The Millet Divorce Suit.

The Denver Tribune-Republican of Dec. 1st has the following paragraph concerning a case in which one of our old citizens is interested:

Byron Millet has filed an affidavit in the superior court, where his wife, Mary E., is suing for a divorce and alimony that puts the plaintiff in a bad light. He says he was seduced by plaintiff into marriage, by her representing that she was virtuous, and that her alleged illegitimate child was her younger sister, whose father was now dead; that shortly after their removal from Omaha to Denver, his wife's mother, sister, brother and the alleged illegitimate child came to Denver and squatted in his Camp street house so that he had to leave it; he then believing that plaintiff, in connection with her mother's family, intended to get rid of him by foul means for the purpose of getting his property; that the plaintiff and family and alleged illegitimate child are still living upon and enjoying his premises and property; and the said plaintiff, therefore, prays the court may allow him to amend his cross-complaint in that regard, for the purpose of showing fraud to annul said marriage.

Platte Center Items.

Platte Center is on the boom. S. E. Kern has a new lantern. We want a bank at Platte Center. O! Denny where is my black hen? Farmers are nearly all done gathering corn.

Platte Center is on the boom. S. E. Kern has a new lantern. We want a bank at Platte Center. O! Denny where is my black hen? Farmers are nearly all done gathering corn. The I. O. G. T. are in full blast and we understand are doing well. Our city dads have ordered side walks to be put down on 4th street. Mr. Deola and family from Iowa are guests of Mr. A. J. Williams this week. Messrs. Carrig & Lynch will soon have their new mammoth store completed. P. W. Henrich was on our streets the other day. May he never grow shorter. George Smith is building a substantial bricksmith shop near J. J. Macken's livery stable. Mrs. Powell will leave for her old home in Pennsylvania in a few days to be gone four or five weeks. Wm. Bloedorn has put up an addition to his hardware store. Billy what are you going to put in that addition? The dance at Carrig & Lynch's new store on Thanksgiving was large. There was fifty couples and everything went off like a marriage bell. We notice our postmaster out the other day looking for the postoffice sign that was carried away by the gentle zephyrs on Thursday night. The festival at the M. E. church on Tuesday night was grand success. The committee report as a profit about $40, which amount will be applied to finishing up the church. Mr. George Alexander and Miss Effie Nicholson were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony by Squire Kelly on Wednesday night, and are now traveling light and happy. We notice Mr. W. H. Tedrow in our city on the 29th, looking as pleasant, or in other words as well, or I might say feeling as good, or at least he was laughing very heartily because he had snuffed the other "feller" under. We learn that one of the Proprietors of a Poland, living three miles north of this place had burned a straw stack on Thursday, the day before the wind storm, and that the wind re-kindled the flames which got into the prairie and burned his stable and burning up three valuable horses. We are very sorry to report the painful accident that happened to Mr. Daniel Macken on last Sunday evening while out riding with a lot of other young men. His horse fell and falling on him bruised him up very much, but we understand that he is getting better at this writing. The wind storm at this place on Friday was most terrific, everything that was loose was blown down, chimneys, outhouses, sheds, hay stacks, &c., and one of the most laughable things that happened on that day, was that Mr. Leif Hanson borrowed a clay bank broncho from Mr. John Wolf, to ride home on Thursday night, and he put him in his stable, and when he got up next morning low and behold his barn was blown away and the broncho and he. He found the broncho on Sunday morning at Mr. Stephen Gleason's one mile southeast, where he was put in the barn right in line with the wind storm. The only accident that we learn of to defend his principle and his statements of facts. "In the multitude of counsel there is wisdom."—Ed. JOURNAL.

with hog cholera and it is raging along Shell Creek in many places. Mr. Sheldon informs us that he has heard that J. H. Reed lost one hundred and fifty hogs from hog cholera, and many other farmers are losing their hogs. Daniel Macken of Platte Center, went with a number of other companions, jack-rabbit hunting on his back on the 29th. His horse put its foot into an old wagon track, throwing him to the ground, rolling over on him, breaking his nose, cutting his face, and, it is feared, injuring him internally. The wind has been remodeling the hay stacks, around here, ran John G. Dreher's wagon through his yard, broke his pasture fence, smashed his new hay rack all to pieces, and let his cattle out, and in endeavoring to collect them, lost a new cap; he however recovered it in the afternoon. It also broke George Hodel's wind-mill to pieces. C. D. WILSON.
