The Clark liquor law in Iowa does away with fines, sending every dealer convicted of violating it to prison. Without a U. S. government license (which he must possess conspicuously) the government gets after him, and with it so posted there is no other proof necessary to show that he is violating the state law.

CONGRESSMAN DORSEY's bill rearranging United States district and federal courts in Nebraska passed the House the other day. It adds four places to the three where courts are now held—Hastings, Norfolk, Falls City and Kearney. When it passes the Senate it will be the law regulating those courts in Nebraska.

PETER ANDERSON, of David City, pending his trial last week was still held in the custody of the Sheriff of Butler for attempting to impale the members of the state sanitary commission on a pitch fork. Peter had come gandered horse, and the commissioners were about to kill them when he served as injunction on them with his fork.

Attention Bachelors.

If the frivolous, sickly young ladies of the period would take less on in usefulness and acquire the bloom of health which mantles the cheeks of healthy beauty, they should emulate the example of a robust Miss of Herman township, not yet out of her teens. Circumstances made her the mainstay on a good farm several years ago. She has become a practical farmer, raises and cares for her own cattle and horses, plants, crabs and markets the corn and grain, has health, accomplishments, muscle and nerve unimpaired by tight lacing and do-nothingness. This winter she drove her loaded team to Herman when the thermometer was below the twenties. This young lady is a good house-keeper as well as an expert farmer, she has teeth like pearls and cheeks like roses—and would make some deserving man a jewel of a wife, but knowing her native modesty her name cannot be mentioned in this connection. Such a treasure will soon enough be found out and appropriated—we only mention it as a bright example of what can be accomplished by a smart and industrious girl.—Blair Republican.

Why It Is.

Once in a while a man says a thing very neatly. This is generally the case where he talks what he is personally interested in, and without any effort to say fine things. One of a delegation from Pennsylvania appeared before the house ways and means committee and made this speech, which is a model in its way: "Gentlemen—I am no speaker. I make iron. I have no education. I was born in England. At eight years of age I was put to work in the iron mill of my native town. I was paid first twenty-five cents a day. After a year I began to earn five shillings or $1.25 a day, at which I might have labored for the rest of my life. I heard that labor was protected in the United States. I came here fifteen years ago. I now earn $5 a day. I have nine children and every one of them going to school. That is the reason that I am in favor, and every workingman should be in favor of protecting American labor and that means the industries which give American labor its employment."

WHOLESALE trading in young and innocent girls for immoral purposes has come to the notice of the authorities at St. Cloud, Minn., are 74; injured 213. The property loss is estimated at $300,000.

A Pleasant Party.

From the correspondence of the Cadiz (Ohio) Republican, we quote the following. Many of our readers, not only in that state but this are well acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy, mentioned as removing to Nebraska, and know them to be more worthy of regard than can be told: M. B. Kennedy and family, of Green township, yesterday moved to Burt county, Nebraska. On last Thursday a large number of their friends and neighbors gathered, unexpectedly, to their old home, bringing with them a bountiful dinner—altogether such a one in kind and measure as the people of Green township know how to furnish, and passed the day in renewing old recollections, expressing the well-wishes they had for their host and hostess and their hopes for their happiness in their new home. After the dinner had been cleared away, all gathered into the comfortable west room where Mr. Craig Paxton made a few well-timed remarks, presented Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy with some beautiful and appropriate presents, to tokens of their high appreciation. Mr. Kennedy arose to respond, but the recollections of father, mother, the home and companions of his childhood and of his early and mature manhood, the friends that he stood by and who had stood by him in his many troubles of a well-timed life, crowded too thick upon him, and choking with emotion more eloquent than words, he was obliged to stop. Too well have his honest neighbors learned to know his manliness, his sturdy virtues and great heart, not to be moved by Butler Kennedy's separation from them. It will be well for the people of Burt county to learn to know early the modest worth of the man and woman who stood so well the test here. S.

It is stated that since January 18, twenty-three clerks have been dismissed from the treasury department, and persons who have passed the civil service examination have been put in their places. Most of the removals have been those of the higher class of clerks, those receiving from $1,600, $1,800 and $2,000 a year, and although the letter of the civil service law requires that when a vacancy occurs in one of these upper classes of clerks that it shall be filled by promotion from the next class below, the democratic officials of the treasury have managed to evade the law and shove up the new comers when a vacancy occurs.

A CIRCULAR was received the other morning at St. Louis, from P. Rockwell, general roadmaster, at Lexington, Mo., not to employ as section foreman or foreman of the gangs any man who is a Knight of Labor. And also that all foremen now employed who are Knights of Labor must either present their withdrawal cards or be discharged. Mr. Rockwell is the general roadmaster of the Missouri Pacific, and his authority extends from St. Louis to Omaha. Every division roadmaster on the line has received his instructions.

LOVE letters at breach of promise suits are usually amusing, but none more so than one written to a young Englishman, which run in the following strain: "Dearest, most charming superlative Sally—I am longing really for the time to come when I shall have you in a home a bower of lovers' bliss, where we can coo and bill all the day long. We shall soon have a splash, dash-up wedding of our own, and then we shall take the shine out of them."

It is said that Mr. Gladstone is making a strong effort to regain the support of Mr. Chamberlain. The storm of opposition and angry criticism which greeted the explanation of the Premier's plans for Ireland seems to be subsiding. In the items of foreign news, there is a very noticeable reaction of opinion in favor of the Liberal association throughout the country taking a definite attitude in support of Mr. Gladstone.

A MAN attempted to open a saloon in Roscoe, Dakota, on the 23d, and was waited upon by a committee, including about a dozen women, one of whom carried a rope, with the alleged intention of hanging him if he refused to go. At latest accounts he was in the saloon with two pistols and a gun, while the mob outside was trying to get in. He declares he will shoot the first person who enters his door, man or woman.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND has sent a special message to congress on the subject of labor troubles. As a remedy for the evils, he recommends a permanent commission of labor to be created, to consist of three members and be regular officers of government, and to whom all questions arising on that subject must be submitted and by it decided and settled.

MILO CALL, living near Kelloggville, Ohio, died suddenly the other day under suspicious circumstances. Mrs. Call gave her consent to an autopsy, though reluctantly. Just after the physicians arrived she went up stairs, saying she would take a little rest. A few moments later her lifeless body was found suspended from a rope in the stair way where she had hanged herself.

THE German town of Stry, in Galicia, was last week almost completely destroyed by fire. Many persons were killed. The inhabitants are destitute. The number of houses burned is six hundred. One hundred persons were killed in one street by falling walls. It is stated that thousands of inhabitants will be bankrupt. The damage is estimated at several million florins.

THREE hundred and seventy-three cases of canine rabies were reported in London and neighborhood during 1885, and twenty-six deaths from hydrophobia. The greatest number of cases occurred between July and December.

Washington Letter.

(From our regular correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, April 23, 1886.
Congress has accomplished so much during the week, with so little waste of time in talk and speeches, that everybody feels disposed to say "Well Done" and Do not grow weary of doing. A few weeks of legislation, equal in quantity and importance to that of the past week, and our law makers would be ready to desert the Capitol by the first of June. It is predicted, however, that they will not get away before some time in August.

Some newspapers have been trying to incite Congress to industry by saying that unless more activity is injected into its proceedings, members will find themselves here in September, 1886. But a question more important with most of the alleged statesmen on the Democratic side of the House, is whether they will find themselves in Washington in December, 1887. They are discussing the political situation very seriously, and they are very fearful of losing the House in the next elections. The recent local elections in Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan, have interested the politicians at the Capitol, and there has been much discussion of the results. The blame for the Republican victory is laid chiefly at the President's door. Western Congressmen say the Democrats are so disappointed with the Administration that they have no fighting courage left.

There is a Democratic Member from Indiana, Mr. Kleimer, who thinks the bad condition of his party in Congress could be remedied by a caucus. Said he: "We don't know each other and don't know ourselves. There is no Democratic programme. One wants free silver coinage, another wants no coinage at all. One wants all the offices, another says he doesn't. We ought to have a caucus at once, and the Administration ought to be represented in the caucus. The White House and Congress should work together. The party is disorganized and demoralized. We need a caucus."

Returning to the week's record of Congress, both the Senate and House passed the bill for the long projected Congressional Library. The President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House signed the bill, and the President's signature is the only formality still required to make it a law. The new repository for the Nation's literary treasures will be east of the Capitol. Half a million has been provided to begin the structure, and $550,000 more for the purchase of the site.

The House, among other things, voted to pension the Mexican veterans, and defeated the Bland plan for the unlimited coinage of silver. The Senate invited Washington Territory into the sisterhood of States.

It is rumored that Gen. W. F. Rogers, of Buffalo, is to be appointed Public Printer instead of Mr. Rounds. If nothing happens, sooner or later Buffalo will get her share.

Republicans, since the elections the first week in the month, have been in excellent spirits, and begin to talk confidently of capturing the next House of Representatives. This is particularly the case among Indiana Republicans. There seems to be no doubt that the Democratic party is growing exceedingly restless, and many of its members, in all the states, disgusted with the President, and if the Administration continues to carry things with a high hand he will not be heard of in the next National Democratic administration.

Maj. General (retired by Grant more than 20 years ago.) John A. McClernand has been confirmed as President of the Utah Commission, and his friends are correspondingly happy. I suppose he will regard this as his vindication against that order.

Congressman Pulitzer resigned last week because, he says, there is more glory, money and influence in the World than in congress. He succeeded in making quite a stir the short time he was here. Out of 82 days he is recorded as being present six, and out of 44 roll calls he voted 4 times; but then it would be better if half the Democratic representatives were to resign. It is said that Cummings, the managing editor of the New York Sun wants his "old shoes."

Two new candidates for the Presidency are looming up; one, Senator Blair, of N. H., who is the father of the Educational bill, and who longs to represent the laboring population; and Secretary of the Navy, Whitney, who married the Standard oil king's (Senator Payne) daughter, and who has a firm friend in Uncle Sammy Tilden. Hundreds of Democratic editors all over the country are ready to fire off their guns as soon as the Whitney library bureau is established and the numerous barrels are opened.

Gen. Logan is taking things easy and is putting all his spare time on his "Great Conspiracy," which promises to create a sensation when it is issued. His friends, however, are taking care of his political prospects.

The tariff bill reported to the House is more liberal than was expected, but it is my firm belief that no tariff bill will be adopted at this session.

The issue of standard dollars for the week ending April 10th, was $463,488, corresponding week last year, $198,498.

The Republicans held a rousing caucus the other night and took steps for organizing a Congressional Committee.

A BOY not yet seventeen, in Pope Co., Minn., has invented "a combined hay-rake and cocker," for which he has refused $15,000.

JOHN RYAN, a taylor, was choked to death at Dubuque, Iowa, the other day, by a large piece of beefsteak lodging in his throat.

THE family of Mrs. Wise, residing near Galena, Ill., were chloroformed the other night by robbers, who carried off $200, a gold watch, and a revolver.

ALONZO P. KENDALL, 70 years old, living in a cottage at Lockland, Ohio, shot and killed a burglar who, with two others, was entering his room about midnight.

It is stated that there are now 200,000,000 German carp in the United States, the descendants of thirty-five fish brought to the United States less than a dozen years ago.

THE skeletons plowed up in the Middleton farm, near Zenia, Ohio, recently, are believed to be the remains of soldiers who went out to fight Indians the last century.

It is reported that a carload of fish, including lobsters, shrews, eels and rock cod, is to be taken to California next July for the purpose of stocking the waters of the Pacific coast.

WHILE a marriage was being celebrated in a church at Rice's Station, Minn., the structure was wrecked by a tornado, thirteen persons, including the officiating clergyman, being killed.

DEPUTY SHERIFF WILLIAMS, who was assaulted and badly beaten while guarding the Iron Mountain railroad property, received a check for five hundred dollars from Jay Gould.

JULIEN RUMSEY, an old and prominent citizen of Chicago, died on the morning of the 20th inst., aged 62. He had been mayor of the city, treasurer of the county and president of the board of trade.

MISS RUTH CLARK, aged 18, of De Witt, Neb., while cooking dinner the other day was burned from head to foot, her clothes catching fire. Doctors in attendance say there is no hope of her recovery.

THE Sampo river, which descends from the Himalaya Mountains and flows nearly 1,000 miles along the southern border of the Thibet, has been the subject of more geographical controversy than any other river in the world.

News from Athens last week stated that Greek troops were being pushed to the frontier as rapidly as possible. Delivizor, mission minister to Greece, departed for Livadia to see the Czar in pursuance of urgent request from his majesty.

JOHN CASEY, supposed to be from Troy Mills, Iowa, was picked up the other day by one of the police officers, from the streets in Beatrice, Neb., in a dazed and perfectly helpless condition. Medical aid was rendered, but the day following he died.

THE outbreak of cholera in Italy is more serious than was at first stated. It is claimed that the authorities there have been concealing the truth regarding the ravages of the disease. The Austrian authorities have again established a cordon on the Italian frontier, and every precaution will be taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

A PRAIRIE fire the other day at Webster, Dak., consumed the farm buildings of Mrs. Dollinger. When the buildings caught, she and her mother ran to the barn to save the stock. The roof fell in, the mother was burned to death, and in attempting to save her, the daughter was so badly burned that she will die. A son came home at night and the sight which greeted him endangers his reason.

THE past 10 years I have been a sufferer from blood poisoning. I have recently received treatment at Belle Mead Hospital, by a physician on 10th street, New York City, as well as one in Brooklyn. I received but little benefit from either. So I went to try S. S. I feel thankful to say it has done me more good than anything else. I have been taken up but two weeks, and the improvement is very marked. I feel I will be perfectly well in a very short time. I will gladly recommend it to all who suffer from blood poisoning.

Correspondence.

(In this department the people talk, and not the editor. Each writer must hold himself ready to defend his principle and his statements of facts. The multitude of counsel there is wisdom.—Ed. JOURNAL.)

False time.
John M. Johnson has a new wind mill on his place.

Will Edwards has built a new house and moved into it a short time ago.

Mr. A. G. Rolf has taken two children from Chicago, with a view to adopting them if, on trial, they prove satisfactory.

Miss Ida Johnson of Stromburg, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. John Anderson the past few weeks, expecting to return next week.

The M. E. church are holding quarterly meeting at Mr. Pleasant school house to-day and to-morrow, Rev. Mr. Shank, the presiding elder, will preach.

Shell Creek Items.
How about the R. R. extensions from Columbus in all directions?

The farmers are all busy putting in grain and preparing for corn. Some attention has been given to gardening, potato planting, etc.

The Platte Centric are building sidewalks, houses, etc., and air castles of future greatness in their dreams at night. They need a bank there and their postage ought to be made a money order office.

Mrs. George Lamb has presented her husband a little boy. The writer is not informed as to the weight of the young gentleman, nor in regard to his destiny and development, if he will be governor of Nebraska, member of congress, senator or even president of the United States or of the U. P. R. R.

The grain buyers of Platte Center had quite a funny time with an old Irish fellow from Upper Shell creek. The old gentleman in great earnestness charged them with cheating the farmers, and told them that they would wish to come back from hades to rectify the wrongs perpetrated during their lifetime, but he subsided when one of them reminded him of the fact that he had sold dressed chickens which had been killed by a mink. The whole discussion ended in a general hearty laugh on both sides, which is not always the case with such discussions, where one claims that the other is no better than he ought to be.

Looking Glass Locals.
Charles Johnson goes to Maxwell, Neb., this week.

Miss Eva Coffey is teaching in district sixty-three.

G. A. Borg, is slowly recovering from a protracted illness.

John Olson is able to be around again after a long spell of sickness.

G. A. Dahlman will be moderator of district forty for the coming year.

John Hagland has embarked in the horse business, having lately purchased two fine, blooded horses.

The University of Swedenburg is running in full blast, there having been no change in the administration. Messrs. Olson and Matson have purchased a disk harrow (or pulverizer) which is a good invention in the way of a labor saving machine.

The Anderson Bros. have sowed one hundred acres to wheat this spring. The boys are industrious, and with a favorable season will reap as a reward for their stick-a-to-live-must, a large crop.

On inquiry, why Ludwig Swanson jumped over a five strand barbed wire fence, knocked down three hills of corn, tore his shirt and skinned his nose, we found that he was the father of a bouncing girl. Mother and child are well, and Ludwig would be before breakfast.

ED. JOURNAL:—It is not my purpose to defend the Board of Supervisors from the onslaught of my friend Wise; their acts are on record and their constituents will judge them accordingly. At our annual Town meeting the subject referred to necessarily came before that body on the approval of the action of the Town Board for the past year, when the matter was fully explained, and I have not heard a word of dissent from anyone on the subject. As an expounder of the law in Sherman township, our friend should make his quotations correctly. The law of 1885 in regard to the pay of assessors contains a clause requiring the county to pay the same, which was not in the original law. The pay of Town treasurers was also defined, but this was not in the original law, but this was corrected by other laws which make it difficult to get competent men who are willing to serve for the compensation. The Board of Canvassers are selected by the County Clerk, hence the obvious propriety of the county footing the bill. I believe that all election officers should be paid by the county, but as there is nothing obliging, it leaves the question an open one. I presume that our friend, when he employs counsel in any matter, that which he is in doubt, generally abides by the opinion so received. Why, then, should he blame others for doing the same thing? But if the Board of Sherman township, have any money to waste in legislation, in appears to me it would be better for them to pay their just debts, for if my memory serves me right, they are the only township which has not refunded to the county the amount advanced for blank books &c., at the first starting of the township organization, and if, instead of so constantly complaining that they cannot run the Town on 7 mills—the limit allowed by law—they would make a virtue of necessity and not wish to exceed it, they would be in the way of progress.

LEGAL NOTICE.
To all whom it may concern:

THE COMMISSIONER APPOINTED to locate a public road commencing at a point where the county road as now located crosses the section line between sections 25 and 26, township 15, range 2, west, running thence on the said section line to the section corner common to sections 25, 26, 27 and 28 in said township, thence on the section line south, crossing sections 25 and 26 to a point where the county road already located crosses this section line, has filed his report in favor of said location; and the said county road that runs diagonally across the corner of section 26, town 15, range 2 west, the said commissioner reports recommending the vacation thereof, and all objections thereto, or claims for damages, must be filed in the County Clerk's office on or before noon of the 21st day of June 1886, or the above described road will be established, and the vacation made as recommended, without reference thereto.
