to J. H. Richards & Co. -The entertainment by the Columsee the Columbus Democrat become bus Lyceum last Friday evening seemed very satisfactory to the large audience present. M. K. Turner introduced the numbers of the evening by a few remarks concerning the origin and harmonious existence of quartettes furnished by the Arions, Mesers. Bowman, Cornelius, Pohl and Falbaum, were most excellent, the best of all; the recitations by the three young misses, Pearl Clark, Bessie Sheldon and Nellie North, were admirable; the oration by C. A. Brindley on hero-worship, was not only an excellent piece of literary work, but exceedingly well delivered: "The Old Folks at Home," by Mary Turner was well adapted to her voice, and given in her usual manner: the recitation by Miss Foster, "One of the Flock," was a delight to the audithe failing voice, was his young teacher : Lute North's "Slosser's Ride" was a No. 1 performance; the recitaof familiar pieces; Miss Martin's recitation showed her usual care and genius, which are far above the ordinary; Carl Kramer's "Trouble in the Amen Corner" was very effectively rendered; "Music at Night Fall," by Misses Mary and Martha Turner, an old gem of song, was given in a pleasing manner; the piano solos by A. C. Picket, showed unusual talent; Gus. -A market day for stock in Columbus, doubtless, would prove a great convenience to sellers and buyers. It has been tried in other places and has proved a great success. When this market day is established, she might add greatly to the convenience of her gardners and farmers, in the vicinity, who raise vegetables, as well market house, and establish a regular market for everything in the way of meats and vegetables consumed by her citizens. This small enterprise added to her flouring mills, water works, electric lights and telephones would give her citizens strong faith in the future success of Columbus and Platte county.

Railroads. In last week's JOURNAL there was given the proceedings of one railroad meeting held Tuesday evening. There was another Thursday and still another Saturday evening, all attended by about the same number of interthe society for the past half year; the seted citizens. We took no notes of demand for some such an institution in | Thursday's meeting, which indulged -Mrs. Gorby and Miss Anna every community, &c. The several in considerable personalities, not unconnected, however, with the general subject. The meeting had a good result, it seems, having the effect of last one, in our opinion, being the airing some alleged grievances, and at the same time, bringing clashing elements together on the proposition of a road to the northwest-the subject of Tuesday evening's discussions. The committee appointed at the pre- advisable to put horses or colts in the vious meeting for the purpose of as- same yards or pastures where cattle certaining from the records whether the city could vote $25,000, reported been killed that way. that that would not exceed the limit of law. It would not, however, he thought, answer the purpose of manufacturers and wholesale dealers in securing rates, it was not strong enough to burst this pooling arrangement. To illustrate the necessity of a competing line he referred to the history of the Packing House, which ought to be in Fischer, Feb. 26th, August Husmann and full blast distributing thousands of dollars each season, but which lies idle for lack of rates to enable them to compete with other places. There seems no reason why a connection with the Northwestern was as to all her citizens, to erect a city not desirable.
