C. & L. Kramer
Take this method of letting you know that their entire stock of clothing and dry goods and boots and shoes is to be closed out at once at prices that will sell them. Come and be convinced that we mean just what we advertise. On cloaks and overcoats as well as all winter goods we will give large discounts. All staple goods are reduced in prices. Woolen yarn, in different colors, 5 cents per skein. Everything in the store is to be sold at once. C. & L. KRAMER.

—Valentines, horrible valentines, at Fitzpatrick's.

—For grain sowing machinery call on Henry Lubker.

—Burgess, Saturday evening next, at the Opera House.

—Call and get prices on boots, shoes and clothing at Honahan's. 3-42-21.

—Delsman keeps good goods, and will not allow himself to be undersold.

—The celebrated Lehigh hard coal, $13 a ton, delivered. L. W. Weaver & Co. 32-4.

—Just arrived, 20 head of fine large brood mares, for sale by J. Wagner, at the Cheeked Barn. 1.

—The JOURNAL is on sale, each week, at the book and news stores of E. D. Fitzpatrick and J. Heitkemper, at 5 cents a copy.

—The last semi-annual state appropriation for the schools of Platte county was about $6,000—a goodly sum for distribution.

—A. & M. Turner are sole agents here for the sale of the celebrated Western Cottage Organs, excellent by none, and equal to the best.

—Carl Kramer has been suffering the past week with erysipelas in the face. His many friends will be glad to see Carl out again and well.

—Dr. C. D. Evans went to Nance county Wednesday, called to the bedside of Ole Olson, a former resident of Columbus, who is very ill.

—I will be compelled to prosecute persons who heretofore persist in driving over my meadow land near the 6th principal meridian. J. Emsw. 41-31.

—Wind storms, cyclones and tornadoes are predicted for the western states during the coming spring. Insure against them. Henrich, gen'l agent.

—Butter 18; eggs 20; potatoes 60; wheat 55; corn 34; oats 23; fat hogs 4.75 to 5.00; fat steers 3.00 to 4.00; fat cows 1.75 to 2.00; feeding steers 2.50 to 3.00.

—Before investing in a sewing machine, organ or piano, see A. & M. Turner, at their organ depot, or address G. W. Kibler, their traveling salesman. 41-31.

—Remember, Henrich is the exclusive agent authorized by law for Platte county to insure horses and mules against loss by disease, accidents or theft.

—Miss Martha Turner of the JOURNAL family showed her friends, Mrs. Austin and Miss Annie Kelley through the JOURNAL rooms Monday. Call again, ladies.

—W. M. Robinson, a veteran sewing machine man, probably one of the very best informed in the country, was in the city Thursday last. He is now traveling for the Household.

—Neil Burgess' "Vim" is certainly original and really remarkable, and brought down the house. The play took like wildfire and was a decided hit.—[Salt Lake Herald.]

—Word has been received from Mrs. Becker at Columbus, Ohio, (mother of J. P. Wm. and Mrs. T. B. Bane) that she is very low, scarcely able to speak, and not expected to live long.

—Subscribe for the Nebraska Family Journal. Thirty-two columns of choice reading matter, news, stories and miscellany every week, for $1 a year. Issued by M. E. Turner & Co. 41-31.

—August Weiss, a prominent citizen of Omaha, and son-in-law of Dr. Shonlau (editor of the Columbus Wochenblatt), died Thursday morning last of typhoid fever. His age was fifty-two years.

—Buy the Henry F. Miller piano of A. & M. Turner—equal to the very best. A musical instrument that costs as much as a small dwelling and lasts a lifetime should be a good one. 33-17.

—ATTENTION!—I have 30 head horses and mares, from three to eight years old, which I will sell, for cash or on time, to suit customers. Come and see me, soon. 42-17. G. W. ELKINS.

—The ladies of the M. E. church have, on account of sickness, postponed their proposed supper on the evening of the 14th, to the 23rd. Don't fail to attend. A worthy cause deserves a good patronage.

—The Fremont Canning Co. are already making contracts with farmers and gardeners for supplies. They offer to contract for sweet corn, plucked from stalk, at $4.50 a ton, tomatoes 25 cents a bushel.

—Henry H. Huntemann of Nebraska made this office a very pleasant call Monday, subscribed for the JOURNAL and NEBRASKA FAMILY JOURNAL, besides leaving for us to do a goodly amount of work.

—The Columbus JOURNAL and the NEBRASKA FAMILY JOURNAL, both published by M. E. Turner & Co., Columbus, Nebraska, for $2.00 a year, if paid in advance. Specimen copies sent free to any address.

—J. B. Deleman, Wm. Schils and Jos. P. Schmitz went to Lincoln yesterday morning to attend the state convention of the Catholic Knights of America. These gentlemen represent the St. Francis Branch No. 267.

—P. J. Lawrence thinks that the authorities of Columbus ought to be a little more careful in taking up teams and placing them in charge of a feed-stable. He says his team was so taken but a few minutes after his arrival in town.

—"Vim" bristles with fun, the circus scene is a grand hippodrome. "Vim" has secured crowded houses since the opening night—it has succeeded in drawing immensely. "Vim" is an excellent comedy.—[San Francisco Post.]

—Recent arrivals of the Caribbea (Cal) Sea Lion contain references to Al. Arnold, Swan Nelson and J. N. Fauble of this county, who are now in California, seeing what can be seen. Since writing the foregoing Mr. Fauble has returned.

—A. & M. Turner have made arrangements to sell the Henry F. Miller piano, and will guarantee it to be as well made in every particular as any piano manufactured, no matter of what name. Call on or address G. W. Kibler, traveling salesman. 33-17.

—There must have been something exceedingly many at one of the late meetings of the Knights of Pythias, judging by the convulsions of members when they meet. Of course they never give anything away, which makes it rather severe on outsiders.

—For some reason or other the editorial table of the JOURNAL has not the pleasure of holding up a copy of the Platte Center News, a new venture in the field of journalism in Platte county, and the eighth, living paper of the county. What's the matter?

—More Nebraska insurance companies are being talked of. That is right. Let everything be done at home, that can be. If money is to be made by insurance companies, and after earned, invested by them, let the transactions be fully rounded at home, among Nebraskans.

—On Monday Dr. Martyn & Schug amputated six fingers for John Miller; on Tuesday morning they amputated eight fingers and two toes for Mrs. Jos. Miller. Both were sufferers in the recent "blizzard," particularly of their experience have already been given in the JOURNAL.

—We print a letter from Byron Miller at Denver this week. Nebraskans, so far as we know, have no reason to complain of the weather we have had recently, notwithstanding the roseate hue of the snow-capped mountains in the presence of which our old-time friend writes his letter.

—An interesting case has been on trial before His Honor, Judge Hudson, the last few days, involving the validity of the appointment of guardian for Mrs. Kuhns. Appointment was made by a special probate judge, and this suit is brought with a view of setting aside all proceedings, as void.

—C. J. Supervisor Williams of Duncan was in the city Saturday. We learn from him that he has resigned his office, and that he will remove this week to his farm three miles from Rising, Butler county. The JOURNAL, with the many warm friends of Mr. Williams and his family, is sorry to see good citizens leave.

—Al. Arnold the veteran hunter and health seeker from Columbus, Neb., arrived this morning from the south. He expects to take in all the beauties of the finest coast resort in the state, a good portion of the Caribbea mineral water and surprise the deer over the hills as a recreation. We extend our old friend a warm welcome and hereby command San Diego county deer to stand up and take the music.—[Sea Lion, Feb. 4.]

—H. A. Atchison, a pedler who resided in the city a short time last summer and went west in the fall, has lately been reported as missing, a corpse, thought to be his, having been found in a well in one of the mountain towns. Rumor has often been found at fault before and in this case was certainly in error, as John Tansahl received a letter from Mr. Atchison last week, and he is alive and well and living in Logan county.

—Mr. M. C. Calto, book-keeper for Schneider Bros., this city, started east Saturday last in response to a telegram of the day previous from Fredonia, Wis., announcing the death of his wife at that place, of consumption. Mrs. C. left the city some months ago to visit eastern friends, when she was stricken down with the dread disease. Mr. Calto has the heartfelt sympathy of his numerous friends here in this, his sad hour of bereavement.

—H. M. Winslow tells us of a district in Pierce county where they do not have their schools in operation unless there is abundance of fuel on hands for an emergency; they provide the teacher with a box of crackers, not to be used except during a storm. It is generally understood by parents, and the teacher is so instructed, that teacher and children will remain in the school-house during a severe storm. A good plan for every district.

—A. L. Bixby, whose return we noted last week, has taken editorial charge of the Fullerton Telescope and changed the name to Sentinel. He is not in love with Colorado, where he has been the past seven months, "the land of cactus and sand and potatoes five cents a pound," but thinks "the nearest approach to the perfect combination of climate and natural resources is the state of Nebraska, by all odds the most prosperous of western states."

—Our factious friend, L. A. Clark, editor of the Caribbea (Cal) Sea Lion, charges the JOURNAL with being the "author of the bold and reckless claim" that a certain watermelon that figured in a recent Caribbea feast, was raised in Nebraska, on the farm of our good friend Col. Geo. W. Stevens. Not so. We thought we were "truthfully informed" in regard to the matter, and see no reason to believe otherwise, even from what friend Clark now says in the Sea Lion.

—Mr. Burgess made an emphatic hit on Mrs. Puffy, in "Vim," last night. The audience was large and scarcely found time to catch its breath, between laughs, from beginning to end of the piece. "Vim" overflows with that sort of fun which is sure to strike the risibility of an audience, broad and homely, but not unwholesome. The incidents of the play are new and sharp. Mr. Burgess' make up is comical, but artistic. "Vim" is certainly the best thing of the kind yet put upon the stage.—[Washington Post, October 23, at Opera House, Saturday evening, Feb. 18th.]

—Sup't Kramer has sent the following to State Sup't Lane, as to storm incidents in this county: "Fortunately, we have no casualties to report from this county. The teachers, with rare exceptions, exercised a degree of caution and judgment that cannot be too highly commended. Nearly all remained with their pupils in the school room, until morning. There is a lesson for directors in this matter that should be remembered always; and that is, that no school should be permitted to run without an abundance of fuel constantly on hand. Fortunately, the storm lulled in the morning, and by eight o'clock on the following Friday morning both pupils and teachers were safely at home. Had the storm continued, (as was so frequently the case in former years), for two or three days, the results, in several instances, would have been horrible. As it was, in several cases the teachers were compelled to burn the desks in order to keep up the temperature of the room. While these storms, so fatal to man and beast, are comparatively rare in our state, yet they are of sufficiently frequent occurrence to put all on their guard and to justify every measure possible to mitigate their effects."

—John Fredericks is still on the sick list.

—Mrs. Fred Jewell is entertaining her sisters, Misses Emma and Bertie Ralcliffe of Kansas.

—Corn 35c at the Farmers' Protective Association.

—Mrs. Martin Vorhees is visiting her relatives in Illinois.

—Notes!

—A good young horse for sale at Oceone.

—JEWELL BROS.

PERSONAL.

John Schmecker of Duncan was in town Monday.

W. H. Winterbotham of Genoa was in the city Monday.

Mrs. E. R. Lanphere returned Thursday from visiting relatives at Fremont.

Nich Blaser, the bridge builder, was in the city Monday, on business, of course.

Jacob Tachudin of the Loup valley was a visitor to the county seat Monday.

Mrs. Geer's health is improving, though she is not yet able to take her place as teacher.

Chas. W. Pearsall of Grand Island has been visiting his parents in this city the past week.

Fred Jewell and Sam'l Hodson of Oceone gave us a pleasant call Thursday morning.

W. D. Hanchett, the postmaster at Palestine, was in the city last week, and gave us a pleasant call.

E. S. Clark of Champaign, Ill., is engaged with the enterprising firm of McKinley & Carnahan.

Platte Center was in town Monday by the wholesale—Boswell, Bloedorn, Niemoller, Saunders, Murphy and others.

Ed. Conney, oldest son of Clark Conney, passed through the city yesterday on his way to Washington, Ty., where he expects to make his future home.

Mrs. John Elliott went to Omaha on the morning train Friday to spend two weeks with her daughter Mrs. B. M. Gillan, who is sick at this writing. February 10th.

John Engel of Duncan called at these headquarters on business Monday with Mr. Ernst. Their section of county is flourishing finely, and preparations are being made for increased farm work this year.

Fire at Platte Center

Thursday morning between four and five o'clock a fire broke out at the rear of E. W. Hughes' store at Platte Center, and resulted in the following losses:

Mrs. T. C. Ryan, building, $800, insurance $500.

Hallen & Byrne, $3,000, insurance $2,000.

Terrance Brady, $1,200, no insurance.

R. L. Rosetter, post office stationery $800, no insurance.

The Misses. Duffy, $500, no insurance.

A. Henry $1,000, no insurance.

R. W. Hughes $4,000, insurance $3,000.

D. H. Carrig $1,000, insurance $300.

Paiste & Brown $800, no insurance.

Argus office, damages claimed $1,300, no insurance.

Dr. Wm. Edwards, damage to stock and building $500, no insurance.

A goodly portion of the mail in the boxes, was lost.

The Argus had worked off about one-third of the edition, the local forces being yet on the press. These were carried out, and the edition completed from the JOURNAL office in this city, so that the paper was issued on time, with an account of the fire.

We are informed that good buildings will soon take the place of those burned down.

This, we believe, is the first severe loss by fire that our sister town has had, and it was well that the morning was calm; had it been otherwise there is no telling how great the loss might have been.

The JOURNAL hopes that over the ruins may rise better houses, and that Platte Center, thoroughly warned by fire, may take the warning to heart and provide for the future.
