-The city schools began their term Personal. Monday. We learn that a special effort will be made for all the departments to secure a fuller attendance than is customary. Of course the first step in educating a boy in the public schools is to get him within the school-room walls, and this is occasionally the most difficult and worrisome part of the problem, causing more anxiety than any other one thing. It sometimes even appears advisable that parents and guardians be compelled by law to send those under their care to school, or else provide for them outside similar educational benefits. The importance of prompagemendance cannot well be and it is always noticeable the progress in studies is in direct ratio to the attendance. The out delay on real estate, in large or work of instruction and of learning is not essentially different from any other kind of work. hour late to each half day's work and vet demand full pay the same as those who work full time. So it is with pupils at school, and parents should week. see that they cannot reasonably exnect their children to have the full benefit of school work unless they are prompt in attendance there. One-half hour each day amounts to about a half-day's session in a week, and besides is an annovance to the whole school. The truth of the matter is that pupils should either be present at their post when school begins, or they should not attend at all, or try
