

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 1st, 1882. Entered at the Post-office, Columbus, Neb., as second class matter. REPUBLICAN TICKET. State. For Governor, JAMES W. DAWES, of Saline. For Lieutenant-Governor, A. W. AGEE, of Hamilton. For Secretary of State, E. P. ROGGEN, of Douglas. For Treasurer of State, LOREN CLARK, of Boone. For Attorney-General, ISAAC POWERS, of Dakota. For Auditor of Public Accounts, JOHN WALLICH, of Hall. For Land Commissioner, A. G. KENDALL, of Howard. For State Superintendent, W. W. JONES, of Lancaster. For Regent of the Bill of Rights, C. H. GERE, of Lancaster. Congressional. For Member of Congress District No. 3, M. K. TURNER, of Platte. Senatorial. For Senator-13th District, M. L. WEAVER, of Colfax County. For Float Representative Colfax and Platte County, W. A. McALLISTER, of Platte County. Legislative. For Representatives-23rd District, JOHN HAMMOND. Judicial. For District Attorney-4th District, THOMAS DARNALL, of Howard. County. For Commissioner District No. 2, NIELS OLSON. Platforms. We, the republicans of the Third congressional district, hereby affirm our loyalty to the cardinal principles of the republican party as enunciated through the national republican convention that nominated Garfield and Arthur. Whereas, The republican party has ever since its organization been foremost in adopting measures beneficial to the laboring and producing classes. Resolved, That the question of transportation routes should be so controlled by the state and general government as to prevent extortion, unjust charges and discrimination in any form or manner; that the action of the different railroad companies throughout the United States in consolidating and pooling otherwise competing lines and issuing free passes to public officers is contrary to a sound public policy, and should be prevented by proper legislation. Resolved, That we are in favor of reducing all railroad fares for travel in this state to a maximum charge of three cents per mile. Resolved, That we are in favor of abolishing the state board of equalization so that all the property of railroads, and corporations shall be assessed and taxed in the same manner as the property of individuals. That we are heartily in favor of the bill recently introduced in congress to compel land grant railroads, to take out patents on their roads, and so that the same may be taxed, as lands owned by individuals. Resolved, That we, the republicans of the Third congressional district of Nebraska, are in favor of a careful, honest and economic expenditure of public money in county, state and nation; that we heartily endorse the action of President Arthur in vetoing the river and harbor appropriation bill recently passed by congress, whereby millions of dollars of the public money were recklessly squandered; that we condemn the action of members of congress and senators who voted to pass said bill over the veto. Resolved, That we pledge the republican party of the Third district to an earnest endeavor to carry out these resolutions. Whose "foot is in a hole" now with regard to Val's army record? The old postoffice site and property on Nassau, Cedar and Liberty streets, New York, were sold the other day for $650,000. STUFFED ballot boxes never tally with the true number of votes polled, and the committee can easily detect the fraud. WHERE the charge of lying with regard to Valentine's record consistently belongs is left to the decision of all honest men. It is understood that Judge O. P. Mason has been promised $1000 for ten speeches in this district, to be delivered during the campaign. If the combined anti-monopolist voters of the Third district do their duty on the 7th of November, victory will perch upon their banners. EVERY republican should be active at the polls and do his whole duty in voting for the principles that will result in the best good to the country. The funeral of Geo. F. Marsh, United States minister to Italy, was simple and almost private. Flowers concealed the American flag, which covered the coffin. This mysterious silence among the great body of voters forebodes no good results to that gigantic power which has been running county, state and national politics for years. RECENT dispatches from Gen. Alexander state that the sheriff's posse are in close pursuit of Coleman and Belmont and expected to capture them, not however, without a desperate fight. The Minden murderers took dinner the other day at the house of a farmer not far from Beaver City, Neb. The county is aroused and there is a fair prospect of capturing the murderers. The secretary of the treasury has issued the 11th call for redemption of bonds of the 5 per cent. funded loan of 1881, continued at 3 1/2 percent. from Aug. '81. The call is for $15,000,000. EVERY voter should do his duty on the 7th of November by casting his vote in accordance with his principles and for the candidate which he believes will do his best to carry those principles out in practice.

The steam yacht for Jay Gould will be completed by spring. It will be constructed of iron and steel and have steel boilers. It will be 210 feet long, 27 feet beam, 16 feet deep and fifteen hundred horse power. The charges of "lie" "infamous falsehood" "dirty libel" etc., heaped on the JOURNAL because of the opening of the question of Val's army record have, boomerang like, recoiled on the heads of those who so freely used them. The monopolists of this district will attempt to run in their trusted man by some trick or other on the voters, by spurious tickets or fraudulent counts. Committee men should be on the alert, and see that the counting is regular and correct. MARK M. POMEROY, better known as "Brick" Pomero, is coming again into the political field. He announces that early in November he will begin in Denver, Colorado, the publication of a large size, eight-page red hot democratic paper. If J. C. Santee and B. C. Hill, publishers of the Knox county News, are responsible men, they might be excused for the libel published in their issue of Oct. 26, had they never seen Special Order No. 220, War Department, which order stamps their statement as entirely false. KEEP a steady eye on all fraudulent voters. Committee men who have this thing in charge should prosecute every illegal voter in the Third district. It will require some vigilance to detect them. The committee should bring them to time. Men who will lie, contradict the facts of history and commit fraud are always ready in an emergency to colonize voters. It is understood that voters are needed, and this may be attempted in the Third district. Committee men should keep a sharp look on this direction. We are fearful that at the rate the show of lies misrepresentations, preparations and the denials of history are flooding the Third Congressional district we shall soon acquire the unenviable reputation of having the worst set of politicians of any district in the United States. J. W. EARLY's letter to Val. very conclusively shows where that concocted story about Val. holding a mortgage on Saunders' farm originated and who concocted it and for what purpose. Val. need this story the other day at Neligh, by repeating it in a very minute and particular form of detail. E. V. CLARK does not seem to be well posted on E. K. Valentine's record. For further information we respectfully refer him to Special Order No. 220 of the war department. If he cannot comprehend it, his friends T. H. Saunders or John W. Early can explain it, as they have both been in the service and know how it should be. THE President has suspended Jonathan Diggs, Indian agent at Colorado River agency, and appointed George W. Clark his successor. Indian agent McGillicuddy at Pine Ridge agency, endorsed his resignation to the secretary of the Interior. The secretary declined to accept the resignation pending the result of the investigation now in progress. TRUE anti-monopolist republicans, farmers and business men of the Third congressional district, by holding a steady hand on your ballots and turning out unanimously and voting you will achieve a splendid victory for your cause. Your enemies realize this in the near future which explains their desperation in the last days of their political struggle. LIARS, slanderers, deceivers, misrepresenters of history are the sort of men to commit all sorts of deceptions on voters and frauds upon the ballot box. Every voter should carefully read his ticket over before voting, and know for himself that it is correct and contains the names of the candidates he wants to vote for. Do not be cheated out of your vote at the last moment. RAILROAD bosses and monopolists may, and from certain hints received, will have a distinguishing mark by which they can prevent men from their employ from voting any other ticket than the one furnished by arrangement. This trick can readily be accomplished by placing in their hands a colored ticket. It can be accomplished as readily by some other sign. FIFTEEN drunken cowboys, led by C. W. Mead at Lakin, Kas., the other day bonned the telegraph operator, and began shooting through the car windows, breaking eight in one car, seventeen in the sleeper, and five in the special car. By lying down on the floor the passengers escaped the bullets. Mead and two of the cowboys were captured by the sheriff. The sheriff was in close pursuit of the others. It is believed that Arabi Pasha will be indicted for violation of the law of the nations, by hoisting the white flag in Alexandria, and under cover thereof retiring with his troops and giving up the city to fire and pillage. That he excited the Egyptians to arms against the Khedive. That he continued the war despite offers of peace. With having excited civil war, devastation, massacre and pillage in Egyptian territory. VAL., on all proper occasions, when his military record is brought into question, lifts the lapel of his coat and exhibits his army badge. He ought to have Special Order No. 220 of the war department pinned along side of his badge and exhibit that at the same time. Then he could not deceive soldiers, except he might throw dust in the eyes of "lame" men occasionally; but a strong, hearty fellow could see through the trick.

The extent to which the brass-colored lackeys of the newspaper fraternity in the Third district will go in defense of their "boss" to save his army record from the deserved stigma attached to it, is shown by the pitiful attempt of some of them to aid him to cover it; and notably as such reliable (?) exponents of political principles are the Boone County News and Argus. The News rushes to the rescue of Valentine from the imputation that his army record was bad by characterizing the charge a lie, and with the assumption characteristic of these baronies on decent journalism snails it with the assertion that the Adjutant General's report of the state of Iowa for the year 1866, shows that Val. was mustered out of the service at Leavenworth, Kansas, in that year; and by a manner of reasoning that must be original with the News man says the JOURNAL lies a whole year because the introduction of the newspaper scrap was said to have been taken from a paper published in 1865, the month of the year not being mentioned. The gentleman who had in his possession this scrap that was destined to play so conspicuous a part in political matters in the Third District sixteen years after the events it recorded, positively knew that the army records would show that Valentine was engaged in frauds on the government in connection with army horses, and for such fraud was ordered mustered out of the service which he had disgraced. That he was so mustered out the following order which is a copy of an official transcript from the records of the War Department, proves beyond a question: SPECIAL ORDER NO. 220. WAR DEPARTMENT. ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE. May 11, 1866. By direction of the president the following named officers are hereby dishonorably mustered out of the service of the United States for fraudulent practices in connection with the purchase and sale of horses, the property of the United States: Brevet Brigadier General H. H. Heath, Colonel Seventh Iowa Cavalry. Major J. B. David, Seventh Iowa Cavalry. Captain E. B. Murphy, Seventh Iowa Cavalry. First Lieutenant E. K. VALENTINE, Adjutant Seventh Iowa Cavalry. Second Lieutenant Thomas J. Potter, Seventh Iowa Cavalry. Lieutenant G. P. Beiden, Seventh Iowa Cavalry. Lieutenant S. S. Brewer, Seventh Iowa Cavalry. Lieutenant W. H. Northrup, Seventh Iowa Cavalry. Captain Ormsby and Lowerly, Seventh Iowa Cavalry. By order of the Secretary of War, E. D. TORRESA, Assistant Adjutant General. Such are the facts of history and his subsequent "whitewash" and "honorable (?) discharge" at Davonport, Iowa, Aug. 10, 1866, nearly three months later, does not blot out the spot upon his character as a man and a soldier, nor disprove the fact that such disgraced record was brought about a practice of downright fraud upon the government which he had sworn to serve and whose commission as an army officer he then held. With dishonesty thus proven beyond a possibility of successful contradiction and the fact that Valentine solemnly denied in his public speeches any charge that his army record was not unblemished was a base fabrication, his exact language in a speech at Fremont being that it was a "wholesale lie made out of whole cloth," will any honest person claim that he is a fit man in whom it is safe to confide a public trust? And are not those organs of the district who have been the willing tools of Val. in his attempt to cover his record of dishonesty while in the government service as an army officer, by shouting, lie! and heaping wholesale abuse on the JOURNAL for opening the question of Val's record while in the service—for the reason that they prostituted their high calling as indexes of public sentiment to the level of hired political bunnies—plainly branded as underserving the confidence and support of honest citizens? The question to be considered in this connection is not as to whether Valentine now holds an honorable discharge, but was he dishonorably mustered out of the service, May 11, 1866, for dishonest practices that stamp him a man unworthy the high trust he asks for, and in whom it would be absolutely unsafe to confide the interests of the people? And also, in the same connection, what has been his attitude towards these facts? LET the people look well to their legislative ticket, and more especially to their state senators. There is where the monopolists will try to secure their pets, so as to block legislation, if they can do no better. It is not so hard for them to control the senate, being a smaller body of men. There are all kind of legislative jobs that ought to be looked after, and the public service needs men of integrity and fearlessness, men who can neither be coaxed nor driven from obeying the people's wish; men who will look into to posterity appropriation, for instance, who will not sneeze whenever Boss Stout takes snuff; men who will not only look out but prosecute printing contract frauds and see that the state is not enriched out of thousands of dollars; men whose hands are not placed behind their backs, or open for bribe-taking on any and every occasion that comes up. It isn't any wonder that the Lincoln Journal is taking an unusual interest in political matters in the Third district this year. That paper will put in some quiet work to have friends and followers in the state senate and legislature, and we mistake our guess if the anti-monopolist element of this state don't have somebody there next winter who will make a rattling among the corruptionists. The public service must rid itself of public thieves and plunderers, and decent men should no longer hold themselves back from the attack upon them because of the fifth article; but they may throw, and the venom they may eject.

M. K. TURNER, Republican and Anti-Monopoly Nominee for Congress, Third District.

VERY MYSTERIOUS. General George M. O'Brien, who was Colonel of Val's regiment during the war, admits that special order No. 220 was published, that Valentine was dismissed according to its provisions, and that it was pretty hard work getting him back. He adds that there was a mystery about the affair which never was cleared up. Of course there was. There has always been a mystery connected with every fraud with which Valentine has been connected. There was a mystery about those frauds in connection with government horses. There was a mystery which John Rush has never been able to explain connected with the thief of his little homestead. Another mystery, which cost the state $1,800, originated in that back pay paid for services rendered by Judge Griffey. It always will be a mystery why Valentine was so zealous in defense of the star route thieves. All these affairs are mysterious if explained on any other grounds than that E. K. Valentine was and is a dishonest man and a corrupt politician, unworthy of the confidence of the community in which he lives and totally unfitted to fill any position of profit and trust in the gift of the people of Nebraska. Then all the mystery is cleared away.—Omaha Bee.

ALREADY fifteen congressmen have been retired for participating in the river and harbor steal. Still a few more remain to meet a similar fate. This steal appropriated $18,000,000, more than one-half of which was for improving trout streams and macadamizing the bottom of dry creeks and improving harbors which never saw a vessel. Such a consummate fraud was carried through the national legislature by the votes of such representatives as E. K. Valentine. His friends in recent speeches made in this city stated that Val. voted for this measure under instructions from a resolution passed in the Nebraska legislature for which M. K. Turner voted. M. K. Turner voted for a resolution requesting the Senate and House of representatives of the United States to appropriate money to make the Missouri river safe for steamboats and barges for at least eight months in the year. This is on a par with all their misrepresentations in the campaign and probably this one was suggested by E. K. Valentine to fix some of that $18,000,000 steal upon the action of his constituents when they only petitioned for the improvement of the Missouri river. That statement will not win with intelligent voters, but will give them a true insight into the character of the men who willfully and knowingly misrepresent facts. M. K. TURNER candidate for congress has stirred up a wonderful hub-bub in the Third district. Thousands upon thousands of dollars have been spent upon eminent monopolist speakers to make a raid upon the voters of the Third district, and in other ways and for other purposes money has been freely spent to defeat him, simply because he is earnest in his convictions that this gigantic and mighty corrupting power of railroad corporations should be checked by law in regulating their passenger and freight rates; prohibited from issuing free passes to public officials, state or national; and compelled by law to have their lands and property taxed like other citizens. We doubt whether there is a true republican, anti-monopolist, farmer, laboring or business man in the district who can doubt that if these principles could be carried out they would result in great advantage and benefit to the citizens of the State. Your votes should be for and in the interest of the people. VAL's supporters, who, like dying men, are ready to grasp at straws, are referring to Persinger's letter in the Omaha Republican to prove the genuineness of their candidates nomination. This move is on a par with the general campaign work of this faction. Mr. P. was a Valentine man from the start and the delegation from Merrick county that he expected to control for Val. was secured only by representing himself a candidate for nomination. When these facts are considered Mr. Persinger's assertions and actions can be had little weight. THE anti-monopolist county convention held at Fremont last week passed the following resolution: Resolved, That we most cordially endorse Hon. M. K. Turner as our candidate in this district for congress, and that we recognize in him a standard bearer in whom we have full confidence and that we congratulate the farmers of this district that one of their number has been chosen to represent them in this movement.

by asking such foolish questions, as to why he said so much about tariff in the afternoon to a very small audience of farmers, and then saying about it in the evening to a very large audience of consumers, etc. Val. said a good many things at the afternoon meeting after the farmers had left, and he so overwhelmed us with his glib, old catch, that we can't remember all that he did say, in fact our mind capacity in that direction is so retained but little. One or two points, however, we still remember, and one of these was that he had nothing to hang about his dishonorable discharge from the army for complicity in some horse swindling arrangement, until he saw a mention of it in the JOURNAL of Oct. 18th. And another thing that he said was that he had been instructed by the people of this State and other western states, through various Missouri river improvement conferences, to vote for the river and harbor bill. These things, he said; but there was, as I now remember, a good many things that he did not say. He did not say that Special Order No. 22) of the War Department, dated May 11th, 1866, as published in the JOURNAL of Oct. 25, was a fraud, a fabrication or in any manner untrue. He did not say that he had not been court-martialed and that order duly made. He did not say that Special Order 220, as published in the JOURNAL, was not a true and correct copy from the office of the War Department on the subject. He did not say that orders of that character were frequently made and modified at the War Department, and the parties interested know nothing about it. No, he said none of these foolish things; but he did explain these mysterious orders, to the satisfaction of all his listeners, by unbuttoning his coat and pointing to a grand Army badge that was attached to his vest, whereupon everybody voted that Order No. 220 was a forgery, although Val. didn't say so; in fact he didn't say much about it. He was conspicuously reticent on the subject. He forgot to say anything about his action on the floor of Congress, in urging the expediting of a certain route, known as the Rock Creek route, at an enormous increase of expense, and urging it, as he claimed, because he knew what he was talking about. He knew that the necessities of the country required it, that the people supplied by mail facilities by this route were hungry and thirsting for a daily mail both ways. He forgot to say that not many moons elapsed until special mail agent John B. Furry denounced many things in the said route as a fraud, and at one time he was ordered to pay out of his pocket a net profit of $80,000. He forgot to say that Brady, of Star Route fame, was chief in this Rock Creek route business. He forgot to say that the Missouri river improvement conference, did not tell him to vote to pay $10,714,875, in important creeks and bogs, or more properly speaking, in the pockets of the existing contractors, in order that he might get an appropriation of $925,000 to improve the Missouri. He didn't know of any one but E. K. Valentine with audacity enough to call that following instructions. President Arthur by special message of April, 1882, recommended Congress to give their earnest and immediate attention to improvement of the great water highways of the west, the Mississippi and Missouri rivers and their tributaries; but when Congress produced the monstrous known as the river and harbor bill, it met with his disapproval was vetoed and returned. He also forgot to say anything about not having taken any action in Congress to compel the U. P. railway to pay taxes on their land, and to reduce its freight tariff and passenger rates over their bridge at Omaha. If my memory serves me right, there was a good many such matters that he forgot to say anything about. But I readily excuse him for his forgetfulness on the ground that he is one of those great men, who have forgotten so much more than other people can know. M. K. O.
