Now is Nebraska's opportunity to make money. Good boys' suits for $1.35, all cotton, at Miller Bros.

A. Scott and wife of Lost Creek were in town Saturday. D. Anderson is erecting a dwelling house in South Omaha.

Scarlet fever at Milford and diphtheria at Prairie Creek. You can borrow money on chattel security from Henrich.

For Sale—Two good colts, the pair for $75.00. C. C. Miller. Dr. Evans's new dwelling house is looming up in fine shape.

The addition to the First National Bank is nearly completed. Commercial printing neatly and quickly done at this office.

Hans Elliott, the postmaster at Postville, was in town Saturday. Miss Rebecca Sharp of North Bend is visiting at John Elliott's.

Mrs. W. Y. Bissell was visiting friends in Schuyler last week. Miss Nettie Van Alstine was in Omaha Wednesday, visiting friends.

J. E. North and wife visited Cedar Rapids, Boone county, last week. As good as the best, and as cheap as the cheapest, at J. B. Delsman's.

Central City talks of a cracker factory, foundry and machine shops. Pat. Hays of Platte Center Sunday with his family in this city.

Delsman keeps good goods, and will not allow himself to be undersold. F. J. Brock of Fairmont, W. Va., a friend of Mr. Garlow's is in the city.

Henrich insures business property 20 per cent. less than any other agent. Miss Jennie Thomas left last Thursday for her home at Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Miss Helen Schrack, of Crete, is visiting her sister, Mrs. L. W. Weaver. Wm. Watson was in town Saturday.

Insure your horses against accident, theft, fire, lightning, Gen'l. Agt. Don't buy any real estate without getting an abstract from G. B. Becker & Co.

At last accounts Arnold Oehlrich was well and enjoying himself at his old home. C. & L. Kramer have received a full line of German, knitting and Saxony yarn.

Gus. G. Becker & Co. have complete abstracts of all real estate in Platte county. Mrs. Loran Clark, of Albion, is in the city visiting her sister, Mrs. George W. Stevens.

Dwelling houses and business buildings for rent. Call at Weaver's real estate office. Canvas the merits of the Domestic sewing machine before investing money in any other.

Three car loads of beer are sold here a week, besides what is sold by the Brewery here. Seesucker coats and vests for $1.75 at Miller Bros.

M. L. Dunlap came up from Schuyler Thursday and is learning the telephone business. Come and buy you one of these beautiful ladies' hats before they are all sold. Miller Bros.

Those wanting first-class sale bills and posters of any kind, should call at the Journal office. W. H. Morhart has 125 thirty apple trees on his place, and some good fruit from them this year.

Wheeler and Fulton, those irrepressible republicans of Creton township, were in the city Friday. Mrs. George McKelvey, of Fullerton, is in the city visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Matthews.

Loet—A pocketbook, with some valuable papers; reward will be given if returned to Hoppen's saloon. August 12th, Friday evening, Rev. A. K. Myrtwig delivers his lecture on Barnab at the Baptist church.

Henrich loans money on farms for 5 years, with the privilege of paying at the end of one, two or three years. Mrs. C. E. Morse, who has been visiting for the last two weeks with her friend, Mrs. J. S. Henrich of Denver, Colorado, is expected home this week.

Ed. Hoars of Lost Creek was in town Saturday. It is a cold day when Ed. is not interested in politics. Saturday was a warm day, even in the shade.

Mr. A. Ives gives us some splendid specimens of millet which shows what Nebraska can do in that line when she tries.

—Josie and Harry Coolidge of Plattsmouth were visiting their parents and friends in the city several days last week.

—James R. Smith and daughter Anna of Lost Creek passed through the city Saturday on a visit to friends at North Bend.

—The Journal is on sale, each week, at the book and news stores of E. D. Fitzpatrick and I. Sibberson, at 5 cents a copy.

A store room on 11th street, 22x132 feet for rent. A lease for a term of years preferred. Call soon, on M. K. Turner.

—J. E. Kuna, of this city, recently put lighting rods on all three of the school buildings in Norfolk. The News says he did a good job.

—Mrs. John Tannahill, who went to be at the death bed of her mother, at Dubuque, Ia., is herself very ill; her mother is very low.

—Money on hand, no delay in completing loans. Rates and terms as low as the lowest, and as good as the best. Gus. G. Becker & Co.

—Keep machine oil out of sores on your hand. Many of these oils are made from diseased and decomposed animals, and are highly poisonous.

—R. C. Carpenter, since last fall has sold and pocketed for hops the nice little sum of $1,000 and yet is in possession of 65, says the Bedwood Gazette.

—Hon. George B. Lane, State Sup'l. of Public Instruction, delivered an able lecture last Wednesday evening to the teachers attending the institute.

—Before investing in a sewing machine, organ or piano, see A. & M. Turner, at their organ depot, or address G. W. Kibler, their traveling salesman, if——Street Commissioner Elliott is working the streets in the bottom. He thinks that with the grader he can work the streets with the amount of poll tax.

—Mrs. J. R. Cooks, of Minneapolis, Minn., wife of Schroeder Bros', miller, arrived in the city Saturday last, and Jack is now the happiest man in town.

—A. & M. Turner are selling the Western Cottage Organ and Domestic Sewing Machine, both of which stand at the head of their class, and are guaranteed.

—John Bedenbaugh of Boone, Ia., is visiting his father's family in this city. John notices a big improvement in Columbus during the ten years of his absence.

—John Wiggins, secretary of the Nebraska Live Stock Shippers Association, leaves today for Omaha where that body meet for the transaction of important business.

—An engineer's party, one day last week came in from the east to within a half mile of the city limits and struck off northwest. This is all we can ascertain of them.

—Brown & Fulton of Creton threshed 825 bushels of wheat from 30½ acres the other day for Chas. Brown; Fulton threshed for himself 3000 bushels of oats from 55 acres.

—Miller Bros. of this city will start a branch clothing house at Leigh, Nebr., about Sept. 1, where they may be found with a full line of gent's furnishing goods, etc., etc.

—Mrs. Ranck, of Burlington, Ia., accompanied by her two daughters, stopped over Tuesday to visit her sister, Mrs. E. L. Eggleston. They were on their way to Salt Lake City.

—George Lehman made a trip to Des Moines, Omaha and Plattsmouth last week. The night of his return, the JOURNAL dreamed of seeing the first iron of the street railway, in place.

—We carry the best cassimeres, corsets, and worsteds to be found in any clothing store; when you look you will be convinced of the fact. C. B. Stillman room on Eleventh street.

—Lon. Miller was in town Sunday on his way home from Omaha, where he had been several days. He is very much taken with South Omaha, and will soon move there for permanent residence.

—Col. John Hammond, commander Soldier's home, is one of the delegates appointed by Gov. Thayer to the national conference of charities and corrections to be held at Omaha Aug. 25.

—Saturday last Henry and Gerhard Loewe, Jno. H. Wurdeman and Julius Hembschberger of L. Rothchild 265 head of young cattle for $3,700. They were a fine bunch brought in from Iowa.

—Lobmann Rothchild has a fine lot of young Iowa cattle for sale. Buying or selling, Rothchild has gained here quite a reputation for fair dealing. Anyone wanting young stock should see him at once.

—Smokers think no fires are caused from lighted cigars thrown on the sidewalks. One was found on the U. P. depot Monday in front of the baggage room, getting its work done in fine shape.

—The locomotive pulling the east bound U. P. passenger train Friday came into Columbus somewhat damaged and another engine from the yards here had to be attached to carry the train to Omaha.

—Dr. F. J. Schug and J. R. Meagher were at North Platte last week in attendance on a law suit in which the U. P. Co. was involved. The doctor tells us that crops along the entire route are looking in good shape.

—E. A. Sage's neighbors to the number of thirty-nine gathered to help him celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of his birthday, July 29th. If the water in the creek had been deep enough they would have had some additional sport.

—Al. Little, who for several months has held the position of foreman of the Democrat at Madison, was in town one day last week on his way to David City, where he takes a similar position on the Tribune. He called at this office.

—Mrs. G. G. Bowman, of Columbus, was in the city last Saturday. She returned the same day with her little daughter, Parthenia, who has been visiting here a couple of weeks with her friend, Mrs. J. S. Henrich of Denver, Colorado, is expected home this week.

—Geo. Alexander tells us the Steinbaugh Bros. in four days and a half threshed 3046 bushels of wheat for Thos. Daek. The grain was the product of 160 acres. 18½ bushels to the acre is a fair yield for what is called a dry year.

On Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock we will throw from the roof of our place of business, the C. B. Stillman room on 11th street, 100 straw hats; 25 pairs of men's pants, and other goods. Then we will commence the slaughter of clothing at auction. Take advantage of this sale while you can. Only to last this week.

—G. W. Galley has left on our table some of the finest specimens of Nebraska grown apples that we have seen. These are from trees on his farm that were borne down by the ice in the flood of '81, and straightened up out of the mud. Out of 73 trees, half of them are bearing, and six trees are very full of apples like these samples 12 of which weigh 5 pounds, and some of them will not go into a pint cup. Mr. Galley says he will have twenty-five bushels this year. In the city he has two lots filled with apple trees, from which he expects to get good report in a few years. A sight of these luscious looking apples will lead any man to desire to imitate Mr. Galley's good example.

—Last Thursday evening was quite a stormy one in many sections of Nebraska. The Bedwood Gazette says: "Shortly before dark last evening a severe hail storm came up from the north, cutting corn considerably and entirely wiping out garden truck. Not a window light facing the storm in nearly a store or residence second town had been demolished, and boards and brick filled the air, making it dangerous for anyone to venture out on the streets, while women and children went frantic."

—J. D. Bell's about three tons of grapes were destroyed; the new Catholic church was blown from its foundation and badly damaged. Nick Steider's barn was blown down.

—The following from the Caribad (Cal.) Sea Lion of the 30th ult. refers to young ladies who formerly resided here and are well known to most all our Columbus readers: "On Sunday forenoon, Samuel Roberts launched a boat at the beach, and took Miss Alma Schutte and Miss Nellie Smith out into the breakers. The boat was a frail one, and soon upset and spilled the whole party into the surf. The ladies behaved with much coolness. Miss Schutte swam ashore, while Sam. swam ashore with Miss Smith. Such an amusement is very dangerous. Ladies should not venture out into the surf in any such a slight craft as that utilized on Sunday. On a dangerous beach, both the young ladies would have been drowned."

—J. A. Turner, foreman of the COLUMBUS JOURNAL, which position he has occupied since the establishment of that excellent paper, was in Lindsay last Saturday, and favored the Sentinel office with a call. Years ago we worked as journeyman under "Bun," as the boys in the office used to call him, and it was a source of great pleasure to meet him in Lindsay. He was regarded by the JOURNAL employes as the prince of good fellows, as well as being a thorough printer, and we have ever held him in the highest esteem.—Sentinel.

—The great race at the fair grounds last Saturday was rather a tame affair. The crowd gathered expecting to see quite a sight, but were disappointed. The horses, Napier's "Babe," and "John" the Craig horse, were the contending animals. They started and had gone but about a hundred yards when "Babe" flew the track and "John" won with no effort. The purse of $200 was of no small dimensions and ought to have been better pulled for.—Schuyler Quill.

—A union, branch of the Equitable Aid Union, was organized here last week by Dr. R. N. Severs, of Penn., who is president of the organization in the United States. The doctor is an accomplished young gentleman, and made many friends during his stay. The union is one of the cheapest life-insurance companies extant, includes ladies as well as gentlemen, and does not exclude those under 65. H. J. Hudson is president of the Union here.

—Col. John Hammond and wife left Thursday for their new home, Grand Island. "Cap Hammond" has been a familiar figure in Columbus for a good many years, and he and his estimable wife will be much missed by their numerous friends here. The Colonel has a life position from Gov. Thayer as commandant of the Soldiers Home, which is now being erected near Grand Island.

—Elsewhere will be found a statement of the condition of the First National Bank of this city, at the close of business August 1st, 1887. It shows a very healthy condition of affairs, loans and discounts over $162,000; deposits nearly $131,000. Its resources, all told, are $226,507.59, and it is recognized as one of the solid institutions of the country.

—Perhaps the greatest picnic ever held in Central Nebraska will take place in Kummer's Grove, this city, next Saturday, Aug. 13. Two thousand people are expected from Omaha alone—the fare being $1 for the round trip. Everybody invited. Bring your own baskets of provisions.

—In the last Scientific American is a reference to Dr. Peter Hood's treatment of cancerous tumors with carbonate of lime. The Lancet for May says that it has been of utility in a sufficient number of cases for warranting us in reposing some confidence in its use.

—The Platte County Probitionists met in convention at the Court House last Friday and nominated a full county ticket. The sec'y of the convention has promised us a full report when acceptances of nominations shall have been received.

—G. W. Turner, who is now in London, England, was heard from last week by letter to an old friend. He says "Buck," who was so badly injured, is doing nicely. That Fred is well, and wishes to be remembered to all his friends.

—Our readers will find an interesting article on bees in today's JOURNAL from the pen of Mrs. J. N. Heater. The JOURNAL will gladly help to diffuse knowledge concerning an industry that has such a wonderful effect as that of bee-keeping.

—An ordinance is being drafted that will have a very strong tendency to squelch the hop-skip-and-jump way of doing business; the street fakirs; the dog peddlars; the night hawkers; the wholesale men that will yet retail you anything.

—The Genon Leader says that E. V. Clark has been very sick the past week and is still quite low; that Edwin J. son of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. C. Tinker died July 30 of remittent malarial fever, aged 3 years, 1 month and 3 days.

Platte County Teachers Institute. On our communication of last week at the opening of the institute, it has visibly bettered its condition, several new names have been added to the list, and the faculty are straining every nerve to increase its facilities in general. The main point under discussion is the imparting of knowledge to pupils, which is of inestimable value to all teachers.

And we must admit that we have never seen so many ingenious ideas advanced as from the teachers here. Superintendent Tedrow and Professors Cramer and Backus, are, as usual, dispensing knowledge right and left, and we know of no reason why any teacher attending can not in a short time, become a first-class teacher, in theory.

The following are the names of those enrolled up to Tuesday morning of the second week: Lois Spencer, Willie Mangrove, Minnie Luth, Clara Martin, Ella Byrns, Abbie Drane, Addie Hurd, Nellie Curtis, Annie Taylor, Chattie Rice, Phionis Cushing, Libby Coffey, Bessie Bellon, Martha Hancock, Clara Weaver, Anna Turner, Mary Miller, Ella Quinn, Charles Wilson, Gertrude Jones, Miss McDonald, Annie Romans, Annie Hamer, Olive Doda, Addie Randall, Fannie Geer, Belle St. Clair, Sophia Bean, Lettie Jones, Minnie Steen, Ellen Johnson, Mary Brownlow, Belle Dougherty, Anna Luth, L. A. Trowbridge, John Taylor, Fred Reed, L. H. Leary, Thomas Troyba, Anna Dunfee, Anna Freeman, Zetta Dowty, Minnie Owens, Lillie Carr, Anna Philips, Gertrude Phillips, Mary Shaffer, Fred Lamb, Carrie Southard, Alice Watkins, Lizzie Riley, Jennie Sacider, Mary Barrows, J. F. Clark, Alice Wise, Lemna Lawrence, Mary Erickson, Louis Ashby, Albert Parker, Lizzie Wright, Olive Wright, Rose Hanly, Alice Kingston, George Camp, Myra Wise, Susie Wise, Max Rothbutter, C. G. Christie, Wm. Swartzley, Joseph Mannham, Robert O'Brien, Kattie McKee, Katie Carrig, Columbus Waggoner, Geo. Ward, Eva Maynard, Norman May, Peter Sattler, Martin Hogan, Eva Kenyon, G. M. Conway and Mary Coleman, making a total of 82.

The institute was favored on the 3d by a visit from the State Sup'l., Geo. B. Lane, who lectured in the evening at the M. E. church. A large number of the teachers were present, and enjoyed it immensely.

Supt. Tedrow informs us that the Institute is open to all, and any one visiting them will be cordially welcomed.

—Present indications are that Nebraska farmers will realize good prices for all their surplus grain and hay, if they keep them till spring. The shortage elsewhere is what will count for them. Already the shipment of live stock has begun, both from the west and the east, into Nebraska, for sale or for keeping, and the outlook now is that there will be good demand for every pound of corn, oats, hay, and straw and fodder that can be spared from Nebraska farms. Those of our farmers who are in shape to do so, can take advantage of the situation, and invest in young cattle brought from abroad, at the low prices which it is evident they must be sold at. With a large portion of the United States suffering from drought, this is certainly a fruitful year for Nebraska; the fact is that the capabilities of our soil were never before so evident, even to Nebraskaans; every year since the state began to be settled has demonstrated the fact that, wet or dry, the peculiar formation of Nebraska soil cannot be excelled, but this year, unusually dry in many parts of the United States, as well as here, has proved beyond a doubt that the lacustrine formation overlying a seemingly exhausted bed of water is excellent ground work for farming in a "dry" year.

—Prof. W. B. Backus has resigned as teacher in the High School here, and accepted the position of Superintendent of the High School at Ogallala, this state. In his new position he will receive $1000 a year of nine months. During the residence here of Mr. Backus he has made a host of friends outside of his school work, who will be very sorry to see him leave. As a teacher, Mr. Backus has had marked success, here and elsewhere, having in large abundance, those qualities that make the teacher; a fondness and aptness for teaching; undivided attention to work, during the hours of work; a thorough preparation for the recitations to be heard, and a nature in full sympathy with the youth struggling to acquire an education. He has, to an unusual degree, endeared the children under his charge to himself, by no means in any servile sense, but because they have appreciated his untiring, and very faithful services to them, in their school work, always having reference to the work of life lying beyond the limits of the school room. The JOURNAL congratulates Ogallala.

—Mr. F. F. Roose, representing the Lincoln Business College, brother-in-law of Mr. Morrison, arrived in the city Friday last and remained over Sabbath with his friends. Mr. Roose is editor of the paper published at Lincoln in the interests of the Modern Woodmen of America, is the secretary and treasurer of the Northern Relief Association of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, and takes a lively interest in many other benevolent societies. Their college at the capital city is doing a good work for the young men of this and other states, in the way of fitting them for business, and is receiving a gratifying patronage.

—Miss Matt Wadsworth, the pioneer editress of the Caribad (Cal.) Sea Lion, "has thrown her journalistic pen into the waste basket, renounced the paste brush and the exchange bill, reserved her scissors for strictly feminine purposes and gracefully descended from the editorial throne," says the Sea Lion of the 30th ult. "Her pen will not be entirely idle, however, but newspaper correspondence or literary contributions will probably be her chosen field."

—We desire to extend our heart-felt thanks to the friends who so kindly assisted us and for the words of comfort extended to us during our late sad bereavement in the death of our brother Lee.

JAY MERRILL, ROLLAND MERRILL, FOREST MERRILL.

Money Saved. Why not save 50 cents out of every dollar you invest for clothing, by calling at the C. B. Stillman room, sign of red paper?

Dr. Edwards was in Columbus Sunday on business. R. W. Hughes moved into G. H. Smith's house last Friday.

Miss Mareek, of Humphrey, paid us a visit last Saturday. Mr. Whitman made a flying trip from Schuyler to Platte Center Saturday night.

Rev. Stevens, the Episcopal minister of Columbus, gave us a pleasant call Saturday.

John Ramach, our butcher, has sold out his business to Bill Smith, formerly of Columbus.

C. G. Carrig, our "dog dealer" has quit the business and is setting them up, on that Aryus "gag."

Andrew Herpiger, formerly of this place, now of St. Paul, made us a pleasant call on Friday last.

There is a miniature menagerie stopping in town, consisting of four bears, four monkeys and a Shetland pony.

Dr. Edwards and family, W. B. Burrow and a number of others, attended the circus at Humphrey last Friday.

Now is the time to lay in your yearly stock of paragonic &c., for the water-melon season is at hand. No deaths yet.

There was a union meeting of the neighboring Sunday schools at the city hall last Sunday. There was a large attendance.

Mr. Burkehead, the superintendent of the masons on the new school house left Saturday night by request of the contractor.

The Humphrey Cornet Band will have a picnic in the grove near town next Sunday. Everybody expected to have a good time.

Mr. Mitten, one of the masons on the new school building, has bought two lots west of the school house, and will soon erect on it a dwelling for his family; many more will soon follow suit.

The Mitchell Washer.

John E. Mitchell, of Salem, Iowa, is somewhere in this country in the interest of the machine of which he is the patentee, and for which he is selling "territory". In the United States and Canada there are eight large factories of these machines and there is room for plenty more, because wherever the device becomes known it is fully appreciated, and the public will buy. Mr. Mitchell has already received royalty on 50,000 machines since his invention was patented in 1885. To show the confidence that dealers have in the washer, they offer to send it to any responsible person on trial, to be paid for only after it is found satisfactory. There have been so many disappointments with washing machines that the grand success of this one is all the more noticeable.

Several of our townspeople who have used this machine the past two years, as well as some who have had it but a few weeks (including the writer's family) know the merits of the machine, and we only speak of it to emphasize what we have yet to say, which is that here and now is an opportunity for some of our men of means and enterprise to invest in something the manufacturing of which and sale here will not only bring them a handsome profit on their investment but an excellent thing for the town. We repeat here what we have said, over and over again, that Columbus, in order to drive ahead, must become a manufacturing place, giving employment to mechanics, working up raw material that can be grown or furnished here, and relying upon sales of the manufactured product for revenue. Every successful industry will help. Three or four men with a few hundred dollars apiece can invest in the business we here refer to and make a grand success of it for themselves and for the town. Who will undertake it?

Miss Jossie Reiss of Leigh was a visitor here last week.

John Reisse of Leigh has been here the last two weeks cutting grain for H. Johnson and others.

The Johnson Bros. have returned this week and report a good time and very good crops in the northern part of this state.

Some time ago we could see millions of such huge nibbling at the corners, now they have all vanished, the recent rains don't seem to agree with their health.

John Wurdeman, one of our oldest and successful farmers, is having his nice and convenient new house finished; the work is being done by the Hanteman Bros., carpenters of this neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stenger were visitors at the Brugger's last Sunday—Nebraska seems to have lost some of its attraction to Albert—for we do not see him and his grays here as often as some time ago.

July 31. B. T. [The above letter got delayed somewhere along the line.]

Written for the JOURNAL. Notes on Bee Keeping.

BY MISS J. N. HEATER.

After repeated requests from persons interested in this pursuit, for an article on the subject, I reluctantly comply, with a few rambling thoughts which are the very a. b. c. of the business.

Scientific bee keeping, like all other trades and professions, is merely an empty name without close study, deep thought and really scientific research. One cannot place a few colonies of bees upon his premises, and claim the title of "apiarist" if he is only a bee keeper. This may sound strange to some, but the difference is in this, that the bee keeper simply keeps the bees and allows them to follow their own inclinations as to swarming, storing honey, etc. While the apiarist worthy the name, has a system of manipulation, by which he stimulates and controls the workings of his colonies. This of course requires a thorough knowledge of the habits and instincts of the bees. For instance, a queen which perishes during the winter, when there are no eggs or larvae in the hive with which the bees can provide for themselves another queen. The bee keeper would see that the colony was growing weaker and weaker, but would let them "paddle their own canoe," while the apiarist would investigate the matter at once, and upon careful examination of each comb separately, if he found neither queen, eggs nor brood, he would at once insert a frame from some other colony containing eggs four days old. The age can be determined by the appearance, as at that age they have just hatched into the tiniest little grub, scarcely perceptible in the bottom of the cell, surrounded by the food the nurse bees have been placing around it. The bees, with a wise instinct of their own, realize the necessity of a queen or mother bee in their midst, for the perpetuation of their kind, and at once begin to enlarge some of the cells just given them, and prepare a stronger diet called "royal jelly" with which they surround the infant grub. This jelly is of the same composition as the food given to the larva of the worker bee, except it has been more thoroughly digested by the nurse bees.

There is a sale of fine clothing in progress at the C. B. Stillman room on Eleventh street, which will pay you to attend. BIRTHS. ROEN—July 28th, to Mrs. O. T. Roen, a daughter. SCHUBERT—Wednesday August 3d, to Mrs. Carl Schubert, a boy, weight 12 pounds. The father is doing as well as can be expected under the trying circumstances.

DIED. NEEDLE—At Omaha, Friday night, Aug. 5th, after a long illness, Mrs. A. H. Needle, the wife of Col. Needle, a former resident of this city, in the 70th year of her age. Sunday's Bee says: "The deceased was a woman of more than ordinary intelligence, richly endowed with a strong sense of duty, and a pure, unselfish character. She was married to her husband, one son and three bright little girls, to whom her loss is irreparable. The funeral will take place from the family residence, corner Twelfth and Second streets, today at 4 o'clock. The interment will be in Prospect cemetery."
