It is a well known fact that we carry the largest, finest and most attractive stock in Columbus and in Central Nebraska, and that we are never undersold. We have this season made arrangements to have a city. resident buyer in the East who keeps us supplied with novelties, picks up bargains and whom we entrust with all special orders of our customers.

Columbus has never before seen such a fine stock of carpets, mattings and rugs as we have now, nor as cheap. Our stock and assortment of boy's, youth's and men's clothing is immense, and very cheap.

We keep a full assortment of Selz's fine, hand-made boots, shoes and slippers. They are as cheap as the cheapest, and we warrant every part.

Our stock of dress goods, dress trimmings, hosiery, parasols, trimmed and untrimmed hats, and sundowns, cloaks, dolmans and ulsters is superior to all others, and it is to everybody's interest to buy of us. From season to season we endeavor to keep a finer class of goods, to keep you from sending to larger places for goods.

We solicit trade at home and for sixty miles around, and we carry the stock and make the prices to warrant it.

We quote the following new prices: White Pique 6 cents a yard, polka dotted blue dress cambrics 7 cents, momie cloths 15 cents, pure linen handkerchiefs 5 cents, a set of embroidered linen collars and cuffs 18 cents, first-class plow boots $1.75 a pair, German indigo calico worth 20 cents for 1315 per yard, children's trimmed hats 25 cents, ladies' trimmed hats 50 cents, 25 vards calico for $1.00. all-wool bunting 25 cents, toilet quilts 50 cents, ivory dress buttons 5 cents a dozen, and many other decided bargains. The goods we advertise we Smith.

Letter from Glasgow.

GLASGOW, SCOTLAND,

April 28, 1882.

On Tuesday we sighted the Irish coast, and about 5 p. m. steamed up through a beautiful bay to Moville. There we exchanged mail, and returned to sea. Here we also saw a fine old Irish ruin, and some nice fields on the slopes facing the bay. Pat was at work on his native heath. The next morning we got up at 3 o'clock to get a view of the beautiful scenery going up the Clyde to Glasgow, among which was an old residence of Mary, Queen of Scotts, and Dumbarton Castle, a grand old ruin. This is certainly a fine old country, in a good state of order, and worth going to see. The Only Big Show of the

The Cincinnati Enquirer says. "The tenting season in this city was opened yesterday by Uncle John Robinson. Last evening the initial performance very best stock that cau be procured of '82 of his great World's Exposition of wonders was given beneath the mountain of canvas which now finds place in the lot in the rear of Lincoln Park. Now, yesterday was not a good day for circuses. It wasn't a good day for anything else, but dismal winds and cold, cheerless weather | May 17th, A. D., 1882, the said permit will did not prevent the opening from being a be granted. DOWTY, WEAVER & Co., brilliant success. It takes more than the elements to keep a great many people away from a circus, and Uncle John Robinson's show proved to be a magnet yesterday of no mean quality. It is safe to say his aggregation this year surpasses A. In the menag-Center, in Lost Creek Precinct, Platte erie there are a number of rare animals to County, Nebraska, from the 24th day of be seen which would prove bonauzas to May, 1882, to the 24th day of May, 1883 the majority of traveling wagon shows. Among these a tapir, a mammoth ox, and May 10, A. D. 1882, the said license will a yak are worthy of special note. The be granted. specialties in the circus embrace several novelties. The performance in this tent are given simultaneously in three distinct rings. Of course this feature of the entertainment was prefaced by a grand entree and tournament which was gorgeous in the last degree. In the first ring Miss Minnie Marks evidenced her right and the Board of County Commissioners of title to that of a graceful equestrienne. The barrel jumping by Signor Lleine was followed by the amusing performance of a riding goat. At the same time a riding dog was making things lively in the second ring, and a monkey in the third was May 10th, A. Bob Stickney was given a royal little reception when he appeared in the ring, and his equestrian act was the selfsame exhibition of grace and skill that has gained him fame and reputation as the apollo of the arena. Of the other principal equestrians there were John Barry and George Holland. Chief among the army of acrobats were the Albiot brothers. Miss Emma Lake is one of the most graceful and daring riders in the profession, and her menage act was heartily applauded.
