As to Bailroads.

It is generally conceded that, if the Northwestern road comes to Schuyler it will also come to Columbus, and we have been waiting patiently a long time to find something out, be it ever so little and insignificant. Whether the following is it or not, time will tell: The Schuyler Herald says: "And now they tell us that the Northwestern railroad company is placing grade stakes just east of town, on a line parallel with the U. The right of way man for the B. & M. has been here for the past week, and it is now definitely settled as to where they will strike Schuyler. The river will be crossed about eighty rods east of the bridge and almost a direct northerly line followed to the U. P. track, which point is touched just east of Bliss' hog yard. It comes through Wm. Stevens farm east of his house and strikes the village !imits at Jos. Maly's place. From there a strip one block wide to the U. P. track will be taken. This will take in the block upon which Elmer Davis' house is located, the one upon which S. W. M'Clung and Judge Brown are located, and the one upon which Jos. Bliss' house is located. These five houses are the only ones which are on this line of blocks, and the most if not all of them have been purchased by the company.
