COLUMBUS

STATE BANK.

COLUMBUS, NEB.

Cash Capital

LEANDER GERRARD, Pres't. GEO. W. HULST, Vice Pres't. JULIUS A. REED.

and Exchange.

Collections Promptly Made on all Points.

Pay Interest on Time Depos

COLUMBUS, NEB.

CAPITAL STOCK. :

OFFICERS: C. H. SHELDON, Pres't. W. A. McALLISTER, Vice Pres'. ROBERT UHLIG, Cashier, DANIEL SCHRAM, Ass't Cas

DIRECTORS: J. P. BECKER, H. P. H. OEHLRICH, JONAS WELCH, CARL REINKE, H. M. WINSLOW.

This Bank transacts a regular Banking Business, will allow interest on time deposits, make collections, buy or sell exchange on United States and Europe, and buy and sell available

We shall be pleased to receive your business We solicit your patronage. We guarantee satisfaction in all business intrusted in our care. dec28-87

WESTERN COTTAGE ORGAN A. & M.TURNER

Traveling Salesman. These organs are first-class in every particular, and so guaranteed.

SCHAFFROTH & PLATH,

CHALLENGE

AND PUMPS.

Buckeye Mower, combined, Self Binder, wire or twine.

Pumps Repaired on short notice

One door west of Heintz's Drug Store, 11th

HENRY GASS.

COFFINS AND METALLIC CASES

AND DEALER IN Purniture, Chairs, Bedsteads, Bu reaus, Tables, Safes. Lounges, &c., Picture Frames and Mouldings.

Repairing of all kinds of Uphol COLUMBUS, NEBRASKA.

OFFICE. We have no sub-agencies, all business direct, hence we can transact patent business in less time and at LESS COST than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing, or photo, with description. We advise if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.

A book, "How to Obtain Patents," with references to actual clients in your state, county or town, sent free. Address

C. A. SNOW & CO.

OUR OFFICE IS OPPOSITE U.S. PATENT suatched the mask of Democracy from the hideous face of rebellion; for the man who, like an intellectual athlete, has stood in the arena of debate and chal lenged all comers, and who is still a total stranger to defeat.

Like an armed soldier, like a plumed knight, James G. Blaine marched down the halls of the American congress, and

They Were Made in Republican Conventions of the Past.

WORDS THAT ARE NOW HISTORIC

known to the Fathers, It Is Now a Regu-

A national convention without a nominating speech would strike the young politician of today as the play of "Hamlet" with the character of the Prince of Denmark omitted. Yet that was the rule before 1876. Indeed, until Col Robert ingersoll set the fashion at Cincinnati in 1876, nothing more was expected than a mere announcement of the name and a sort of perfunctory pledge that the state of the nonfinator would give his candidate its vote, a pledge which could hardly be called deceitful since it never deceived anybody. But after in gersoll's glorious effort at Cincinnatia a condidate mould not consider himself. condidate would not consider himself thoroughly nominated unless started with an eloquent address; so each state looks quent speaker, and the result has been to give us some brilliant pieces of oratory, the best of which we herewith present for the study of young America.

We also present some of the short and pithy addresses made in casting state votes at other conventions. In the first Republican national convention, held at Philadelphia June 17 and 18, 1856, there were some good speeches made on the general issue, but the candidate was not even formally put in nomination, and nearly the same is true of the conventions was really nominated in advance by spontaneous enthusiasm, yet he was not for-mally presented in the convention. So be thought an unpardonable slight; yet it is worth noting that the nomination in 1880 went to a man who had not been presented, and who had most eloquently presented the name of Senator Sherman. Although there were no nominating speeches in 1868 and 1872, yet the chairmen of several state delegations embraced the opportunity of casting the vote to give a few "pithy remarks," the "pith-lest" of which we present. The general rule was, however, for each state to simply announce its vote, and the first departures therefrom were rather looked upon as impertinences. But now the nominating address is the great feature of a convention's opening work, and we

ROBERT G. INGERSOLL.

His Speech in the National Republican Convention of Cincinnati, June, 1876, Nominating James G. Blaine for the Presidency.

Massachusetts may be satisfied with the loyalty of Benjamin H. Bristow—so am I; but if any man nominated by this convention cannot carry the state of Massachusetts I am not satisfied with the loyalty of that state. If the nominee of this convention cannot carry the grand old commonwealth of Massachusetts by 75,000 majority I would advise them to sell out Faneuil hall as a Democratic headquarters. I would advise them to take from Bunker Hill that old monument of glory.

The Republicans of the United States demand as their leader in the great contest of 1876 a man of intelligence, a man of integrity, a man of well known and ap-proved political opinions. They demand a reformer after as well as before the election They demand a politician in the highest, broadest and best sense—a man of superb moral courage. They demand a man acquainted with public affairs, with the wants of the people, with not only the requirements of the hour, but with the demands of the future.

They demand a man broad enough to comprehend the relations of this government to the other nations of the earth. They demand a man well versed in the powers, duties and prerogatives of each and every department of this government. They demand a man who will sacredly preserve the financial honor of the United States; one who knows enough to know that the national debt must be paid through the prosperity of this people; one who knows enough to know that all the financial theories of the world cannot redeem a single dollar; one who knows enough to know that all the money must be made, not by law, but by labor; one who knows enough to know that the people of the United States have the industry to make the money and the honor to pay it over just as fast as they make it. The Republicans of the United States demand a man who knows that prosperity and resumption, when they come, must come together; that, when they come, they will come hand in hand through the golden harvest fields; hand in hand by the whirling spindles and the turning wheels; hand in hand past the open fur-nace doors; hand in hand by the flaming forges; hand in hand by the chimneys filled with eager fire—come greeted and grasped by the countless sons of toil.

This money has to be dug out of the earth. You cannot make it by passing resolutions in a political convention.

The Republicans of the United States want a man who knows that this government should protect every citizen, at home and abroad, who knows that any govern-ment that will not defend its defenders, and protect its protectors, is a disgrace to the map of the world. They demand a man who believes in the eternal separation and divorcement of church and school. They demand a man whose political reputation is spotless as a star; but they do not demand that their candidate shall have a certificate of moral character signed by a Confederate congress. The man who has, in full, heaped and rounded measure, all these splendid qualifications, is the present grand and gallant leader of the Republican party-James G. Blaine. Our country, crowned with the vast and marvelous achievements of its first century, asks for a man worthy of her past and prophetic of her future; asks for a ypocrisy's masquerade? man who has the audacity of genius; asks for a man who is the grandest combination of heart, conscience and brain beneath her flag Such a man is James G. Blaine. For the Republican host, led by this not only in war, but afterward, twice as a civio magistrate, he gave his highest, noblest efforts to the republic. Is such absurdity an electioneering jugglery or There is no field of human activity, responsibility or reason in which rational beings object to Grant because he has been weighed in the balance and not found wanting, and because he has had meanwaled experience. intrepid man, there can be no defeat.

This is a grand year—a year filled unequaled experience, making him excep-tionally competent and fit. From the with the recollections of the revolution, man who shoes your horse to the man filled with proud and tender memories of who pleads your case, the officers who the past; with the sacred legends of lib manage your railway, the doctor into whose hands you give your life, or the minister who seeks to save your soul, erty; a year in which the sons of freedom will drink from the fountains of enthusiasm; a year in which the people call for a man who has preserved in congress what our soldiers won upon the field; a what now do you reject because you have tried him and by his works have known him? What makes the presidential office year in which they call for a man who has torn from the throat of treason the tongue of slander; for the man who has the free choice and judgment which is the birthright of the American people? Can it be said that Grant has used official power to perpetuate his plan? He has no place. No official power has been used for him. Without patronage or power, without telegraph wires run-against the brazen foreheads of the de-famers of his country and the maligners

For the Republican party to desert this gallant leader now is as though an army should desert their general upon the field of battle James G Blaine is now and has been for years the bearer of the sacred stand ard of the Republican party I call it sacred, because no human being can stand beneath its folds without becoming and without remaining free.

Gentlemen of the convention, in the name of the great republic, the only real republic that ever existed upon this earth; in the name of all her defenders and of all her supporters, in the name of all her sol-diers living: in the name of all her sol-diers dead upon the field of battle, and in the name of those who perished in the skeleton clutch of famine at Andersonville and Libby, whose suffering he so vividly remembers, Illinois—Illinois nom inates for the next president of this country that prince of parliamentarians—that leader of leaders—James G. Blaine.

ROSCOE CONKLING Speech in the National Republican Convention at Chicago, June, 1880, Nominating Ulysses S. Grant for the Presi-Our sole reply shall be, He hails from Appomattox And the famous Apple Tree.

Obeying instructions I should never dare to disregard, I rise in behalf of the state of New York to propose a nomina tion with which the country and the Republican party can grandly win. The election before us will be the Austerlitz of American politics. It will decide whether for years to come the country will be "Republican or Cossack." The need of the hour is a candidate who can carry doubtful states, north and south: and believing that he, more surely than any other, can carry New York against north, but several states of the south, New York is for Ulysses S. Grant. He alone of living Republicans has carried New York as a presidential candidate. Once he carried it even according to a Democratic count, and twice he carried it by the people's vote, and he is stronger now. The Republican party, with its standard or 1872. Never defeated as war or in peace, his name is the most illustrious borne by any living man; his services at test his greatness, and his country knows them by heart. His fame was born not alone of things written and said, but of the arduous greatness of things done, and dangers and emergencies will search in vain in the future, as they have searched in vain in the past, for any other on whom the nation leans with such confidence and trust. Standing on the highest eminence of human distinction. and having filled all lands with his renown, modest, firm, simple and self poised, he has seen not only the titled but the poor and lowly in the utmost ends of the world, rise and uncover before him. He has studied the needs and defects of many systems of government, and he comes back a better American than ever. with a wealth of knowledge and experi-ence added to the hard common sense which so conspicuously distinguished him in all the fierce light that beat upon him throughout the most eventful, trying and perilcus sixteen years of the nation's his-Never had a policy to enforce against the will of the people, he never betrayed a cause or a friend, and the people will never betray or desert him. Vilified and reviled, ruthlessly aspersed by number-less presses, not in other lands, but in his own, the assaults upon him have strength-ened and seasoned his hold upon the public heart. The ammunition of calumny has all been exploded; the powder has all been burned once, its force is spent, and Gen. Grant's name will glitter as a bright and imperishable star in the diadem of the Republic when those who have tried to tarnish it will have moldered in forgotten graves and their memories and pitaphs have vanished utterly

Never elated by success, never depressed by adversity, he has ever in peace, as in war, shown the very genius of common sense. The terms he prescribed for lee's surrender foreshadowed the wisest principles and prophecies of true recon-

Victor in the greatest of modern wars, he quickly signalized his aversion to war and his love of peace by an arbitra tion of luternational disputes which stands as the wisest and most majestic example of its kind in the world's diplo-macy When inflation, at the height of its popularity and frenzy, had swept both houses of congress, it was the veto of Grant which, single and alone, overthrew expansion and cleared the way for specie resumption. Tohim, immeasurably more than to any other man, is due the fact that every paper dollar is as good as gold. With him as our leader we shall have no defensive campaign, no apologies or ex-planations to make. The shafts and arrows have all been aimed at him and lie broken and harmless at his feet. Life. liberty and property will find safeguard in him. When he said of the black man in Florida, Wherever I am they may come also,' he meant that, had he the power to help it, the poor dwellers in the cabins of the south should not be driven in terror from the homes of their childhood and the graves of their murdered lead. When he refused to receive Denis Kearney he meant that lawlessness and communism, although they should distate laws to a whole city, would everywhere meet a foe in him, and, popular or unpopular, he will hew to the line of right, let the chips fly where they may.

His integrity, his common sense, his courage, and his unequaled experience are the qualities offered to his country only argument against accept ing them would amaze Solomon. He thought there could be nothing new under the sun. Having tried Grant twice and found him faithful, we are told we responsible state banking corporations. trust him again. What stultification does not such a fallacy involve! The American republic exclude Jefferson Davis from public trust. Why? Because he was the arch traitor and would be the destroyer. And now the same people are asked to ostracize Grant and not trust him. Why? Because he was the arch preserver of his country; because, country's lips, and he is struck at by the ination will be the deathblow to Demo cratic success. He is struck at by others who find offense and disqualification in the very service he has rendered and in the very experience he has gained. Show me a better man. Name one and lam answered. But do not point, as a dis qualification, to the very facts which make this man fit beyond all others Let not experience disqualify or excellence impeach him. There is no third term in the case, and the preteuse will die with the political dog days which engen dered it. Nobody is really worried about a third term except those hopelessly long ing for a first term and the dupes they have made. Without bureaus, commit tees, officials or emissaries to manufacture sentiment in his favor, without intrigue or effort on his part, Grant is the candi date whose supporters have never threat ened to bolt. As they say, he is a Republican who never wavers. He and his friends stood by the creed and the candidates of the Republican party, holding the right of a majority as the very essence of their faith, and meaning to uphold that faith against the common enemy and the faith against the common enemy and the charlatans and guerrillas who deploy be tween the lines and forage on one side

The Democratic party is a standing protest against progress. Its purposes are spoils. Its hope and very existence is a solid south. Its success is a menace to prosperity and order.
This convention is master of a su preme opportunity, can name the next president of the United States and make sure of his election and his peaceful inau guration. It can break the power which ominates and mildews the south. It can speed the nation in a career of grandeur eclipsing all past achievements. We have only to listen above the din and look be yond the dust of an hour to behold the Republican party advancing to victory with its greatest marshal at its head.

JAMES A. GARFIELD. speech in the National Republican Con vention at Chicago, June, 1880, Nomi-I have witnessed the extraordinary scenes of this convention with deep solic itude. No emotion touches my heart more quickly than a sentiment in honor of a on these seats and witnessed these dem onstrations it seemed to me you were a human ocean in a tempest. I have seen the sea lashed into a fury and tossed into a spray, and its grandeur moves the soul of the dullest man. But I remember that t is not the billows, but the calm level of the sea, from which all beights and depths are measured. When the storm has passed and the hour of calm settles on the cean, when sunlight bathes its smooth surface, then the astronomer and surveyor takes the level from which he measures all terrestrial heights and depths. Gentlemen of the convention, your present temper may not mark the healthful pulse of our people. When our enthusiasm has passed, when the emotions of this hour have subsided, we shall find the calm level of public opinion below the storm from which the thoughts of a mighty people are to be measured, and by which their final action will be determined. Not here, in this brilliant circle, where 15,000 men and women are assembled, is the destiny of the republic to be decreed; not here, where I see the enthusiastic faces of 756 delegates waiting to cast their votes into the urn and determine the choice of their party; but by 4,000,000 Republican firesides, where the thoughtful fathers, with wives and children about them, with the calm thoughts inspired by ove of home and love of country, with the history of the past, the hopes of the future, and the knowledge of the great men who have adorned and blessed our nation in days gone by—there God pre pares the verdict which shall determine he wisdom of our work to-night. Not in Chicago in the heat of June, but in the sober quiet that comes between now and the melancholy days of November, in the silence of deliberate judgment will this great question be settled. Let us aid them But now, gentlemen of the conven tion, what do we want? Bear with me a moment. Hear me for this cause, and for a moment be silent, that you may hear. Twenty-five years ago this repub lic was wearing a triple chain of bondage Long familiarity with traffic in the body and souls of men had paralyzed the con science of a majority of our people. The baleful doctrine of state sovereignty had shocked and weakened the noblest and most beneficient powers of the national government, and the grasping power of slavery was seizing the virgin territories of the west and dragging them into the den of eternal bondage. At that crisis the Republican party was born. It drew its first inspiration from that fire of liberty which God has lighted in every man's heart, and which all the powers of ignorance and transport on page 2 months. ance and tyranny can never wholly ex tinguish. The Republican party came to deliver and save the republic. It entered the arena when the beleaguered and as sailed territories were struggling for free dom, and drew around them the sacred circle of liberty which the demon of slav ery has never dared to cross. It made them free forever. Strengthened by its victory on the frontier, the young party, under the leadership of that great man who, on this spot, twenty years ago, was made its leader, entered the national capital and assumed the high duties of the govern ment. The light which shone from its banner dispelled the darkness in which slavery had enshrouded the capital and melted the shackles of every slave, and consumed, in the fire of liberty, every slave pen within the shadow of the capi tal. Our national industries, by an impoverishing policy, were themselves pros trated, and the streams of revenue flowed in such feeble currents that the treasury itself was well nigh empty. The money which was filling the country circulation which poisoned rather than sustained the life of business. The Re publican party changed all this. It abolished the babel of confusion, and gave the country a currency as national as its flag. based upon the sacred faith of the people It threw its protecting arm around our great industries, and they stood erect as with new life. It filled with the spirit of true nationality all the great functions of the government. It confronted a re bellion of unexampled magnitude, with slavery behind it, and, under God, fought the final battle of liberty until victory was won. Then, after the storms of battle, were heard the sweet, calm words of peace uttered by the conquering nation, and saying to the conquered foe that lay pros trate at its feet: This is our only revenge. that you join us in lifting to the serene firmament of the constitution, to shine like stars forever and ever, the immortal principles of truth and justice, that all men, white or black, shall be free and stand equal before the law." Then came the questions of reconstruc tion, the public debt and the public faith In the settlement of the questions the Re-publican party has completed its twenty five years of glorious existence, and it has sent us here to prepare it for another lustrum of duty and of victory. How shall we do this great work? We cannot do it, my friends, by assailing our Repub-lican brethren. God forbid that I should say one word to cast a shadow upon any name on the roll of our heroes. This coming fight is our Thermopyles. We are standing upon a narrow isthmus. If our Spartan hosts are united we can with-stand all the Persians that the Xerxes of Democracy can bring against us. Let us hold our ground this one year, for the stars in their course fight for us in the future. The census taken this year will bring re-enforcements and continued we want the vote of every Republican-of every Grant Republican and every anti-Grant Republican in America, of every Blaine man and every anti-Blaine man The vote of every follower of every candidate is needed to make our success certain, therefore I say, gentlemen and brethren, we are here to take calm coun sel together and inquire what we shall do We want a man whose life and opinions embody all the achievements of which I have spoken. We want a man who, standing on a mountain height, sees all carries in his heart the memory of all its against us. Not an electoral gain can be glorious deeds, and who, looking forward. expected from that section. If triumph glorious deeds, and who, looking forward. prepares to meet the labor and the dangers to come. We want one who will act in no spirit of unkindness toward those we lately met in battle. The Republican party offers to our brethren of the south the olive branch of peace, and wishes then to return to brotherhood on this supreme condition, that it shall be admitted forever and forevermore, that in the war for the Union we were right and they were wrong On that supreme condition other We ask them to share with us the blessings and honors of this great re-Now, gentlemen, not to worry you, I am eration-the name of a man who was the all those noble dead whose faces look down upon us from these walls to night; a man who began his career of public ser vice twenty five years ago, whose first duty was courageously done in the days of peril on the plains of Kansas, when the first red drops of that bloody shower began to fall which finally swelled into the deluge of war. He bravely stood by young Kansas then, and, returning to his duty in the national legislature, through all subsequent time, his pathway has been marked by labors performed in every department of legislation. You ask for his monuments. I point you to twenty-five years of national statutes. Not one great baseform statute has been placed in our beneficent statute has been placed in our statute books without his intelligent and powerful aid. He aided these men to proud to know that these distinguished formulate the laws that raised our great senators whom I have named have borne great and noble character. But as I sat armies and carried us through the war. like testimony to the public life, the pub war currency, and in a still greater work that redeemed the promises of the government, and made the currency equal to gold. And when at last, called from the halls of legislation into a high executive office, he displayed that experience, intelligence, firmness and poise of character which has carried us through a stormy period of three years. With onehalf the public press crying 'Crucify him,' and a hostile congress seeking to prevent success, in all this he remained unmoved until victory crowned him. The great tor's Candidate," "The Lawyer's Candifiscal affairs of the nation, and the great date," "The Wall Street Candidate," and business interests of the country, he has the hand of resurrection will not fathom guarded and preserved, while executing his November grave. the law of resumption and effecting its object without a jar, and against the false of that Republicanism that demands the prophecies of one-half of the press and all the Democracy of this continent. He has shown himself able to meet with mankind—a representative of that Repubcalmness the great emergencies of the licanism which recognizes the stamp of government for twenty-five years. He American citizenship as the passport to has trodden the perilous heights of public duty, and against all the shafts of malice has borne his breast unharmed. He has stood in the blaze of "that fierce" every right, privilege and consideration, at home or abroad, whether under the malice has borne his breast unharmed. He has stood in the blaze of "that fierce" under the Pelican, or on the banks of the light that heats against the throne," but its fiercest ray has found no flaw in his armor, no stain on his shield. I do not under the "sic semper tyrannis" of the present him as a better Republican or as a Old Dominion eliminates, by slaughter, better man than thousands of others we popular majorities in the name of Democ honor, but I present him for your deliber ate consideration. I nominate John Sher

FRYE NOMINATING BLAINE.

man, of Ohio

Convention at Chicago in 1880. time, an old ship battling for its life with the fury of the tempest; darkness every where; the winds raging and howling; the huge waves beating on the sides of the ship, and making her shiver from stem to stern. The lightning was flashing, the thunders rolling; there was danger every where. I saw at the helm a bold, courageous, immovable, commanding man In the tempest, calm; in the commotion, quiet; in the danger, hopeful. I saw him take that old ship and bring her into her harbor, into still waters, into safety. That man was a hero. I saw the good old ship of state, the state of Maine, within the last year, fighting her way through the same waves, against the same dangers. She was freighted with all that is precious in the principles of our republic; with the rights of the American citizenship, with all that is guar-anteed to the American citizen by our constitution. The eyes of the whole na-tion were on her, and intense anxiety filled every American heart, lest the grand old ship, the "State of Maine." might go down beneath the waves forever, carrying her precious freight with her. But there was a man at the helm, calm, deliberate, commanding, sagacious; he made even the foolish man wise; courageous, he in spired the timid with courage; hopeful, he gave heart to the dismayed; and he brought that good old ship safely into harbor, into safety; and she floats today greater, purer, stronger for her baptism of danger. That man, too, was heroic, and his name was James G. Blaine

Maine sent us to this convention with a memory of her own salvation from pending peril fresh upon her. To you representatives of 50,000,000 of the American people, who have met here to counsel how the republic can be saved, she says: 'Representatives of the people, take the man, the true man, the stanch man, for your leader, who has just saved me, and he will bring you safety and certain vic-

JUDGE WEST, OF OHIO.

His Speech in the National Republican Convention at Chicago, June, 1884, Nominating James G. Blaine for the Presi-

As a delegate to the Chicago convention of 1860, the proudest service of my life was performed by voting for the nomination of that inspired emancipator, the first Republican president of the United States. Four and twenty years of the grandest history of recorded times have distinguished the ascendency of the Republican party The skies have lowered and reverses have threatened, but our flag is still there, waving above the man sion of the presidency, not a stain on its folds, not a cloud on its glory Whether it shall maintain that grand as cendency depends upon the action of this council. With bated breath a nation waits the result. On it are fixed the eyes of 20,000,000 of Republican freemen in the north. On it, or to it, rather, are stretched forth the imploring hands of 10.000,000 of political bondmen of the south, while above, from the portals of light, is looking down the immortal spirit of the immortal martyr who first bore it to victory, bidding us hall and God speed Six times in six campaigns has that banner triumphed—that symbol of union, free dom, humanity and progress—sometime borne by that silent man of destiny, the Wellington of American arms, last by him at whose untimely taking off a nation swelled the funeral cries and wept above great Garfield's grave. Shall that banner triumph again?

commit it to the bearing of that chief, the inspiration of whose illustrious character and great name will fire the hearts of our young men, stir the blood of our manhood and rekindle the fervor of the veterans, and the closing of the seventh campaign will see that holy ensign spanning the sky like a bow of promise. Political conditions are changed since the accession of the Republican party to power. The mighty issues of the freedom and bleeding humanity which convulsed the continent and aroused the republic the continent and aroused the republic, rallied, united and inspired the forces of patriotism and the forces of humanity in one consolidated phalanx, have ceased their contentions. The subordinate issues resulting therefrom are settled and buried away with the dead soldiers of come, the Republican states of the north must furnish the conquering battalions from the farm, the anvil and the loom, snowy Sierras, from the hut of the fisher-man on the banks of the Hudson. The about to present a name for your consid

Republican states must furnish these conquering battalions if triumph come.

Does not sound political wisdom dictate and demand that a leader shall be given to them whom our people will fol-low, not as conscripts advancing by funereal marches to certain defeat, but a grand civic hero, whom the souls of the people desire, and whom they will follow with all the enthusiasm of volunteers, as they sweep on and onward to certain vic tory, a representative of American manhood, a representative of that living Republicanism that demands the amplest industrial protection and opportunity whereby labor shall be enabled to earn and eat the bread of independent employment, relieved from mendicant competition with pauper Europe or pagan China? In this contention of forces, to whose candidate shall be intrusted our battle flag? Citizens, I am not here to do it, and may my tongue cleave to the roof of my moutl if I do abate one tithe from the just fame, integrity and public honor of Chester A. Arthur, our president. I abate not one tithe from the just fame and public integrity of George F. Edmunds, of Joseph R. Hawley, of John Sherman, of that grand old black eagle of Illinois. And I am the highest office-second in dignity only to the office of president itself-the first premiership in the administration of James A. Garfield. A man for whom senators and rivals will vote for the sec retaryship of state of the United States is good enough for a plain flesh and blood God's people to vote for for president.

Who shall be our candidate? Not the representative of a particular interest or a particular class. Send the great procla mation to the country labeled "The Doc racy—a Republicanism as embodied and stated in the platform of principles this day adopted by your convention.

Gentlemen, such a representative Republican is James G. Blaine, of Maine. If nominated to-night his campaign would commence to-morrow and continue until victory is assured. There would be no vention, would not have time to cool be fore his name would be caught up on ten thousand tongues of electric flame. It would sweep down from the old Pine Treestate. It would go over the hills and val leys of New England.

STATE RESPONSES.

a the States Were Called in the Republican Convention of 1868. California-We come here 3,000 miles to cast our votes for Gen. Grant. Colorado-The Rocky mountains of Col orado say 6 votes for Gen. Grant. Connecticut—Unconditionally ders her 12 votes to Gen. Grant.

votes to Gen. Grant. Georgia cast her vote through Governor Brown, who said The Republicans of Georgia, many of whom were the original nists, recognize the wisdom of the maxim, "enemies in war, in peace friends. and heartily desiring to speed the restora tion of the union, harmony, peace and good government, instruct me, through their representatives here, to cast 18 votes for Gen Grant.

Kansas, the John Brown state, gives votes for Grant. Louisiana gives 14 votes for Grant, and we propose to fight it out on that line if it takes all summer. Maryland, believing that our great cap tain will crush treason in the cabinet, as Maryland," gives 14 votes for Grant. all she has, 8 votes, for Grant. Mississippi, the home of Jeff Davis, re-pudiates the traitor, and offers her 14 otes for Grant. whence flow the waters of the Columbia and the Mississippi, are vocal with the name of Grant, to whom she gives 2 Nebraska, the last state admitted to the Union, and the first to adopt impartial suffrage, gives 6 votes for Grant. Nevada, the Silver state, has only votes, but proposes to give six more next fall for Grant New Jersey-Ber delegation, instructed by her convention, which spoke the voice of every man of the Republican party within her borders, deliver their 14 votes for Grant, not only their victorious soldier, but conspicuous for calmness of udgment, sincerity of patriotism and per North Carolina, known as the land of the Tar Heels, gives 18 votes for Grant. and will give a majority of 36,000 votes for him, all of which will stick. Ohio has the honor of being the mother of our great leader. Ohio is the line, and "under that line" Ohio proposes, under the captain who never knew defeat, to fight it out through the summer and in the autumn, when the great victory will be secured. Ohio casts 42 votes for

Rhode Island.-Little Rhody, small in stature, but great in patriotic impulses gives her 8 votes for Grant and wishes

South Carolina, the birthplace and home Calhoun and the doctrine of state rights, first to withdraw herself from the Union, directs her representatives sent here by a majority of 43,470, returning, as we do, to the counsels of those who de sired only to preserve the Union, arm and arm and heart to heart with Massachu setts, to give her 12 votes for Grant. Tennessee, being one of the southern states that was forced into receipion, being the first to reconstruct, ask, and be admitted into the Union, and today being in the enjoyment of the most liberal Repub iican government in the United States, and with the solemn pledge never again to present the name for president or vice president of such a traitor as A. Johnson. asts 20 votes for Grant.

ontaining 275,000 square miles, and ca pable of sustaining 20,000,000 of people, asts 8 votes for Grant Virginia.—Rising from the grave that den. Grant dug for her at Appomattox in 1865, comes up here with 20 votes and en lists under his banner. They propose next November to move on the enemy's

Texas, the Empire State of the south,

West Virginia - A corner of the rebel lon which never gave a Democratic ma ority, gives freely and willingly her 16 adds her voice to that of her sister states and gives 16 votes for Grant.

STATE RESPONSES n the National Republican Convention

Michigan-William A. Howard Michi gan has 22 delegates; not an office bolder among them. They were sent here not as a delegation of office holders. We repre sent the Republican party of our state. We cast 22 votes for U S. Grant, and nly regret that they are not 44. Mississippi —James Lynch (colored)— Mississippi with her sixteen delegates. equests me to put that great state on national record as appreciating the wants of all this great country, as gratefully recognizing the heroic and patriotic of the whole country; as pledged to maintain the liberty and political equality of all men, without regard to race or color, by nominating one for the presidency of the United States whose connection with na tional affairs constitutes one of the brightest pages of the history of the republic. President U. S. Grant. Nebraska gives her 6 votes for the anner who will tan the hide of Horace in the vat of Democratic corruption and damnation, U. S. Grant. Nevada - Mr. Stevenson-The Silver state of the Union casts her 6 votes for

New Hampshire-Governor Smith-New His hand was seen in the workmanship of those statutes that created the war currency, and in a still greater the highest office—second in dignity only she will give him her electoral vote in November New York-Mr. Townsend-The Em pire state, by the unanimous wish of our elegates, intrusts me to cast her 70 votes for that man of whom Greeley said he never had been beaten and never will be, U. S. Grant.

North Carolina—The state called the Tar Heel state intends to stick to U. S. Grant with her 12 votes. Ohio, the birthplace of Ulysses S Grant, presents her united front. As to this nomination today Ohio, that never failed or faltered when Republican work was to be done-Ohio promises to the con vention and to the country 50,000 ma ority for the nominee. Ohlo casts her inited vote, 44, only for Ulysses S Grant Tennessee—E. A. Todd—I am instructed by the Republicans from the state of l'ennessee to cast her 24 votes for the most gallant soldier the world ever saw.

Didn't Quite Understand. "What are you doing?" demanded citizen of a countryman who was criti eally examining the former's electric bell

"Say, mister," replied the countryman straightening up. "there's suthin the matter with your door bell. The knob's got pulled clear into the hole."-Burling ton Free Press

A farmer near Chebanse, Ills., having an ox that did not obey orders, concluded that the animal was deaf and bought an powder burned to fire into the backs of his that the animal was deaf and bought an leaders. It would only be exploded to ear trumpet, which worked with great illuminate the inauguration. The brazen success. The animal had lost its appetite. throats of the cannon in yonder square. but with its return of hearing ate heartily waiting to herald the result of the con. The ear trumpet is fastened in place by The ear trumpet is fastened in place by wires around one of the horns. The story is from a western paper, and no chromo

> You will sometimes see a man planting trees around his place for the shade; and, at the same time, you will see another cutting down all the trees around his house because they produce too much

> A little boy was told that there were no politics in heaven. He thought for a mo ment, and then said: "I guess that's be cause there are no politicians there."--

Seedy Party (after pouring out a big drink)—How do you sell gin, mister? Bartender (gently returning some of the gin to the bottle)-At retail only, my friend -The Epoch.

Syrup of Figs

Is Nature's own true laxative. It is the most easily taken, and the most effective remedy known to Cleanse the System when Bilious or Costive; to dispel Headaches. Colds and Fevers: to cure Habithe crushed it in the field. "Maryland, my ual Constipation, Indigestion, Piles, etc. Manufactured only by the California Fig Minnesota, the North Star state, gives Syrup Company, San Francisco, Cal. For sale only by Dowty & Becher. 27-y

Famous Doctor

Once said that the secret of good health consisted in keeping the head cool, the 'eet warm, and the bowels open. Had this eminent physician lived in our day. and known the merits of Aver's Pills as an aperient, he would certainly have recommended them, as so many of his distinguished successors are doing. The celebrated Dr. Farnsworth, of Norwich, Conn., recommends Ayer's Pills as the best of all remedies for

'Intermittent Fevers." Dr. I. E. Fowler, of Bridgeport, Conn., says: "Ayer's Pills are highly and universally spoken of by the people about here. I make daily use of them in my practice."

Dr. Mayhew, of New Bedford, Mass., says: "Having prescribed many thousands of Ayer's Pills, in my practice, I can unhesitatingly pronounce them the best cathartic in use." The Massachusetts State Assayer, Dr.

A. A. Hayes, certifies: "I have made a careful analysis of Ayer's Pills. They contain the active principles of well-known drugs, isolated from inert mat-ter, which plan is, chemically speaking, of great importance to their usefulness. It insures activity, certainty, and uni-formity of effect. Ayer's Pills contain no metallic or mineral substance, but the virtues of vegetable remedies in skillful combination.

Ayer's Pills, Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Dealers in Medicine.

THE FIRST National Bank!

COLUMBUS, NEB.

-HAS AN-Authorized Capital of $250,000, nd the largest Paid in Cash Capital of any bank in this part of the State.

A Surplus Fund of - $20,000.

Drafts on the princ ipal cities in this cou

prompt and careful attention

Collections and all other bu

STOCKHOLDERS. J. H. GALLEY, Vice Pres't. O. T. ROEN, Cashier. G. ANDERSON, JACOB GREISEN,
JOHN J. SULLIVAN,
W. A. MCALLISTER

Business Cards.

SULLIVAN & REEDER,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

T M. MACFARLAND. ATTORNEY & NOTARY PUBLIC.

TOHN EUSDEN. COUNTY SURVEYOR.

CO. SUP'T PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

I will be in my office in the Court House, the third Saturday of each month for the examina-tion of applicants for teachers' certificates, an I for the transaction of other school business. Fjanss

WALGRAF BROS., DRAY and EXPRESSMEN. Light and heavy hanling. Goods handled with care. Headquarters at J. P. Becker & Co.'s office. Telephone, 23 and 34. 30mars7y

M. K. TURNER & CO.,

Proprietors and Publishers of the COLUMBUS JOURNAL and the NEB. FAMILY JOURNAL Both, post-paid to any address, for $2.00 a year, strictly in advance. Family Journal, $1.00 s

W. A. McALLISTER. W. M. CORNELIUS.

Meallister & Cornelius ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

Office up stairs over Ernst & Schwarz's store on DR. J. CHAS. WILLY.

PHYSICIAN and SURGEON, EYE DISEASES A SPECIALTY.

HIGGINS & GARLOW. ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW Specialty made of Collections by C. J. Garlow. 24-m

R.C. BOYD.

Tin and Sheet-Iron Ware! Job-Work, Roofing and Gutter-ing a Specialty.

Shop on 13th street, Krause Bro.'s old stand on Thirteenth street. 32tf GRASS SEEDS!

Clover, Timothy, Red Top, Millet. Hungarian and Blue Grass Seed,

HERMAN OEHLRICH & BRO'S.

passed by the marvels of invention. Those who are in need of profitable work that can be done while living at home should at once send their address to Hallett & Co., Portland, Maine, and receive free, full information how either sex, of all ages, can earn from 35 to $25 per day and upwards wherever from $5 to $25 per day and upwards wherever they live. You are started free. Capital not re-quired. Some have made over $50 in a single day at this work. All succeed. 87dec28y $500 Reward!

We will pay the above reward for any case of liver complaint, dyspepsia, sick headache, indigestion, constipation or costiveness we cannot cure with West's Vegetable Liver Pills, when the directions are strictly complied with. They are purely vegetable, and never fail to give satisfaction. Large boxes containing 39 sugar coated pills, 25c. For sale by all druggists. Beware of counterfeits and immitations. The genuine manufactured only by JOHN C. WEST & CO., 862 W. Madison St., Chicago, Ill. dec787y

INVENTION has revolutionized the world during the last half century. Not least among the onders of invertive progress is a method and stem of work that can be performed all over system of work that can be performed all over the country without separating the workers from their hemes. Pay liberal; any one can do the work; either sex. young or old; no special ability required. Capital not needed; you are started free. Cut this out and return to us and we will send you free, something of great value and im-portance to you, that will start you in business, which will bring you in more money right away, than anything else in the world. Grand outfit free. Address True & Co., Augusta, Me. dec2s

NEWSPAPER A book of 100 pages. The best book for an DVERTISING sult, be he experienced or otherwise. It contains lists of newspapers and estimates of the cost of advertising. The advertiser who wants to spend one dollar, finds in it the information he requires, while for him who will invest one hundred thousand dollars in advertising, a scheme is indicated which will meet his every requirement, or can be made to do so by slight changes easily arrived at by correspondence. 149 editions have been issued. Sent, post-paid, to any address for 16 cents. Write to GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING BUREAU, (10 Survee St. Printing House Sq.), New York.