J. C. Elliott is attending the state fair.

If you want groceries at Omaha prices call on Lamb.

Mike Schram has had a recent wrestle with the mumps.

Mr. Omar Rose and family start for Wisconsin to-morrow.

$1000 to loan in one or two lots at Becher & Price's.

Prepare for the Platte County Fair, Oct. 4th, 5th, 6th, and 7th.

J. W. Early, Co. Treasurer, is somewhat afflicted by rheumatism.

Miss Marian George will pass the winter here, attending school.

If you want a choice article of Michigan cider vinegar call on Wm. Becker.

Taylor, Schutte & Co. have about completed a large house for their lumber.

Judge Geer and A. M. Post, Esq., attended court at Fullerton last week.

Mrs. D. C. Kavanagh started for Milwaukee Monday, intending to stop awhile at Omaha.

Rev. Bristol and wife returned last week from their visit to the southern part of the State.

We see that among post-masters recently appointed the name of T. C. Ryan appears for Platte Center.

Everybody who has anything nice in the line of farm products or stock should come with it to the fair.

Money to loan at low rates and no commissions, one to five years time, at Becher & Price's.

Don't forget John Elliott's sale of stock, farm implements, etc., at Postville, this county, Tuesday, Sep. 27th.

L. Berhaupt is located at Monmouth, Ill., and seems yet to take an interest in some of his old friends here.

Platte county Fair is not Sept. 4th-7th as published in the Democrat. Say Oct. and you will be right.

Henry Woods was at Lincoln during the reunion, uniting business with pleasure, likewise Geo. Fairchild.

George Lehman is home for a few days stay. He has secured another contract, and is pushing matters lively.

Charles Ziegler has returned from his sojourn in the mountain regions of Colorado, and is looking in tip-top health.

We understand that Major Frank North, who came down from the west last week, is not so well as he has usually been.

Mrs. G. B. Bailey took a trip to Council Bluffs last week to see her sister, Mrs. G. M. Dodge, before her departure for New York.

Farmers, bring your poultry, butter and eggs to Lamb's near the post-office, and get the highest market price in cash for them.

A correspondent of the Omaha Herald says that I. N. Taylor has purchased 100,000 brick to finish his three-story hotel at Okadale.

Judge Higgins and Byron Millett were in Madison Saturday last on legal business preparatory to the next term of court at that place.

Mr. Henry Meyer showed us Saturday two samples of wool from his spring lambs shorn the first of Sep. They were long and good.

We will furnish the Omaha Weekly Republican, with the JOURNAL for $3.20 a year. Call and see a specimen copy of the Republican.

Mrs. A. H. Gibson and her son William came into the city Friday. She will remain for a while with her daughter, Mrs. Wilber Lincoln.

We welcome No. 1, Vol. 1 of the Fullerton Lariat, published by Calkins & Bixby; it is the legal and liberal representative of the Journal.

If you want to see the new styles in cloaks and dolmans, and want to buy one very low, step into Kramer's N. Y. C. C. Store, 20-w-1.

From the look of the U. P. train yesterday morning as it passed down, it seemed as though Nebraska had turned loose to go to the State Fair.

The sale of property belonging to the Norris estate has been postponed, to what date we are not advised. In the list are some valuable tracts and town lots.

The bridge over the big slough on the Ernst road out of the city is down—at one end, and up at the other. The driving is good enough for light loads near by.

J. Ernst never would be happy unless he had some improvement to think about. We don't know what it is now, but we notice a pile of shingles near his front gate.

Some weeks ago A. C. Tigner went west from here leaving some anxious inquirers concerning certain financial matters, the extent of which we are not aware of.

B. R. Brown and wife of Stark county Ills., and Alva Brown of Modale, Ia., are visiting their friends, J. H. Watts and Robt. Nicholson of Lost Creek precinct, this county.

Ed. North returned "overland" last week from the cattle rancho on the Dismal, bringing two horses with him. Luther is expected here during the fair next month.

Friday night a heavy rain visited this section, putting the ground in tolerably fair shape for fall plowing. Some who have finished their hay harvest are gathering corn.

M. Kramer was a passenger last Wednesday on the R. I. that collided with a freight, an account of which is given elsewhere. From him we learn that none on his train were injured.

Tuesday, Sept. 27th, at Postville, Jno. Elliott will have a large sale of cattle, horses, hogs, farm implements, etc. Dealers and others will find it to their interest to examine the bills.

Mrs. Page, with her pupils, assisted by the Meunierchor, gave a most excellent musical entertainment last Saturday evening at the Meunierchor hall, to a large and appreciative audience.

There was a report current Monday morning that the U. P. had reduced the fare from this point to Omaha and back, to $1.00 during the fair, instead of $2.75, but there was no truth in the report.

Those who care to be posted on the cause and possible extent of the cattle disease, the dreaded anthrax, which has made its appearance near Lincoln, will find an interesting article in the Omaha Bee of the 8th.

B. F. Hill and Bro. of New Jersey who have been visiting A. J. Wright of Boone and Ed. Hoare of this county, started for home via Lincoln Monday morning. They were well pleased with Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Jenkins, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Jenkins, accompanied by Miss Mary Turner started Monday for Omaha "overland," intending to visit friends at Omaha and see the greatest fair in the history of the state.

The Columbus Lumber and Grain Co. are erecting a long line of buildings on north side Eleventh at for the storing of their lumber.

They will reach from the Oehrich crossing to within ten feet of Speice and North's office.

J. E. Moncrief took a new top buggy home with him Saturday night. A good man deserves to ride in a good buggy especially when he is exposed so much as Ed. will be in visiting the Platte county schools this winter.

Five of Chas. Diedrick's paintings are on exhibition at the State Fair—three portraits and two landscapes. If Chas. progresses for a few years to come at the same speed he has for the past year, he will stand in the front ranks.

The only motive that should actuate newspaper rivals is emulation,—a desire of superiority, with an effort to attain it—"an attempt to equal or excel others in that which is praiseworthy, without the desire of depressing others."

Charles Morse showed us a sample of corn one day last week taken from a 140 acre field that for size exceeds any thing we ever saw. He had some forty or fifty ears which he will send to the State Fair. Charley values his crop at $5,000.

D. Anderson is prepared to let out three and four year old steers to be corn fed and will pay seven cents per lb. for all weight put on. Will let farmers have from one car load to ten, and will furnish hogs if desired to run with them.

Fancy needle work is taught to the girls at the Catholic school, and we are requested to state that there is no need for parents to send their children away to school, while such a one as this is in our midst. The Sisters are very faithful and attentive to duty.

Robert Uhlig and wife, and Arnold Oehrich returned from Europe last week, all in good health and spirits. Besides other things brought with him, Robert has two very ancient silver coins that would be of considerable value to antiquarians.

Jacob Gregorius returned Friday morning from Laramie, where he has been sojourning. He goes back and will be accompanied by his family. He purposes to retain his pecuniary interest in Columbus, however, and after a few years of western life, to return.

Everything goes to show that the State Fair at Omaha will be a grand success, and the best ever held in Nebraska. Certainly preparations have been ample, and the inducements held out by the railroad companies in the way of cheap travel are not to be overlooked.

The Fremont Herald says that the following telegram of enquiry was received there last Tuesday: "Has a tall woman, freckled face, with baby and little girl, arrived here within the last ten days?" We saw a woman get off the cars at this depot the other day, that would at least partially fit that description.

E. B. Hall, Esq., was in the city Monday. He tells us that the Monroe Congregational Church is nearly finished. It is expected that the dedication will take place during the last week of Sept. The structure is a good one costing $1300. The cemetery will be enclosed soon. The good citizens of that community deserve commendation for their enterprise in those matters.

The Schuyler Herald will be Democratic under the proprietorship of Messrs. Zentmeyer & Holcomb, the former of whom is the editor. Mr. Z. has had experience as an editor, and we have no doubt will be as liberal-minded, generous and good as a Democratic editor can well be in a Republican state like Nebraska.

Hon. G. W. Brown of Boone county, and Wm. Brown, his father, started from here yesterday morning for Omaha, where George will take in the State Fair. His father has been visiting with him for some months past, and thinks very highly of Nebraska soil and climate. He returns to his home in Harrison county, Ohio.

The next month on the farms of Nebraska should be the most active and busy of all the year. If winter comes upon us like it did a year ago, there will not be a moment to lose from finishing the haying, threshing, putting up snug shelters for stock, haying corn and fall plowing,—all, some or other, just as may be the necessities of each particular farm.

C. C. Berringer and wife of Elgin, Ill., arrived in the city Friday. While his family visit here with friends (Charles Wake's family), C. C. goes to Colorado. He has been at work on watches at Elgin for several years past, and has a situation offered at Trinidad, where his work will not be so confining. We wish him health, wealth and long life.

The JOURNAL job-room is indebted to its old friend Jas. Sandiland (familiarily known as "Sandy") for one of the longest, neatest and best job sticks, ever flourished by a printer-artist. This indispensable piece of furniture is full evidence of "Sandy's" ability as a joiner, his knowledge as a printer, and his good-will as a friend to "ye" JOURNAL shop. Many thanks.

We have received the premium list of the seventh annual fair of the Butler county Agricultural Society, to be held at David City Sep. 21st & 2'3. A good list of premiums are offered. Among what might be classed as the unusual things is for fastest walking team, lead to correspond to size of team; $3 first premium, $1.50 second. The premiums for speed will be published separately.

On Sept. 12 13 14 15 and 16 the R. & M. will put on sale round trip tickets to Omaha good to return on or before Sept. 19th at $4.25 each. On some dates they will put on sale three day round trip tickets to Omaha and return at $2.75 each. These rates include one admission to State Fair. Trains leave Columbus at 5:45 a. m. arrives at Omaha 4:15 p. m. Returning leave Omaha 8:35 a. m. arrive at Columbus 7 p. m. 20-w-1.

Dr. Chase's Recipe Book should be in every household in the country, as it is replete with practical information on every subject which may arise in the house, on the farm, in the workshop, and the office. It must meet with a ready sale. See the advertisement in another column of our paper. We predict that whoever is fortunate enough to secure an agency in this section for this wonderful book, will surely make money.

D. Anderson has returned from Wisconsin with a hundred head of yearlings and thirty calves. He says that all along the road through central and northern Iowa and Illinois and the larger part of Wisconsin the corn crop is an average, and he don't see the reason for the hue and cry about high prices for corn here. It seems to be an almost universal belief among Nebraska farmers that there is to be a big price for corn. For one, we hope they get it.

Rev. Mr. Bristol, pastor of the M. E. church in Columbus, had the misfortune to lose a valuable horse at Germantown last Thursday. He and his wife had been visiting friends in southeastern Nebraska, and returning the horse was taken sick at Woodlawn, dropped down in the harness at Germantown, and died in about fifteen minutes. Mr. Bristol thinks the death was caused by green corn, which had been given it contrary to his orders.—Seward Blade.

A five-inch snow last week at Deadwood is indication that Winter is lingering at no great distance from us. No telling how soon your haying may cease and your cattle need shelter, and yet again, if we have an open winter, it will be no surprise to a good many Nebraskans. The JOURNAL has found that the most reliable weather prophets are those who tell about it afterwards, and the surest way to manage is to be prepared for the average worst.

At the last regular meeting of the board of education the following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That parents living east of the following line, send their children to the brick school house in old district number one and all west, to old district number thirteen, unless otherwise ordered by the board: Commencing on the north end of L street, running south to the main line of the U. P. R. R.; thence west to North street; thence south to Ninth street; thence west to Olive street; thence south to the Loop river. Also, that a tuition fee of two dollars per month be charged non-resident pupils.

J. C. Elliott's team ran off one day last week, while the pump boys were going over to the Island to put up a wind-mill. They were using a farmer's wagon, their own having been sent forward with the wind-mill. Some part of the wagon gave way, scaring the horses, who took a short run forward, turned round and came back to the men who caught them. No damage done, and the only good the JOURNAL gets out of the item is a warning to all to keep their vehicles in good repair.

Wm. Rowles, son of Thos. C., an old-time Ohio friend of the JOURNAL proprietors, was in the city last week on business connected with the Norris estate. We learn from William that his father has purchased a farm near Topeka, Kas., and that he likes the western country; also that Barclay, an elder brother, is a successful farmer near Topeka, doing all his own work, and receiving his reward therefor in physical health and strength, also some wealth, and considerable happiness.

An accident occurred on the U. P. Tuesday morning west of us, the full particulars of which we have not been able to gather. A cattle train was partially derailed, the engine lying upside down and six or eight cars thrown from the track, killing the cattle therein besides one of the brakemen on the train. It is a surmise among the rumors that discharged workmen had taken a hand car and placed it on the track for the purpose of wrecking a train. Punishment could scarcely be too severe for a deed so cowardly and cruel.

Work on the fair grounds is progressing rapidly. The posts are set for the enclosure and the fence boards are being put on. We have not been on the grounds, but are assured that they are second to none in Nebraska outside of Omaha. The Floral Hall is especially spoken of as superior. Nothing is being spared to make the fair a complete success. As to the races, it is expected that there will be a number of good horses present, and inquiries have been received by the Sec'y from a number of men abroad as to premiums, prospects, etc.

It is a waste of time and words to talk about who will succeed Judge Maxwell in the supreme court. He will succeed himself and he ought to. He has labored faithfully and brought forth good works. He has steadily risen to a position where he commands the respect and confidence alike of litigants and attorneys. His re-election is due to him and to the people of this state whom he has served for the last nine years. Vast interests public and private are concerned in the make up of the supreme court, and just as little experimenting as possible should be practiced in electing its members.—Schuyler News.

F. J. Brown, Esq., of the firm of Brown & Hippach of Fullerton, was in the city yesterday on business. He finds it very convenient to come down in the morning, do almost a day's work in trading and return home the same evening. Mr. Brown tells us that their first term of District Court lasted about three hours. Fullerton is proud, as she has good reason to be of the new university there under the management of Rev. Fleharty. It is always a credit to a community that she favors intellectual benefits and educational institutions, and we are glad to know that the town of Fullerton appreciates the value of the one recently located there.

We learn that W. A. Davis, formerly of this county, now of Nance, is a candidate for nomination for Sheriff of that county before the Republican convention. At the election two years ago he received 220 out of the 290 votes cast, but in some shape, in the county-seat contest, we believe, counted out. Without undertaking to say what was right or wrong in that matter (for we are not fully advised in the premises) we beg leave to say that our old friend Davis is a straight, staunch Republican, an intelligent, wide-awake man, and one who, while he would do his whole duty, in any case, as a sheriff, would yet have a heart to feel for those unfortunate whose property might have to be sold under his hammer, and he would do the best possible for their interests.

E. M. Squire of Madison county is talked of as a candidate for the office of County School Sup't. Where there can be no reason for misconstruing our motive, we beg leave of the good people of Madison county who may read these lines, to say a word in favor of an old friend. Mr. Squire has been for the greater part of his life actively engaged in educational work, and makes it a point to keep fully up with the times in the best methods of receiving and imparting instruction, not adhering to the old because it is old, neither accepting the new, simply because it is new. Mr. Squire was Sup't in Madison county for two years, and so far as we know, gave universal satisfaction not only as to the quantity and the quality of his work but also as to the cost of the same to the public whom he served.

Platte County Fair. Bear in mind that the Platte County Fair will be held Oct. 4th-7th, during the time when the weather, as a rule, is so delightfully pleasant in Nebraska.

Make arrangements to bring your family, at least a portion of the time. The good wife, your helpmeet, needs to see the hosts of articles exhibited at a fair,—the fruits, the flowers, the vegetables, the needle work, and the ten thousands things of use and beauty which attract the attention of the ladies.

The children need a time of recreation and sight-seeing and the "old man," too, needs to have his ideas shaken up a little, his social qualities given an opportunity for exercise, and his opinions exchanged with his fellow-farmers on matters of great value to him. Even in a pecuniary way it pays the farmer to attend the fair. It tends to heighten his pride in and his love for his calling; to increase his knowledge of the soil, the grains, the vegetables, the profitable farm products of all kinds including the domesticated animals and fowls that bring gold to the farmer's purse, which in its turn builds the house and furnishes it, sends the children to school, buys books and musical instruments and in all ways (judiciously managed) assists in running the machinery of our life on this lively old planet of ours, and makes existence more than a duty, makes it an intellectual exercise and a delight.

Republican Co. Convention. The Republican electors of Platte county, Neb., are hereby called to send delegates from the several precincts to meet in county convention at the Court House in Columbus, on Saturday, Sept. 24th, 1881, at 2 p. m. for the purpose of nominating a county ticket, and selecting delegates to the State Convention, and for the transaction of any other business that may properly come before the convention.

The several precincts are entitled to the following number of delegates: Columbus.....12 Butler.....3 Bismarck.....2 Monroe.....1 Shell Creek.....1 Walker.....1 Humphrey.....2 Stearns.....2 Sherman.....3 Creston.....1 Pleasant Valley.....1 Granville.....1 Lost Creek.....1 Burrows.....1 Looking Glass.....2 Woodville.....3 Loup.....2

The precinct primaries will be held at the places of the last general election at 4 p. m. on Saturday, Sept. 17th, 1881.

Geo. G. Bowman, Ch'g. M. K. Turner, Sec'y.

Weather Report. Review of the weather at Genoa, for the month of August, 1881: Mean temperature of mo., -deg's.....72.60 Mean do of same mo. last year.....74.48 Highest do on the 27th, -deg's.....101.60 Lowest do on the 21st, -deg's.....60.00 Ordinarily clear days.....16 Very cloudy days.....1 High winds—days.....4 Calm days.....4 Rain fell during portions of—days.....4 Inches of rain fall.....0.85 do of same mo. last year.....4.60 Very foggy 14th, 21st. Very hazy 27th and 28th. Meteors seen in numbers 16th and 17th. Comet visible to the naked eye on the 16th. Martins leave on the 18th. Grasshoppers fly south and southwest on the 6th, 11th, 17th and 20th, with the wind from north and northwest.

It will be perceived that the month I just past has been considerably drier than the same month last year, and by a reference to my notes I find that the amount of rainfall is less than for August of the past six years, the nearest approach to it being in 1878-070 in.; yet the crops have not suffered to the extent that might have been expected.

For September—Winds blowing from east to south or intermediate points are likely to be followed by rain, while winds blowing from southwest to northwest or intermediate points are likely to be followed by fair weather.

Seventh Day Adventists. As this sect will hold their annual State camp meeting at Columbus next week, the following brief sketch of their faith and history, written by one of their number may prove interesting to the readers of the JOURNAL.

As their name indicates, they believe in the second coming of Christ and that we may know when it is near, (Matt. 24:33 and 1st Thes. 5:4) but do not pretend to set the time, as some others have done. They observe the 7th day of the week as the Sabbath, and this practice marks them as a peculiar people and separates them not only from the world, but from the last day churches. They teach that Christ is a Divine Being and existed with the Father before the creation of the world, and that his is "the only name given under Heaven or among men whereby any can be saved." They hold that the dead are unconscious, and that all the wicked will finally be destroyed. In support of these positions they adduce such texts as Eccl. 9:5, 6, Mal. 4:1, and a number of others in both the old and the new testaments.

Their history dates from about 1846, since which time they have slowly but steadily increased in numbers and influence. About 30 years ago, Elder James White commenced the publication of the Advent Review and Sabbath Herald, paying for the first two or three editions with money which he earned by clipping cord wood at fifty cents per day; in a short time a publication association was formed with Elder White as President, and the work has grown till now twelve power presses are employed in this country, and two in Europe. They now publish three papers in English and four in other languages, besides millions of pages of tracts and books. Through their tract societies and missionary workers these publications are sent to every part of the world. They have organized conferences in nearly all the states and several of the territories. The Nebraska conference was organized three years ago, and comprises twenty-six organized churches and several new and unorganized companies. Their camp meetings are said to be quiet and orderly, and the preaching for the most part plain and practical. Their meetings at this place will commence Sept. 21st and continue to the 27th.

In Memoriam. IN MEMORY OF MISS SUSAN T. PRICE. We shall miss thee, dearest mother, For we've laid thee in the dust; When we see our loved ones dying Oh! how hard to think it just. As we watched our hearts resting When the monster, Death, came by, Then it seemed our hearts were breaking 'Twas so hard to let thee die.

Thou art gone from care and sorrow To the realms of endless day; As in silence we are mourning Still our dear one seems to say, "Husband, children, friends and others, Do not grieve nor shed a tear, For with Jesus, blessed saviour, I am far more happy here."

Cease thy weeping and thy sorrow, Do not think of me as dead, For I'm gone to Him in heaven Care and pain forever fled. The grave seems dark and dreary, 'Tis but there my body rests, For my spirit lives with Jesus, With the ransomed ones and blest."

Oh! how happy when we're thinking Of the friends who've gone before, As we down life's stream are floating, They will meet us on the shore. Oh! how joyful then the greeting In that world of bliss and love; Cause thy sorrow and thy grieving For we all shall meet above.

Butter, dear and precious mother, Thou art gone from all beneath, But we know the time is coming, When we'll see thee on the shore. When we'll see thee on the shore, Where we'll walk and talk with Jesus Ever, and forever more. 20-w-1

Letter List. The following is a list of unclaimed letters remaining in the post-office, in Columbus, for the week ending Sept. 10, 1881: B. Chas. Barr, Fred Bornhold, Chas. Boutwell. C. L. D. Case. Columbus, Neb.

Columbus Camp Meeting—Sept. 21st to 27th. The Seventh Day Adventists of Nebraska hold their annual State camp-meeting as above. Elder Geo. I. Butler, President of the General Conference, and other able speakers will be present. The U. P. and B. & M. railroads have granted the usual reduction in fare, to one and one-fourth fare for the round trip. This includes all the roads centering at Columbus.

To the Public. Whereas a report is being circulated that I am no longer a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Platte county, I hereby give notice that I have not withdrawn my name, nor do I intend to do so, and any report to the contrary is without my authority and absolutely false.

HENRY G. CAREW, Columbus 12th Sept. 1881. 20-w-1.
