its dead or reveals its secrets, but it gave up a secret last night that may ead to the discovery of a dark crime, by which a Council Bluffs man lost his life. At 8 o'clock last night the mounted patrolman on duty at the bridge discovred some clothes lying on the sandbar on this side of the river beneath the trestle on the east end of the motor bridge. He watched them for some time and noted the fact that there was no one near. The clothes looked as though they had been just taken off by some one preparatory to taking a plunge in the river. Knowing the dangerous character of the current at that point, and how easily a man might be drowned there, he concluded to make an investigation, and dismounted and went down to the point. Only a dark hat and a gray coat could be found, and they were not lying together, but were new and of tine material. He brought the clothes up to the bridge and mounted his horse and proceeded on his beat.

At 9 o'clock he met another patrolman and reported the circumstance. The facts were telephoned to the central station, and the patrolmen were ordered to make a closer investigation. They returned to the locality, but by this time it was too dark to see distinctly and a lantern was procured.

They made a startling discovery. the point where the clothes laid there were a number of tracks on the damp sand, and mixed up in great confusion indicating that a struggle had taken place. One set were the tracks of a arefooted man and the other were those of a man with a heavy pair of boots or shoes on. They led to the edge of the river, where a desperate struggle had evidently taken place. But the waters gave no sign of the secret they concealed. The boot tracks led back into the willows, but the barefoot tracks did not return from the water's edge.

By the aid of the lantern a closer vestigation was made and a heavy gold watch was found lying on the sand, apparently as if it had dropped from a vest that was being loosely carried. It was found beside the tracks that led into the willows. The watch, the partial raiment of the man, the tracks and the struggle that had apparently taken place all indicate the fact that a murder has been and the body of the victim thrown into

To give a free market to this immense product of Spanish plantations at the would be unwise. Our trade with American republics, as well as with the West India Islands, has been for many years in a most unsatisfactory condition. The aggregate balance of trade with all Latin-America is heavily against us. A single illustration will suffice: Since we repealed the duty on coffee in 1872 we have imported products of Brazil to the extent of $821,806,000 and have sold to her only $156,135,000 of our own products. The difference $644,671,000we have paid in gold or its equivalent and Brazil has expended this vast sum in the markets of Europe. You can readily see how different the results would have been if in return for the free admission of Brazilian coffee in our mar kets we would have exacted the free admission of certain products of the United States in Brazil. To repeat this error with sugar to an amount three Wednesday morning of last week at St. times as large as with coffee, will close all opportunity to establish reciprocity of trade with Latin-America. You and Four tramps were arrested at Omaha I well know that this is not true, but Here is an opportunity for a republican congress to open the markets of forty millions of people to the products of American farmers. Shall we seize the opportunity, or shall we throw it away: I do not doubt that in many respects the tariff bill pending in the senate is a just measure and that most of its provisions are in accordance with a wise policy of protection. But there is not a section or a line in the whole bill that will open a market for another bushel of wheat or another barrel of pork. If sugar is placed on the free list without enacting important trade concessions in return we shall close the door for profitable reciprocity against ourselves. I think you will find some valuable hints on this subject in the president's brief message of June 19, with as much practical wisdom as was ever stated in so short a space. Gerseld Beach on Great Salt Lake, Utah. T e famons health and pleasure resor Garfield Beach on Great Salt Lake Utah, 18 miles from Salt Lake City, and eached only via the Union Pacific "The Overland Route" is now open for the season.

This is the only sand beach on Great Salt Lake, and is one of the finest bathing and pleasure resorts in the west. Great Salt Lake is not a sullen, listless, collector that will do his duty without fear or sheet of water, beating idly on the shore but on the contrary is as beautiful: sheet of water as can be found anywhere. It is 21 per cent salt, while the ocean is only 3 per cent, and the water is so buoy-ant that a person is sustained on its surface indefinitely without the least effort on his part. Experience has proven its great hygienic effects. Owing to the stimulating effect of the brine on the skin, or the saline air on the lungs the appetite is stimulated, and after a bath, the bathers are ready for a hearty meal, and feel greatly invigorated. Fine bath houses accommodating 400 people, have been erected at Garfield Beach, in connection with which there is first-class restaurant and a dancing pavillion built out over the lake, all o these are run by the Union Pacific, who guarantee a first-class resort in every > GLADSTONE was reported ill last week. In a recent article in the Youth's Companion, on "how to cure a cold," the writer advises a hot lemonade to be taket at bed time. It is a dangerous treatment, especially during the severe cold TOHN EUSDEN, weather of the winter months, as it opens the pores of the skin and leaves the system in such a condition that another and much more severe cold is almost certain to be contracted. Many years constant use and the experience of thousands of persons of all ages, has fully demonstrated that there is nothing better for a severe cold than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It acts in perfect harmony with nature, relieves the lungs, liquefies the tough tenacious mucous, making it easier to expectorate, and restores the system to a strong and healthy condition.
