- Owing to our non-correspondence for the past few weeks we failed to mention that the dogs of the neighborhood made a raid on J. C. Swartsley's hogs, and killed several fine ones. We think that all law-abiding citizens should not allow their dogs to run loose in this manner, and leaving them liable to do damage; of course in some cases this is practically impossible, but still we say that a man should be held responsible for
- the damage done by his animals. Hog cholera is again manifesting itself in this neighborhood; C. H. Sheldon has lost quite a number of his fine hogs, J. H. Craun is now losing his, and D. Bartles has lost all his young pigs. Now, when it is just appearing, is the time to take all precautions against it, and we think if the proper measures were adopted its ravages might be stopped. But having previously treated of this subject quite extensively we will now close this communication by signing it,

- -We are informed that there are parties traveling through the country contracting this year's crop of corn, and in some cases paying a portion of the purchase money down. We hear of a number of farmers who have been offered twentyfive cents per bushel and of one who has sold his crop for that price. We believe farmers are very foolish to contract their crop this year for any such price as those is very short in many of the corn growing states, in fact it is very short in some supply and demand has anything to do with the market price of this commodity corn will bring a good price this fall.
- and the farmer who sells is liable to rue his bargain. Corn in this county is an excellent crop, and the farmers should reap the benefit. Don't sell your corn until it is husked, and then take what the market pays, or hold it for a raise as you see best. Sure it is that it will bring more than twenty five cents per bushel. It is worth that figure at the present time, and a little more. Hold your corn and reap the benefit of your labor, don't give the benefit of your summer's work to some speculator, who has no object

Legal Notice.

In the District Court of Platte county, Nebraska March term, A. D. 1887, to wit, July 29, A. D. 1887. In the matter of the estate of Thomas O'Neill In the matter of the estate of Thomas O'Neill, deceased.

The cause came on for hearing upon the petition of Annie O'Neill, administratrix of the estate of Thomas O'Neill, deceased, praying for license to sell the west half of the southeast quarter, and the south half of the northeast quarter of section four (4), in township nineteen (19), north, range two (2), west of the sixth principal meridian, situate in said Platte county, or a sufficient amount of the same to bring the sum $3.274, for the payment of debts against said estate and the costs of administration, there not being sufficient personal property to pay the said debts and expenses. It is therefore ordered by the court that all persons interested in said estate appear before me at the court house in Columbus, Platte county, Nebraska, on the 10th day of September, 1857, at one o'clock p. m., to show cause why a license should not be granted to said administratrix to sell so much of the above described real estate of said deceased as shall be necessary to pay said debts and expenses. It is further ordered that said Annie O'Neill, administratrix, give notice to all persons interested in said estate, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the Columbus Journal, a newspaper printed and in general circulation in said county, for four successive weeks prior to the day set for said hearing.

July 29th, 1887.
