ED. JOURNAL:-I noticed a commun eation in the Democrat signed "Voter which I consider a very weak answer to the charges laid down by Democrat in his article on "True Democracy."

"Voter" seems to have satisfied his wrath by throwing "campaign dirt" and seemingly trying to hide or evade the charges in a manner that can neither bring him into prominence as a writer nor help Mr. Waggoner's cause for county superintendent.

It is noticeable that the public acts of public men are open to criticism, at any and all times, and when charges are made they should be answered, (not intelligent manner, which would show the writer to be endowed with at least a little sense.

The most important charge made by "Democrat" was, that "Waggoner obtained his much-boasted, first-grade certificate" by having been given the quee tions previous to his examination. I do not make a practice of engaging in the quarrels of others, but when the public inetrests are at stake, on this important office, I feel it my duty to say that I know the above charge is true, also, that printer to help him out with a rush of the party who gave the questions could give Mr. Waggoner's recent letter no answer, but would justify the charge.

My desire was to keep "mum" in re gard to this affair, yet am too well ac quainted with the facts to allow "Demo crat" to be accused of being a "would be important creature," when I can substantiate the charge made and give names (if necessary).

DEMOCRAT No. 2.

News from Walker Township. ED. JOURNAL:-M. C. Bloedorn was i this township last week looking after his political interests and the writer was as tonished when Martin told him that the people on his rounds through the county confronted him with the latest coined news of him being a sot, and that he wasn't sober in the last two years and that he belonged to the prohibition party I said to myself what is politics coming to, and I say so still, I have known Martin Bloedorn from a boy and I will leave it to all who know him, be he democrat or republican, if ever he bore the name of a toper or a man of quarrelsome nature. He is one of the best known men in the county, and I will leave it to the saloon men and to the temperance party if such an accusation against such a sterling man as M. C. Bloedorn is not a vile slander. on the face of it. Mr. Editor, the man or party who is able to manufacture such campaign stuff as the above don't deserve victory at the hands of the voters. Was Martin an entire stranger to us, such lies might gather strength, but as it is, they will fall harmlessly on the breeze. I am of the opinion if the democratic press, is so hard pressed to find campaign food for their subscribers that they must be lie one of the best and noble-hearted men in existence, it is high time that honest men learn how to vote independently, for it appears the time has arrived when when the voter must see for himself and choose the man he thinks will serve the public best, regardless of the wind bags who send forth their lying edicts to injure the best of men ED. JOURNAL: - A communicant to the Democrat, assuming the part of campaigner, starts out by calling "Dem ocrat" some campaign epithets, which shows he is trying to bluster over the charges against Mr. Waggoner in a manner that leaves the questions where they are and the proof attached to them which no amount of "buldozing" car cover up. Mr. Voter claims Waggoner to be "an honorable man whose pride i will be to raise the standard of educa tion in the county." As to honor, he may be very honorable in his business transactions, yet he acted very dishonorably in receiving his first-grade certificate which he is in no way entitled to, and he knows that one of the first questions of every examination is: Have
