Wesley had been out hunting, and on their way home in attempting to ford the stream, found they could not, and in trying to turn out the stream, the horse became unmanageable, drowning himself and Flatman.

THOS. CARB, of Madison, Wis., was in possession of $12,000 with which he intended to purchase horses. He started west and at Chicago formed the acquaintance of three sharpers. They all started west and while on the train his new acquaintances grabbed all his money, leaped from the train and made their escape.

A TERRIBLE hail storm visited Dallas, Texas, last week, raining down hailstones ranging from the size of walnuts to base balls, and many still larger ones were picked up, measuring over ten inches in circumference. Teams ran away in the streets and many persons were knocked down and dangerously injured. There is not one-tenth enough glass in the city to repair broken glass. Great damage was done to grain and fruit.

ADDITIONAL details of the terrible storm that visited parts of Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri show that it was extremely disastrous, not only in the immense loss of property, but also in the destruction of human life.

It is stated that President Arthur is not fully satisfied that Minister Lowell acted as promptly as he might in urging the trial or release of American citizens imprisoned in Ireland, as "suspects," and that in consequence, he will probably be recalled.

The man that was arrested in St. Louis, supposed to be old Bender, turns out to be Jacob Balch, who is well known in the vicinity of Fort Scott, Kansas. He has lived about Union for many years. Balch will now probably be released by the large building of S. W. Rising.

We planted one acre of early potatoes on the fourth, mostly "Beauty of Hebron." Now, Mr. M. K. Turner, "Why Not?" thinks if you and Mrs. Turner would drive over to "Why Not's," and after dinner, spend an hour in looking at what "Why Not" can show, on what a few years back was "Nebraska's soil." I think both Mr. and Mrs. Turner would fully appreciate and enjoy the many things luxuriantly growing, in orchard and garden, and return to Columbus more than satisfied with the day's excursion. If you say yes to this, Why Not will drop you a card about the time your presence would be most desirable. It will be hard for your old correspondent to take a no to this.

HON. THOS. ALLEN, member of congress from Missouri, died at 5 a. m. on the 8th inst., during sleep. He was the richest man in congress, worth from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000. His remains were taken to Pittsfield, Mass., for interment, accompanied by his family and by the committee of congressmen appointed for that purpose.

A FEW journals in Nebraska have assailed Senator Van Wyck on account of his speech on the tariff commission bill, which without due reflection as to what might result from their comments, as many people might be induced to form an unfavorable opinion of the amount of intelligence or fairness of spirit employed in the comments.

It is stated in our exchanges that every outgoing steamship carries an immense amount of money over to Ireland. The Irish emigration society reports that in forty years it has been the means of sending $32,000,000 of American money across the ocean. And this certainly has been the product of "cheap labor," and personal economy on the part of our Irish workers.

HARRY PARK, mail agent on the Missouri Pacific road running between Kansas City and St. Louis, was arrested in St. Louis, charged with having robbed the mails. It is supposed the stealing has been the drafts that have been sent from Topeka to New York within three months, amounting to $50,000. Other arrests will probably be made.

The annual meeting of the Baltimore, Ohio and Chicago Railroad Co. was held the other day at Chicago. Bradford Dunham of Ohio, Daniel A. Jones and John Thomas were elected directors. The directors then elected Dunham president, J. H. Salor, Ohio, secretary and treasurer, and James L. Radolph, Baltimore, chief engineer. The financial report shows a favorable condition of the road.

The north-bound train on the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe road, was robbed recently near Cleburne, Texas, by six masked men at a water station called Blum; they entered the passenger cars, four standing guard at the doors while two others passed through the cars with cocked pistols, one carrying a pillow slip, ordering a missionary fund. They shot at the conductor, but missed him. They collected from the passengers quite a large sum of money and then made their escape.

The Omaha Bee in speaking of the recent city elections in Omaha says: "The working men have won a signal victory through the ballot box. They have routed the combined cohorts of corporate monopoly who were massed against them, regardless of party. This is, however, not a triumph of rioters and communists over law and order, but a vindication of the principle that this is a government by the people, for the people and not a government of corporate monopoly, for corporate monopoly."

The Pacific Railroad Co. have solved the question of the water problem in Dakota by recently sinking an artesian well near Tower City, which first reached salt water, but at a depth of sixty-five feet struck pure, fresh water which began spouting up 30 feet above the surface of the ground. An analysis shows the water to be without sediment, and perfectly wholesome and plentiful. The same stratigraphic extends through Montana, and the Company will proceed to sink wells in that territory as well as in Dakota. This is a very important discovery for that region of country.

The Chicago Times thinks it high time something was being done for the patriot who, when the draft was hanging over the republic, went to the front and bought substitutes. He has not reached the point where he demands a pension, but in one state he has rallied to demand a law authorizing towns to pay back the money advanced by the warriors who hired substitutes. In some portions of our great and good country these patriots were pretty numerous and the JOURNAL shall not be surprised to hear of considerable activity on their part to be reimbursed for the money invested by them in proxy courage and patriotism.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—We have had a splendid spring for farm work, and any one who may be laboring in putting in their crops, assuredly cannot blame the season so far. Extremes appear to be the rule in crops this season, but little wheat sown by many who have heretofore sown largely. Now, if we who have sown a reasonable amount of wheat, secure a good crop, then next season everybody will "go it big" on wheat. A fair division in all products that can be raised in this climate is no doubt best for "us farmers."

Last Monday was a breezy day, and farmers have had a time getting the dust out of ears and whiflers.

We noticed that our liberty pole had to be lariat to keep it from going to the north.

Jessie Rising is fencing a forty acre pasture.

Not a house now to rent in town. Our store buildings, too, are now all occupied, a firm from Beatrice having recently rented and opened up in the large building of S. W. Rising.

We planted one acre of early potatoes on the fourth, mostly "Beauty of Hebron." Now, Mr. M. K. Turner, "Why Not?" thinks if you and Mrs. Turner would drive over to "Why Not's," and after dinner, spend an hour in looking at what "Why Not" can show, on what a few years back was "Nebraska's soil." I think both Mr. and Mrs. Turner would fully appreciate and enjoy the many things luxuriantly growing, in orchard and garden, and return to Columbus more than satisfied with the day's excursion. If you say yes to this, Why Not will drop you a card about the time your presence would be most desirable. It will be hard for your old correspondent to take a no to this.

Why Not.

[Of course, we heartily accept our correspondent's very kind invitation, knowing that we shall be individually benefited thereby, and perhaps be enabled to do something more hereafter in furthering those interests which our correspondent values so highly. Old friends and acquaintances value all the more highly as time passes by and as the affairs of life test the solidity and the nobility of their character.—Ep. JOURNAL.]

Name Petition.

The Lincoln correspondent of the Omaha Bee evidently thinks himself pretty well posted as to aspirants for state offices. No doubt work is being done with a view to nominations. Conjectures in politics are, like conjectures of the weather, interesting in a certain sense, if they but have an air of probability:

"The political skilllet is commencing to sizzle and alates and conventions are being made on every hand. The very latest on the boards is the following: St Alexander, for governor; Wells, of The Crete Union, lieutenant-governor; Dinamore, of Clay county, for treasurer; Ed. Rogen for secretary of state, and Church Howe, Paul Vandervoort and Jim Laird for congress. Mr. Dawes will do well to look a little after his own county. . . .

The banks of Lincoln, and we hear it rumored that Millard of Omaha is in the pot, are for Charlie White for state treasurer, but as they have a four-cornered fight in Saunders county this time, they may not be so successful as they anticipate. In Saunders there will be several prominent men fighting for the delegation, and they are all convinced that it is now or never. In the first place Speaker Shedd wants to be governor, Charley White expects to be treasurer, Mr. Reese is certain to be attorney general and John Steen, the postmaster at Wahoo, is a candidate for a state office, with a good prospect of sweeping the board.

Our friend, Ed. Roggen, is making hay while the sun shines. He spends every Sunday among the country folks, trying to convince them that he is their man for secretary of state. Last Sunday at Hickman and the Sunday before at Harvard, and so on. Just where he will go next Sunday we cannot say."

As to the Extra Session.

Congress with an extra session or congress without it, is the problem with which Gov. Nance is wrestling—Omaha Bee.

According to the Sioux City Journal, "the latest in regard to Gov. Nance's intentions is that the Nebraska Legislature will not be called together until next month. It looks as though a notice to convene them will be later news than that one of these days.—Omaha Republican.

It had been given out that the extra session would be called for the 26th of April or thereabouts, and the publication to that effect has quieted the people of the state who are greatly interested in this question. If, however, the candidates for congress are to be allowed to pool their issues, in a state nominating convention, lightning may strike where it listeth without regard to any particular, previous conditions.

An astounding case of fatality occurred in Philadelphia, Pa., last week in which three sisters died within one half hour. One of them, Mrs. Winmore, when she went to her bed-room, heard a noise in her sister's room. She entered and found Mrs. Watson in a dying condition. Medical assistance was called and Mrs. Smith, her other sister, immediately went to Mrs. Winmore's room in a few minutes. Almost immediately, Mrs. Winmore fell to the floor unconscious, and in ten minutes she was dead. Ten minutes later Mrs. Smith, the third sister, was also a corpse.

JOHN NASSETT, living near Cambridge, Ohio, last week shot his son John E. Nassett, through the abdomen, and then shot himself through the head, causing instant death. The physician thinks the son cannot recover. The father had decided to the son his farm upon the condition that he should maintain his father and mother during life. The son had married and proposed to build a new house. The father said if he did he would kill him; the son paid no attention to the threat, and was shot while dressing stone for the new building.

It appears that the method to obtain a service upon Guiteau at Chicago was for the officer to inquire for the usual place of residence of Guiteau and was informed it was at Mrs. Scoville's residence where the officer left the summons at his usual place of residence. Everybody knows he has not been around there for a year and more, and that his person, and whatever property he may own is in the District of Columbia. The case with this sort of service will probably get far enough into court to be quashed. The later news from Chicago in relation to Mrs. Scoville's application to be appointed conservator of the Guiteau estate is that Judge Loomis quashed the motion, ruling that the insanity of the man must first be decided by the Court at Washington.
