—City Drug Store for toys, presents.
—Nice, bracing weather for winter the past week.

—Dealers are beginning to shell their corn for market.
—Other places than Columbus complain of the scarcity of coal.

—Hardware of all kinds still sold at tumbling prices at Robert Uhlir's.
—Pork is still a good price, and the hog rides to market "like a gentleman."

—Farmers hereabouts are smiling and happy, owing to their crops of grain, hogs and cattle.
—W. L. Allison, of Marion Co., Ia., is visiting W. H. Allison and family in Creston precinct.

—Born, to Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Eggleston, of Creston precinct, on the evening of the 27th ult., a son.
—Nicest Christmas presents for girls and boys would be a nice pair of club skates at Robert Uhlir's.

—Farmers are still busy husking their corn, and are groaning with their weight of golden ears.
—Get your stationery, school books, slates, organs, toys, Christmas presents, &c., at Slattery's, one door north of post-office.

—Prof. John T. Mallien, formerly of this place, has been re-elected Sup't. of Schools for Buffalo county, by a handsome majority.
—The chair which Mayor Meagher was elected to, netted the Hospital $138.15. The fair was a success to the net amount of $643.49.

—Mrs. L. Gerrard of this city was one of the delegates to the Woman's Suffrage Convention at Norfolk last Wednesday and Thursday.
—A thousand and one articles, both useful and ornamental, you can find at Kramer's N. Y. C. C. Store that will do for Christmas presents. 32-2 —Get your tickets at once for the concert to be given by Donovan's Original Tennesseans this (Wednesday) evening at the Opera House.

—Miss Rose Meeker will lecture at the Opera House, Dec. 21st, on "Indian Missions" under the auspices of the Royal Arcanum Lecture Bureau.

—Do you want to buy a nice No. 8 Cooking Stove for $18, with a wagon-load of Furniture thrown in? Then go to Uhlir's reliable Stove House.
—If you do not know what to buy for the holidays, go to L. Kramer's store. There you can find just the articles you want, and lower than anywhere else. 32-2

—Wm. P. Gordon, of Brokenstraw, N. Y., was in the city Saturday. He purchased a farm in Woodville precinct, this county, and leaves for New York to-day.
—Miss Sarah Fitzpatrick is giving excellent satisfaction as teacher in the Longlook school Dist. No. 1. It would be well, if all the children of school age would attend.

—The grandest display of pocket and table cutlery, carbon knives and forks. Mrs. Pott's nickerle plated flat-iron and numerous articles suitable for Christmas at Robert Uhlir's.
—Last week J. H. Meyer sold to D. Anderson thirty fat hogs that brought him $540. A few weeks ago Anderson paid him $440 for fifteen steers. Pretty good reckoning for a small farm.

—When dealers buy on the market, and there is an upward tendency, they are all right. Otherwise, they are bound to lose. Farmers, who have stock to sell, will appreciate this fact, when they think of it.
—The date on which your subscription expires is printed on the JOURNAL you receive, every week, so that you can notify this fact for yourself. Please notify us before expiration, whether to continue or not.

—R. H. Henry has become a Granger, in a sense,—he has bought twenty acres of land at Bellwood, which he uses as a feeding-place for 3100 sheep. Certainly a good place, in the midst of a country rich in corn and hay.
—Loran Clark started last Monday for a trip to Ohio. He accompanied his sister Mrs. Knisely, and they took with them the remains of her late husband, Mr. H. J. Knisely, for interment at his old home.—Albion News.

—Donavin's Original Tennesseans, Colored Concerts, are the same that assisted in building Central College at Nashville, and are rarely gifted vocalists, will sing in the Opera House Dec. 7th for the first time. All others are imitations of this company. 1
—Mrs. Kitty Bonesteel has entered into partnership with Mrs. Drake, and the name of the new firm is Mrs. M. S. Drake & Co. Their establishment, which (when finished as they intend) will be one of the finest looking in the west, is in the Mitchell brick building on Neb. Ave.

—Calmar McCune, our old friend of the Osceola Record, feels it to be his duty to record his doubt as to the truth of the statement that eighty odd papers of the state are in favor of woman suffrage. We doubt not but that the lady friends of the measure can furnish him with the evidence of its truthfulness.

THE FATAL BALL.

A Shooting Party on Sunday Last ends with a Tragic Occurrence.

Death of Richard Dress.
As the testimony taken at the coroner's inquest will give as good an insight as could otherwise be obtained, we reproduce it from the notes of John J. Rickly, who served as clerk for acting-coroner Benjamin Spielman, and acting-sheriff John Huber. The jury called were W. H. Lawrence, Chas. E. Rickly, Martin Postle, George Brindley, B. L. Walker and W. H. Randall.

Thos. Dress, sworn, says: Knew Edmund Grant. Richard Dress was my brother. Was present during the forenoon of Dec. 4th, when Richard Dress was killed. I knew the revolver was loaded at the time of shooting. It was a Smith & Wesson 44 caliber pistol, the one before the jury in evidence. I broke the revolver, and the cartridge came part way out; think Dick put the cartridge back in again. There was no trouble between Ed. and Dick to-day. Ed. knew there was one load in the revolver. Johnie Grant said leave one load in the revolver for the old man. Dick took up the shot gun, and said, I have got the drop on you, cow-boy, and then set the gun down again. The gun was not loaded. Then Ed. pulled the revolver and shot. I don't think Ed. said anything at the time he shot. Jno. Grant and I sat on the door-sill of the stable, facing the north-west. Ed. walked in a circle to the westward, when he got opposite to Dick he drew the revolver and fired. Dick fell backward along side the stable, on his side. Ed. knew there was a load in the revolver.

Mrs. Bridget O'Brien, sworn, says: I knew Edmund Grant. Richard Dress was my son. The boys have had trouble. I warned the Grant boys not to come on our premises. Have heard some one say, don't know who, that Ed. had threatened to shoot or kill Dick. Dick told me, Ed. had told some one while they were out west in Colorado, I think about twelve months ago, that he would kill Dick. About two weeks ago, while on a spree in Columbus, Ed. knocked Dick down. David O'Brien, sworn, says: I know Edmund Grant. Richard Dress was my step-son. We were not on good terms with Grants in years past. Do not know of any trouble of late, as I have not been on the place for about five months.

Thos. Connor testified: I am acquainted with Edmund Grant, also knew Richard Dress; was not here at time of shooting. Did not know of any trouble between the boys.
Wm. Baker: Know Edmund Grant. Knew R. Dress. Was with Edmund Grant at Huber's this forenoon, the 4th. Johnie Grant was along. Ed. told Huber he had shot Dick Dress, and wanted to give himself up. Thos. said to Ed., What made you do it? Ed. said, I did not mean to shoot him. Thos. said with emphasis, "Yes, you did." We were all very much excited. Ed. Grant, Jno. Grant and myself went down to Columbus together after the shooting. We talked the matter over on the way down. Ed. was much excited. He said he was sorry he didn't go to church to-day, as it would then not have happened.

Jno. Huber testified: Ed. Grant came to my house this morning and surrendered himself to me. Said he had killed Dick Dress; that he did it by accident; Thos. Dress came while Ed. was there; said to Ed., "I did not think you would do that." Ed. answered, "I did not do it purposely; it was an accident." Am acquainted with Ed. Grant; was acquainted with Dick Dress. There was trouble between the families when I lived here, five or six years ago. Don't know of any trouble of late.

John Grant, sworn, says: There had been no trouble between Ed. and Dick. They were good friends at the time of the shooting. The revolver belonged to father. It was a Smith & Wesson, 44 caliber, same one which is before the jury on evidence. Ed. gave it to father last spring. Dick must have stood face to face with Ed. at time of shooting. Don't know their relative positions. Ball went in on left side, over left eye. I could not see if revolver was cocked or not, at the time. Ed. drew it from inside of his pants. He drew it on right side and said, "This is the way they shoot out west. I knew there was one load in the revolver. I said, 'Leave one load in for father.' Would not say that Ed. knew there was a load in the revolver. Might have known. Don't know where Ed. stood at the time I said 'leave one load in for father.' Ed. Grant is my brother. Ed. Grant, sworn, says: My name is Ed. Grant. Knew Dick Dress. There was some trouble between our families a few years ago, but I liked Dick, he was such a jolly good fellow. Had drank no intoxicating liquor this morning. Was standing with my face southwest, at time of shooting. Did not think there was any load left in the revolver at the time I drew it out. There were five loads in it when I brought it from the house. Dick had set the gun down about one minute before I drew the revolver and shot. I said, "I have got the drop on you." Was showing them how the cow boys do out west. John Grant and Tom Dress sat on the door-sill of the stable. Dick stood in front of them and between them, with his face toward me. Might have heard Johnie say, "Leave one load in for father." Can't remember as I did. The revolver before the jury, in evidence is the one I shot with.

The tragic affair occurred at the residence of Wm. Grant, six miles west of Columbus, at about 10 o'clock, Sunday last.

From "The Times."
Editor of the Times:—In reading the last number of your paper, I noticed you asked all who had been benefited by the letter published in your valuable paper about a year ago, to write you the facts for publication. The letter from Dr. Bates created a great amount of excitement in this vicinity, as he is well and favorably known by every one here. His reputation as a man and a physician gave every one the utmost confidence in all his statements, and of this course soon made the name "Kendall's Spavin Cure" not only familiar but very popular. In reply to your request I will say: About nine years ago I slipped on the ice and sprained my right limb at the knee joint. I was very lame and suffered excruciating pain much of the time since, and some of the time thought I should be a cripple for life. Dr. Bates' letter printed in your paper gave me so much confidence in the virtues of "Kendall's Spavin Cure" that I tried it for my knee and less than one bottle completely cured me so that I have had no return of pain or lameness, for which, of course, I cannot feel too thankful. Since my recovery I have visited friends in the west and found that the following parties have used it with the greatest results in that part of the country. The Rev. John Rice, Hematite, Mo., used it on his own person for a cure of 35 years standing and performed one of the most wonderful cures I ever heard of. J. L. McCure, of Strong City, Kansas, cured a badly lacerated and poisoned hand, from a hog bite and also removed an enlargement near the hip joint which had become large and troublesome. He also used it for pleurisy and found that bathing his chest with it relieved him at once. To my surprise I found that this wonderful remedy was better known in the west than it was in the east, and I found they were using it there for all ailments, as well as on human flesh with the very best of results, and I find so many cases wherever I go to confirm the favorable opinion I had already formed of it that I am glad of an opportunity of telling the readers of your valuable paper what I have learned in regard to it. Hoping to hear from others upon this very important subject, especially important to those who have suffered for years like myself, I remain, Yours, &c., J. A. ROYCE, Elmira, N. Y., Sept. 17, '81.

—Mrs. F. J. Stetson will give an entertainment Saturday evening next at the Congregational Church, this city. The press everywhere are unbounded in praise of her subjects and her manner. The Boston Traveller says she possesses every requisite for dramatic reading; the N. Y. Times that she delighted her audience; the Columbus (O.) Journal that she has no superior as an elocutionist. Be sure to hear her.

—We hear of several wife-beaters in Platte county. Of course a newspaper is not an organized court of justice, with power to point out, convict and punish of crime, but it can make mention of the fact in a general way. In every civilized community it ought to be thought a monstrous thing for a man to beat his wife, her whom he has most solemnly pledged to love, cherish and protect.

—We acknowledge a very cordial invitation to attend the Tin Wedding, of Mr. and Mrs. Seth P. Mobley, at Turner Hall, Grand Island, Friday Eve, Dec. 9 '81. The card of invitation was neatly set in tin. We suppose the wedding is no secret, and thus speak of it publicly, and shall, if circumstances permit, take great pleasure in being present on the happy occasion.

—If there is any man in this country who knows he can play a good game of checkers, we would like to see him drop quietly this way, and tackle C. M. Chambers. There is only one other man we ever saw (and he lived at Milford, this state), who played checkers, by instinct, the same as he be builds it his home.

—Some lady of this city should take the agency for that popular and useful book, "Practical Housekeeping," issued by Buckeye Publishing Co., Minneapolis, Minn. Every housekeeper needs a copy. Address the publishers for terms. Commissions large. 30-4

—We will be under obligations to some friend who will give us the post-office address of Saml. Davis who is said to have gone from here to Rapid City, Dakota Ty., then to Central City, same territory, and not heard from thereafter. 1f

—The telephone is now an established institution as an auxiliary to business in all large cities and towns. When is Columbus to have her system? We think now would be a good time to canvass the subject.

—Mr. J. P. McGinnitie and wife, of Autumwa, Iowa, arrived in the city last week on a visit to their son and family, Prof. McGinnitie of this city.
