

A. A. N. TIME TABLE. Table with columns for destination, time, and fare.

UNION PACIFIC TIME TABLE. Table with columns for destination, time, and fare.

FOR MEMPHIS AND CEDAR RAPIDS. Table with columns for destination, time, and fare.

Society Notices. A list of various social events and notices.

LEBANON LODGE No. 5, A. F. & M. S. Regular meeting 24 Wednesday.

REPUBLICANIZED HERE BY LETTER-DAY. A notice regarding a meeting or event.

Herbert Henry is afflicted with typhoid fever. A notice about a person's illness.

A specialty at this office is job work the neatest. A notice about a business service.

Henry Gass has given his furniture a new coat of paint. A notice about a home improvement.

Work on Emil von Bergen's dwelling is proceeding rapidly. A notice about construction work.

Old newspapers by the hundred, 25 cents at the Journal office. A notice about newspaper sales.

Dr. T. H. Clark, successor to Dr. Selvig, Office at night. A notice about a doctor's office hours.

Books, Toys, Pianos, Organs, Sewing Machines, E. D. Fitzpatrick, 13th st. A notice about a store.

Rev. Hayes has been selected as association missionary by the Baptists. A notice about a religious appointment.

G. C. Werner of Beatrice was in town Saturday showing his trash burner. A notice about a product demonstration.

An excursion train on the U. P. left the city at 5:45 a. m. Sunday for Sioux City. A notice about a train schedule.

Supt. L. J. Craner has leased his farm near Council Bluffs, Iowa. A notice about a property lease.

Mrs. T. S. Clarkson, formerly of Schuyler, is to be appointed postmaster of Omaha. A notice about a government appointment.

If it is a good day, there will doubtless be a large crowd of people in the city Saturday. A general news item.

To exchange, a 160-acre farm in Platte county with $650 incumbrance at 7 per cent. for Columbus residence property. Call immediately. P. W. Henrich. A real estate advertisement.

During the mission at St. Bonaventura Catholic church, continuing to Saturday next, sermons will be preached in German at 8 o'clock a. m., and 2 o'clock p. m. Sermons in English at 10 a. m., and 7:30 p. m. A church notice.

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Warnock, two months and nineteen days old, died Sunday and was buried Monday afternoon, Elder G. W. Galley of the church of Latter Day Saints officiating. A death notice.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will serve lunch consisting of sandwiches, tea and coffee, ice-cream and cake at the picnic of the farmers' alliance to be held at the Park on Saturday, October 4th. A church notice.

P. S. Griffin as committeeman has called a caucus of the democrats of Columbus township to meet at the town hall Oct. 11, 2 p. m., to nominate a township ticket. This makes the third call for party nominations in the township. A political notice.

A correspondent of the Massachusetts Piousman says that a quart of vinegar in half a pint of water, if thoroughly sprinkled over the interior of a hen house, will free it from lice when whitewashing and other remedies have failed. A health tip.

John H. Crann has been selling some of his old corn at 50 down to 40 cents a bushel. He has 1,500 bushels left yet, and has been advised to experiment, as some, who have saved him, find that this year's growth is by no means sure to sprout. A market report.

At the last meeting of the Colfax county commissioners the contract for building the bridge across Shell Creek on the line between Colfax and Platte counties, was let to Henry Rickett of this county, his bid of $800 being the lowest. The material is oak. A public works notice.

We begin the publication today of the delinquent tax-list. This continues in three numbers of THE JOURNAL. It will be precisely the same story each time. This is the provision of the law which makes it binding upon those of us whose taxes are not yet paid. A tax notice.

P. W. Henrich had a letter from his sister, Mrs. C. H. Walker of Denver, saying that she would be here Sept. 30, if she could get a train to come on. Two or three days of last week there were hardly any trains running there because of the switchmen's strike. A personal notice.

Supt. Craner was in the northern part of the county last week, visiting some of the schools there. Quite a number of them commenced with this month. All will not start until after the first of December. This week the superintendent goes north along Shell creek. A school notice.

The meetings of the young people Sunday afternoons at the Baptist church for Bible study have been very interesting. It is good for people of all ages to engage in regular study of some sort; the Bible is a text book of universal, and, if rightly studied, absorbing interest. A church notice.

All his acquaintances will be sorry to learn that Hans Elliott is still a very sick man, although better than he has been. Hans is one of those men who take an active interest in public matters, and though a thorough partisan, his influence goes with the best element of his party. A personal notice.

Next Saturday is to be the rally day of the independents, and everybody should give the crowd that will honor Columbus with their presence, the best reception possible. Hang the banners on the walls. We are all patriots hunting for a way to secure the welfare of our country. A political notice.

The government Indian school at Genoa, under Supt. Backus, is making an excellent record. We notice by the Pipe of Peace that Assistant Supt. Ferrigo has just returned from Rosebud agency with fifteen pupils, and Clerk Dieffenbach from the Omaha and Winnebago with seventeen. A school notice.

Hud. Murdock has the contract for Ed. Niwolner's new business building on Olive street, one door south of Schild's shoe store. It is to be two stories, frame, with pressed brick front, corrugated iron sides. The size of the building will be 22x65, and it will present a handsome appearance. A construction notice.

Two years ago Hagel & Co. bought the apples of an orchard owned by a Mr. Woods near Troy, Kan., paying him $2,500. This year the product of the same orchard brought $7,500. We print elsewhere, an apple deal sent us by Mat Reid. It suggests very strongly that apple raising would pay in Nebraska. A market report.

John Gisin has succeeded Samuel Gass in the furniture business at the corner of M and Eleventh streets. Mr. Gisin is an excellent workman in his line, and at his establishment you can always find a full assortment of what is to be had in a first-class furniture store. He is sure to give him a call when in need of furniture of any sort. New store, new goods. 243 A business notice.

PERSONAL. J. M. Edmiston of Lincoln is in the city. Attorney Mondy of Genoa was in town Monday. Frank Gay of Fullerton, was in the city Monday. Oke Green, the Genoa banker, was in town Monday. Henry Zinnecker returned Monday from Sioux City. Dan Condon of South Omaha was in the city Monday. Samuel Galley came down from Creighton Wednesday. Mrs. W. H. Winterbotham returned to Genoa Thursday. John A. Kehoe of Platte Center was in the city Monday. Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hudson went to St. Edward Friday. J. E. North went Saturday to see the Sioux City corn palace. Mrs. J. C. Echols went to Genoa Thursday to visit friends. J. W. Tanner, editor of the Fullerton Post, was in the city Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Pryor of Newman Grove visited friends in the city Friday. D. C. Kavanaugh and Fred Hunter attended the David City fair Friday. Theo. Helmig of Humphrey left Thursday for a visit to his home in Peru, Ind. Mrs. Gna. G. Becher and her daughter Dovie returned yesterday from Sioux City. Mrs. Wm. Hagel and children are visiting friends in Polk county for a few days. Hon. George D. Meiklejohn came down from Fullerton Monday on his way to Omaha. Ed. Hoars, the government farmer at the Genoa Industrial school, was in the city yesterday. Mrs. W. B. Rochon of Octavia, formerly of this city, who has been seriously ill, is now recovering. Rev. Father Ryan went to Wood River Sunday. In twenty-five years he has not missed a day of duty. Mrs. Robert McPherson of Haigler, Dundy county, was among her old Colfax county friends last week. Mrs. Clara Schroeder and son Gus went to Sioux City Wednesday to see the Corn Palace and visit friends. Rev. Harper and family left of Wood River, passed through the city Saturday to their new home at Cedar Rapids. Saturday Adolph Sauer, H. P. Cowledge, Miss Mary Bremer and Mrs. J. W. Cowledge were at the Sioux City corn palace. Mrs. George Burke and children of Omaha who have been visiting friends in the city the past week, returned home Monday. Rev. James T. Worley, of China, a young minister and brother of Rev. W. M. Worley, was in the city Saturday and gave us a brief call. E. H. Chambers, G. L. Speich, J. E. North, A. L. Bixby and L. H. Webb were attendants at the Nance county fair at Fullerton Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Delaman, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Davis and Charles Schroeder went to Sioux City Thursday evening, to look at the Corn Palace. Ellis Brown of Cedar Rapids, son of G. W. Brown, passed through the city Monday, going to Norfolk to accept a position there as telegraph operator. John M. Kelley of Monroe, one of the best of men, was in the city Friday and gave his old friends of THE JOURNAL office a very pleasant call. S. C. Woodruff, managing editor of the Republican at Stromburg, Polk county, called at these headquarters Wednesday morning, on his way home from north Nebraska. Wilkie Speich Thursday evening entertained a party of his young friends at the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Speich. A very enjoyable evening is reported. J. M. Curtis has returned from New Tacoma, where he went some months ago with Dr. Selvig. After passing through Montana, etc., Curtis says it seems like heaven to drop down into eastern Nebraska. Mrs. Charity Smith went to Cheyenne, Wyo., Wednesday last. THE JOURNAL will keep her posted on local news hereabouts the coming year. Her many friends will be pleased to hear of her prosperity wherever she may be. Another Convention. Monday afternoon at the court house in this city, the democrats of Platte and Lincoln counties, met in convention, by the order of the convention, and after selecting O. E. Green of Genoa as chairman, and D. F. Davis of this city as secretary, proceeded to business. George E. Willard, a well-known democrat of this city, was declared the unanimous choice of the convention as their candidate for representative of the 25th district. The convention selected J. W. Tanner of Nance and D. F. Davis of Platte as members of their central committee for the next two years. George Willard is a good man, liked by everybody, but we don't believe this is George's year to be elected to the legislature. Rev. James K. Maxfield, entering upon his pastorate of the M. E. church in Bellwood for another year, asks the public generally for support that no part of his time may be needed for secular employment. He says: "If I am allowed to utter anything worth hearing, from the pulpit, I must have ample time for preparation, with the best helpers at hand." This is the language of the student, trained after the ordinary methods, rather than the disciple, thoroughly imbued with the spirit, and believing that what is said, is given by the spirit. Rev. and Mrs. Worley and Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Baker went to Barwood Monday evening to hear the lecture of Rev. James Worley on the Chinese. Mr. Baker gives a very glowing description of the lecture, and says that he would not have missed it for a very great deal. It is probable that Mr. Worley will lecture in this city shortly, and if he does everybody at all interested in the peculiar customs, laws, superstitions, etc., of this strange people, should hear him. JOHN HANEY INJURED. An Able, Candid Man Delivers his Sentiments on the Question of Prohibition. Ex-Gov. Larrabee of the great state of Iowa is justly regarded as one of the able men of the country. On the question of transportation, he stands at the head of those state executives who have sought to enforce the just views of the people in regard to freight rates on railroads. He is, evidently, a plain, fair-minded, sincere man, and for these reasons he had a large audience to greet him last Thursday evening at the opera house, where he spoke under the auspices of the non-partisan league. At 8 o'clock the meeting was opened by prayer by Rev. Worley, after which J. N. Heater introduced the speaker. He referred to the fact that the responsibility, in good part, of the future welfare of a state or community, depends upon the character of the early settlers. In this respect Nebraska has the advantage of many of the older states of the union because, in a sense, she has a picked class of people, and therefore as a commonwealth, greater facilities and advantages. To have good results it is necessary to have a solid foundation to build upon. Material and intellectual progress are not the only things to consider—the moral element is chief. As Lecky says "moral strength is what makes a great people." The church, the school, the home are the three great educators. In the progress of civilization every community has new problems to solve, and when an evil is permitted to grow it is always at great cost to the community. Our wisest statesmen, from the beginning, saw that slavery would bring us trouble, and it did, an immense cost of life and treasure. Now, we have in the liquor traffic a greater evil than slavery. That had what might be called compensating incidents. This has none. Nobody is bettered by it. Farming is necessary to raise wheat, corn, cattle, hogs, etc.; the merchant is necessary to supply us with needed articles of consumption; mechanics are needed to build our homes, etc.; doctors and lawyers are necessary, but we can dispense with the traffic in intoxicating liquors. Not a man or family would be injured if the sale of intoxicating liquors should cease. None of this audience dreamed forty years ago that they would live to see slavery abolished in this country, but it did take place. So it will with the traffic in liquors. He had not expected to see the traffic cease in Iowa. He had, with others, believed in and worked for a license law aimed at reducing the traffic to the minimum, but with no hope of doing away with it altogether. He had changed his mind, and declared to his audience that if they could have the information that he had had in the last ten years, they would doubtless be of his opinion. He declared his faith in the honesty, ability and integrity of the people of the great state of Nebraska, and the propriety of the rank and file of the political parties are right, and can be thoroughly trusted. He cited an example at the outset of the Rebellion, saying that many officers who had been educated at West Point, and had become prominent, proved traitors to the government and proved the service of the Confederacy, but history does not record a single instance of a private turning traitor at the beginning of the Rebellion. He then gave a history, somewhat in detail, of the legal contest in Iowa against the liquor traffic. As the enforcement of the law, he says that between 1830 and 1840 saloons have been opened in the state, and there is not one-tenth the liquor sold as before, and he believed not one-twentieth; he had talked with railroad superintendents who said they didn't ship now one car load where they had formerly carried a train, or one barrel of whiskey where formerly it had been a car load. He turned his attention to the assertion that prohibition hurts business, and asked How? Grass still grows in Iowa, corn, wheat, pigs, cattle, boys and girls. The men and boys do better work without the liquor. Does your boy take better care of your horses by reason of drinking liquor? Is there a man in the society who prefers his boy to use intoxicating liquors? There is a growing disposition among all classes who employ help not to engage those who are addicted to drink. The great railroad companies have begun in this, and the tendency is such that before long the young man who wishes to succeed in business must be sober minded. There are a hundred ways in which prohibition has been a benefit to Iowa, and like all other good things, they don't come by chance. When communities allow wise men and women to mark out their policies it is not by chance that they prosper. The law of the Almighty is unerring. You cannot cheat him out but you can't. Suppose 4,000 saloons have an average income of one, two, three, or five thousand dollars a year, that is from one state to twenty million dollars gone for naught under heaven of any value. It will not hurt business to put this vast sum in legitimate trade. COLUMBUS TOWNSHIP. A caucus of the republicans of Columbus township is hereby called to meet at the Township Hall, north of the city Saturday, Oct. 4th, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of nominating a township supervisor, justice of the peace, clerk, treasurer, three road overseers and for the transaction of any other business that may properly come before the meeting. 23-21 JOHN TARRANT, Com. Notice of Dissolution. COLUMBUS, Neb., Sept. 15, 1890. Notice is hereby given that the partnership of W. F. Slater & Co., is hereby dissolved, W. F. Slater retiring. Miller Bros. will conduct the business at the Gluck building and assume the indebtedness and collect the accounts. 22-21 W. F. SLATER, MILLER BROS. MARRIED. STERNER-VICTOR—September 25th, at the Presbyterian parsonage, by Rev. J. S. Griswold, Adol. Stern, of Minneapolis, Minn., and Miss Victoria, of Madison county, Mo. ROLLIN-THURSTON—September 25th, at the Presbyterian parsonage, by Rev. J. S. Griswold, Rollin Thurston, of St. Joseph, Mo., and Miss Adeline, daughter of W. J. Thurston. The happy couple have gone to Spokane Falls, their future home, followed by the good wishes of a host of friends. Business Notices. Advertisements under this head five cents a line each insertion. W. M. SCHILZ makes boots and shoes in the best styles, and uses only the very best stock that can be procured in the market. 25-41 WANTED TO EXCHANGE—I have 20 head of good cowboys, good cowboys, good cowboys, and heavy work, which I wish to exchange for good young stock cattle. JOSEPH BECKER, 10-41

PERSONAL. J. M. Edmiston of Lincoln is in the city. Attorney Mondy of Genoa was in town Monday. Frank Gay of Fullerton, was in the city Monday. Oke Green, the Genoa banker, was in town Monday. Henry Zinnecker returned Monday from Sioux City. Dan Condon of South Omaha was in the city Monday. Samuel Galley came down from Creighton Wednesday. Mrs. W. H. Winterbotham returned to Genoa Thursday. John A. Kehoe of Platte Center was in the city Monday. Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hudson went to St. Edward Friday. J. E. North went Saturday to see the Sioux City corn palace. Mrs. J. C. Echols went to Genoa Thursday to visit friends. J. W. Tanner, editor of the Fullerton Post, was in the city Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Pryor of Newman Grove visited friends in the city Friday. D. C. Kavanaugh and Fred Hunter attended the David City fair Friday. Theo. Helmig of Humphrey left Thursday for a visit to his home in Peru, Ind. Mrs. Gna. G. Becher and her daughter Dovie returned yesterday from Sioux City. Mrs. Wm. Hagel and children are visiting friends in Polk county for a few days. Hon. George D. Meiklejohn came down from Fullerton Monday on his way to Omaha. Ed. Hoars, the government farmer at the Genoa Industrial school, was in the city yesterday. Mrs. W. B. Rochon of Octavia, formerly of this city, who has been seriously ill, is now recovering. Rev. Father Ryan went to Wood River Sunday. In twenty-five years he has not missed a day of duty. Mrs. Robert McPherson of Haigler, Dundy county, was among her old Colfax county friends last week. Mrs. Clara Schroeder and son Gus went to Sioux City Wednesday to see the Corn Palace and visit friends. Rev. Harper and family left of Wood River, passed through the city Saturday to their new home at Cedar Rapids. Saturday Adolph Sauer, H. P. Cowledge, Miss Mary Bremer and Mrs. J. W. Cowledge were at the Sioux City corn palace. Mrs. George Burke and children of Omaha who have been visiting friends in the city the past week, returned home Monday. Rev. James T. Worley, of China, a young minister and brother of Rev. W. M. Worley, was in the city Saturday and gave us a brief call. E. H. Chambers, G. L. Speich, J. E. North, A. L. Bixby and L. H. Webb were attendants at the Nance county fair at Fullerton Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Delaman, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Davis and Charles Schroeder went to Sioux City Thursday evening, to look at the Corn Palace. Ellis Brown of Cedar Rapids, son of G. W. Brown, passed through the city Monday, going to Norfolk to accept a position there as telegraph operator. John M. Kelley of Monroe, one of the best of men, was in the city Friday and gave his old friends of THE JOURNAL office a very pleasant call. S. C. Woodruff, managing editor of the Republican at Stromburg, Polk county, called at these headquarters Wednesday morning, on his way home from north Nebraska. Wilkie Speich Thursday evening entertained a party of his young friends at the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Speich. A very enjoyable evening is reported. J. M. Curtis has returned from New Tacoma, where he went some months ago with Dr. Selvig. After passing through Montana, etc., Curtis says it seems like heaven to drop down into eastern Nebraska. Mrs. Charity Smith went to Cheyenne, Wyo., Wednesday last. THE JOURNAL will keep her posted on local news hereabouts the coming year. Her many friends will be pleased to hear of her prosperity wherever she may be. Another Convention. Monday afternoon at the court house in this city, the democrats of Platte and Lincoln counties, met in convention, by the order of the convention, and after selecting O. E. Green of Genoa as chairman, and D. F. Davis of this city as secretary, proceeded to business. George E. Willard, a well-known democrat of this city, was declared the unanimous choice of the convention as their candidate for representative of the 25th district. The convention selected J. W. Tanner of Nance and D. F. Davis of Platte as members of their central committee for the next two years. George Willard is a good man, liked by everybody, but we don't believe this is George's year to be elected to the legislature. Rev. James K. Maxfield, entering upon his pastorate of the M. E. church in Bellwood for another year, asks the public generally for support that no part of his time may be needed for secular employment. He says: "If I am allowed to utter anything worth hearing, from the pulpit, I must have ample time for preparation, with the best helpers at hand." This is the language of the student, trained after the ordinary methods, rather than the disciple, thoroughly imbued with the spirit, and believing that what is said, is given by the spirit. Rev. and Mrs. Worley and Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Baker went to Barwood Monday evening to hear the lecture of Rev. James Worley on the Chinese. Mr. Baker gives a very glowing description of the lecture, and says that he would not have missed it for a very great deal. It is probable that Mr. Worley will lecture in this city shortly, and if he does everybody at all interested in the peculiar customs, laws, superstitions, etc., of this strange people, should hear him. JOHN HANEY INJURED. An Able, Candid Man Delivers his Sentiments on the Question of Prohibition. Ex-Gov. Larrabee of the great state of Iowa is justly regarded as one of the able men of the country. On the question of transportation, he stands at the head of those state executives who have sought to enforce the just views of the people in regard to freight rates on railroads. He is, evidently, a plain, fair-minded, sincere man, and for these reasons he had a large audience to greet him last Thursday evening at the opera house, where he spoke under the auspices of the non-partisan league. At 8 o'clock the meeting was opened by prayer by Rev. Worley, after which J. N. Heater introduced the speaker. He referred to the fact that the responsibility, in good part, of the future welfare of a state or community, depends upon the character of the early settlers. In this respect Nebraska has the advantage of many of the older states of the union because, in a sense, she has a picked class of people, and therefore as a commonwealth, greater facilities and advantages. To have good results it is necessary to have a solid foundation to build upon. Material and intellectual progress are not the only things to consider—the moral element is chief. As Lecky says "moral strength is what makes a great people." The church, the school, the home are the three great educators. In the progress of civilization every community has new problems to solve, and when an evil is permitted to grow it is always at great cost to the community. Our wisest statesmen, from the beginning, saw that slavery would bring us trouble, and it did, an immense cost of life and treasure. Now, we have in the liquor traffic a greater evil than slavery. That had what might be called compensating incidents. This has none. Nobody is bettered by it. Farming is necessary to raise wheat, corn, cattle, hogs, etc.; the merchant is necessary to supply us with needed articles of consumption; mechanics are needed to build our homes, etc.; doctors and lawyers are necessary, but we can dispense with the traffic in intoxicating liquors. Not a man or family would be injured if the sale of intoxicating liquors should cease. None of this audience dreamed forty years ago that they would live to see slavery abolished in this country, but it did take place. So it will with the traffic in liquors. He had not expected to see the traffic cease in Iowa. He had, with others, believed in and worked for a license law aimed at reducing the traffic to the minimum, but with no hope of doing away with it altogether. He had changed his mind, and declared to his audience that if they could have the information that he had had in the last ten years, they would doubtless be of his opinion. He declared his faith in the honesty, ability and integrity of the people of the great state of Nebraska, and the propriety of the rank and file of the political parties are right, and can be thoroughly trusted. He cited an example at the outset of the Rebellion, saying that many officers who had been educated at West Point, and had become prominent, proved traitors to the government and proved the service of the Confederacy, but history does not record a single instance of a private turning traitor at the beginning of the Rebellion. He then gave a history, somewhat in detail, of the legal contest in Iowa against the liquor traffic. As the enforcement of the law, he says that between 1830 and 1840 saloons have been opened in the state, and there is not one-tenth the liquor sold as before, and he believed not one-twentieth; he had talked with railroad superintendents who said they didn't ship now one car load where they had formerly carried a train, or one barrel of whiskey where formerly it had been a car load. He turned his attention to the assertion that prohibition hurts business, and asked How? Grass still grows in Iowa, corn, wheat, pigs, cattle, boys and girls. The men and boys do better work without the liquor. Does your boy take better care of your horses by reason of drinking liquor? Is there a man in the society who prefers his boy to use intoxicating liquors? There is a growing disposition among all classes who employ help not to engage those who are addicted to drink. The great railroad companies have begun in this, and the tendency is such that before long the young man who wishes to succeed in business must be sober minded. There are a hundred ways in which prohibition has been a benefit to Iowa, and like all other good things, they don't come by chance. When communities allow wise men and women to mark out their policies it is not by chance that they prosper. The law of the Almighty is unerring. You cannot cheat him out but you can't. Suppose 4,000 saloons have an average income of one, two, three, or five thousand dollars a year, that is from one state to twenty million dollars gone for naught under heaven of any value. It will not hurt business to put this vast sum in legitimate trade. COLUMBUS TOWNSHIP. A caucus of the republicans of Columbus township is hereby called to meet at the Township Hall, north of the city Saturday, Oct. 4th, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of nominating a township supervisor, justice of the peace, clerk, treasurer, three road overseers and for the transaction of any other business that may properly come before the meeting. 23-21 JOHN TARRANT, Com. Notice of Dissolution. COLUMBUS, Neb., Sept. 15, 1890. Notice is hereby given that the partnership of W. F. Slater & Co., is hereby dissolved, W. F. Slater retiring. Miller Bros. will conduct the business at the Gluck building and assume the indebtedness and collect the accounts. 22-21 W. F. SLATER, MILLER BROS. MARRIED. STERNER-VICTOR—September 25th, at the Presbyterian parsonage, by Rev. J. S. Griswold, Adol. Stern, of Minneapolis, Minn., and Miss Victoria, of Madison county, Mo. ROLLIN-THURSTON—September 25th, at the Presbyterian parsonage, by Rev. J. S. Griswold, Rollin Thurston, of St. Joseph, Mo., and Miss Adeline, daughter of W. J. Thurston. The happy couple have gone to Spokane Falls, their future home, followed by the good wishes of a host of friends. Business Notices. Advertisements under this head five cents a line each insertion. W. M. SCHILZ makes boots and shoes in the best styles, and uses only the very best stock that can be procured in the market. 25-41 WANTED TO EXCHANGE—I have 20 head of good cowboys, good cowboys, good cowboys, and heavy work, which I wish to exchange for good young stock cattle. JOSEPH BECKER, 10-41

PERSONAL. J. M. Edmiston of Lincoln is in the city. Attorney Mondy of Genoa was in town Monday. Frank Gay of Fullerton, was in the city Monday. Oke Green, the Genoa banker, was in town Monday. Henry Zinnecker returned Monday from Sioux City. Dan Condon of South Omaha was in the city Monday. Samuel Galley came down from Creighton Wednesday. Mrs. W. H. Winterbotham returned to Genoa Thursday. John A. Kehoe of Platte Center was in the city Monday. Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hudson went to St. Edward Friday. J. E. North went Saturday to see the Sioux City corn palace. Mrs. J. C. Echols went to Genoa Thursday to visit friends. J. W. Tanner, editor of the Fullerton Post, was in the city Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Pryor of Newman Grove visited friends in the city Friday. D. C. Kavanaugh and Fred Hunter attended the David City fair Friday. Theo. Helmig of Humphrey left Thursday for a visit to his home in Peru, Ind. Mrs. Gna. G. Becher and her daughter Dovie returned yesterday from Sioux City. Mrs. Wm. Hagel and children are visiting friends in Polk county for a few days. Hon. George D. Meiklejohn came down from Fullerton Monday on his way to Omaha. Ed. Hoars, the government farmer at the Genoa Industrial school, was in the city yesterday. Mrs. W. B. Rochon of Octavia, formerly of this city, who has been seriously ill, is now recovering. Rev. Father Ryan went to Wood River Sunday. In twenty-five years he has not missed a day of duty. Mrs. Robert McPherson of Haigler, Dundy county, was among her old Colfax county friends last week. Mrs. Clara Schroeder and son Gus went to Sioux City Wednesday to see the Corn Palace and visit friends. Rev. Harper and family left of Wood River, passed through the city Saturday to their new home at Cedar Rapids. Saturday Adolph Sauer, H. P. Cowledge, Miss Mary Bremer and Mrs. J. W. Cowledge were at the Sioux City corn palace. Mrs. George Burke and children of Omaha who have been visiting friends in the city the past week, returned home Monday. Rev. James T. Worley, of China, a young minister and brother of Rev. W. M. Worley, was in the city Saturday and gave us a brief call. E. H. Chambers, G. L. Speich, J. E. North, A. L. Bixby and L. H. Webb were attendants at the Nance county fair at Fullerton Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Delaman, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Davis and Charles Schroeder went to Sioux City Thursday evening, to look at the Corn Palace. Ellis Brown of Cedar Rapids, son of G. W. Brown, passed through the city Monday, going to Norfolk to accept a position there as telegraph operator. John M. Kelley of Monroe, one of the best of men, was in the city Friday and gave his old friends of THE JOURNAL office a very pleasant call. S. C. Woodruff, managing editor of the Republican at Stromburg, Polk county, called at these headquarters Wednesday morning, on his way home from north Nebraska. Wilkie Speich Thursday evening entertained a party of his young friends at the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Speich. A very enjoyable evening is reported. J. M. Curtis has returned from New Tacoma, where he went some months ago with Dr. Selvig. After passing through Montana, etc., Curtis says it seems like heaven to drop down into eastern Nebraska. Mrs. Charity Smith went to Cheyenne, Wyo., Wednesday last. THE JOURNAL will keep her posted on local news hereabouts the coming year. Her many friends will be pleased to hear of her prosperity wherever she may be. Another Convention. Monday afternoon at the court house in this city, the democrats of Platte and Lincoln counties, met in convention, by the order of the convention, and after selecting O. E. Green of Genoa as chairman, and D. F. Davis of this city as secretary, proceeded to business. George E. Willard, a well-known democrat of this city, was declared the unanimous choice of the convention as their candidate for representative of the 25th district. The convention selected J. W. Tanner of Nance and D. F. Davis of Platte as members of their central committee for the next two years. George Willard is a good man, liked by everybody, but we don't believe this is George's year to be elected to the legislature. Rev. James K. Maxfield, entering upon his pastorate of the M. E. church in Bellwood for another year, asks the public generally for support that no part of his time may be needed for secular employment. He says: "If I am allowed to utter anything worth hearing, from the pulpit, I must have ample time for preparation, with the best helpers at hand." This is the language of the student, trained after the ordinary methods, rather than the disciple, thoroughly imbued with the spirit, and believing that what is said, is given by the spirit. Rev. and Mrs. Worley and Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Baker went to Barwood Monday evening to hear the lecture of Rev. James Worley on the Chinese. Mr. Baker gives a very glowing description of the lecture, and says that he would not have missed it for a very great deal. It is probable that Mr. Worley will lecture in this city shortly, and if he does everybody at all interested in the peculiar customs, laws, superstitions, etc., of this strange people, should hear him. JOHN HANEY INJURED. An Able, Candid Man Delivers his Sentiments on the Question of Prohibition. Ex-Gov. Larrabee of the great state of Iowa is justly regarded as one of the able men of the country. On the question of transportation, he stands at the head of those state executives who have sought to enforce the just views of the people in regard to freight rates on railroads. He is, evidently, a plain, fair-minded, sincere man, and for these reasons he had a large audience to greet him last Thursday evening at the opera house, where he spoke under the auspices of the non-partisan league. At 8 o'clock the meeting was opened by prayer by Rev. Worley, after which J. N. Heater introduced the speaker. He referred to the fact that the responsibility, in good part, of the future welfare of a state or community, depends upon the character of the early settlers. In this respect Nebraska has the advantage of many of the older states of the union because, in a sense, she has a picked class of people, and therefore as a commonwealth, greater facilities and advantages. To have good results it is necessary to have a solid foundation to build upon. Material and intellectual progress are not the only things to consider—the moral element is chief. As Lecky says "moral strength is what makes a great people." The church, the school, the home are the three great educators. In the progress of civilization every community has new problems to solve, and when an evil is permitted to grow it is always at great cost to the community. Our wisest statesmen, from the beginning, saw that slavery would bring us trouble, and it did, an immense cost of life and treasure. Now, we have in the liquor traffic a greater evil than slavery. That had what might be called compensating incidents. This has none. Nobody is bettered by it. Farming is necessary to raise wheat, corn, cattle, hogs, etc.; the merchant is necessary to supply us with needed articles of consumption; mechanics are needed to build our homes, etc.; doctors and lawyers are necessary, but we can dispense with the traffic in intoxicating liquors. Not a man or family would be injured if the sale of intoxicating liquors should cease. None of this audience dreamed forty years ago that they would live to see slavery abolished in this country, but it did take place. So it will with the traffic in liquors. He had not expected to see the traffic cease in Iowa. He had, with others, believed in and worked for a license law aimed at reducing the traffic to the minimum, but with no hope of doing away with it altogether. He had changed his mind, and declared to his audience that if they could have the information that he had had in the last ten years, they would doubtless be of his opinion. He declared his faith in the honesty, ability and integrity of the people of the great state of Nebraska, and the propriety of the rank and file of the political parties are right, and can be thoroughly trusted. He cited an example at the outset of the Rebellion, saying that many officers who had been educated at West Point, and had become prominent, proved traitors to the government and proved the service of the Confederacy, but history does not record a single instance of a private turning traitor at the beginning of the Rebellion. He then gave a history, somewhat in detail, of the legal contest in Iowa against the liquor traffic. As the enforcement of the law, he says that between 1830 and 1840 saloons have been opened in the state, and there is not one-tenth the liquor sold as before, and he believed not one-twentieth; he had talked with railroad superintendents who said they didn't ship now one car load where they had formerly carried a train, or one barrel of whiskey where formerly it had been a car load. He turned his attention to the assertion that prohibition hurts business, and asked How? Grass still grows in Iowa, corn, wheat, pigs, cattle, boys and girls. The men and boys do better work without the liquor. Does your boy take better care of your horses by reason of drinking liquor? Is there a man in the society who prefers his boy to use intoxicating liquors? There is a growing disposition among all classes who employ help not to engage those who are addicted to drink. The great railroad companies have begun in this, and the tendency is such that before long the young man who wishes to succeed in business must be sober minded. There are a hundred ways in which prohibition has been a benefit to Iowa, and like all other good things, they don't come by chance. When communities allow wise men and women to mark out their policies it is not by chance that they prosper. The law of the Almighty is unerring. You cannot cheat him out but you can't. Suppose 4,000 saloons have an average income of one, two, three, or five thousand dollars a year, that is from one state to twenty million dollars gone for naught under heaven of any value. It will not hurt business to put this vast sum in legitimate trade. COLUMBUS TOWNSHIP. A caucus of the republicans of Columbus township is hereby called to meet at the Township Hall, north of the city Saturday, Oct. 4th, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of nominating a township supervisor, justice of the peace, clerk, treasurer, three road overseers and for the transaction of any other business that may properly come before the meeting. 23-21 JOHN TARRANT, Com. Notice of Dissolution. COLUMBUS, Neb., Sept. 15, 1890. Notice is hereby given that the partnership of W. F. Slater & Co., is hereby dissolved, W. F. Slater retiring. Miller Bros. will conduct the business at the Gluck building and assume the indebtedness and collect the accounts. 22-21 W. F. SLATER, MILLER BROS. MARRIED. STERNER-VICTOR—September 25th, at the Presbyterian parsonage, by Rev. J. S. Griswold, Adol. Stern, of Minneapolis, Minn., and Miss Victoria, of Madison county, Mo. ROLLIN-THURSTON—September 25th, at the Presbyterian parsonage, by Rev. J. S. Griswold, Rollin Thurston, of St. Joseph, Mo., and Miss Adeline, daughter of W. J. Thurston. The happy couple have gone to Spokane Falls, their future home, followed by the good wishes of a host of friends. Business Notices. Advertisements under this head five cents a line each insertion. W. M. SCHILZ makes boots and shoes in the best styles, and uses only the very best stock that can be procured in the market. 25-41 WANTED TO EXCHANGE—I have 20 head of good cowboys, good cowboys, good cowboys, and heavy work, which I wish to exchange for good young stock cattle. JOSEPH BECKER, 10-41

WE ARE READY FOR THIS FALL'S COMBAT!

ALL OUR GOODS WITH THE EXCEPTION OF A FEW ARE IN AND WE ARE Ready to Supply ALL Demands!

We have taken particular pains and labor to purchase goods the cheapest and have paid marked attention to their

WORKMANSHIP, - FIT - AND - STYLE!

WE ARE ESPECIALLY PROUD OF OUR CHILDREN'S SUITS. Our Selection of Overcoats is a Grand Success all Through!

In fact everything is nicely assorted. Our prices are lower than the lowest. All goods are marked in plain figures and strictly one price. We treat everyone alike and one can buy as cheap as another. We are the only Exclusive - Clothiers - in - Platte - County!

DO YOUR TRADING AT THE GLOBE AND SAVE TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. MAURICE A. MAYER, Thirteenth St. THE GLOBE CLOTHIER, COLUMBUS, NEB.

Proclamation. WHEREAS a joint resolution was adopted by the legislature of the state of Nebraska at its twenty-first session...

Proclamation. WHEREAS a joint resolution was adopted by the legislature of the state of Nebraska at its twenty-first session...

Proclamation. WHEREAS a joint resolution was adopted by the legislature of the state of Nebraska at its twenty-first session...

Proclamation. WHEREAS a joint resolution was adopted by the legislature of the state of Nebraska at its twenty-first session...

Proclamation. WHEREAS a joint resolution was adopted by the legislature of the state of Nebraska at its twenty-first session...

Proclamation. WHEREAS a joint resolution was adopted by the legislature of the state of Nebraska at its twenty-first session...

Proclamation. WHEREAS a joint resolution was adopted by the legislature of the state of Nebraska at its twenty-first session...

Proclamation. WHEREAS a joint resolution was adopted by the legislature of the state of Nebraska at its twenty-first session...

Proclamation. WHEREAS a joint resolution was adopted by the legislature of the state of Nebraska at its twenty-first session...

Proclamation. WHEREAS a joint resolution was adopted by the legislature of the state of Nebraska at its twenty-first session...

Proclamation. WHEREAS a joint resolution was adopted by the legislature of the state of Nebraska at its twenty-first session...

Proclamation. WHEREAS a joint resolution was adopted by the legislature of the state of