I thought as I viewed ance, as he dealt some heavy hits at trum better than a scoffold. However, I learned before I left town that 4 if the subject was left to the women of Antelope this fall, they would vote it down. I have not much to say on the question myself, but poetically speaking of woman, she was not taken out of his head to reign, or triumph over man; no, nor taken out of his feet to be trampled upon; but she was taken out of his side, his partner and equal to be. For the Journal. MR. EDITOR :-- The coming election in Nebraska will be the most important to the interests of the state of any previous election ever held. Heretofore the state has had but one representative in congress, this year three representatives to congress are to be elected from the state-also one United States senator by the coming legislature--senators and representatives to the legislature, as well as state ticket, including governor. No republican should fail to consider the mportance of the contest, and permit that fact to influence his conduct throughout the campaign. It is true it is the political right of any republican, to be a candidate for office, but when he submits his claim for office under the rules and usages of the party in nominating candidates, he should most cheerfully submit, and still continue to perform his whole duty to his political friends. Under the system for nominating candi dates, usually some bitter feeling engendered between friends and various candidates. I never could see any necessity for such a result. Candidates, as well as their friends should always act frankly and candidly with each other and do and say nothing against each other that they would not be willing to face and answer for at any time in the future It is not true that there is no such thing as honesty in politics.

In every county and precinct of the state, honest and capable republicans can be found to represent their locality in the respective conventions to numerous republican candidates. In the primaries is the place to make a od start and lay a good foundation for the county conventions, as they have to bear a good share of the responsibility for the character of the -Nickoll & Gatwald, of this place, sharp eyes can see the ears grow from who may be selected to perform this cations of all candidates.
