The Fair.

Sept. 8, the weather does not look very favorable for a fair. Nevertheless Secretary Routson has been busy all forenoon making entries, and if the sky should clear soon, the exhibition may be a decided success. If the sun shines out, the fair will be continued to Saturday.

-The beer garden is now defunct and the matter assumes a different aspect. Dr. Schwenk claims that he was not interested in the garden, and sues A. N. Yost, I. G. Westervelt and C. S.
