KATE SHELLEY, the Iowa girl who saved a railroad train from wrecking, contradicts the newspaper rumors that she was engaged to be married. She says she desires a good education. The Chicago & Northwestern Railroad Company should see that her desire be granted.

JUDGE UNDERWOOD, recently appointed on the Tariff Commission, is not noted for steadfastness. In his early years some one asked his father, then a federal judge in Georgia, what his son's politics were. "I don't know," was the reply. "I haven't seen the boy since breakfast."

A TERRIBLE wind and rain storm visited Independence Iowa, on the 23d, doing great damage. A number of houses and barns were demolished, smoke stacks and chimneys blown down, and lumber yards swept away. Sells' circus tent was blown down and three employees killed.

RILEY DONALDSON, of Merriweather, Ga., in cutting into a hollow tree into which he had chased a rabbit, found two rabbits, two squirrels, a nest of owls and a swarm of bees, with nine gallons of honey. This appears like a large count, but it is possible it may be all right.

THE Boston Herald says: It is a funny state of affairs in Pennsylvania when the regulars want their party defeated as a warning to the Independents of the dangers of bolting, and the Independents wish for the same result to prove to Cameron that the people won't stand bolting.

TWO cowboys at Caldwell, Kas., were on a hoodoo. Marshall Geo. Brown was attempting to disarm one of them, when the other drew a revolver and shot Brown through the head and scattering his brains all over the floor. They instantly mounted their horses and fled. Parties went in pursuit.

THE property of Trinity Church, New York, is estimated to be worth $50,000,000. Is there no just way of some of the churches in the west obtaining a little charity from Trinity? It would be a good thing for Nebraska churches, if properly and rightfully obtained, to handle a little of this large sum.

THE case of W. J. Connell, who some time since sued the Pennsylvania railroad company for ejecting him from one of their trains while in possession of a ticket purchased of a regular agent and for which he paid the cash, has been determined, the jury in the case returning a verdict in his favor for $15,000.

A MEETING of the Republican State Central Committee has been called to meet at the Commercial hotel, in the city of Lincoln, on Thursday, the 6th day of July, 1882, at 2 o'clock p. m., to transact such business as may properly come before that body. M. Whitmoyer, Esq., is the member of the committee from this district.

MRS. MARGARET CAMPBELL, laboring in Nebraska in the interest of woman suffrage, is reported as accomplishing a good work in the localities visited. She is said to be an excellent speaker, and interests her audiences from the beginning to the close of her addresses. She has recently been visiting Fremont and vicinity.

FROM Danville, Ill., comes the sad news of three interesting girls named Alice Mills, Mary Ogile and Mary Jones having committed suicide the other morning by taking arsenic. Alice for the reason that her father lived with a shameless woman; Mary Ogile because she was an orphan, and Mary Jones took the drug because the others did.

SIDNEY, Neb., was visited the other night by the most fearful hail and rain storm that ever occurred in that vicinity, stones falling the size of hen eggs. Nearly all the glass in the town was broken, and many of the merchants and gardeners are heavy losers, the latter losing everything. The whole south side of the town was covered with three feet of water.

State League. Delegates from about thirty-one counties of this state convened at Lincoln on the 22nd inst., for the purpose of organizing a state league in the interest of the anti-monopolists of this state.

We have not space to give a full report of the proceedings of the convention.

A temporary organization of the convention was effected by electing Dr. Brazelton, of Fillmore county, chairman, and Charles Madeley, of Adams county, secretary.

During the working of the committee, loud calls were made for Mr. Rosewater who responded by a short and spirited address.

The committee on permanent organization reported H. C. Osterhout, of Merrick, president; C. H. Madeley, secretary.

Mr. Ingersoll, president of the State Farmers' Alliance, addressed the convention at some length.

At the evening session a constitution, after an exciting debate, was adopted.

The committee for that purpose made a report containing a declaration of principles, which after being discussed were adopted.

Messrs. W. Blakely, J. A. Sheridan and J. M. Dressler were chosen vice-presidents.

An executive committee of nine was elected by the delegations from the different districts.

Mrs. PRISCILLA D. TWIGGS, of Baltimore, 80 years of age, has asked Congress to increase her pension from $25 to $50 a month, and made this remarkable statement: "I imagine few have stronger claims upon the liberality of the government than I have, every male relative having been in the United States service; my grandfather, Commodore Decatur Sr., having been in the French war, and his two sons in our navy. Commodore Stephen Decatur, Jr., distinguished himself by recapturing and burning the frigate Philadelphia in the harbor of Tripoli, in which engagement his brother, James S. Decatur, was killed. Again, during the war with Great Britain, in 1812, he further distinguished himself by capturing the British frigate Macedonian. My father, Capt. James McKnight, was in the marine corps at the time of his death. Both my brothers were lieutenants in the navy; the elder, Lieut. Stephen D. McKnight, was with Commodore Porter on board the Essex, and was afterwards lost at sea on board the United States sloop-of-war Wasp. My husband fell at the storming of Chapultepec, and my only son, George D. Twiggs, was killed in an engagement one month previous, he being on his way to join his uncle, Gen. D. E. Twiggs, as his aid."

GOVERNOR SHERMAN, of Iowa, has made the following extraordinary statement: "I saw President Garfield a day or two ago in Cleveland. You need not look astonished—I really saw him—not his spirit, but his own form and features. I had visited his tomb to do homage to the spot where the martyr President was sleeping. The watchman in charge, on learning whence I came and who I was, asked me if I would like to see the president. I was as greatly surprised as you can be. He simply showed me he was in earnest, invited me into the tomb, unscrewed and removed the lid from that sacred casket, and there lay General Garfield before me—just as he looked the day of his funeral—as if in a weary, unrefreshing sleep. I was surprised, for, despite the emanation of those noble features, I was at once struck with their likeness to the general, as I had seen him alive. I presume that years will pass ere the preserving traces of the embalmer's work will have been removed from all that is left on earth of Garfield. He was a great man, and it shows in his calm though pain-shrunken features still.—O. Republican.

Crop Reports from Three States and One Territory.

SIoux CITY, June 20.—The Daily Journal will to-morrow morning publish crop reports from something over one hundred points in North-western Iowa, Southwestern Minnesota, Southern Dakota and North-eastern Nebraska. The general outlook is more favorable than ever known to be before at this season of the year. The acreage is largely increased, and in some of the Dakota counties it is three hundred per cent. greater than last year. Small grains are simply immense, and nothing has happened to hurt the crop. Corn is somewhat backward, but the stand is good, the plant strong, and many points report it as far along as usual at this time of the year. The acreage of corn is largely increased over previous season, while wheat and other small grains remain about the same. Owing to the new farms opened up, the prospect at this time is for the most abundant harvest ever gathered in this section of the northwest.

During the great floods in Louisiana there was seen one day moving through the aisles of shadow among the tall gum and oak trees, whose foliage made a green roof for the voyagers, a little raft some twenty feet long by nine feet in width. In the bow sat a young wife of twenty, holding her child. In the center there was a heap of plain country furniture. Behind them were piled pots, kettles and pans. On her right, with and features and doleful face, were four deer hounds, and behind them, resting on the beds, an old shotgun and rifle. Pulling at the oars was the husband. Hardly two inches out of water, the flat moved along and passed out of sight. It represented all the worldly goods of a young planter saved from the flood. He had some forty-eight miles to go to reach his former home.

District Congressional Conventions. We have taken a good deal of pains to ascertain the views of leading republicans throughout the state in regard to what should be the action of the state central committee at its approaching meeting relative to the congressional conventions this fall. Opinion is solid against any action looking to nominations by representatives of the districts at the time and place of the state convention. There is substantial unanimity in favor of the state committee simply naming the time and place for the chairmen of the county central committees in each district to meet, and arrange for the district conventions and for primaries and county conventions for the election of delegates thereto. In other words, let the whole matter be "remanded to the congressional districts." This is republican, and true republican procedure, according to the decision of the national republican convention which nominated Garfield and Arthur.—Omaha Republican.

Senator Van Wyck's Proposition. Senator Van Wyck, of Nebraska, offered a resolution that the nominations for the tariff commission be considered in open session instead of with closed doors. In view of the interest taken by all branches of industry in the commission, the wide scope of its work, and the fact that the general public has but the most meagre information about the nomination, Senator Van Wyck's proposition seems a fair one. What is wanted upon this whole subject of the tariff is more information, and any action that shall tend to enlighten the people should be unhesitatingly taken.—Albany Journal.

Railroad Extension in Iowa. OTTUMWA, June 20.—The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad company commenced work to-day at this city on their extension from Cedar Rapids southwesterly to Kansas City, via Homestead, Iowa county, and Sigourney, Keokuk county. The road bed between this city and Sigourney was graded twelve years ago, and the work is commenced here to put this old grade in condition to lay down the iron, which can be done with a moderate outlay. This is one of the extensions begun last year which the Milwaukee company propose to complete this season.

KEARNEY Journal: A sad report comes from what is called Death creek, about twenty miles northwest of Kearney, wherein a boy sixteen years old herding sheep for J. W. Black, was found dead yesterday afternoon. The name of the unfortunate boy is Frederick Q. Burdick, son of George D. Burdick. He went out yesterday afternoon as usual to herd, and was found towards night dead, without any sign or cause of death visible. Coroner Switz went out this morning, but will probably not return until to-morrow. Some suppose that he was killed by lightning. It is another of those sad events of life unaccounted for.

THE theory that multitudinous high buildings and tapering spires so distribute electricity that severe and damaging thunder storms are rare in great cities is strengthened by the fact that up to June 2 London had not been visited by a single thunder storm, whereas fatal accidents from lightning have been unusually numerous in the midland counties of England. The same theory is curiously contradicted by the records of the Berlin Fire brigade, which show that recently, in a single hour, the brigade received twenty-eight calls to extinguish fires caused by lightning.

A COMMITTEE of physicians have presented a petition to the President, in person, asking for the creation of a scientific commission to determine the sanity or insanity of the condemned man Guitauau. The petition is signed by medical experts, who state their conviction that Guitauau is insane and urge the propriety of a reprieve. The President listened patiently and taking the papers said they would be referred to the attorney general for a report. All other papers previously received bearing on the case have been similarly referred.

COR reports from the several counties herein named, have been made from personal inspection and somewhat of a lengthy account published in the Sioux City Journal. These accounts represent the crops of wheat, corn, barley, flax, potatoes and oats upon the whole as never looking better, and bidding fair to yield the greatest crops ever gathered from the soil in Nebraska. These reports are specially confined to the counties of Antelope, Burt, Cedar, Colfax, Cumming, Dakota, Dixon, Dodge, Madison, Pierce, Platte, Valley and Wayne.

THE Chicago Herald says: "He gives twice who gives quickly. The cry for help from Iowa is urgent. One hundred people have been killed. More than 500 have been wounded. 300 families have had their homes swept away, and over 1,500 persons are homeless from the effects of the cyclone. The total loss will reach $2,000,000, and want and suffering appeal for help from a region where comfort and prosperity have been accustomed to extend help to others." Organize reliable committees and send forward your contributions.

A COMMITTEE of the Methodist Church met in Urbana, Ill., last week, to make a preliminary investigation of the charges against the Rev. James Miller, of that place, for teaching heretical doctrines. They decided that unless Mr. Miller would agree not to disseminate the doctrines in question the presiding elder of the district would arrange for a trial. Mr. Miller would agree to nothing, and the trial was set for July 11.

The latest snake story from Georgia is thus told by the Rome Bulletin: "The other day a certain young lady in Rome started out shopping. While putting on her hat she thought it well rather heavy, but not noticing anything put it on her head. On her return home she asked her sister to take off her hat, but she thought something was in it. Her sister took off her hat and, while doing so, came near being bitten by a snake. The lady had worn the snake around with her all the time, unconscious of its presence."

THE Druggists of Nebraska held last week at Lincoln, their first state convention, which was attended by over one hundred dealers from different parts of the State. Among other business a permanent organization was effected by the election of Dr. E. M. Park, of Ashland, as President, and five Vice-presidents—M. F. A. D. Wyckoff, M. Padden, Jas. Reed and H. E. Wells. Secretary J. W. Bell. Appropriate committees were appointed. David Dowty, of this city, was placed on the Trade Interests.

HENRY HILDEBRAND, living near Osceola, Polk county, Neb., committed suicide last week by hanging. Mr. Hildebrand was unmarried, but lived at his farm and batched it. He had recently sold his farm for $5,000, and a certificate of deposit of that amount on the Osceola bank, and $77 in greenbacks were found in the house. The deceased was about forty years of age, an American by birth, and was considered a man of strict business integrity.
