THE Republican party never had better tickets in the field either for state or county offices. Let us make a clean sweep. Vote the straight Republican ticket.

GEO. KIRKSTON, a young man 19 years old, from Burnett, Madison county, Neb., was accidentally shot and killed last Saturday evening by a companion, while hunting near Rogers.

ALL Republicans should remember that each vote cast for democratic candidates for the legislature is one vote against the re-election of Senator C. H. Van Wyck. Vote the straight Republican ticket.

AN exchange says: Gov. Fitz Hugh Lee, of Virginia, is developing a vein of originality. According to his reading of history, "the confederates were not conquered, but worried out with victory."

THE remains of Elmer Comstock, who was killed by being thrown from a vicious pony at Laak, Wyoming, were brought the other day to Central City for interment.

THE Schuyler Quill says that Albinus Nance, once upon a time governor of Nebraska, is a dark horse for U. S. Senator, and remarks "that will be about as near as he will get to it." Which will be a repetition of six years ago when he betrayed Padock's confidence.

THE supposed murderers of Rev. Haddock at Sioux City waived an examination and were held to answer before the District Court to the charge of conspiracy. Levitt still adheres to the statement that John Artidorf is the man that fired the shot that killed Haddock.

THE Supreme Court of the United States convened at Washington City, on the 11th inst. There was a full bench and a fair attendance at the bar. The number of cases on the docket at the time of meeting was 1,103. The Justices in the afternoon made the usual call upon the President.

THE National Republican says: "In all presidential calculations it will be quite safe to consider the elections in the south as already held and the vote counted for the democratic candidate, whoever he may be." So writes a distinguished southern democrat in a letter to a republican friend in Washington. Pleasant, isn't it?

Republican Nominees.

The Republican Convention met at Platte Center Saturday last, and was one of the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in Platte county, there being a representation of ninety-one delegates out of a total of ninety-six. Resolutions were passed approving the course of Hon. C. H. Van Wyck as United States Senator, and expressed their choice as to his reelection.

J. M. Macfarland, city attorney of Columbus, and well known as an able practitioner in our courts was given the responsible position of county attorney. This is an office created by the last legislature, and the duties are the same as those now devolving on the district attorney, and Mr. Macfarland has the ability and experience that eminently qualify him for the position.

Judge G. G. Bowman of Columbus, was nominated for county representative. We are unfortunate in not having a personal acquaintance prior to meeting him in the convention, but for the popular endorsement he received at the hands of the convention he is a strong candidate and will cause his democratic opponent considerable despondency and loss of sleep when the returns are all in and the majorities are announced.

Mr. Wm. Irwin, nominee for county representative, served the county in the last legislature and gave general satisfaction to his constituents. He is a staunch Van Wyck man, and the experience acquired by his last term will be of great advantage to him and materially aid him in further legislation that will be of interest to the county. He made a good record and should be endorsed for reelection.

J. I. Robison was given Platte county's delegation to the float convention of Platte and Colfax counties. His choice on the question of United States Senator, and his views on railroad legislation are known to our readers. [Mr. Robison is the editor of the Independent, hence this modest statement of facts.—ED. JOURNAL.]

Dr. Schug, the candidate for coroner, is one of Platte county's best physicians and surgeons, and we are happy to announce that in his case, as with all of the preceding nominations, the office sought the man and not the man the office.—Humphrey Independent.

George G. Bowman.

One of the candidates to represent Platte county in the next state legislature, is acknowledged to be among the best informed attorneys in central Nebraska.

There is no doubt but Mr. Bowman, having had considerable practice at the bar, would make an active, intelligent and useful member of the house of representatives, in the work of remodeling our statutes, and making useful additions to the volume of our laws.

There are many things to be looked after at the coming session, besides electing a United States Senator; a re-apportionment of the state into senatorial and representative districts must be made and as there are so many conflicting elements, it is important that each county have able representatives to take care that the interests of their constituents are not neglected, that they have their just influence in shaping the policy of the laws that shall govern a great and growing people.

The township system, adopted by a former legislature, needs radical changes to make it acceptable to the people of Nebraska. It is now plainly evident that the people (and more especially those who have had experience of township government in the east) are anxious to see, here, the best system that can be devised for the good government of local affairs, and it will be well to elect men who know, not only the general desire of the people, but also the particular manner in which that desire should be met and satisfied. Having in the state of his nativity, become thoroughly versed in the township system, as it ought to be, Mr. Bowman knows wherein our needs amendment.

In matters of general legislation, and in discussion we believe that Mr. Bowman is easily the intellectual peer of any man yet named in this or any other county, for the legislature.

John M. Macfarland.

We are not acquainted with Mr. Goudring, the democratic nominee for County Attorney, but it is no disparagement of him to say that, in legal ability, he is not by any means the equal of the republican candidate.

Mr. Macfarland has built up a legal business in Columbus which, for a young attorney, is not often excelled. He is an active, energetic man, and can fulfill the duties of the office with credit to himself, and to the good of the county.

Having a large acquaintance in the county, he can the more readily act as attorney, in bringing wrongers to justice.

Being closely attentive to business, he will keep himself informed in matters of law specially pertaining to counties—of itself a study for any one man.

The last legislature acted wisely in abolishing the office of district attorney and substituting thereof that of county attorney, because it is a move in furtherance of the principle of home rule, and a better administration of justice.

Mr. Macfarland is now, by appointment of his Honor, Mayor Kramer, city attorney for Columbus, and we believe it is conceded on all hands, even by political opponents, that he has conducted the affairs of his office with credit to himself.

The election, this time, being the first under the new law, may be considered of unusual importance to the county, and it is proper that legal advice should be given by one well versed in the law, and who will take pride in discharging the duties of the office.

Those who believe Van Wyck has done good work in the United States Senate, and that he ought to be returned by the vote of the next legislature, should vote for Robison, Irwin and Bowman, who are pledged to favor his election, and not for Sullivan, Terwilliger, Folds and Fuchs who are not pledged for Van Wyck caucus, and who will, of course, favor a democrat for that position, notwithstanding the fact that there is no show for electing a democrat. Let any voter who desires to place his ballot right on this subject ask Sullivan, Terwilliger, Fuchs and Folds a pledge to support Van Wyck, and see how much encouragement he will get. Put your questions fair and square, and get a fair, square answer. The fellows in this county who are running the democratic machine, from the man at the head of the state ticket, down through the line of county officers, and including the Columbus Democrat are not Van Wyck democrats, by a long way, and you would arouse their political animosity by so classifying them. This being the case, the Democrat's exceedingly thin veneer of anxiety concerning Van Wyck is quite transparent. The attempt to deceive is a slur upon the intelligence of its readers, which some of them will not be slow to resent.

Ask Them.

The gentleman named for representative of the district composed of Colfax and Platte counties, (commonly called the Float), is the editor of the Independent, at Humphrey; independent in his make-up; well versed in the political affairs of the state; uncompromising in the sentiment of equal justice to all interests; unflinching in standing by avowed principles, he will make a representative of whom we may all be proud, irrespective of political parties.

Some men, when elected to office, immediately begin to look after and work for their own peculiar and individual ends. Mr. Robison is a different sort of man. What suits the great body of the people will suit him; their interests will be looked after, their wishes fulfilled, and their desires consulted, rather than his own.

As editor of the Humphrey Independent he has made known his sentiments on important questions coming before the next legislature, and those sentiments are sound. When you vote for him you have the assurance that you will be well represented, and no mistake.

Wm. Irwin.

Republican nominee for representative from Platte county, is a present member, having been elected two years ago by a handsome vote, and having given general satisfaction to his constituents.

He is an honest, sensible farmer, a man of good judgment, knowing the wants of the people, and independent enough to place his vote just where his judgment says it ought to be recorded.

He has that peculiar heartiness of manner and force of character which while winning one's esteem, help to secure recognition.

Partisan scribbles who seek, by newspaper twaddle, to write down honest men in the estimation of their fellow-citizens, should be rebuked. Undue means used in supposed favor of a candidate are apt to act as a boomerang. An honorable life and a fair reputation will not be hurt by small maliciousness which thinks it must bark, anyhow.

Dr. F. J. Schug.

Republican candidate for coroner, is well known to very many of our Platte county readers as one of the very best men that could be named for that position.

A young man, thoroughly posted in all branches of his learned and honored profession, he will fill the duties of the office perfectly, that is to say, leaving nothing more to be desired.

A man's fitness to serve the public well, depends on several things, among them being integrity, capability, determination to do right, and, last, but by no means least, a strong desire to serve the public agreeably and acceptably.

In all these respects, Dr. Schug excels, being as gentle and considerate as a woman, and no man will ever blame him with being early in office, or neglectful of any duty.

BECAUSE Republicans are in favor of the election of a Republican to be United States Senator, our Democratic cotemporary is worrying himself for fear the Republican nominees will not vote for Van Wyck, after they get down to Lincoln.

The editor of the Democrat is not favorable to Van Wyck's election; the Democratic candidates, Sullivan, Terwilliger and Fuchs, are not in favor of Van Wyck's re-election, and will not go into a Van Wyck caucus, as a matter of course. The Democrat is trying to mislead ignorance on this subject. Those who desire to see Van Wyck re-elected must place their reliance, to that end, in Republican representatives and senators, and remember that the democratic candidates are not pledged for Van Wyck, and will not pledge themselves for him.

WHILE the democracy think they have a good lead to work in because the Republican party is in favor of majority rule on the liquor question, as on all others of public concern, and are charging that the party

Government employees resident in Washington goes home to vote; that is, provided he can get a leave of absence or not afraid to exercise the elective franchise under the surveillance of his democratic boss. Republican employees in the departments here will not this year exercise the political privilege of an American citizen with their old time unanimity and freedom. The reasons are obvious. Their actions are marked and noted by their democratic chief, and while there has been no positive inhibition, they are made to feel that to vote for the republican nominees will not be considered an "unobtrusive exercise of their right." Mr. Cleveland's sham civil service is supposed to politically emasculate government employees, but it is well known that members of his cabinet and high government functionaries are taking an interest in the pending elections that is by no means "unobtrusive." Colonel Lamont was in New York City during the past week, for the purpose, it is stated, of shopping for his wife; strange to say, Mr. Bayard, Governor Hill, Secretary Manning, and other prominent democrats were there at the same time, and they were in consultation. Coincidentally a mayor is to be elected in New York, and unless the antagonistic factions can be harmonized, the mayor will be a republican and New York will be lost to Cleveland in 1888. Perhaps by "unobtrusive exercise of political rights," Mr. Cleveland means the exercise in which he employs his lieutenant Lamont.

I have heard from a very direct source, an explanation of the very close alliance between the Buffalo phoenix and the sphinx, his private secretary. It is known that the President consults Lamont more than any one else. When Lamont is absent, sick, or asleep, the administration is paralyzed. At some future day—it may be fifty years hence—it will probably be some interesting posthumous publications in relation to the secret springs, the ropes and pulleys behind the scenes of this administration. The diaries of Col. Lamont, his wife, or of Mrs. Cleveland may get into print. Some members of Mr. Cleveland's Cabinet may tell the world how much that they do not even like to believe now, and it will be known then that the shrewdest and most powerful adviser at the President's council chamber was the mysterious little man who appeared there only as his private secretary.

Last Sunday, while at Mr. T. F. Hudson's, the great hay and carp man who is perhaps better known than any other farmer in the state, we noticed that his son, De Witt, seemed to be skinning off at the hands. Mr. H. called the little fellow to him and showed us how the skin, even on the palms of his hands, was coming off in flakes and a new skin appearing underneath. He explained that several years ago the child was badly poisoned with poison oak, and every spring he broke out and suffered greatly. He had applied every known remedy to relieve the sufferer, and employed physicians to attend him, but with no avail. "In fact," Mr. Hudson continued, "it seemed like to go in sight of a poison oak vine would cause the eruptions to break out afresh. After trying everything else, I read in the Banner-Watchman so much about the S. S. S. blood medicine that I determined to try that also, but must confess that I had but little hope in it. But, as you see, its success has been wonderful. It has driven every particle of poison out of my child's system, and is now putting a new skin on him. He is thoroughly cured and the S. S. S. did the good work. I believe that it will drive out any kind of poison from the blood, and its effect on De Witt proves it. There are a great many sufferers from poison oak in the country, and to such I can knowingly recommend this great medicine. It not only effects a certain cure, but seems to put fresh life into one."

This is only one of the numerous endorsements of S. S. S. that has reached us, and we publish it as information to those who are suffering with poison in their system, it matters not from what source it comes. This discovery in regard to curing the effects of poison oak is of great importance, as it gives a certain remedy for a most common and aggressive affliction, for which no permanent relief had ever been known. The S. S. S. is certainly the king of blood medicine, and is harmless as it is solvent for the eradication of impure blood from the system.—Athens Banner-Watchman, April 30.
