jacobs.

The young man and lady heretofore referred to and who while fleeing from Lincoln were captured at Valley station and returned to Lincoln, finally obtained the consent of the father of the young girl Mr. Walsh, that his eldest daughter Kittie might give the bride away if she saw fit, which she did, and Charley Coleman and Minnie Walsh were pronounced in a short time by Judge Philpot man and wife. The happy couple left immediately for Springfield Mo., their future home.

A SHOCKING tragedy occurred last week at the town of Peru, Nemaha county this state. A man by the name of Albert Clark with his wife and five children, and who appeared to be an emigrant, cut his wife's throat from ear to ear with a pocket knife, and then seizing a shot gun, rushed into the street and shot and killed E. M. Sargent, a harness maker of the town. He then cut his own throat. It is the opinion of the citizens of Peru that the man was insane.

NAST pictures the "statesman" of the period as a sloth lying beside the works of the beaver citizen, in sight of the White House, and reading from a scroll upon which is written "Laws against the beaver, and laws for spoils for the statesman," the text being "while the Citizen Beaver labors for prosperity and good government, the Statesman Sloth lies on his back and obstructs and destroys."

LAST week there was great enthusiasm at the clubs and exchanges over the victory of Iroquois in the English Derby, and Pierre Lorillard was showered with congratulations as he stood in the midst of the great crowd. He is the owner of the first American horse that ever won the Derby or even won a place there. It is stated at Newport that Lorillard won $2,000,000 on the Derby.

THE Greenbackers of Iowa last week nominated a full state ticket as follows: For governor, Hon. Dr. Clark; for lieutenant governor, Hon. J. W. Holland; for supreme judge, Hon. A. D. Dobney, and for superintendent of public instruction, Mrs. Mary E. Nash. General Weaver was present at the convention and made one of his most happy and eloquent speeches.

LAST week the court of claims at Washington overruled the petition of the Union Pacific railroad company to be allowed additional compensation for carrying mails in postal cars in excess of the rates now and heretofore paid by the government for postal car service on this and other roads generally. This decision leaves the past rates unchanged.

At Clannell, Ireland, last week there was a riot at the sale of tenants' interests in twenty-one farms. Most of the farms were knocked down to the emergency. The mob stoned the police and soldiers. The police charged once, and the hussars three times, using the points of their sabres. One soldier, one policeman and several civilians were injured.

THINGS are moving in Mexico, in the way of surveying and locating railroads. The first section is between the city of Mexico and Tehuacan; the second section is between Tehuacan and Oaxaca, and the third between Oaxaca and the frontier. By an amendment to the Mexican bank bill the president is authorized to establish a national bank.

THE London News says: The Derby is not only a national but an inter-national prize and the laurel won by America will not be grudged by England. The Daily Telegraph says: Whether Jockey Archer, Iroquois or the Americans were the most cheered it is difficult to say, but a more tremendous ovation has never been witnessed.

BIR FORKPAUGH, while performing last week at Upper Sandusky, Ohio, on a horizontal bar at the circus of the Royal and English menagerie, fell to the ground in consequence of the stay wires breaking. He was picked up insensible, and found to be very seriously injured. He still lies at his hotel, under medical treatment.

EX-PRESIDENT HAYES has no great love for Mr. Conkling, and has recently said some naughty things concerning him, if reported correctly. He claims that Mr. Conkling is a monomaniac on the subject of his own importance; that he is so impressed with his own greatness that it has become more than eccentricity.

THE people are noting the record that is being made by Secretary Windom of the U. S. Treasury. They will not forget that he has already saved to the government hundreds of thousands of dollars by his improved methods, and by his watchful care. He is evidently the right man in the right place.

SAM. ZOLLER and his sons, Franklin and Charles, near Watertown, N. Y., were shot last week by David Augsburg, and were at last accounts still living, but in a critical condition. Augsburg is an old man and has spent a fortune in lawing and quarrelling with his neighbors. He was arrested.

Be Patient.

Friends may misunderstand you, enemies surround you, and misfortune press hard upon you, till you are indeed heart-sick, if you are thoughtful and sensitive; but be patient, bearing in mind that there is a certainty of a prolonged existence, that this life is only the seed time, that you are travelling towards a glorious home, a bright place in the future, and that as you sow here, so shall you reap there; for God will not judge you as man does, but by your seeming absolute excellence, but by your endeavors to obey, for he knows all the discouragements and temptations which surround you. "There are some men whom God hath so royally endowed, that they are like a bird sitting on the topmost branch of the forest, and if God says to it 'mount up,' it has nothing to do but to spring into the air, singing as it goes toward heaven. But others are like a bird on the ground, that has to disengage itself from the bushes, and then to work its way among the darkling boughs, before it can soar. The one may have done better with his outward wings, but the better inward wings of purpose and endeavor, beat far stronger in the other, and bring him quite as near to God." Therefore be not discouraged, but patient, even though you are like the bird on the ground. Those only who fight for the right to the last, are life's best heroes; besides, those who are not patient and persevering, can accomplish but little good. "The celebrated Wesley said he remembered hearing his father say to his mother, 'how could you have the patience to tell that blockhead the same thing twenty times over?' 'Why,' said she, 'if I had only told him nineteen times, I should have lost all my labor.'"

Platte Center Items.

Last Sunday week the flood annoyed the folks at Platte Center, but did not cause any material loss to property owners.

On Wednesday evening the nuptials of our worthy citizen Mr. R. L. Rossiter were duly celebrated by a ball and supper, which young and old enjoyed to their heart's content, until the wee, sma' hours, when all retired to their respective homes, wishing many years of happiness and prosperity to the happy couple.

On Saturday Wm. G. Scheidde, who is well known in this county, gave his friends a ball and supper, which inaugurated the erection of his new dwelling, in other words, a house warming. Some sixty couples attended, who, after reveling in the merry dance until past midnight, were regaled with a most bountiful repast, consisting of every delicacy of the season, and at its terminus an organette with several hundred feet of music was drawn for the lucky winner being Mrs. Walter Jewell—the whole terminated with some good German Glee singing and dancing, every one adjourning to their homes at the usual hour, satisfied with amusements.

RESURGAM.

Reports from various portions of Texas give accounts of terrible winds, rains and hailstorms, in many instances totally destroying fruit and seriously injuring the corn, cotton and wheat crops. A number of farm houses were torn down, one lady killed and two more badly hurt.

The excitement throughout Ireland is assuming a grave attitude and increasing. The oppressive act of the government only throws oil on the flames. Under the coercion act farmers have been arrested, which action has been bitterly resented by the people.

Last week a quarrel about family affairs occurred on Campbell's creek, W. Va., between John P. Nunley and George Nunley, uncle and nephew. George was shot in the mouth before he had an opportunity to fire at his uncle. He was fatally injured.
