THE people of Valley county, with D. J. Martz as spokesman, are overhauling the affairs of their county clerk, Mr. Schæfer. Martz charges him with having taken money belonging to the county, and keeping it, and makes his charges specific as follows: He has not accounted for the land filing fees; for the final proof fees; for making relinquish-ments and acknowledgments; for making certificates of pensions nor to abstracts; for making out abstracts of titles: for fees in contest cases: for fees in depositions; for the court | augh from Platte county: fees in district court; for fees extra allowed by the commissioners: for fees for making out the tax-list, &c. This is the book over which Nebrasks county officials almost everywhere have stumbled so much. The law requires "every item of fees collected" to be entered therein, for the reason that the fees, above certain named amounts, are to be turned over to the treasury, and we are informed that this law has not, as a rule, been enforced. It may be that

The talesman for this jury were all in town and not allowed any mileage. This makes a total mileage, for the two juries, of nine hundred and two miles (902) and it is reasonable to suppose that they collected pay for just what they were entitled to. The law reads that the sheriff shall have five cents per mile actually and necessarily traveled. If this law is strained to the construction that he can collect mileage from the county seat to each juror's residence and back to the county seat, each time, there would still appear an overcharge of more than one thousand miles in this bill, for which he has

And I ask my friend to be honest and bring out all the facts, for he will find that honesty is the best policy in public matters as well as private. Other towns made their levies at from 10 to 15 mills, and, as I said, would average as much or more than the county levy, therefore to bring me to the surface.

Again, my friend has compared the fees of co-boards under commissioner and under supervisor rule, and the very best he can do is to show that supervisors' fees are $308.80 more than commissioners' fees. Now I ask why in the name of reason is it necessary under organization to need the same or more expenditures by the county boards? Is it common sense 00 or reason to say that it is economy and more satisfactory to the people to pay double expense for the bare idea that we govern ourselves? Our complaint is, and we assert that we do not govern in our own affairs, but do pay this double expense, and my friend can't deny it successfully, for the record bears me out in this position. If we governed ourselves the case would not be so bad, but I have shown in sheriff what route he selects; as he a privilege we do not enjoy,-a de-
