Settling the Cherokee Strip.

The boomers misconstrued the passage of the Oklahoma bill into an act providing for the immediate opening of the country to settlement, and each colony of boomers. alarmed lest it would not be first on the ground, rushed pell mell over the line regardless of consequences. Some fear is expressed by cooler heads that the government may deprive them of their advantage and drive the settlers out to await the formal opening of the country, and give all a prospective settling down on their claims, as if assured of their permanent residence there. They believe, now that the invasion has been accomplished, that President 11,822 38 Harrison will allow them to remain and permit others to take up land whenever they arrive. Just over the line from Guthrie, Oklahoma, Ponca, a city of 3,000 inhabitants, has sprung up over night. The gambling fraternity is there in full force, and several disturbances have occurred and many fights have taken place because of their presence, but othing serious has resulted. Another of these mushroom towns appeared at Willow Springs. Though not so large as Ponca, there are fully 1,000 people living there. Nyceville also came into existence within twentyfour hours, and contains about 800 people who went under the leadership of Maj. Nyce, from Caldwell. At Guthrie a reporter boarded the train on which representatives of the Cherokee strip cattle company were returning from the Fort Worth cattlemen's conference. They were greatly disturbed at the invasion of their lands, and a meeting was called in the pullman moking room. A committee was appointed to notify the secretary of the interior of the facts in the case, and ask for troops to restore to them the possession of their lands. The question that is uppermost in the minds of the settlers is: "What is Uncle Sam going to do?" He has done nothing yet. No military force is on the ground and so far as is known none have been ordered to proceed there.

The president has issued a proclamation ordering all settlers off the Cherokee strip.

The dynamite gun and torpedo thrower in course of construction at Birmingham by Lieut, Jas. W. Gravdon, late of the United States navy, is attracting considerable attention. The gun is of fifteen inches caliber and is expected to be capable of throwing 600 pounds of dynamite a distance of three miles. Michigan Peaches Blasted. Michigan's peach crop is badly damaged. At a special meeting of the fruit growers specimen branches were submitted, and an examination showed that the recent cold enap had played havoc with the crop. The destruction appears to vary a good deal, ecording to soil and location. Young rchards have been unduly developed by eason of the open winter. It is said, however, that many of the smaller or so-called dormant buds will now be pushed forward, and, together with the larger ones remain-

A mob of several nundred procured small cannon and rode into the town of Spartansburg for the avowed purpose of attacking the jail and lynching George Turner, who shot and killed his brotherin-law, Edward Finger, on Friday. When the mob reached the public square Mayor Henneman, at the head of the police force, with pietols in hand repulsed them and spiked the cannon and locked it no. After aking further hostile demonstrations and threats of returning later on, the would-be lynchers finally dispersed, but further trouble is teared. Where a Wife's Residence Is. Marie Prescott, the actress, has lost her suit for divorce from her husband, William Perzel. She brought suit at Paris, Kv. alleging that she was a resident of Bourbon county, Ky., that she was married to William Perzel in 1881, and that since 1884 he has wholly abandoned her and refused to provide for her support. Perzel answered that he never lived in Kentucky. that his home was in New York, and that therefore no abandonment as alleged could occur, as her home was where his was. The court took his view of the case and dismissed the plaintiff's suit. Miss Prescott was born in Kentucky and lived there until that place as her home.

If this bill should become a law the sheep industry of Montana could not survive the burden, while .the cattle growers would be severely handicapped. A neeting of stock men was held at Miles City last Thursday to protest against the law, and A. M. Holter, president of the Helena board of trade, called a meeting of that body to take similar steps. By concerted action of the board of trade and stockgrowers of the northwest, the people hope to bring such weight to bear on congress as to defeat the grazing tax bill.
