JUDGE BARNES has removed his law office to Norfolk.

THE funeral of B. O. Rice at Shenandoah, Ia., Monday was largely attended.

ANOTHER gasspue bomb was found in Chicago Saturday, in the smelting works of P. D. Bennett.

JOHN ERICSSON, the great inventor, is a little past 85 years old, and still works at some projects he has in mind.

"THE only time England can use an Irishman is when he emigrates to America and votes for free trade."—[London Times.

McSHANE was one of the seven members of the house of representatives appointed to attend the funeral of General Sheridan.

Political Notes. A. E. Cady and John L. Means are talked of as candidates for the state senate.

Yest for state treasurer and W. J. Connell for congress secured the Douglas county delegations the other day.

Small of Colfax and Mankelohn of Nance are talked of for Lieut. Governor.

Col. Whitmore's many friends are beginning to mention him for the senate in this district.

The railroads are providing a number of local candidates and will endeavor to defeat the nomination of Leese as attorney general.

The primaries are the source of all political power. If you wish to accomplish anything, begin there.

By the way, where is there a free trade nation on the face of the globe that has a surplus of anything but debts?

Up to the hour of going to press no new candidate for state treasurer has been reported, which is remarkable.

Their number twenty-nine, in round numbers.—[North Nebraska Eagle.

Carter Harrison, who is now in Europe on a trip around the world, says that the wages of laborers in England are about one-half as much as in the United States.

This is good democratic authority, and we can commend it to the democrats who labor for a living.—[Webster City Freeman.

Does any one ever hear a democrat in Omaha who is interested in railroad stock between here and Chicago, say that he would rather see cattle hauled to Chicago, there made into meat and hauled back again for our consumption because it would make commerce for the road?

Wouldn't any such democrat rather see the entire corn crop of Nebraska fed to the hogs to be slaughtered and converted here into starch and glucose than to be shipped east for like uses in different cities? That is the sum and substance of home manufactures which the American system of protection aims to establish and encourage.

There is no difference in the economies of the question that distance can make, so far as any given place is concerned. We in Omaha would, if we could have a duplicate of every factory and mill in the east, and think it wise to foster them. It is unwise for the whole country, as against Europe, to do the same thing? If democrats throughout the whole country would vote as they act and feel in business matters there would be no more free trade talk in this country.—[Fred Nye in Omaha World.

Colored democratic citizens of New York and New Jersey are permitted to form state leagues, and freely to cast their votes, the same rights should be extended to colored republican citizens of other states, under the constitution and laws. A republican form of government will result in a limited despotism, unless the constitution and laws are faithfully observed and executed.

With this state of affairs, equal rights, liberty and freedom have not yet been secured for the American republic. If this condition of neglect to execute the laws in America continues it will not be difficult for the wise men of the nation to predict what will be the ultimate consequences to the people and the nation.

H. K. THURBER, the great New York merchant who bolts Cleveland on the free trade issue, declares that he would vote against his own father if his father were a free trader. "The very fact," says Mr. Thurber, "that steam and electricity have brought the markets of every port in Europe so close to us as regards time and so certain as regards delivery of merchandise, as compared with the conditions that existed forty years ago, makes it altogether more necessary for our wage earners to have something to equalize the labor of Europe."

THE Omaha Republican and the Lincoln Journal ought to know by this time that the anti-monopoly element of the republican party in Nebraska is growing and will make itself strongly felt one of these days. They have been doing their level best the past few years to keep the wheels of political progress moving in the right direction, and if such papers as the Omaha Republican and Lincoln Journal will lay aside their prejudices against the prevailing sentiment, the councils of the party will be more in accord with the tendency of the times.

ANDREW R. GRAHAM of Wisner, who is a candidate for state treasurer before the next republican state convention, was in the city Thursday and gave the JOURNAL a pleasant call. Mr. Graham is accredited with all the qualifications necessary to make a good custodian of the state funds—good habits, untiring industry, unquestionable integrity and a firm purpose to do right. The JOURNAL hopes the third congressional district will make itself strongly felt in the next state convention by securing nominations for at least two important state offices.

A BOLD robbery was committed on the Missouri Pacific road between Jefferson City and St. Louis August 4, in which $17,000 was stolen. Two farmers near Washington, Mo., were approached by a suspicious looking man on the highway on the 9th, when he became frightened, and attempting to flee, dropped a large package, which, on investigation, was found to contain plunder from a mail robbery. It is stated that detectives are at work on the case.

NINE years ago Mr. Thurman in the senate said in a speech on the Chinese question: "Free immigration would be advantageous as furnishing a class of cheap and efficient laborers."

And no republican has yet thought fit to yell "free Chinese" at Mr. Thurman. They don't have to—they have better material than that laid up for him.—[Schuyler Letter.

The Gallup tragedy at Shenandoah, Iowa, started in the beating of the father by his sons Frank and Charley. They were beating him in a most unmerciful way when a younger brother gave the alarm.—Mrs. Pines for the second time bereft of her husband by a bullet of an assassin. Only a few days ago her little daughter was the object of a brute's passion.

THERE is a well defined rumor coming to the surface in different parts of the state to the effect that the democrats and the union labor party will combine on ex-Senator Van Wyck for governor, and endeavor to take the dust out of Uncle John M. Thayer's coat tails.—[Norfolk News. That rumor is calculated to create prejudice against ex-Senator Van Wyck among republicans.

BLAIR'S reception at New York city and all along his route home toward Maine after his fourteen months' sojourn in foreign lands, demonstrates not only his individual popularity, but the esteem in which he held as a party leader. His brief speeches have been characteristic,—comprehensive, pointed. He tells the republicans to press home the issue of placing American labor on a basis with European, and victory will be with the party that favors the protection of American labor.

At Washington on the 8th one of the heaviest wind and rain storms of the season passed over from the southwest. A number of buildings were unroofed, signs blown down and other damage done. The day had been very warm, the thermometer registering 93° in the shade. Several persons were prostrated by heat.

On the 10th inst. at St. Louis Maxwell, the man who killed his victim, cut him up and packed his remains in a trunk, and Landgraf, who murdered his sweetheart, were hanged by their necks until they were dead. Maxwell still denying that he committed willful murder, and abused the American courts for an unfair, unjust and persecuting trial.

It was announced at Chicago on the 9th inst., that it had been decided that the limited fast passenger trains between Chicago and Kansas City and Omaha shall be abandoned August 26. By this agreement the fastest running time of trains between Chicago and Kansas City will be lengthened three hours.

CAP DELORAY and the crew of the Mary Jane, from New London, saw the sea serpent one day last week off Port Judith. The creature was seventy feet long, and as big around as a barrel, with eyes as large as the crown of a hat, and its jaws were five feet long and studded with six inch teeth. This is not a fish story.

THE people at Jacksonville are panic stricken over the yellow fever plague. Nearly every hotel, boarding house and restaurant is closed, also hundreds of stores whose proprietors have fled. Five pieces of artillery are to be fired continuously for several hours to test the efficacy of the concussion method of destroying disease germs.

A MAIL BAG at Valentine was stolen Monday morning. The register parcel was found open and about two dozen letters most of which had been opened. The night operator was boozed, and the robbery was not known until the day operator got around.

THE James G. Blaine club of Kansas City, 150 strong, in passing through Indianapolis one morning last week paid a visit to General Harrison, who made a short address to them. After hand shaking they sought their train and were in a few minutes on their way eastward.

At Dayton, O., on the 9th inst., by the crossing of wires the full power of the electric street railway dynamo was turned into the telephone exchange, setting fire to and destroying 600 telephones throughout the city, completely shutting off all telephone business.

A PROTAGONIST, full of an Erie express train near Port Jervis Monday threw the crew eighty feet. Fire consumed the cars. All the passengers were rescued, only a few of them being slightly injured—a fireman killed.

THE siege of Sebastopol, the Omaha fair and the two opera houses offer a combination of attractions such as Omaha never offered before.—[World.

THE Third congressional district is developing quite a number of aspirants for state offices. It is to be hoped that several of them will succeed.

NEBRASKA NOTES. J. S. Radcliff near Ogallala on the 9th, was kicked by a horse and died shortly thereafter.

THE result of the primaries at Lincoln would indicate that the anti-monopoly wing of the republican party is ahead.

Senator Conger is reported as saying that the Irish voters in Sherman county are all coming out for Harrison and Morton.

A man by the name of Bradley was thrown from a horse one day last week near Chimney Rock and the horse fell upon him. He died shortly after the accident, remaining unconscious until his death.

THE Denver fast freight on the 9th, collided with passenger train No. 4 at Crete, demolishing the engine, baggage, express and mail cars, and some dozen freight cars. No one was seriously injured.

A worm has appeared among the corn in the vicinity of Valparaiso. It appears something like the grub worm and works in the ground among the roots, and the farmers fear it may do damage to the crop.

THE Lincoln branch of the Irish National League of America, in session one day last week in Lincoln, adopted resolutions denouncing the British government for the treatment accorded the late John Mandaville, while in prison.

A man named Mopp, who registered at the Harkis house, Battle Creek, Mich., as from Nevada, Ohio, died suddenly on the 7th. His symptoms gave rise to a report that he died from Asiatic cholera, and people are greatly excited.

A grand time is expected at the tenth annual reunion of the department of Nebraska Grand Army of the Republic, to be held at Norfolk, August 27 to September 1, inclusive. The program is too long to publish here, but go and hear all the proceedings; it will richly pay you.

Several citizens of Wahoo were arrested on the 7th for playing base ball on Sunday. A trial of one of the defendants resulted in a disagreement of the jury. The case will probably go to the supreme court, to obtain a legal definition of the word "morning."

H. N. Walker of Sterling on Saturday night shot his 7-year-old daughter, mistaking her in the darkness for a burglar. She had gone out-of-doors, was returning and made no reply to the father's asking who was there. The ball struck the child in the left breast and lodged under the shoulder blade.

JOHNNY Holmes, a boy about twelve years old, and son of Henry Holmes of Serang, was bitten by a mad dog last three weeks ago and one day last week was attacked in a violent manner with hydrophobia. It took three days to hold him while in spasms and it was necessary to muzzle him to prevent him from biting everything in his reach. He cannot recover. A number of other children in and about Strang have been bitten by dogs recently and the greatest excitement prevails among the people.

Drs. J. H. Calkins and T. J. Murphy, of David City, on the evening of the 10th left the city with a livery team to visit Mrs. Backner in the country, and hold a consultation in her case. While driving on the prairie, the team became unmanageable and ran off at a fearful speed. Dr. Calkins, who was driving, was thrown out and instantly killed by the breaking of his neck. Dr. Murphy was thrown out shortly after, breaking several of his ribs, but his injuries are not considered fatal. Mrs. Backner and the twins she bore have since died making it a very sad case all through.

There was a hail storm passed around Schuyler Sunday from the west to the north and thence east, only the outskirts of it extending over our town. The damage to the corn between town and the bluffs in places as yet can only be estimated. Mr. E. M. Allen, Mr. Norton Fryn's, Mr. Chas. Nieman's, Mr. James Green's, and Mr. Fritz Nieman's crops had the blades pretty much stripped off. At James Hughes' farm and other places east of those enumerated the damage is said to be greater. Hail fell pretty thick from the size of beans to that of hens eggs in some spots. The herd of cattle in John Benson's corral were stamped on account of the heavy hail, which, though not very thick, was in large chunks. At Rogers two clumps picked up weighed one 13 ounces, the other 27 ounces. There was not much wind or the damage would have been felt more severely.—[Sun.

Levi Adams, of Maple Creek precinct, tells us that his part of the county witnessed a terrible electric storm on Sunday night. The lightning and thunder was terrific and the air was filled with electricity. He had a horse struck and may probably lose it. The bolt struck it on the left shoulder and went down the leg to the ground. At present the limb is terribly swollen and useless. He further says that night he was called to a neighbor's, named Martineck's, and found that the lightning had entered the house through a window. It struck a daughter named Carrie, who was at the time in bed with two other children and the two escaped injury. Carrie lay five hours unconscious and except for the beating of her pulse she would have been thought dead. The electric bolt blackened her limbs and scorched the roof of her mouth, otherwise she was not injured. The father, who was in another room of the house, was severely shocked by the bolt. It is hard to tell what kind of a caper the lightning will cut.—[Schuyler Quill.

Washington Letter. [From our regular correspondent.] Is a war with England among the probabilities of the near future? Would the idea be popular in this country? The significant language used on the floor of the senate during the discussion of the fisheries treaty has brought these two questions prominently to the front just now. Senator Bidwellberger said the conclusion of his remarks against the ratification of the treaty: "We will never have a national government until we have whipped England for the third time. Our boasted Monroe doctrine is being annulled and wiped from the face of the earth today; and we find gentlemen on the other side of the house (democrats) saying we must arbitrate or we must fight. The party that stands out boldly against any concession by this government of 60,000,000 people, is the only party fit to govern." The next day Senator Teller in his speech on the same subject said: "The United States will never be a free nation unless it asserts that which belongs to it, and unless it is ready and willing to stand up for that which the treaty of 1783 recognized as its own, whether that were its boundaries or its independence. The people of the United States will get their rights peacefully if they can, forcibly if they must." The language used by those two senators is endorsed by many other members of congress, and the defeat of the fisheries treaty—which is absolutely certain—may lead to complications that might result in war. So much for the first question.

As to the second, there is no denying the fact that the wave of intense Americanism that is sweeping over the country would make a war with England extremely popular with the masses. That feeling is reflected in congress, may be readily seen in the large majorities in favor of the resolutions to investigate Canadian encroachments upon our rights. Two of such resolutions have been passed by the senate and one by the house. Let England beware.

The republican senators are still carefully working on the tariff bill, which is to be offered as a substitute for the Mills bill. It is impossible to say just when it will be reported to the senate.

Representative Cutcheon, of Michigan, says that the talk about the democrats carrying that state is all bluff, and that the republican outlook could not be more promising. He thinks the state will give a larger republican majority than it has given since 1880.

It is said that the democratic national committee has so far failed to agree on any plan of campaign, owing to differences of opinion among its members.

The local democrats of this city have been trying to get up a ratification meeting ever since Cleveland was nominated, but owing to the refusal of the city to contribute the necessary money, they have not yet succeeded. The business men of Washington hate Cleveland as the "devil hates holy water."

Senator Edmunds is so much opposed to open executive sessions of the senate, that he will not stay in the senate chamber while the fisheries treaty is being discussed.

The house committee on appropriations, having refused to report a bill appropriating $1,300,000 to pay arrears of soldiers' bounties and back pay, Representative Laird of Nebraska, offered the bill as an amendment to the general deficiency appropriation bill. Mr. Burns, of Missouri, a member of the appropriations committee, immediately jumped up and raised a point of order against the amendment which caused it to be ruled out. This gave Mr. Reed of Maine an opportunity which he was evidently waiting for, and he proceeded to score the appropriations committee for the disgraceful manner in which they conduct their business, and for their deliberately and persistently keeping the creditors of the government out of their just dues. Mr. Reed was very severe, but it was all deserved.

Congress has at last awakened to the fact that Canada has been quietly working to rob us of trade which naturally belongs to us. The senate has passed Mr. Hoar's resolution for a select committee to investigate the commercial relations between the two countries; also Mr. Callom's resolution instructing the senate committee on inter-state commerce to investigate the relations of the Canadian railroads with the transportation across the continent of commerce which naturally belongs to the United States.

Representative Phelps, of New Jersey, who is likely to be the next senator from that state, says he is very hopeful of carrying his state this fall, and is perfectly confident of carrying the legislature.

other Countries. The Turkish government has sent a protest to the powers against the occupation of Massowah by Italy.

Carl Von Doserne has accepted the command of an expedition to go in search of Henry M. Stanley.

The eruption at Vulcaus continues. It is difficult to relieve the sufferers. Large estates belonging to an English company have been destroyed.

A Russian cruiser has been ordered to Behring Straits to prevent English and American vessels from fishing in Russian waters.

The court at Dublin has confirmed the conviction of John Dillon and has refused the application for a writ of habeas corpus for his release from prison.

There were further conflicts last week between the striking vaivies and the police. The police took a number of striking prisoners but the strikers made a charge and rescued some of them.

The funeral of General Endes, ex-communist, who dropped dead while addressing a body of strikers, took place at Paris on the 8th. Many thousand communists followed his remains to the grave, making the funeral a very lively one by throwing bombs that did explode, shooting pistols, displaying red flags, bringing swords into play and in the fight with the police nearly over-powering them.

BYRON MILLET'S Denver Correspondence. DEAR JOURNAL:—It seems like old times to get back to work in the Queen City. It is a safe general rule, that where a person's business is, he will be more contented there, than elsewhere.

We are having fine weather, with occasional showers.

Speaking about typhoid fever, a prominent physician remarked this morning that he had ten cases under his charge, and that his patients are doing nicely; that the type is not malignant, but very weakening, something like mountain fever.

The campaign has not fairly opened yet, though all parties are active.

O. H. Archer formerly of the JOURNAL, is in the city, expecting to go to work at his trade. He came directly from Wyoming here.

J. F. Mungler is now in Denver. I believe that I have stated before through your columns, that he is a traveling salesman for a furniture company, and that he resides in Denver. Mrs. Mungler has the care of her deceased sister's four months' old child. The mother died on a farm a few miles from here last April. Miss Eva Wait, sister of Mrs. Mungler, was recently called back to Kearney Junction by reason of her father's sickness. Mr. and Mrs. M. have a neat little cottage with a nice croquet ground in the rear, which affords them and their friends much pleasure.

And Mrs. Mungler arrived might be, before last looking very well after his sojourn in Nebraska and Missouri.

Hoping that Columbus may prosper as usual, and that you all may get along nicely. I remain, Yours truly, BYRON MILLET.

August 11, 1888. The Prohibition Convention. WEDNESDAY, AUG. 9, 1888.

The prohibition convention for the Third congressional district met at the Opera House and was called to order promptly at 2:30 p. m., by E. A. Gerrard, chairman of the executive committee.

"My Country 'Tis of Thee" was sung by all present after which prayer was offered by Rev. A. W. Snider of Columbus.

On motion Hon. A. M. Walling of Colfax county, was selected as temporary chairman and W. A. Howard of Buffalo county, as temporary secretary.

Upon taking the chair Mr. Walling briefly addressed the convention, declaring that prohibitionists were not so lone some in conventions as they were in time past. He said the cause was gaining ground rapidly in the northwestern part of the state. Mr. Walling is a pleasant speaker and his remarks were received with deafening applause.

The address of welcome was delivered by that war-horse of prohibition, Rev. H. L. Powers of Columbus. He welcomed the delegates and visitors to our city on the part of the majority of our citizens, and there was one element he could not vouch as giving them a welcome and that was the saloon-keepers. With strong arms and brave hearts, with cool heads and patriotic impulses let us go forward to deserve and achieve victory, were among his closing remarks. The address of welcome was responded to by the chairman.

The exercises were interspersed by songs by the Baptist, Methodist, and Presbyterian chorists. The Falls City Harmonicon quartette created great enthusiasm by their appropriate campaign songs.

On motion the chair appointed a committee on credentials consisting of the following: E. L. Hulbert of Colfax county, E. C. Harper of Cuming county, W. B. Bracken of Cheyenne county, E. J. Brower of Nance county, Rev. S. B. McClelland of Butte county, E. A. Gerrard of Platte county.

On motion the chair appointed the following committee on permanent organization: J. R. Carey of Antelope county, J. E. Rockwood of Madison county, J. L. Anderson of Colfax county.

SPEAKS FOR HIMSELF! The Lie Nailed to The Counter.

WM. GOULD, Esq., General Agent, Omaha, Neb. Dear Sir:—It is being reported throughout this and adjoining counties that the Minneapolis Harvester Co. had sold their shops and were going to discontinue the manufacture of their machines.

When we first heard of this we paid very little attention to the report, thinking it came from some unprincipled machine agent who could not sell a machine of his own any other way than by lying, but when so many of our customers came and asked us about the matter, we were obliged to look into the matter.

You see it is a trick of men who can not hold their way against us, only by trying to scare a farmer not to buy the "Minnie," hoping thereby to get a chance to sell one of their own. Farmers need not fear. I have no doubt they can take your word, as well as that of a competitor.

If they lie about our machine, it is not probable they would lie again to sell their own. I will have a man there shortly. Do your best and I will help all I can. Yours very truly, WM. GOULD, G. A.

WM. GOULD, Esq., General Agent, Omaha, Neb. Dear Sir:—Answering yours relative to the rumors in Nebraska that the Minneapolis Harvester Works had sold their shops and grounds and were going out of the business, we have to say there is not one word of truth in them. They have not sold their shops or grounds, and are not going out of the business, and you can so inform all parties making inquiries regarding this matter. Yours truly, E. R. LINDSAY, Supt. of Agencies.
