We want to sell a heating stove to every man, woman and child that is in need of one, and we make the price low enough to do it. And don't you forget it. Krause, Lubker & Co.

A familiar prayer of the minister of olden time was that the Lord would "spare useful lives." The whole of what that prayer implies would be a deep study for the philosopher.

Jim Scott is around again walking with a cane. We understand that he has sued the city for damages on account of the opening at the corner of 13th and Olive streets, into which he fell one dark night.

Will Hooserer of Butler county was in town Friday. He said that Morton's conduct at Norfolk was shameful, and intimated that a sufficient explanation might be given when it is known that Mr. Morton is not a disciple of St. John.

Rev. W. W. Harsha, D. D., president of the Synodical college at Bellevue, Nebraska, will preach next Sabbath at 11 a. m. in the Presbyterian church, Columbus; at Lost Creek at 3 p. m., and speak on the subject of temperance in the Columbus M. E. church in the evening.

Rev. Price preached a very interesting sermon Sunday last at the Methodist church on the subject of the re-union and recognition of friends in heaven. We would like sometime to publish a synopsis of it, as we know it would be deeply interesting to very many of our readers.

A young man while getting a tooth pulled at McAllister's dentistry last week was put under the influence of an anesthetic. He remained under the influence for quite a while, too long for comfort. These administrations should always be made by a skillful physician; indeed two such would be better.

Those who wish to become members of a society for mutual mental improvement, to meet regularly one evening each week, are requested to leave their names with the editor of the JOURNAL, as there are already a number of ladies and gentlemen who have signified a wish for the organization of such a society.

Here is a specimen of current railroad charges: A car load of wheat from Nebraska was recently sold here which netted to the shipper $111 after paying $132 freight, and other charges. Also a car load of rye came in from western Nebraska on which the freight charges were 41 cents per 100 pounds.—Chicago Tribune.

At this hour (1 p. m. Tuesday) the election here is proceeding very quietly with a little more than the usual proportion of votes polled. A considerable number of the voters south of the river made complaint for having to go to the Reed school-house, three miles northeast to vote; but they had a fair day and good roads, and consoled themselves with the thought that many other American sovereigns had still further to go.

Friday evening last Right Rev. Bishop O'Conner of Omaha arrived in the city and was met at the depot and escorted to the Monastery by a deputation of citizens and the Columbus Cornet Band. The Franciscan order have just completed a new brick church attached to the Monastery, and at 10 o'clock Saturday the dedication services took place in the presence of a large concourse of people. This makes the fifth large building erected by the Fathers, at a cost of probably $60,000.

Report of M. E. S. S. for Sunday, Nov. 2, '94: Attendance 43; enrollment 60; per cent. present 71. International series of lessons followed. The regular attendance of members is kindly urged. The objects of this bible school are the imparting and receiving of instruction on bible truths. If your engagements do not prevent, you are cordially invited to be present and to assist in this good cause. The pastor is expected next Sunday. He will have some news for the children.

General A. J. Sampson, of Denver, is visiting his father-in-law, Hon. A. C. Turner, this week. The General delivered a speech to a large republican meeting at the Opera House on last Thursday evening. The speech seemed to please his audience, for they greeted him with much applause during its delivery. General Sampson is a very able man and one of the most prominent lawyers of Colorado. Mr. Byron Millett, formerly of our city, is his law partner.—Columbus Democrat.

Many persons seeing letters advertised are in the habit of thinking there must be a mistake in the address, and call for and open letters belonging to other parties. There are also letters that occasionally, through haste or mistake, get into the wrong boxes, and are opened by parties to whom they do not belong. It would be as well to let our readers know that the penalty for any person opening a letter not addressed to himself, varies from a fine not exceeding $500 to imprisonment for ten years.—Ex.

The Platte County Teachers' Association will hold their monthly meeting at Humphrey, Nov. 7th, at 8 o'clock. We hope that all our teachers will aim to be present at this meeting. The program is as follows: J. E. Moncrief, Duty of our Teachers; Miss M. E. McGeath, Paper on Geography; J. M. Gondring, Paper on School Discipline; Miss M. H. Foster, Recitation (The Famine); I. J. Lee, Paper on branches to be taught in our country schools; W. H. Tedrow, Recitation; Miss Anna Duffey, Select reading. Music.

Personal. Rev. J. W. Little started yesterday for Athens, Ill., on a short visit. R. D. Hall, a member of the bar of Omaha, was in the city Monday.

Martin I. Brown and W. J. Fritchfield, two prominent attorneys of Fullerton, were in the city Monday. J. S. Heinrich of Denver stopped a day here with friends, on his way home from Chicago. His wife, who had been visiting friends, accompanied him home.

W. H. Trekkel returned Thursday last from his trip to his old home in Illinois. He expects to go into business here, and make Nebraska his future home.

Rev. A. Heinrich returned Thursday from Newbern, Kan., where was held the conference of German Baptist ministers. Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and Texas were represented. Steps were taken for active missionary work.

Fred. Matthews, who has been driving the stage coach team for the "Wild West" show this season, returned home last week. Fred. is one of the oldest stage drivers in the country, and no one can "pull the strings" over a four or six-horse team in better shape than he.

D. A. Magee has received notice of the death of his grandfather, John Magee, in Clarion county, Pa., at the mature age of 100 years, 3 months and 19 days. At his 100th birthday he entertained some 300 relatives, many of them his descendants, a few of them of the fifth generation.—Sioux City Journal.

The birthday anniversary mentioned above was noted in these columns. Mr. Magee is a cousin of Mr. J. H. Reedy of this city. Instances of such great age are rare, and when so well authenticated are worthy of record.

Mrs. Price, as one of the delegates to the Congressional meeting recently held at Norfolk, gave a report of the proceedings to a large audience at the Congregational church Sunday evening. It seems that such is the custom of the churches, and it is an excellent one, as it gives the congregations a picture of the varied affairs of the church. Rev. Price spoke of the academies and colleges in Nebraska, organized under the auspices of the church, and dwelt at large upon the benefits of an education, and more especially a christian education, which developed and fixed the moral character of the youth under its influence.

The new washing machine factory located in Columbus has turned out several loads of machines and they are giving perfect satisfaction. There have been a number of washing machines in our town, but this "Success" no doubt will lead the field, for it undoubtedly has a perfect principle to wash with. J. F. Lippincott, the patentee, made a sale last week to W. S. Motter of Platte and Nece counties; also some counties in Iowa, and still has some country convenient for sale at liberal rates and we think it a good investment. All persons are invited to test this machine, as it is warranted perfect in its work.

It seems that J. Sterling Morton made no friends at Norfolk by his refusal to discuss the tariff issue with Hon. J. C. Sherwin of that place, after full arrangements had been made by the chairman of the political parties there. The reason given by Mr. Morton was that he would not divert time in the afternoon, unless the republicans would divide time with him at their own meeting advertised for the same evening. Now that the election is over and the people are more interested than ever in the discussion of this subject, we move that a debate between these two distinguished gentlemen take place in the Opera House of this city at a date to be agreed upon, a verbatim report of the same to be taken, published, and sold to defray the expenses.

A gentleman from Missouri was here last week with a car load of apples, 130 barrels, which he had shipped to this point on the B. & M. road. He wanted to reach Fullerton, which is on a branch of the U. P., and was asked as freight on the car $91.20; not only this, but that same was prepaid, which was done. Estimating that the same could be hauled by wagon in twenty loads, taking fourteen days for man and team, this rate would give $6.50 a day for man and team—very good wages. We are informed that this rate is the same that it would have been from the shipping point to the destination by way of the U. P., virtually saying to this man (or any other farmer or dealer who may have the temerity to ship his surplus products) ship by way of our line, or we will charge you for a part, the full price we would for the whole business. We are informed that the very same exaction is made at St. Paul, and the "principle" doubtless is applied elsewhere. We presume that other railroad companies do likewise and that in all probability this is but a retaliation by the U. P. against the B. & M. for something of a like sort. As to this we do not know. It is sufficient that the thing is done, and it is an outrage that no free people should submit to, and to which they will not long submit. Railroad control by government is nearer at hand than many of the corporations are aware of, and it is becoming more and more a necessity, demanded by the body of the people in justice to their own interests, and by the railroads themselves to keep them from ruining each other's business as well as working injury to their patrons. The JOURNAL desires again to lift a warning voice to the railroads that they should listen and heed the demands of the people oppressed by their rates. They don't ask anything unreasonable; they don't wish to do country schools; W. H. Tedrow, Recitation; Miss Anna Duffey, Select reading. Music.

The editor's wife showed him this week two of his shirts washed by the use of the "Success" washing machine alone, without any hand work whatever, and we must say that they looked very white and nice. We had invested in so many washing machines that we had become discouraged, but are beginning now to think that this important household labor can be well done by machinery; husbands and wives should investigate the merits of the "Success."

VICTORY!

Platte County's Voice in the Election. The Solid Democratic Ranks Broken in a Presidential Year.

A Delegation to the Legislature of Three Republicans to one Democrat.

We record a magnificent victory for the republican party of old Platte. McAllister is elected to the senate by a sufficient majority, and we get Irwin for a Platte county representative and Sutherland for the seat with Colfax, while we lose Condon by a comparatively small vote. The democracy had claimed this county by 350 to 450 majority. If we cannot, at this writing, claim Blaine's election, we can afford to exult over Platte county.

At this writing (Thursday) the canvassing board are at work on the returns, which show all estimated returns to have been unreliable many of which we had already in type believing them to be mainly correct. As the work of the board will not be completed in time for us to secure the vote of the county by townships we can do no more than indicate the general result.

The national and state ticket, including congressmen, has gone democratic by a small majority.

On the senatorial ticket McAllister (rep) received 1230 votes against Hensley (dem) 1198, giving Hensley a majority of 22, which is offset by McAllister's majority of 31 in Colfax and elects him by 9 votes.

For representatives from this county Condon (rep) received 1176 votes, and Irwin (rep) 1188; Rieckly (dem) 1166, Kehoe (dem) 1291, electing Irwin and Kehoe, and making the county a stand-off on the representative ticket.

On the state representative ticket Sutherland (rep) 1127 against Ernst (dem) 1287, giving Ernst 160 majority; in Colfax county Sutherland has a majority of 200, which elects him by 40 votes.

We give the vote as fully as our space warrants, and think it will be found substantially correct when the official returns are canvassed.

COLUMBUS ELECTION.

President—Bryan 57, 87, 110; Cleveland 127, 112, 52; 37; Congress—Dorsey 85, 87, 107; Morton 131, 112, 34; 48; Governor—Morton 56, 82, 109; Hawes 128, 116, 51; 50; Dist. Attorney—Marshall 123, 109, 49; 1; Sutherland 123, 109, 49; 1; McAllister 123, 111, 61; 50; Representative—Candon 58, 92, 110; Rieckly 121, 106, 46; 35; Kehoe 126, 110, 52; 35; Sutherland 124, 96, 114; 22; Ernst 131, 104, 51; 22; Supervisor—Wiggin 128, 110, 52; 31; North 128, 110, 52; 31; Assessor—Woods 58, 98, 106; 50; 21; Treasurer—Clover 58, 83, 115; 29; 9; Delaman 128, 111, 52; 30; Clerk—Dorsey 56, 83, 108; 49; 25; Dowty 128, 111, 52; 30.

The election for Columbus Township (outside of the city) resulted about as follows: on national, state, and congressional tickets, democratic vote 75, republican 66; Hensley 67, McAllister 72; Condon 76, Irwin 67, Sutherland 62, Rieckly 63, Kehoe 67, Ernst 79. The Township ticket first nominated was elected.

Mrs. Louise Sylvester and her excellent company will be at our Opera House, Nov. 8th. This lady is highly spoken of by our exchanges. Read what they say:

An audience (unusually large for a Monday night) welcomed at the Opera House last night the new comedy "Freaks." It is truly one of the most enjoyable farcical comedies ever witnessed, and must, undoubtedly, before the close of the engagement, make its mark as the greatest hit of this profitable season of legitimate comedy. The make-up attitudes, entrances and exits of the principal characters, each in turn, are greeted with shouts of laughter, which at times considerably interfere with the progress of the stage business. At the close of each act the curtain lead to be raised twice in answer to the most vehement calls, and so much was the audience stirred during the third act that Miss Sylvester had to answer a recall not once but thrice after an exit during the middle of a scene, a remarkable episode in the annals of this or any other season, and only equaled in one instance, that of the reading of "Sam's" letter by Sothorn, in "Dundreary."—Leavenworth Times.

Reserved seats now on sale at Dowty & Chinn's.

A Lawyer's Opinion of Interest to all. J. A. Tawney, Esq., a leading attorney of Winona, Minn., writes: "After using it for more than three years, I take great pleasure in stating that I regard Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, as the best remedy in the world for Coughs and Colds. It has never failed to cure the most severe cases I have had, and invariably relieves the pain in the chest."

All Throat and Lung Diseases may be had Free at Dowty & Chinn's Drug Store. Large size, $1.00. [1]

The Success. The editor's wife showed him this week two of his shirts washed by the use of the "Success" washing machine alone, without any hand work whatever, and we must say that they looked very white and nice. We had invested in so many washing machines that we had become discouraged, but are beginning now to think that this important household labor can be well done by machinery; husbands and wives should investigate the merits of the "Success."

The Winslow Place.

Saturday last we took occasion to visit the farm of H. M. Winslow, the place formerly owned by our genial old friend Mr. Senecal, northwest of the city. Mr. Winslow has 400 acres of about as good soil as lays open to the sun. His main business is the raising of fine blooded stock, the farm work being a secondary consideration. He showed us some excellent looking Jersey hogs that certainly appear to be good for laying on fat, as well as for hardiness. Mr. W. tells us he is much pleased with them, although he acknowledges to having formerly had a prejudice against them.

As to cattle, he has some as fine as any we have seen in Nebraska. In '75 the Winslow Brothers purchased Red Rose Princess, cow and calf, for $7,500, and they have sold, at different times, of her progeny, $9,100 worth, and have some very valuable animals of the number yet in their possession. They have had abundant proof of the worth of thoroughbred stock.

Mr. Winslow has in Nebraska about 400 head of cattle, and is now feeding two hundred and fifty head. He sowed ninety acres to millet this season, and thinks very well of it as a feed. At the last plowing of corn last year he sowed rye in corn ground pasturing it during the winter and cutting it for green feed along for the spring, just before the time for sowing millet, thus getting three crops a year from the same ground. J. H. Meyer, who was with us, said that he had tried both millet and Hungarian, and much preferred the latter.

Among the things noted at this model stock farm was a good pair of scales for weighing all kinds of farm products; a good house with convenient partitions and outside yards for brood sows; places for feeding hay to cattle in the corral—something worthy of imitation by all who feed outdoors. Ordinarily, the feeding rack is torn down or trampled down two or three times during the winter, but these will scarcely be disturbed. Posts are planted well into the ground in two parallel lines about four feet apart. The alternate posts reach two feet above the ground, the others full length; the space is then enclosed by inch boards, excepting the last line reaching to the top of the shorter posts which is of 2x6 spiked to the posts. This forms the manger proper which, if left thus, would not last long. About 18 inches above the 2x6 and reaching around the manger is placed barbed wire, encircling each taller post, and stapled fast to it. Mr. W. told us that the cattle were not inclined to disturb each other while feeding, and approached the rack with all due and proper respect. He intends to apply the same remedy to his tables for feeding corn. We noticed (by the way) that Mr. Holden, the superintendent of the farm, cut every ear of corn fed into about three pieces—a good deal of work—but he thinks it pays. Mr. W.'s granaries are so arranged that a team can be driven under cover, and the grain thrown either side into bins. His feed stable for cattle is on much the same plan, excepting that the middle aisle is only wide enough to go with a wheel barrow. A corral for cattle and hogs has a high, solid board fence north and northwest, while for the remainder there are seven strands of barb wire, the five lower having a double set of bars (hog wire) and being about four inches apart—only little pigs making their way through. Nebraskans should visit each other more, notice improvements, talk over methods and learn of each other to mutual satisfaction, besides saving hundreds of dollars by being better informed.

Alliance. The County Alliance met in Humphrey pursuant to call. John S. Freeman was elected chairman and John W. Mullen was elected secretary. Minutes of last meeting read and approved. Mr. Kehoe the Democratic Anti-monopoly candidate for representative was called upon to address the meeting which he did in an able manner. He said if elected, he would vote in the interest of the producers of this State and against monopolies. Also speeches were made by the following gentlemen in regard to the great monopolies of our country, also in regard to the school lands of our State. John F. Jones, James O'Neil, E. J. Conch, T. A. Potts, Jno. S. Freeman. D. L. Bruen spoke in regard to the constitutional amendment, which is to appoint three railroad commissioners which he opposed bitterly and he hoped that every farmer in Nebraska would vote against it. He says the constitution gives the legislature full power to make laws to control all abuses and unjust discriminations. All we have to do is to pledge our candidates to do as our constitution provides. No further business the meeting adjourned to meet at the call of the secretary. JOHN W. MULLEN, Sec'y.

An Answer Wanted. Can any one bring us a case of Kidney or Liver Complaint that Electric Bitters will not speedily cure? We say they can not, as thousands of cases already permanently cured and who are daily recommending Electric Bitters, will prove. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Weak Back, or any urinary complaint quickly cured. They purify the blood, regulate the bowels, and act directly on the diseased parts. Every bottle guaranteed. A NEW INDUSTRY!

The noise of saw and plane is music to the industrious mechanic, and the artisan delights in the sound of the anvil, forge and engine. The citizens should also appreciate the benefits of manufacturing machinery and utensils in our own city.

Messrs. J. F. LIPPINCOTT & CO., are now among us, engaged in the manufacture of one of the most needed, but heretofore unsupplied articles for the kitchen, and one that is calculated to bring and sustain more cheer in the housewife than any other equal investment. These gentlemen present their machine for your consideration. Read candidly, test the washer, and they, with you, will have no fears of the result.

We, the undersigned, take great pleasure in recommending the "Success" (J. F. Lippincott's patent) to the public as being the best washing machine we ever used; it does the work complete, and does away with the wash board entirely. Yours respectfully, MRS. SUSAN A. WOODS, MRS. ALBERT, MRS. WATTS.

And now, remember, that the utmost good faith is shown by them in the fact, that thirty days' trial is assured those who wish to test the merits of the washer for themselves.

THEY GUARANTEE IT! To do work equal to the best hand-washing; admit of no second position, and claim the lead, which they have taken and will continue to keep.

Political Meetings. The past week has seen three large political meetings held at the Opera House, each one an honor to any speaker. That on Wednesday evening was addressed by M. Zentmyer of Schuyler, and J. Sterling Morton, democratic candidate for governor. We had not the privilege of hearing Mr. Z. For the first time we heard Mr. Morton. We are told that his speech bearing upon the tariff was the same delivered here two years ago, the same that he gave during the campaign, wherever he spoke. He asserted that the present tariff law was calculated to "tax all of us for the benefit of a few of us," characterizing this as unjust, and as a species of robbery, unjust sight of a fact plain to every thinking lad at his desk at school, who knows how it is that he has the benefit of the free school system. The truth is that any governmental "taxing of all of us to benefit some of us," but this "some of us" in all just governments, in the aggregate includes all there is of us. The bachelor who has no children may be taxed for the schooling of ten children of his neighbor who may not be able to pay any school tax whatever. The same principle holds good as to the tax for the support of the poor and the unfortunate and tax for the prosecution of criminals, and their punishment for crimes against society. We are taxed for the general welfare, in which we all share, and if the burden is laid equally upon the different industries of the country, it is all right. Mr. Morton did not tell us how he was in favor of raising money to pay the expenses of the general government. The presumption is that he would do away with all tariff and levy a direct tax. It goes for the saying that the country will never favor this method.—Mr. Morton is a polished, pleasant speaker, until he gets beyond a certain pitch of excitement, when he becomes abusive, personal and somewhat reckless, which was more fully shown by his conduct Thursday last at Norfolk.

The republican meeting at the Opera House Thursday evening was one of the best of the campaign, and Mr. Sampson's arraignment of the democratic party, as shown from their own record, we have not heard surpassed.

The last demonstration on Monday night was altogether the best of the campaign. The Blaine and Logan club were out in full force with a clean sweep by the republicans. The procession paraded all the principal streets of the city making the air lively with music and cheers. The Opera House was packed, and the audience listened to a very excellent address by Hon. Jno. Rush of Omaha. Mr. Rush was born in Ireland, and his address was, in good part, calculated to interest that nationality particularly in the success of the republican party. Mr. Rush will be warmly welcomed any time he may address a Columbus audience.

Land for Sale. W. 1/2 N. E. 1/4 Sec. 30, T. 18, N. of R. 2 east, in Colfax county, 24 acres broke. The tract is to be sold soon and any one wanting to purchase can address, H. W. R., care of JOURNAL, Columbus, Neb., or call at this office.

Lost Creek Taxpayers. I will be at home Tuesdays and Thursdays, until further notice to receive taxes for Lost Creek Township. 23-2t. ED. HOARE, Treas.

BIRTHS. SCHOOLS—Oct. 30th, to Mrs. J. C. Echols, a son. GALLIN—Oct. 22d, to Mrs. C. M. Gallin, a son, weight 9 lbs.

MARRIED. BOIES—HANFORD—At the home of Mrs. C. La Motte, Iowa, Oct. 22d, Mr. C. A. Boies of this city and Miss Ida M. Hanford. The happy young couple have received the congratulations of their many friends, and are at home in this city. BECKER—WAKE—Wednesday evening, Nov. 5th, at the residence of the bride's parents in this city, by Elder H. J. Hudson, John G. Becker and Miss Susie Wake, all of this city. The bride was filled by relatives and immediate friends of the happy young couple. The presents were numerous and valuable. A serenade by the Band was appreciated by the young folks. The newly married pair left this morning for a trip south.
