NORPOLK PHYSICIANS.

Fatal Mistake, if Nothing Worse, Drs. Kelley and Hasson of the insar ospital and Dr. Bear, a well-known phyician of Norfolk, came to the conclusion that one Caroline Soulier, an employe in the kitchen of the insane hospital, was afflicted with an overian tumor. On the 10th of January, after placing the patient under the influence of ether, they proceeded to make the customary operation for removal, but as soon as the peritoneum was cut through they saw that they had been mistaken in their liagnosis, that no tumor existed, but that the girl was pregnant. The wound was dressed; shortly afterwards a feetus about seven months old was born, and the third day from the surgical operation the patient died. The body was buried Charles Lane, Union Pacific stock the next day. The whole matter was ent, was in the city last week, looking kept secret, until George Oliver, a colored cook, who had been discharged the morning of the funeral, spread the report that Caroline had died of malpracice. The excitement became so great that Coroner Long empanelled a jury exhumed the remains, heard the testimony of Drs. Tashisan and Long (after camining the body) and found a verdict to the effect that the doctors intended no injury to the deceased girl, though Tashjean unhesitatingly declared his belief that the girl had died from premature child birth induced by the operation. He also testified that he had examined the deceased in December and satisfied himself that she was pregnant and had told her his belief. The Norfolk News, from which we condense, says that on Friday last, Kelley was arrested, charged with murder. When he arrived in charge of an officer the crowd went wild. Kelley waived examination and was placed under $5,000 bonds to appear at the spring term of the district court, Messrs. Rainbolt, Me-Clary, Haya, Schwenk and Eisely signing the bond as sureties. When Kelley started home in charge of the officer, the crowd made a rush toward him. velling in German "Hang him! hang oim!" Peter Schwenk placed himself beside Kelley, and drawing a revolver, warned the crowd to stay back. Kelley then entered a buggy and was driven
