-Columbus has never had known as a "boom." Now, when a great many other places in the country have the other day because he could not pay had their splurge, floundered and fell back. Columbus is keeping her steady, conservative place and is as far along as any of them on the road to sure prosperity. We have noticed that Columbus men have never been given to blow and bluster, and would rather wear rough clothes and have a good bank account than be dressed in the hight of fashion and owe the tailor. And this habit of life they carry into everything. Now while other places are complaining of hard times, lack of enterprise, stoppage of improvements, etc., dwelling after dwelling is going up here, and some o the finest business blocks in this section of the state: workmen of all kinds are have never seen a more favorable year busy and the demand for them is greatfor crops generally. Thursday last a strange woman was observed to go into the ladies' parlor of the Grand Pacific hotel. It was afterwards remembered that the bundle she carried in, she did not carry out. The bundle contained a finely-formed, beautiful girl babe about ten days old. The advent of the young stranger was noised around, and soon it had more clothes than anybody, and has been well cared for ever since. On Monday there were some clews to the parentage of the child, distinctly pointing to a late resident of Genos, Nance county.

Mrs. Samuel Rickly has taken the child to raise. We learn from Mr. Lehman that the mother of the child lately lived at Genoa, to the schools taught last year by Miss her name being Mary Johnson. She twenty-six years old and claims that her husband has deserted her.
