A GLANCE ABOUT TOWN.

Combination of Vim and Capital Produces one of the Most Useful, Convenient, and in the Near Future, Best Paying Enterprises in our City.— A Pleasure to Inspect, and well Worthy of Record.

The past fall has developed so many public-spirited citizens, and so many far-reaching enterprises in our rapidly growing city, that we have hardly been able to keep pace with the march of improvement. were very forcibly reminded of this, as we dropped into Becher & Price's office yesterday, and inspected their new set of Abstract Books, now fully completed.

The complete set consists of six, eight-quire, three six-quire, and two four-quire volumes, manufactured of the very heaviest and best quality of calendered paper to be procured, and very firmly as well as elegantly bound, and were manufactured expletely and elegantly written up and contain in their respective volumes, a full and accurate abstract of all deeds, mortgages, powers of attorney, etc., etc., filed or on record in the clerk's office of this county, also a full and accurate abstract of the District Court, and the Probate and County Court records of this county. Our attention was particularly attracted to an Index Book and a reference Book, which readily and conveniently give a perfect synopsis of slavery sentiments. This was tho't all deeds.

The value of this work is simply inestimable, in more phases than one.

If any accident should befall our county or court records they would be as standard authority as the original record itself. If we are purchasing or selling property, we can quickly and easily obtain an authentic record of title, right here in the business center of the city, without a mile or less journey to the court house, and you can drop in at any time, early in the morning, at noon, or in the evening,-they are always there. We predict for this energetic firm a thousand-fold return for their investment. We can hardly close without a few words of commendation of the clerical work which was performed entirely by Will. E. Robinson, Esq., of Greenville, Ill., a gentleman of large experience in branch of business. Mr. Robinson commenced this work on the morning of the 12th of May last, and has labored almost incessantly up to the present time. He is an expert penman, as his work amply testifies, and probably has few equals in Abstract work. We only marvel that he has accomplished so much in so short a time. Will. has made hosts of friends during his stay among us, who will regret his departure to the land of "Suckers." We say to all our readers, a simple nspection will more than verify what we have here chronicled, and which we could profitably enlarge upon, if our space would justify.

-Of all institutions, the newspaper must live nearest the people, in their wants and purposes. It must, with more or less accuracy and earnestness, record these wants and further these purposes, or cease to exist as a social force. The papers that ride hobbies and those that are organs of a clique are comparatively short-lived and feeble, because the central idea of their existence is not in unison with the community in which they try to live. During old slavery times a newspaper proprietor of New York was threatened with the loss of the patronage of the South if he didn't recant his antiby his interviewers to be a very strong "argument," but his reply was so quick, crisp, truthful, crushing and surprising to the haughty and insolent southrons that it has become memorable: "Take away your patronage as quick as you like. We get more money for the advertisements of the chamber maids of New York City than from all the slave states put together."

A Pleasant Gathering. On Saturday evening, December l0th, a pleasant, sociable time was enjoyed at the residence of Mr. J. E. North on 14th street. The members of the Cornet Band had been invited there and at about ten o'clock were asked to take seats in the spacious dining - room before table well laden with all the good and substantial things that this market affords. After doing the excellent supper ample justice, the party again took seats in the parlor where they enjoyed two selections of music with piano accompaniment from Miss Rose North, who rendered them in her usual, artistic manner: also one from O. C. Shannon of the Band, and one from L. H. North. entitled "Grandfather Ben," which more than pleased the party. At a late hour the members of the Band took leave, voting thanks to J. E. North and family for their hospitality.

City Council.

At their meeting last week, crossings were ordered across the tracks of the A. & N. and the U. P., on 'A' st., west of the Packing House.

An ordinance was introduced, vacating a strip on the south side of twelfth st., for the use of the U. P. It is understood that this is necessary for the company, to make connection with the new track of the Branch road, past Martin Heintz's place.

Henry Luers having proposed to farnish the city with the new com bination drive-well, and guarantee sufficient water-supply, for $100 each, two wells were ordered, one for the square at the Lindell House, the other at Hayes's square, on Olive street. -Mr. Spencer of Butler county has made during the season twelve hundred and twenty-five gallons of sorghum syrup, and of a good quality, too, as we can testify. He has had no trouble in selling what he has made, and could readily dispose of three times as much at fifty cents gallon. He has no doubt that a good quality of sugar can be made from the syrup, and is now experimenting with some in a way that buying it, at I. Gluck's, of the Revwear, mufflers, silk handkerchiefs, promises success. If this can be olution store. dene as readily and cheaply as Mr. Spencer's process implies, Nebraska street for your fine Kentucky whisfarmers need seek no further for their "sweetening," as sorghum can be raised here as cheap as corn can, of excellent quality, and in surprising quantity.
