A musical and calisthenic entertainment under the management of Miss Helen Stockdel for the benefit of the Columbus Fire Department will be given at the Opera House, this city, Thursday evening of this week. A splendid program has been prepared and no doubt a large audience will be in attendance. Tickets 35 and 25 cents. Reserved seats at Pollock's.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather Thursday evening last, Clint G. Ford's Dramatic Co. drew quite a good sized audience to the Opera House who were well entertained by their presentation of that popular play, Monte Cristo. A noticeable feature was the elegant costumes of the actors. They expect to play a return engagement sometime in the near future.

Tonight, May 18, the Consolidated Tyrolean Arbor Concert Co. will give a concert at the Opera House, unlike any musical entertainment ever given here. There are twenty musicians in the company, but all the instruments are of wood, and the harmony is said to be something wonderful. It is a company of foreigners, who landed in New York a few months since; they have played in all the principal cities of Europe as well as this country, with great success. Admission 20 cents, reserved seats, 75 cents. Tickets for sale at Chas. E. Pollock & Co's drug store, Nebraska Avenue.

D. A. Lord was down from his Colorado ranch last week, returning Sunday last. D. A. reports a law suit on his hands with the B. & M. R. R. Co. for damages sustained by trains running into and killing some of his stock.

The ladies of Grace church gave a novel entertainment, Tuesday and Wednesday evening of last week at Manner-chor hall, at which a large number of our citizens were present, thus making it a financial as well as a social success.

Sheriff Kavanaugh took John Shanahan to Lincoln Saturday last; he was sentenced at the last term of the district court to one year's imprisonment in the penitentiary on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

John Wise says if anybody is sceptical about the actual existence and effective agency in affairs of the law of gravitation, let him try to mend a barbed-wire fence on a windy day, in a long-tailed coat.

Mrs. Hickok of this city deserves more than private thanks for a beautiful bouquet containing a magnificent Calla Lily, presented to a friend in the city Saturday, but a public commendation for cultivating such splendid flowers.

If you have a bit of news, give it to the JOURNAL. We cannot be everywhere in a week. The facilities for getting news are pretty good, but there are many matters, mainly of a personal interest, that must be told us, if we get them at all.

The most preferable styles are always carried by the leading millinery store, and they are bound to sell if low prices and reduction on low prices will help them to do so. Investigate and see what a power they give your money. J. C. Fillman.

Jos. Clark, trustee for the widow and heirs of Ephraim Clark, deceased, is in Nebraska looking after the land interests of the estate. At one time E. Clark was half owner of what was called the Township farm, southwest corner of Stanton county.

Under a new law assessors are required to take the names of soldiers who have served in the armies of the United States. We wish to publish the list complete for Platte county, by name, for the several townships, and will be pleased to have the assessors send us the names.

The U. P. Co. completed last week a fence 200 hundred feet in length along the north side of their main track on the old John Miller place. We understand that between this and their fence south of the track is a distance of four hundred feet, which they claim as right of way. Pretty wide swath.

The real estate dealers of Omaha are using considerable printer's ink these days. They are the foundation of the extensive editions gotten out periodically by the newspapers of the metropolis. And yet, as the Fremont Herald remarks, "some people think real estate men are no good to a town."

C. & L. Kramer have sold their dry goods stock at Genoa to Peter Heimback, getting in the deal, a house and lot formerly owned by Chas. Matthews. Dave Loeb, who was in charge, has returned to this city and will take his old situation in the Kramer store here.

Wm. Lisco has returned from National City, California, having gone there last fall, purchased a tract of land for $500, lived there during the winter enjoying himself "seeing the elephant," sold out this spring making $500 (double his investment). He was within two and a half miles of the Mexican line.

Mr. J. G. Reeder, of Columbus, Nebraska, and Mr. Lincoln Boone, in company with Geo. B. and Misses Lillie and Nellie Smith, of Carlsbad, are spending a short season in this city, guests of M. Alice Morrill. The entire party enjoyed a pleasant trip to the line and in Old Mexico last Wednesday.—National City Record.

The school board met Monday evening, doing no business except organizing. One of the new members, Jonas Welch, was present. D. Schupbach was re-elected president, J. N. Taylor, vice-president, and W. M. McAllister, sec'y. Carl Kramer was appointed committee with Prof. L. J. Cramer, on arrangements for commencement exercises.

Aaron, the little three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Staab, while playing in a neighbor's house Tuesday afternoon, got hold of a tin cup containing concentrated lye, and thinking it was water drank some of it. His lips, mouth and throat are terribly burned, but we hardly think that he drank enough to do much injury.—Leigh Advertiser.

The Journal job department is prepared to furnish, on short notice, all kinds of commercial work such as letter heads, note heads, bill heads, statements, circulars, envelopes, cards, doggers, posters, etc.; visiting cards; lawyers' briefs; pamphlets; catalogues; sale bills, etc. Satisfaction guaranteed. Orders by mail promptly attended to. Address, M. K. Turner & Co., Columbus, Neb.

Sunday and Monday last the following shipments of stock were made over the Union Pacific road: To Chicago, by Fat Murray, 4 cars of cattle and 1 of hogs; by M. H. White, 6 cars of cattle; by Wm. Gerhold, 3 cars of cattle; by J. Greisen, 2 cars of cattle; by S. O. Raymond, 2 cars of cattle. John Wiggin shipped 2 cars of hogs to South Omaha.

We have had occasion more than once to commend the activity of the Columbus correspondents of the Omaha and Lincoln papers. While they of course work for some little pay like the remainder of the newspaper people, there is mainly a labor of love, like the rest, and does other people of the community a considerable amount of good. Hudson, for the Bee, Dale for the Republican and Lincoln Journal and Phillips for the Herald, have every day, almost, some important dispatch to send in.

The party announced to start for California last Saturday, have been delayed on account of a threatened attack of measles. All expect to go today.—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Spies, Mrs. L. D. Clark and daughter, and J. G. Rortson and family. The JOURNAL is sorry to see them go, but some for one reason, some for another, they think their lot will be better in that new land, and so God speed and success to them.

Well! They say, sometimes, that it don't pay for a farmer to sell his cream to the Creamery men, but it looks as though it is all right with the Stevenson Bros. Their business has grown amazingly and they are certainly getting solid with the men who have cream-cream. Take for an instance, D. L. Bruen got for cream furnished during April from ten cows, $22.82, a right good income.

The Columbus Motor Railway.

On Saturday articles of incorporation were filed in the County Clerk's office by the Columbus Motor Company, capital stock $200,000, with authority to increase it to $500,000. The incorporators are Robert H. Henry, Leander Gerrard, Herman Oehlrich, George Lehman, James R. Meagher, John H. Kersenbrock, all citizens of Columbus, and well known for their ability, financial and otherwise.

The scheme includes a street-car line within the city and a system of lines in the adjacent country, Platte, Colfax, Butler and Polk counties.

Sixty miles of road centering at Columbus with two or at most three engines, would easily run trains to Columbus from four directions every hour of the day, saving to those on or near the line the work of a team for a day, and often that of the driver of the team, to do shopping in the city.

Within two years from today the number of people in Columbus may easily be doubled, and this motor road, besides other projects on foot, are calculated to provide for the increase. The road as contemplated will not only enhance the value of city property, but along their route, lands will be more valuable because of the road; everywhere these roads have been instituted, the good effects have been immediately felt, and the conditions here are just such as to insure like results.

While Columbus is in the very front rank of enterprising cities of its size, with all the modern appliances for comfortable living, it must progress with the times. The city must either go forward or backward, and we are sure that the business men of the city, more unified in sentiment and purpose than ever before, are determined to let no occasion pass by for adding to the facilities of Columbus for increasing the volume of her business with the outside world.

At the Front.

The Argus is inclined to think, not that Columbus will not succeed in her motor road scheme, but that people now living must continue to survive until they are as old as Methuselah before they will be gratified with the sight of a train. This fling at the enterprise of Columbus business men and capitalists is of course intended as a joke, notwithstanding the fact that such references to Methuselah are now regarded as very ancient "chestnuts." The Argus will find that Columbus is fully alive to the situation. Her men have held themselves in readiness to take time by the forelock, whenever his shining pate should appear. He has come, and they have a firm hold, and propose to keep it. There is nothing like a united effort, and that's what's here just now. Every man is talking in favor of Columbus; every manufacturing interest now here is encouraged to enlarge its capacity; every man is doing some improvement on his own account and is fully alive to the general interests. We have our waterworks, our electric lights, our two great flouring mills, etc., etc.; Columbus is as far along in all that make a progressive community in a very progressive time as any city in the west, and what is more, so far at least, is her own capital that has been invested, her people own her houses, and they are usually free from incumbrance. Not all the men who have accumulated wealth here have carried it away with them to other places, either; not withstanding the fact that at least one hundred thousand dollars in capital has thus left Columbus in the past year only, there is plenty left to handle any scheme that may approve itself to the judgment as a good one, and it will take no Methuselah to be able to see it, either. Even the Argus man with half an eye cannot fail to see it.

Ladies of Columbus and Vicinity:

We will open in Columbus on Tuesday May the 24th, in the JOURNAL building north of new U. P. depot, one door east of Kramer's store, a very large stock of ladies' and children's trimmed and untrimmed hats. We will remain here for one week only, and we shall expect to see every lady of Columbus and the country around in our store during our stay in your city. We will have an elegant line of hats; we will have a larger line of goods than has ever been your pleasure to select from.

We will have one table full of ladies' and children's hats which we will sell at $1.00 each, and another table full of trimmed hats which we will sell at $1.50 each, any of which will be cheap at twice the money. Be sure to visit our store while we are in your city as we will save you money, and also give you the largest stock to select from. We will have lots of imported Berlin hats. Remember the date, commencing Tuesday, May the 24th, for one week only.

F. O. KATZBERG, Agent.
