Several hundred dollars' worth of presents to be given away this fall, at Galley Bros.

The JOURNAL is on sale, each week, at the book and news stores of E. D. Fitzpatrick and J. Heitkamp, at 5 cents a copy.

One hundred and fifty dollars to invest in county or school warrants at market price. Address A. B. care of JOURNAL office, or call soon upon the editor with your warrants.

An apron fair and oyster supper will be given by the sodality of the Immaculate Conception at Fitzpatrick's hall, Wednesday, the 30th. Supper from 6 until 10 p. m. Don't fail to attend.

We had one communication from the south side, setting forth the advantages of locating the bridge at or near the old site, but the committee, having already located the bridge there, we deemed that conclusive.

Next week we shall begin the publication of a series of interesting articles on "A Week in Chicago" from the pen of Miss Nellie Hunneman, who resided here a number of years ago. She is a talented young lady.

The case of Peter Tiber vs. S. W. Campbell, brought to recover a debt of $80, was tried before a jury in Justice Cowley's court Saturday morning, resulting in favor of the plaintiff, judgment for $90 and costs.

Wanted, a man of good selling ability to represent us in this town as sales agent ($200 to $2,000 a year can be made). Address Wanamaker & Brown, Philadelphia, Pa., the largest clothing and merchant tailoring house in America.

The report of the city schools for the month ending Jan. 1, 1920, shows the largest enrollment in the public schools as yet reported. We now have 511 pupils in our schools; average attendance 475 and per cent 93.4. An average of 31 pupils to a teacher.

Tuesday evening of last week the Columbus and Omaha local was ditched near Elkhorn station, caused by a land slide. The fireman escaped with a broken arm, and with the exception of the passenger getting badly shaken up, there was no further damage.

While in South Omaha Friday evening we met Dr. Anderson, A. V. Miller, H. H. Ames and son, all former residents of this city, and all looking in most excellent health. Their faith in the future of South Omaha has something the appearance of religious enthusiasm.

At the annual meeting of the Columbus Driving Park and Fair Association the directors elected the following officers: J. E. North, president; Carl Kramer, vice president; Walter Phillips, secretary; John Stauffer, treasurer. The fair will be held this year, September 25, 26 and 27.

County Treasurer Becker makes his report of the fees of his office. He and his efficient deputy, I. Sibbernson, are looking after the interests of the county in good shape. It is no disparagement of any of his predecessors to say that not one of them has made a better treasurer than Gus.

W. T. McKean, merchant tailor, can show you the new suitings for spring of 1920. The styles of fancy Scotch chevrons and worsteds are the best ever sent out. You can order your suit now, while the choice can be had, and take your suit in March or April. Suits from $20 up. Pantaloons $4.50 up.

Now is the time (any day) to subscribe for the JOURNAL, a local weekly paper and the Nebraska Family Journal, a state weekly paper, containing every week thirty-two columns of choice reading matter, both for $2 a year, when paid in advance. We are receiving numbers of new subscribers—still there is room for more.

While the Norfolk board of education refuse to allow additional teachers to lessen the number of pupils to a teacher, the Columbus board wisely allows an average of 31 pupils per teacher. Educators all agree that 30 is a proper average, and the work of the Columbus schools shows the wisdom of the board of education in this matter.

The Omaha Weekly Herald of last week contained a lengthy "write up" of our esteemed townman, Geo. W. C. O'Brien, in which is described many of his thrilling adventures with the red skins in Nebraska thirty years ago.

Mr. O'Brien, an old friend of the Indians, and is known among them as Obenobid (curly head) the White Chief. He used his influence in securing the Indians for Buffalo Bill's Wild West.

In the Episcopal church, Columbus, the Very Rev. Dean, Gardner of Trinity Cathedral, Omaha, will open a mission on Monday, Feb. 24th, and continue it until the following Sunday evening, Feb. 10. Hours of service during the mission, 8 a. m., holy communion; 9:30 a. m., morning prayer; 12:15 p. m., prayer meeting for business men and school children; 4 p. m., lecture to women, girls and children; 7:30, regular mission service with sermon.

In many places in the country dogs are allowed to run along the road at every team that comes along, barking and snapping at them as they pass. The writer recently while driving up in Lookingglass, encountered a pack of eight dogs, which were feeding a carcass in the adjoining field. They rushed out with loud and wolfish demonstrations, which made the horses perfectly frantic. In case of a young team the consequences could not be foretold.

Geo. Hagerman, the man who stole horses from John Craig's barn near Schuyler, and then set the barn on fire, had his hearing last Wednesday. His bond was fixed at $2,000 on the charge of arson ($2,500). Of course he stays in jail till the district court meets, Feb. 11th. The wretch had admitted stealing the horses, but denies setting the fire. There are some facts connected with the matter that have not yet been made public.

The cattle and hog market of South Omaha was in a demoralized condition last week. There was no life in the trade on anything except stockers and feeders. Very fair corn-fed cattle sold at $3.00 to $3.35 and good to choice lots at $3.25 to 3.60. One prime lot of native feeders sold at $3.25 and a number of other good loads at $2.90 to $3.10. Light and medium hogs brought Saturday week at $2.75 to $3.00. Choice hogs, $4.65 to $4.80; good to choice heavy, $4.70 to $4.85.

Mr. Knox has made engagements with one of the best companies in the United States to give four first-class entertainments in the Opera House between now and spring. This is the truest way for us to get value for the money we spend in attending the performances in our Opera House. We go there so frequently to be humbugged by some snide so-called troupe that we should appreciate the efforts of any intelligent citizen who will undertake to choose for us nothing but the best.

Thursday evening, Dr. G. M. Miller lectured in the Opera House to the largest audience that we have ever known to attend a lecture in Columbus. The doctor labored under the disadvantage of a bad cold, but the matter of his lecture was highly entertaining to his audience, and he was roundly applauded at its close. The city of London was his theme, and certainly he treated of it in a unique manner. The ladies of the Guild are entitled to the thanks of the community for the opportunity to hear the doctor.

The snow and rain of last week is a harbinger of good for the people of Nebraska. Rain is disagreeable while falling, but it is the blood of the inanimate world, dissolving its gases and solids, and preparing them for the feeding of the vegetable world when it shall be again aroused from its winter sleep to clothe the earth, and prepare its products for man and the animal world. The long months of dry weather were very pleasant and enjoyable, but the sufferer of "the rain upon the roof" is the exception of all that is good to man and the beautiful in nature, that it comes as rhythm and music.

The Edwin Clifford Dramatic Co. presented "Davy Crockett" at the Opera House last Tuesday evening to a small audience, on account of the severe storm. On Wednesday evening the company gave "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." The audience was larger than on the previous evening and the performance an improvement over their first one. Mr. Clifford sustained the part of the good Dr. Jekyll and the fiend, Mr. Hyde. His support is not good, consequently he played under a disadvantage. The present company has only been organized two weeks and the members are not well drilled in their different parts. Mr. Clifford is an old favorite with Columbus theatre-goers, but he will soon lose the good-will and patronage of the people unless he secures a better company.

The annual election of officers of Rose Companies Nos. 1 and 2, took place Thursday night at their hall. Following are the officers for the coming year: Wm. Schiltz, president; P. J. Reinhart, vice-president; G. Frischholz, secretary. Mr. McTaggart, treasurer, A. Berger, janitor. Rose Co. No. 1, T. C. Techedy, foreman. Rose Co. No. 2, G. Spooner, foreman, Carl Schubert, assistant foreman. Various subjects of interest, calculated to advance the good work of the firemen were discussed. Some excellent music was furnished by the Firemen's Cornet Band, which showed that the band is making rapid progress. Altogether the fire department of Columbus is one of which the people should feel proud, and not hesitate to interest themselves in anything which will advance the good of the "fire laddies."

For the drafting of bills and the suggestion of legislation Columbus is becoming somewhat famous. A. Anderson's bill, drafted by G. G. Bowman, is attracting considerable attention, the Omaha Bee quoting a banker of that city as saying: "This amended bill is as liberal as it possibly can be made for the proposed banks consistent with public safety. No more burdens are imposed than the national currency act entitles. On the contrary, in many important respects, the requirements are less exacting. It is believed that the bill will receive the unanimous support of every bank in Omaha, and in all the leading cities in the state, and it is hoped all now pending, or to be introduced, will be merged in this. Mr. A. Anderson, president of the First National bank of Columbus, is the gentleman who has prepared the bill—having devoted much time to its preparation—on to him credit is due for what will prove, if it becomes a law, a most excellent system, equal in all respects to the much-praised systems of Minnesota and Illinois."

On Feb. 11th, A. R. Carrington, the "Drummer Boy of Shiloh" will give one of his now famous and celebrated entertainments at the Opera House under the auspices of Rev. Mr. Knox. This is something worth hearing and seeing. General Sherman said to a number of persons of this entertainment "Gentlemen, I think it is the finest thing of the kind in the world; to see it, and hear it explained, is an event in my life."
