The Cloth House has added considerably in the last few weeks to its ability to care for its guests.

The committee to oversee the building of our new depot consists of Col. John Rickly, John McMahon, Mahlon Clothier and his Honor the Mayor.

Republicans should guard against being deceived by demagogues presenting false issues in the present campaign.

People must not overlook to nominate township officers in time. The city of Columbus is entitled to two supervisors.

Through organization is what the republican party wants in Platte county. Can it be had without the action of township committees?

Robert O'Brien, foreman of the Humphrey Independent, was in the city Monday in attendance on court and gave the JOURNAL a pleasant call.

Before investing in a sewing machine, organ or piano, see A. & M. Turner, at their organ depot, or address G. W. Kibler, their traveling salesman.

Frank Anderson started Wednesday last for a two week's visit to his old home, Geneseo, Ill. Henry Abis has charge of his agency during his absence.

Cloaks! Cloaks! We carry the nicest line of cloaks, newmarkets and short wraps ever seen in Nebraska, and our prices are the lowest.

The Athletic Park Association will hold its regular meeting the first Monday in November. The question of selling their grounds will be decided then.

H. J. Hudson, Esq., started yesterday for Lincoln where he goes to attend the session of the grand lodge of the I. O. O. F., which convenes in that city this week.

Tripp & Goetzinger's photograph gallery was opened today. It is a fine establishment and lack of space compels us to defer further description until next week.

Martin Reagan will have a sale of 128 head of cattle, 40 hogs, horses, and some farm machinery, at his farm two miles northeast of Columbus, Saturday, Oct. 30.

The men working on the stand-pipe of the waterworks are delayed a week by the absence of one of the iron shafts. The engine house is going up rapidly.

The next meeting of the Columbus Lyceum will be held in Manchester Hall, Friday evening, Oct. 23d. Music, declamations, essays and a speech by Gen. A. J. Sampson, of Denver, will be the exercises of the evening.

Young and middle-aged men, suffering from nervous debility and kindred weaknesses, should send ten cents in stamps for large treatise giving successful treatment. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Late North returned last week from a three week's hunting expedition in Wyoming in company with his friend Mr. George Grinnell, of New York. He saw O. H. Archer, a former resident of this city, who was in good health and doing well.

The question is not what clothes the candidates for county attorney shall wear, but who is the better qualified to fill this important office, the man of experience and practical knowledge or a young fellow that has never tried a case in any district court in his life?

The dedication of the regular Baptist church will take place Sunday, Oct. 24th, in Colfax county, Wilson precinct, 6 miles north of Becker's mill. Rev. Osborn, state missionary, is expected to be present, also other prominent ministers. The public are invited to attend.

Did, at Lake City, Kansas, Thursday evening, October 7, '86, of typhoid fever, Mrs. Maud Brainerd, aged 24 years. Mr. Dr. Brainerd was a relative of Mrs. William Spies, of this city, and had a large circle of friends and acquaintances here who regret and mourn her death.

J. A. Heitkemper will move their large stock of staple and fancy groceries, crockery, etc., into the rooms now occupied by G. Heitkemper's jewelry store, about the middle of November, and expect to deserve a continuance there of the very liberal patronage the public has been bestowing upon them.

Loop Jagg's new residence on the north side of 11th street, one door west of John Stauder's place, is quite an extensive house for a young family. It is two stories, one part 40x16, another 32x16, and yet another 13x22. It stands on two full lots, and altogether will make a very handsome and valuable property.

The Pacific hotel block at Norfolk, the finest in the city, was destroyed by fire on the evening of the 15th. The building was owned by J. Koeningstein, and occupied by B. F. Lack, of the hotel, Jones & Dexter, grocers; Koeningstein, druggist; and James Wheeler, saloon. The fire was caused by the falling of a chandelier in Wheeler's saloon.

In his capacity as collecting agent J. M. Macfarland necessarily may have made some enemies but no one can justly accuse him of ever having resorted to any tricky or dishonest practices or made any misrepresentations. All must admit that he is generous, liberal and open-hearted.

The JOURNAL job department is prepared to furnish, on short notice all kinds of commercial work such as letter heads, note heads, bill heads, statements, circulars, envelopes, cards, doggers, posters, &c.; visiting cards; lawyers' briefs; pamphlets; catalogues; sale bills, &c. Satisfaction guaranteed. Orders by mail promptly attended to. Address, M. K. Turner & Co., Columbus, Nebr.

Frank Wheeler, son of Daniel H. and Charlotte Wheeler of Plattsmouth, and brother of Myron Wheeler of this city, died at Lincoln October 13th, of typhoid fever after a brief illness. Mr. Wheeler was attending the State University at the time of his death. He was a warm hearted, genial gentleman, and will be remembered by many Columbus citizens who regret his early demise; his age was 19.

On last Wednesday evening a goodly number of our citizens met at Mrs. C. H. Gere's for the purpose of reorganizing the Chautauque Literary and Scientific Circle. Mr. M. Brueger was chosen president, Mrs. J. E. Menger secretary, and Mrs. C. H. Gere was appointed treasurer. This circle has had a successful existence for two years and it is hoped that the interest heretofore taken will be continued and the membership increased.

Thursday last at about four o'clock sparks from the locomotive on the branch road set fire to the grass on Mrs. Brady's farm west of the city, burning up two stacks of her hay. The fire spread rapidly, the wind blowing high, and John Siale lost a stack of hay, cattle shed, all his straw and an apple orchard of one hundred and fifty trees, besides quite a number of forest trees. It was a great wonder he didn't lose his barn and other buildings, which were saved only by the quick and hard work of the owner, assisted by his good neighbors, Gray, Randall, and others whose names we did not get. They say that if the fire had been on the north side of the track nothing could have saved all the hay, and there is a large quantity of it, stacked in the bottom between that and Jacob Erass's. This is the third prairie fire we have heard of this season already in this neighborhood, caused by sparks from a locomotive.

The Secret Service of the Post Office Department. We have just received a copy of 'The Secret Service of the Post Office Department,' by P. H. Woodward, formerly chief of the Post Office Detective Corps. No one man in the United States is better qualified to write a book on detection in the Post Office Department than Mr. Woodward, who not only has had fifteen years' experience in ferreting out robberies of the U. S. mails and bringing them to justice, therefore, having a most complete knowledge of the subject, but gives by his brilliant and glowing description a fascination which the reader is unable to resist, and is compelled to follow the words of the writer as he leads from one account to another, forgetting the lapse of time and only stopping when the book is finished.

As to the delightful style of the writer is added the thorough truthfulness of every incident, and each character being drawn from life as the author came in contact with the person described, what more can one ask?

The best detectives in the United States have been engaged in the cases described in this book, and while the sketches are clothed in all the charms of romance, they rest from beginning to end upon the solid rock of fact.

It gives a complete description of the many means and complicated contrivances of the wily and unscrupulous to defraud the public. Among the most interesting cases is the well remembered one of the 'Star Route' frauds, in which Mr. Woodward performed the chief part in collecting evidence against the conspirators and in trying to bring them to punishment.

The book is profusely illustrated with two hundred superb engravings made expressly for the work by well known artists, which, together with the enchanting style of the writer and the elaborate and beautiful cover, make a truly magnificent volume.

We would like to quote a few incidents from this fascinating book to show some of the many methods used by the thieves to escape detection; and also the equally ingenious devices of the detectives, but space forbids, and, therefore, we leave the book in the hands of the reading public, confident that it will have an enormous sale, and congratulating its reader upon the entertainment it will afford him as well as the knowledge he will gain by it of this important subject.

Mrs. E. C. Riley is now canvassing the city for the book, and will be glad to take your order.

Our seniors congratulate themselves over their cosy and pleasant quarters in their own room. For a long time the seniors have been compelled to resort to all sorts of makeshifts, and find quarters where they could. They feel at home now.

The Superintendent has introduced a new feature in the High School, in the way of regularly organized literary classes, which, besides their literary work will have practical exercises in parliamentary practice. This feature will supply a long felt want in our schools. The exercises are held each Friday at 3 o'clock p. m. The public are cordially invited to attend these exercises.

Mr. Brindley in the first ward has moved his school to the room below where he will be more accessible to his pupils and teachers. Mr. Brindley is doing fine work in his room. The teachers and pupils of the third ward building are delighted with the improvement in their building, both in point of appearance and comfort.

The supplementary reading recently adopted by the Board is well received in most classes and is filling a gap that has greatly impeded the teachers' efforts both in reading and language.

Godfrey, the contractor for the waterworks wells at Fremont, is out in a two-column article setting forth his claims in regard to the disputes over the cause of partial failure of the works, and says that all he has ever asked is a fair test, 'not a test made with a pump that is defective in any way, shape or manner and especially one that is set contrary to all rules and directions laid down by the manufacturers of the same.' We do not believe there will be any occasion for such trouble as Fremont has had, with the Columbus waterworks. Under one contractor, well versed in machinery, everything, so far, seems all right. The delay, on account of the immense and unprecedented demand for material, has fortunately given a good time for digging the trenches and laying the mains.

At the business meeting of the Columbus Lyceum Mr. L. Phillips was elected president, W. B. Backus vice president, Mrs. C. A. Brindley secretary, and Prof. Cramer treasurer. The president was here called on for a speech but modestly declined, promising to do so at some subsequent meeting. After the appointment of several important committees there was a general discussion of business matters when the meeting adjourned to meet again in one week at places to be designated by executive committee.

Be careful. Be careful and save your property by guarding the prairie fires. Mr. Lease, who lives two miles east of here, lost several stacks of hay and cattle shed by fire a few days ago.

A terrible accident happened to the family of Fred Gerber of this neighborhood. Their son Fred had been engaged to work on the section of the U. P. R. at Schuyler, where he was run over by a train; he died the next day.

Last Wednesday the funeral of Mr. Hans Blaser of the Loup neighborhood took place; it was largely attended from different parts of the county. Mr. B. was one of the first settlers of that neighborhood, and had a full share of this world's hardships. May he rest in peace.

Notice. Notice is hereby given that the delegates elected to represent the counties of Platte and Colfax, in convention, to nominate a Senator for the 13th Senatorial District and a Representative for the 25th Representative District, are hereby requested to meet at the Court House, in Schuyler, on Saturday, the 23rd day of October A. D., 1886, to place in nomination said officers and to transact such other business as may come before said convention.
