A VERY SAD ACCIDENT.

A Columbus Lad Will Probably Lose His Life.

Sunday afternoon, Luther Stewart, who lives near Martin Began's, east of the city, where the accident was about to relate occurred, came into town with the unconscious, wounded body of Joseph Abta, a Columbus lad about thirteen years old and son of J. P. Abta of this city.

The facts, as we learn and believe them to be are that young Abta and Albert Schram had gone hunting, driving a donkey in a cart. Schram had driven the cart away from where Schram had left him some chickens were started up, and Schram shot at them, and, unfortunately, a few of the shot hit the boy in the cart, some striking near the nose, and one penetrating the skull above the right ear. Up to the time of writing this, Tuesday noon, young Abta has been unconscious, and Monday afternoon Dr. Martyn, Evans and Arnold, assisted by Dr. Stillman and Clark, performed a surgical operation, removing a portion of the skull, and taking away the clotted blood underlying it. The doctors say that he has a hundred chances to recover now, where he had one, before the operation.

There is not the slightest breath of suspicion that the accident was anything but purely accidental. Albert Schram is a son of Mike Schram, dead, is seventeen years old, of good disposition, and always a great friend of the injured lad. There is no doubt but he was greatly shocked by the accident, dazed and disconcerted, but no one for a moment thinks that Schram would intentionally wrong young Abta.

Farmers' Union.

At the regular meeting Saturday afternoon at Fitzpatrick's hall there were present President J. S. Freeman, Secretary R. S. Dickinson and some eight or ten others.

The election of officers was postponed until the next regular meeting, the first Saturday in October.

A motion was made to revise the constitution so as to admit merchants, mechanics and laborers to membership. After considerable discussion the motion was withdrawn. It seemed to be the prevailing opinion that the discussion of farm topics, for which the Union was organized, would not be especially interesting to other classes of laborers.

On motion G. C. Barnum was added to the committee of the alliance consisting of S. O. Raymond, E. O. Wells and A. W. Clark, to arrange for the independent picnic to be held in Columbus between the 22d and 25th of September.

There has been some money contributed that was not used for the picnic, which, it is understood, will be used for this picnic.

A meeting was appointed for Saturday next, September 18th, at 1 o'clock sharp, to which everybody is invited to listen to G. C. Barnum on finance, J. S. Freeman on class legislation, and to I. L. Albert, whose subject was not announced.

Teachers, don't pull the ears of your pupils, or subject them to any other unusual or cruel punishment. There is entirely too much tendency in teachers to become autocratic and dictatorial. Under the best of conditions, the children (especially the young children under your charge), are comparatively at your mercy a good portion of the time; you can make life to them a very grievous burden, a heavy yoke, or you can lighten their cares and lift their burdens, and show them the way of intelligence, and help to make the days bright and joyous to the little people. Think how much ear-pulling, and whipping or standing on the floor you would do, if they were, physically, as strong as you. The story of father and son hits this part of the subject exactly. The father says: "John, do you know why I am going to lick you?" John replied, after giving the question a little thought, "Well, I don't know, except it's because you are bigger than I am."

Among matters passed upon by the school board at their last meeting were: a change of arithmetics from McVicker's to Goff's, the district paying the price of exchange, thus making no expense to pupils; Miss Pollock's transfer from a Second ward to a First ward department, objected to by her, was not changed; a committee authorized, if they think best, to redistrict the north side of the city so that a portion of the pupils could attend the First and Second ward schools, instead of, as now, over-crowding the Third; the sixth grade of the First ward were advanced to Mr. Leavy's room, and the eighth transferred to the Second ward school.

A Royal Welcome.

A Polish boy living south of the Loop inhaled a sandbur while chasing cattle Tuesday, the bur lodging in his windpipe in such a manner as to thwart the efforts of our local physicians to remove it, and Wednesday, after thirty hours of agony, he went to Columbus, where relief was obtained. —[Genoa Leader. That is right. Dr. Martyn, years ago, was called upon and did relieve a patient afflicted in the same way.

—Today at 2 p. m., in the Episcopal church, this city, Rev. J. O. Ferris officiating, will take place the marriage of Miss Lettie M. Metz of this city and Mr. E. O. Hamilton. The groom is a builder and contractor of Omaha, and we learn, worthy the amiable, accomplished and energetic little lady whom he has selected as a life partner. Their home will be at Omaha.

—George Willard, one of the oldest settlers of Platte county is talked of for a representative on the democratic ticket. The party could not nominate a stronger man for that office. And although Mr. Stevens, the people's candidate, has been endorsed by the republicans, Mr. Willard would make the fight an interesting one. —[Genoa Leader.

A crowded house was the result of the announcement of the union meeting Sunday evening, at the Presbyterian church. Rev. G. H. Worley, Hunt and Hayes were present, the last presiding over the meeting, and the three former delivered brief addresses. The following was adopted as the sense of the meeting:

Whereas, the larger purpose of the World's Columbian Exposition is to set forth the general character and prosperity of this country, and to be one of the most potent influences in the foundation of such character and the securing of such prosperity, therefore be it

Resolved, second, that we, as Christian citizens, will do all that is in our power to secure this most desirable end.

Resolved, third, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the American Sabbath Union, and our various religious and secular papers.
