From the Rawlins Journal of the 12th, we clip the following: "Wm. Lackey, an employe of the Union Pacific railroad of this city, met with a very painful accident Wednesday. While coaling up an engine, he was standing on the tender, when the coal chute fell and about four tons of coal buried him, badly bruising and it is feared injured him internally."

A line from Frank Turner at the same place, says that he is now better.

The management of the Union Pacific "The Overland Route," made a change in the running time of its local trains Sunday, April 29th, that will be hailed with delight by the residents of "The Omaha and Republican Valley."

This change is made in conjunction with the St. Joseph and Grand Island branch, making the leaving time of No. 7 at Council Bluffs 8:40 a. m. and Omaha 9:00 a. m. Arriving at Valley at 10:25 a. m.; connects with the train arriving at Valparaiso at 11:56 a. m., and at Stromsburg at 2:50 p. m. Here it connects with the St. Joseph and Grand Island train, via McCool Junction and Fairfield, arriving at Alma at 10:00 p. m. The train running opposite leaves Alma daily at 5:30 a. m., arriving at Stromsburg at 12:00 p. m., Valparaiso 2:30 p. m., and Valley 4:15 p. m., connecting with No. 8 arriving in Omaha at 5:50 p. m. and Council Bluffs at 6:10 p. m., connecting with Eastern trains. A change in the running of trains between Lincoln and Valparaiso, enables passengers leaving Alma in the morning to reach Lincoln at 3:40 p. m. Leaving Lincoln at 11:35 a. m., they connect at Valparaiso with the Alma train, arriving there at 10:00 p. m. Good time and through chair car accommodations, makes this the most desirable line running into this portion of Nebraska. Passengers between Alma and Lincoln will be obliged to make only one change and that at Valparaiso. J. S. Tenney, Gen'l Pass. & Ticket Agt.

The policy of Mayor North and his chief of police to see how long they can not enforce the law against houses of prostitution is working successfully as yet, but a bitter feeling is growing on the part of that class of citizens who think that the only safe course for officials and for the city is to rid the city of a festering nuisance that has no authority of law for its existence for one minute. Is it possible that the mayor and his chief of police are determined to further rest the sentiment that calls for the suppression of these places of prostitution, and do so under the claim that there are no such places? What overwhelming reason can there be for such a course? It can hardly be possible that this moral blindness shall continue much longer. Is it desirable that all, everything, shall be proclaimed on the housetops, and that the mayor and his chief of police, McTeggart, shall be set down as the last men of the town to know what every well-informed citizen is advised of? People of property who pay taxes, or try to pay them, do so for the purpose of having their rights as citizens protected. There is one safe place for any man, private or official, to stand, and that place is, as citizens, to obey the laws, as officials to enforce the laws. Councilman Speice and those who stand with him on this question are right and will be sustained by this community.

A GOOD FOUNDATION. Siegenthaler Bros. & Lutz Send Their Product to All Parts of the United States. A Growing Plant.

One of the infant industries of Columbus, which we have mentioned before in the JOURNAL, is the shoe factory.

It has been running for some time, doing good work for itself and the city—like all factories do, bringing money here from abroad to be spent mainly at home, among our own business men. This is the one great reason why every industry of this kind should be encouraged, not by word alone but by substantial patronage.

The factory is now located in L. Gerrard's building west of the B. & M. depot. At present the saw for preparing the soles of the boots, shoes and slippers is run by horse power, but steam power will soon be used, as the demand is rapidly growing for the product of the factory, the firm having no trouble in selling all they can make, and no wonder, when the cheapness, the warmth and the durability of the goods are considered.

Many have supposed that the wearing of wooden soles is confined to old-country people, which is by no means the fact, and since the introduction of leather shoes with wooden soles, quite a number have been sold to American-born people. Habit and fashion and the custom of near neighbors have a great deal to do with mankind's wearing apparel, and where on farms the solid comfort of the wooden sole becomes known it will be still more generally used.

The sole is outlived with a scissor saw, and trimmed smooth with a peenially shaped knife; the shoemaker then takes it and adds the leather uppers, whatever they may be, whether slipper or shoe, with or without buckle, or boot, leather or felt top, the leather being fastened to the wood by screws nails.

The also is then blackened and it is ready for the market.

The proprietors of the establishment are Siegenthaler Bros. & Lutz and they employ, at present, six persons, and expect soon to increase their force.

With their present facilities they can complete, from start to finish, forty pairs each day.

Their product goes to every part of the United States, and consequently Columbus is benefitted by money drawn from all quarters to be spent here.

Their entire material, (except the nails which are comparatively a small item), can be furnished here also. They have been using bass wood for the soles, but find that yellow cotton wood is an excellent kind of wood for the purpose, and this will be used hereafter.

The leather is obtained from the tannery at Lincoln and could just as well be furnished here at Columbus by some good man who would find that industry paying him. One of the great inducements for starting a factory is that it incidentally helps all others.

Nebraska needs more men to till land, to establish factories and workshops, to engage in wholesale enterprises of all kinds. Write, but better, come and see for yourselves. In the meantime, take your JOURNAL from the post office, read its columns, and ponder any suggestion of business that may arrest your attention.

M. K. TURNER, Editor "Journal," Columbus, Nebraska.

Meeting Saturday evening last. All present.

Petition of John Eusden and others for sidewalk was referred to committee on streets and grades.—Bids of Messrs. Jaeggi & Schupbach and Schroeder Bros. for electric lights, referred to committee on streets and grades. A like reference of the petition of E. Hohen.

Committee on streets and grades reported recommending no change in the contract for sprinkling. Also that Fourth street be opened through Capitol addition. Adopted.

An ordinance ordering the printing of the ordinances of the city in pamphlet form by M. K. Turner & Co. was passed.

Report of Chief of Police was read and on motion of Speice it was referred back to be made in accordance with the resolution authorizing him to report. A tie vote of the council was decided in the affirmative by the mayor.

Authority was given to purchase stone for crossings in the business portions of the city.

On motion of Fitzpatrick, the committee on streets and grades was directed to inquire into the expense of ditching the north part of the city carrying the water east of the Monastery.

Bonds of city treasurer and water commissioner were approved. Adjourned to May 17th.

Dissolution Notice. The partnership heretofore existing between John B. Hall and Thomas C. Cain, under the firm name of Hall & Cain, is this day dissolved by mutual consent. All liabilities of said firm are assumed by Thomas C. Cain and all accounts due said firm are payable to him.

JOHN B. HALL, THOMAS C. CAIN, Columbus, Neb., May 4, 88.

Creston. Creston is enjoying a steady growth, which from its character bids fair to be permanent.

We can now purchase nearly every needful article in our town from a furniture store, two milliners, dress-maker with Clark's new hotel are among the new industries.

We have also two butchers. The surrounding country is also fast filling with good people from Iowa and Illinois; many are buying farms and there are more renters than places. The break plows will be busy this season; the farmers are waking to the fact that the prairie is without profit.

Erza M. Drake, who has purchased 120 acres on section 29 will have it all broken now ready for crops next season.

There have been two serious mishaps at railroad crossing which might have proved fatal, but that calamity was arrested. Mrs. John Craig with a young babe and her mother, Mrs. Parks, came upon the track just as the train was coming; they could not see the train for the curve and snow-sheds and did not hear the whistle until too late to retreat; they crossed in safety but when a few feet from the track the axle of the buggy broke; had it dropped on the track they might have been killed, as the train was so close it could not be stopped. Fortunately Mr. Anderson was at work close by; he helped to repair damage and they returned home. Mr. Sam Webb was working near the track when his horses became frightened at a passing train; he held them until they threw him down and jumped on him; they then ran away; his brother caught them and returned to find Sam insensible. He is recovering; no bones broken.

District 44 and Vicinity. For the two weeks past there has been rain, mud, farmers growing, small grain growing, and no limit to the prospects of small fruit; corn planting is unavoidably late, but a few warm nights, with the present splendid condition of the soil, will put the plant up where it belongs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Reed passed this way one day last week while driving for his health.

There will be corn and fat hogs going into the market from hereabout as soon as "old soil" and a drying wind can permit the roads.

A jack-rabbit, the property of Evadne Drinnin who is 11 years old and who caught it in her dinner pail while returning from school on Arbor day, is interesting pet.

A. C. Pickett has the excavation done for his new house. The car load of stone has arrived and they will be hauled to the site as soon as the roads will permit, when they will be placed into position by a competent mason.

Louie Schreiber is too busy to give it much thought now, but as soon as his crops are in and the roads in condition, he will haul the material for his new house. Thus we will see the completion of two new houses this summer on the same half section.

A bright little girl has put in her appearance and her mission, to brighten the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McGill, jr.

It is said that a wedding is announced for this week in which the name of our old friend George Wescott will be prominent.

Nebraska. Plenty of rain nowadays—not long ago everybody was wishing for some, and now there seems to be no end to it. Small grain, although somewhat backward, looks well.

The corn ground is mostly all plowed and the click of the corn planter can be heard again; corn planting will undoubtedly be late on the low lands. There is some satisfaction in being a hill farmer that of being able to work in our fields while our fellow farmers on the lower regions can listen to the songs of the frogs in their would be corn fields.

Chris. Kersh of this place has established a cigar factory at Humphrey. Chris. is an old hand at the cigar business. Success to him!

Marty Bros., John Doersch and Dan Jenni are doing considerable fencing this spring.

There is considerable dissatisfaction with our township officers in this part of the township. Last March the bridge near Marol's was washed out and there seems to be no sign of replacing it yet.

J. W. Johnson said good-by to his friends and left for Wayne last Saturday. J. W. was a very pleasant and accommodating neighbor and leaves many friends behind, who wish him success in the future.

May 14. B. T.

Bismarck Township. Plowing is still in progress.

The ground is quite wet owing to the late rains.

John McGill, jr., has erected a new dwelling house.

Otto Mueller is getting a large amount of plowing done.

George Hodel has sown some Bonanza oats, a new species, which are represented to yield much larger than any other kind.

M. Fauble, of the firm of Fauble & Bradshaw has removed to Columbus. George will oversee the business at the old place. Robert Heiden intends to work there when the work opens.

A few days ago Otto Mueller showed us a mammoth specimen of a duck egg, which measured four and a half inches in length, and three and three-fourths inches in circumference. This is a pretty good showing.

Robert Heiden visited T. Hill near Schuyler one day last week. He also purchased some hay from Mr. Schwarz while there.

Otto Mueller has completed his roller, and a fine piece of workmanship it is.

We learn that Frederick Miller has purchased a new checkbook for $70.

CHARLES.

Monroe. Walter Mosier arrived from the east this week to visit his brother Albert.

Mrs. Luuk, who has returned home last week, Mrs. Southard, returned home last week.

G. W. Dorsey, nephew of Representative Dorsey, passed through this place last week en route for Holt county, where he proposes to settle.

A valuable horse belonging to Isaiah Lightner was badly injured recently by barb wire.

N. S. Hyatt has built a new door yard fence; he has also set out quite an ex-
