

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1920.

A. &amp; N. TIME TABLE.

Leaves Columbus	Arrives	Leaves Columbus	Arrives
Atlantic City	10:30 a. m.	St. Louis	11:30 a. m.
St. Louis	11:30 a. m.	Atlantic City	12:30 p. m.
St. Louis	11:30 a. m.	Atlantic City	12:30 p. m.
St. Louis	11:30 a. m.	Atlantic City	12:30 p. m.

The passenger train leaves Lincoln at 12:30 p. m., and arrives at Columbus 2:30 p. m.; the freight train leaves Lincoln at 1:30 a. m., and arrives at Columbus at 3:15 p. m.

UNION PACIFIC TIME TABLE.

Leaves Columbus	Arrives	Leaves Columbus	Arrives
St. Louis	11:30 a. m.	St. Louis	11:30 a. m.
St. Louis	11:30 a. m.	St. Louis	11:30 a. m.
St. Louis	11:30 a. m.	St. Louis	11:30 a. m.

Passenger train from Sioux City, 11:30 a. m.; leaves Columbus for Lincoln, 11:30 a. m.; arrives at Lincoln, 11:30 a. m.

Passenger train from Lincoln, 11:30 a. m.; leaves Columbus for Sioux City, 11:30 a. m.; arrives at Sioux City, 11:30 a. m.

Passenger train from Sioux City, 11:30 a. m.; leaves Columbus for Lincoln, 11:30 a. m.; arrives at Lincoln, 11:30 a. m.

Passenger train from Lincoln, 11:30 a. m.; leaves Columbus for Sioux City, 11:30 a. m.; arrives at Sioux City, 11:30 a. m.

Society Notices.

All notices under this heading will be charged at the rate of $2 a year.

LEBANON LODGE No. 56, A. E. A. M., Regular meeting 24 Wednesday evening, 8:30 o'clock. All members invited to attend.

M. H. WHITE, Sec'y.

REORGANIZED CHURCH OF LATTER-DAY SAINTS hold regular services every Sunday at 2 p. m., prayer meeting on Wednesday evening at their chapel, corner of North and Pacific Avenues. All are cordially invited.

Register. Rain Saturday. Don't neglect to register. Register that you may vote.

Fillman. A pension has been granted to Wm. S. Motter, Genoa.

This is the last issue, with us, of the delinquent tax list.

Old newspapers by the hundred, 25 cents at the JOURNAL OFFICE.

Wagon loads of apples in town last week selling at $1 a bushel.

All the big little towns in Nebraska are calling for sugar factories.

Dr. T. R. Clark, successor to Dr. Schung, Olive st. In office at night.

G. G. Bowman has purchased a residence in Kant's addition to Omaha.

Books, Toys, Pianos, Organs, Sewing Machines, E. D. Fitzpatrick, 13th st.

A great number of stoves were put in good repair and cleaned up last week.

My girl wants a new cap, and today to get them at C. Fillman's.

The Earnest Workers of the M. E. church met this (Wednesday) evening at Rev. Worley's.

We take the time in which time and money are so scarce to give the lowest, J. C. Fillman's.

There must have been considerable snow in the mountains last week, for the "foot of the air" hummer.

Rudolph Krummer had a stroke of paralysis of the left side Saturday morning while at breakfast.

John H. Powers, independent candidate for governor, is to speak in this city next Tuesday, Oct. 21.

Jenni Bros. have the Holstein at the head of their herd.

Lost, a Sterling and a book belonging to the choir of the Methodist church. Please leave at the office, 25-2.

The celebrated Quick-Meat, and Monarch cigarettes, the best in the market. For sale by A. Boettcher, 4th.

Snyder, one of the men under trial and who turned state's evidence, has a young wife who is dying with consumption.

Wm. Dietrich has put an iron floor to the front of his business house, which adds both to the appearance and value of the place.

After my property in the western part of the city for sale cheap or cash. Could take possession immediately.

Mary A. Hill.

For Harrison wagons and Cortland spring wagons and buggies, call on J. A. Gutzmer, opposite Dowdy's drug store. He is sure to satisfy you in price and quality.

Tuesday afternoon C. H. Davis, while at work, let his ax slip, and striking his right foot, cut a gash three inches long. Dr. Stillman dressed the wound.

The ladies of the Baptist aid society solicit plain sewing, mending and knitting. Work may be left with Mrs. M. Wright, or if notified by mail she will call for it.

The republican senatorial convention for this district is in session as we go to press (Tuesday afternoon). It is supposed that O. Nelson will receive the nomination.

A. Haight has purchased the lot just east of E. C. Green's residence, of the last named gentleman, and will begin the erection of a fine new dwelling house immediately.

Walter Graves, a brakeman on the U. P., had the fingers of his left hand pinched last Tuesday night, while switching in the yard here. Dr. Martin dressed the wound.

The city council transacted no business Saturday evening for want of a quorum, Garlow and Pollock being out of town, and Gouding detained at home by sickness in his family.

The case of Daniel Casey held for the murder of Mrs. Bearden, was on trial last week at David City before Judge A. M. Post. Judge Evans and Matt. Miller are his attorneys.

Nancy Nicholas, who was brought here from Norfolk several weeks ago and taken to the Sisters' hospital to be treated for consumption, died Wednesday night last and was buried Thursday.

Children Cry for
Pitcher's Castoria.

Children Cry for
Pitcher's Castoria.

Pensions have recently been granted Daniel Malloy of Platte Center and Daniel D. Brainerd of David City.

Gates Bros. of Richland started for Holt county last week with the remainder of their cattle and horses. They put up a large quantity of hay there, and now they will have an opportunity to feed it out.

At one time last week it was reported that there was no coal in town, and dealers had sent orders three weeks ago, were not able to get any of the precious "black diamonds." Later there was a supply received.

On the 20th of last month at Ft. Dodge, Iowa, Clint G. Ford, a player well known to Columbus theater-goers, was killed by his star, Bertha Diddle. She quarreled with Ford and stabbed him, of which wound he died in a few days.

Hon. Thos. Wolfe returned last week from Europe whither he went in June and he has been traveling ever since. He made England, Scotland, France, Germany and Switzerland and returned feeling well paid for his trip—David City Tribune.

L. E. S. A. who has opened here the past season as a contractor and builder, has come up missing, and it is supposed that he will remain so, to the loss of several creditors, including ourselves. He has been losing money on about every job he undertook.

John P. St. John, the celebrated prohibition orator of Kansas, spoke in the opera house Monday evening, for two hours to a large and very attentive audience. He dealt largely in statistics, and claims that prohibition in Kansas is better than any form of license law.

At the late session of the M. E. conference, a conference of the G. A. R. was organized, twenty-five of the hundred members being old soldiers, and joining the Post. Rev. Pillsbury of Grand Island was elected Post Commander and Rev. Worley of this city Vice Commander.

Joe Kuehnle, the crazy Polisher who is confined in the county jail, took one of his mean spells Sunday and in the absence of the sheriff and his deputy turned on the water from one of the pipes and flooded the jail. Sheriff Caldwell had to hand-cuff him, and Monday morning he was very quiet.

We are in receipt of a letter from Frank E. Woodford, whose post-office is in Bennett, Pa. He thinks seriously of settling down as a railroad engineer, and of his days. He says wages are a little higher in that country than here, as is also the living. He sends his regards to all his old friends and would like to hear from them any time.

Pearl Hart returned last Tuesday, and expects to go into business in this city and make it his future home. In August, 1889, he married a very estimable lady named Eliza Pettis, so that he is doubly welcomed to the city. We know Mr. Hart, and whatever business he concludes to enter, you will find him capable, thorough and honest in it.

We are in receipt of a letter from our old-time, Ohio friend, R. W. Wilkin, familiarly known all over that country as the "bee-man." He is now in Ventura, Cal., and is in the honey-producing business. He says that, at Los Angeles, he occasionally sees James Geogans, an other Ohio boy who has sought the favoring climate of the land of sunshine.

John Wise and wife returned Monday from a trip to Kansas City, where they visited their son, Samuel. At the soldiers' reunion at Topeka, Mr. Wise met a great many of his old army comrades of the 103d Infantry, among them his major and captain, whom he had not seen since the war. There, also, he saw President Harrison, who John says, is a fine looking, able man.

C. W. Schaff, general manager of the Grand Island Sugar Palace Exposition, was in the city Thursday and gave us a pleasant call. The capacity of the factory is 150 barrels a day, the run now actually made is 200 barrels. He tells us they will shut down inside of 90 days. The average sugar contract was 2,300. Mr. S. had with him a sample of the sugar, which was certainly very fine.

The JOURNAL last week mentioned that invitations were out to the wedding of H. D. Shaw and Miss Anna Naylor. The mistake was one of those blunders that sometimes will happen. The invitations were for the marriage of the gentleman named with some Pennsylvania lady, and got to Miss Naylor. The JOURNAL begs forgiveness for giving circulation to what we, at the time, regarded as true.

Chief Taylor went to North Bend Friday last and arrested George Kernoble, who was charged with stealing a saddle from an emigrant here, the article being worth $50. He was arraigned before Judge Brindley, and he said that he bought the saddle from a man named Snyder, and the man had been evidence enough against the man to convict him, he was turned loose, but the rightful owner got the saddle.

H. J. Hudson, representative of Wiley Lodge, I. O. O. F., went to Beatrice Monday to be in readiness for the Grand Lodge of the state, which convened yesterday and which will be in session to Friday. It is thought that among other things of interest to be discussed will be whether men of 18 shall be eligible to membership in the order. The Grand Lodge may make a suggestion on the subject to the Sovereign Lodge.

About twenty of the young people gathered at the home of Mrs. A. McPherson for the celebration of the evening of the twenty-first birthday of Miss Anna. Games, cards and oysters were included in, and after an enjoyable three hours had sped away and a neat lunch devoured, the company adjourned, all wishing Miss McPherson many tokens of joy. Miss Anna was the recipient of several useful and pretty presents. —[Clarke Chronicle.]

John Schmoker of Duncan was in the city Saturday with the first load of sugar beets we have seen ready for the market. On about a quarter of an acre he raised about two tons. He is of the opinion that they will not be profitable for farmers to raise unless they can get about $5 a ton for them. To raise them in large quantities some better way must be found than planting and cultivating by hand; the digging, cleaning and topping is no small job either.

PERSONAL.

Gus Becker was at Schuyler Monday. R. H. Henry went to Omaha yesterday. David Thomas was in town yesterday on business.

H. C. Markel and family will move to Omaha Thursday.

George Scheidel of Platte Center was in town yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Swain have returned to the city, we hear to stay.

Wm. Biedorn of Platte Center was a Columbus visitor Friday.

Mrs. Hagaman of Concordia, Kan., is visiting F. C. Green's family.

S. C. Gray has returned home, and is afflicted with an ulcerated tooth.

Several members of G. G. Bowman's family are afflicted with tonsillitis.

Henry Hewitt of Rising was in the city Monday and Tuesday, on business.

Congressman Dorsey passed through the city Wednesday on his way to Grand Island.

L. S. McCoy, editor of the Silver Creek Oriole, made this office a pleasant call Monday.

Adolph Sauer left Monday for Ogden. His many friends here wish him success at his new home.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Davis attended the funeral of their uncle Henry Davis at Schuyler Monday.

W. J. Newman, George Scott and H. M. Winslow went yesterday to the republican senatorial convention at Schuyler.

M. T. Kinney, a former resident here, was in the city Monday. He is now traveling for the National Tobacco Works of Louisville, Ky., making his headquarters in Omaha.

H. M. Winslow returned home Sunday from the north. He goes to Massachusetts, where his wife and daughter went some time ago, his son-in-law, C. J. Garlow starting Friday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wilch of Schuyler were in the city Saturday, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mathews, the latter of whom is their daughter. He tells us that the man whom constable Strabs shot twice while attempting to arrest him, has fled the country.

A. Anderson and W. B. Backus returned Friday night from their trip to Wyoming. Mr. Backus bringing with him eight Indians for the school at Genoa. Mr. A. reports a very enjoyable trip, but at the first shot of his gun, it kicked so hard that it skinned his nose and made his shoulder so sore that it feels heavy yet.

E. W. Sims and son Walter of Madison were in the city Tuesday evening on their way home from New York city, where they had been for three weeks past for the purpose of placing the boy under treatment for hydrophobia. In a talk with Mr. Sims he told us that his son was having, Aug. 10th, when their dog one that he had raised, and that had never shown any signs of madness, ran a calf against a barbed-wire fence and was biting it; he went to it, and in striking it to make it let go the calf, the dog turned and bit the boy in the arm. He then ran away and they never heard anything of him afterwards. Five head of cattle were bit, two of which died of hydrophobia and three were shot, to put them out of their misery. The sight of the animals in torments and the fact that the son had also been bitten, nearly distracted the father, and he took his boy to the Eastern Institute at New York city. The physician in charge told him that the lad would be slightly sick the ninth day; and that was all the trouble he had while under treatment, which consisted only of injections into each side, 67 in number, and at a depth of 3/4 of an inch. After three weeks he was pronounced all right. Mr. Sims gives a very interesting description of the institute and of the work of the physicians, all Frenchmen. They have there, all the time, under treatment for hydrophobia, from twelve to twenty-five patients. The cost to Mr. Sims was $200. The boy is a bright-looking lad of thirteen years, and has every appearance of being in sound health.

From a communication in the Clarke Chronicle, from J. C. Martin (who with W. B. Backus and A. Anderson have been hunting in Wyoming) we quote: "There is no place so much like hell as Wyoming." "Superintendent Backus shot the first deer, which turned out to be a tame one, blind, crippled, and tied to a tree. However, it made good eating. The first trout was captured by a rabbit. Anderson, who secured it from an Indian in exchange for a square meal and smoke." "Backus lost his corns and several years accumulation of dirt in the springs" (hot springs near the Shoshone agency). "The Indians name persons from some peculiar feature or characteristic. They called Anderson 'Scarred Nose,' as he had some sticking plaster on his nose from a wound received when shooting a rabbit stone for a rabbit. They called Backus 'Big Eyes,' and you correspondent had a more expressive than elegant cognomen, founded on the appearance of his trousers, which had been fractured in an encounter with a saddle on a bucking broncho. Backus had no difficulty in winning a wager that he could eat more trout than Anderson could catch. Our party saw two grizzly bears before they saw us, so all escaped without harm. The bears were going west, so we went east, as we had not lost any bears. As the laws of Wyoming prohibit the taking of any game out of the state, we can only tell of the large quantity killed. Many amusing incidents happened on the trip, but would probably be interesting only to the participants.

J. B. Tschudy, P. Laughlin and A. M. Jennings have each received by express, free of charge to them, a handsome book of 844 pages entitled "Minnesota in the Civil and Indian Wars," the preparation of the board of commissioners appointed by the act of legislation of April 16, 1889. The whole number of names of soldiers printed in the volume is 26,717. It was Minnesota that furnished the first three-year regiment that reached the seat of war. It was a Minnesota regiment that sustained the greatest loss in the greatest battle of the war—the 1st Minnesota at Gettysburg. Of the 292 men who made the charge 215 lay upon the field. The book is a very interesting one, and a credit to the great state which gives it to her soldiers.

HELD UP A BOX CAR.

Five Men Arrested for Breaking Open and Stealing Hardware from a Car on the F. P. Track Last Winter.

A JOURNAL reporter interviewed Frank Snyder, one of the five implicated in the stealing, and gleaned the following from him:

He says the theft was committed a little while after Christmas last winter, and on the night of the robbery Gray told them that he had not purchased any car since he had lived here, went on to tell them his mode of getting it; that when the trains stopped at the B. & M. crossing he would get on a car that was loaded with coal and by time the train got to the depot here, he would have enough thrown off to last him several days; so when the train whistled they went to the packing house, and Ott Butterfield said to Snyder: "Here is a car loaded with groceries." Snyder says Butterfield opened the car door and went in and that he, Snyder, threw the first box out, and Butterfield threw the rest, four boxes in all, and four packages. The boxes contained shoes and the packages, smoking tobacco. He said that Gray, Shilling and Barr carried the boxes and tobacco over to Gray's house and secreted them in between the walls of the house.

Frank Snyder and his wife moved to Fullerton, where Mrs. Snyder's mother lives, and everything went on smoothly until Mrs. Snyder told her mother about the robbery here, and in some way Sheriff Mawhinney got some clue of it and about six weeks ago he went to Snyder and got a full confession out of him; he telling the sheriff where the shoes were located in Gray's house, and the men who were implicated with him in the robbery.

Sheriff Mawhinney wrote to Sheriff Caldwell with regard to it and the latter and Deputy Campbell went to Gray's house, arrested him, searched the house and found the shoes that were hidden and the men who were implicated with him in the robbery.

They then went to Grand Prairie town and arrested Wm. Schilling and brought him to this city, and the authorities at Creighton were notified to arrest George Barr and Ott Butterfield, which they did, and Sheriff Caldwell deputized W. H. Randall to go after them and he returned with his prisoners Monday noon.

Sunday morning Sheriff Caldwell and Charles Wake went to Gray's house and made another search but did not find anything until they went into the cellar, and the sheriff took the handle of a shovel and commenced rapping on some boards under the stairway and something fell onto a piece of tin that was used as a cover to an earthen jar. They took the boards off and in these jars they found thirty more pairs of shoes.

As we go to press, the hearing of the men is being had before Judge Hensley. Frank Snyder, Ott Butterfield and George Barr gave bonds for their appearance at district court. Wm. Schilling and Lee Gray had not yet given bond and were in charge of the sheriff.

LATHER BENSON.

This noted lecturer talked to a good audience at the M. E. church Thursday evening. He is the author of the book called "Fifteen Years in Hell," and if there is a hell upon earth, he certainly sounded its depths when he suffered the pangs of delirium tremens as he describes them. He is nervous, irritable and very intent upon fixing his thought upon the minds of his hearers; has a vivid imagination and is a good word-painter. Though speaking very rapidly, nearly two hundred words a minute, he speaks distinctly. To those who have never been familiar with the sufferings of the victim of delirium tremens and scarcely one in a thousand has, his brief lecture was a revelation. In this brief mention, we can only give a suggestion of what he said.

There are no arguments in favor of the liquor traffic. The best way to lecture on temperance is to answer the objections made to it. The moderate drinker nearly always quotes Paul's admonition to Timothy to take a little wine for his stomach's sake, but he never told him to go and get Peter, James and John to go with him to a saloon and fill up well. Be temperate in all good things. As a drunkard he had tried to taper off but he found the taper tried to get about as wide as the whole northern end of Indiana. Moderate drinkers make drunkards, but drunkards don't make moderate drinkers. The only proper way to do is to cure the drunkard before he gets the disease. He purposed to make his boys superstitious against the use of liquor. A reformed drunkard, mortally sick, was prescribed liquor, but he refused to take it, saying "I wouldn't live a life that liquor would save." In the last hundred years in America ten million graves have been dug for the victims of liquor. The picture of the craving for liquor was a lurid picture. Water satisfies thirst, bread satisfies hunger, but liquor satisfies neither, but creates a craving that is more and more impossible of satisfying. "Wine is a mocker." With reference to drink there are two roads open to the young men of this country, one of which leads to starchy heights, the other to the dark dungeons of despair and remorse. Take temptation away from the boys. He dwelt on first impressions, and claimed that those of the young from the age of one hour to that of ten years were the very strongest, and were remembered the longest. He knew that he inherited the appetite for liquor, and gave some of the reasons why he knew it, and it seemed to him that the craving was two thousand years old in his veins. You think you don't inherit anything—the fact is you inherit everything—the appetite for drink has the same relation to liquor as powder has to fire—kept separate, all peace, but bring them close enough together, and you have an explosion.

When he couldn't get liquor he would drink vinegar, camphor, sulphuric acid. He had lain down at the gates of hell, when every hair of his head seemed a blaze of fire, and every blade a hissing viper. He said that his boys were taught to drink, and he gave some of the reasons why he knew it, and it seemed to him that the craving was two thousand years old in his veins. You think you don't inherit anything—the fact is you inherit everything—the appetite for drink has the same relation to liquor as powder has to fire—kept separate, all peace, but bring them close enough together, and you have an explosion.

When he couldn't get liquor he would drink vinegar, camphor, sulphuric acid. He had lain down at the gates of hell, when every hair of his head seemed a blaze of fire, and every blade a hissing viper. He said that his boys were taught to drink, and he gave some of the reasons why he knew it, and it seemed to him that the craving was two thousand years old in his veins. You think you don't inherit anything—the fact is you inherit everything—the appetite for drink has the same relation to liquor as powder has to fire—kept separate, all peace, but bring them close enough together, and you have an explosion.

When he couldn't get liquor he would drink vinegar, camphor, sulphuric acid. He had lain down at the gates of hell, when every hair of his head seemed a blaze of fire, and every blade a hissing viper. He said that his boys were taught to drink, and he gave some of the reasons why he knew it, and it seemed to him that the craving was two thousand years old in his veins. You think you don't inherit anything—the fact is you inherit everything—the appetite for drink has the same relation to liquor as powder has to fire—kept separate, all peace, but bring them close enough together, and you have an explosion.

When he couldn't get liquor he would drink vinegar, camphor, sulphuric acid. He had lain down at the gates of hell, when every hair of his head seemed a blaze of fire, and every blade a hissing viper. He said that his boys were taught to drink, and he gave some of the reasons why he knew it, and it seemed to him that the craving was two thousand years old in his veins. You think you don't inherit anything—the fact is you inherit everything—the appetite for drink has the same relation to liquor as powder has to fire—kept separate, all peace, but bring them close enough together, and you have an explosion.

When he couldn't get liquor he would drink vinegar, camphor, sulphuric acid. He had lain down at the gates of hell, when every hair of his head seemed a blaze of fire, and every blade a hissing viper. He said that his boys were taught to drink, and he gave some of the reasons why he knew it, and it seemed to him that the craving was two thousand years old in his veins. You think you don't inherit anything—the fact is you inherit everything—the appetite for drink has the same relation to liquor as powder has to fire—kept separate, all peace, but bring them close enough together, and you have an explosion.

When he couldn't get liquor he would drink vinegar, camphor, sulphuric acid. He had lain down at the gates of hell, when every hair of his head seemed a blaze of fire, and every blade a hissing viper. He said that his boys were taught to drink, and he gave some of the reasons why he knew it, and it seemed to him that the craving was two thousand years old in his veins. You think you don't inherit anything—the fact is you inherit everything—the appetite for drink has the same relation to liquor as powder has to fire—kept separate, all peace, but bring them close enough together, and you have an explosion.

When he couldn't get liquor he would drink vinegar, camphor, sulphuric acid. He had lain down at the gates of hell, when every hair of his head seemed a blaze of fire, and every blade a hissing viper. He said that his boys were taught to drink, and he gave some of the reasons why he knew it, and it seemed to him that the craving was two thousand years old in his veins. You think you don't inherit anything—the fact is you inherit everything—the appetite for drink has the same relation to liquor as powder has to fire—kept separate, all peace, but bring them close enough together, and you have an explosion.

When he couldn't get liquor he would drink vinegar, camphor, sulphuric acid. He had lain down at the gates of hell, when every hair of his head seemed a blaze of fire, and every blade a hissing viper. He said that his boys were taught to drink, and he gave some of the reasons why he knew it, and it seemed to him that the craving was two thousand years old in his veins. You think you don't inherit anything—the fact is you inherit everything—the appetite for drink has the same relation to liquor as powder has to fire—kept separate, all peace, but bring them close enough together, and you have an explosion.

MARRIED.

BURROWS-HALE, Oct. 12th, at the residence of E. T. James, esq., brother of the bride, in Burrows township, Rev. J. H. Burrows, officiating, Mr. and Mrs. Jennie Hale.

DIED. HAUER, Thursday, Oct. 9th, of paralysis, Tobias C. Hauer, aged 81 years. Some months ago Mr. Hauer was stricken with paralysis of the right side, and though he rallied from it somewhat, and was able to be about and do light work, the stroke seemed to permanently affect him, and he never entirely recovered from it. His death-stroke came while he was doing chores at his barn.

Mr. Hauer was born in Germany in 1829, came to this country when a boy of 11 years and lived at Columbus, O., then in Kansas. In the summer of '79 he removed to this city, and has since resided here. He leaves a wife and two children—Emma, wife of F. H. Hauer of this city, and Miss Louise Hauer.

He was an excellent citizen, a loving, consistent husband, and a fond father. The home circle is broken, and the loss of the family is irreparable. Only he, in whose hand is the destiny of all, can give consolation in such affliction.

The funeral services were held at the family residence Sunday afternoon at 2, Rev. H. Miesler officiating, and a very large concourse of friends and friends followed the remains to the cemetery.

ESTATE NOTICE. Taken with my personal one and sent of ONE EIGHTED NOW. white mare in face, and white mare, white hind legs. She is a good horse, and is in this condition. H. M. Miesler.

MARRIED.

BURROWS-HALE, Oct. 12th, at the residence of E. T. James, esq., brother of the bride, in Burrows township, Rev. J. H. Burrows, officiating, Mr. and Mrs. Jennie Hale.

DIED. HAUER, Thursday, Oct. 9th, of paralysis, Tobias C. Hauer, aged 81 years. Some months ago Mr. Hauer was stricken with paralysis of the right side, and though he rallied from it somewhat, and was able to be about and do light work, the stroke seemed to permanently affect him, and he never entirely recovered from it. His death-stroke came while he was doing chores at his barn.

Mr. Hauer was born in Germany in 1829, came to this country when a boy of 11 years and lived at Columbus, O., then in Kansas. In the summer of '79 he removed to this city, and has since resided here. He leaves a wife and two children—Emma, wife of F. H. Hauer of this city, and Miss Louise Hauer.

He was an excellent citizen, a loving, consistent husband, and a fond father. The home circle is broken, and the loss of the family is irreparable. Only he, in whose hand is the destiny of all, can give consolation in such affliction.

The funeral services were held at the family residence Sunday afternoon at 2, Rev. H. Miesler officiating, and a very large concourse of friends and friends followed the remains to the cemetery.

ESTATE NOTICE. Taken with my personal one and sent of ONE EIGHTED NOW. white mare in face, and white mare, white hind legs. She is a good horse, and is in this condition. H. M. Miesler.

ESTATE NOTICE. Taken with my personal one and sent of ONE EIGHTED NOW. white mare in face, and white mare, white hind legs. She is a good horse, and is in this condition. H. M. Miesler.

ESTATE NOTICE. Taken with my personal one and sent of ONE EIGHTED NOW. white mare in face, and white mare, white hind legs. She is a good horse, and is in this condition. H. M. Miesler.

ESTATE NOTICE. Taken with my personal one and sent of ONE EIGHTED NOW. white mare in face, and white mare, white hind legs. She is a good horse, and is in this condition. H. M. Miesler.

ESTATE NOTICE. Taken with my personal one and sent of ONE EIGHTED NOW. white mare in face, and white mare, white hind legs. She is a good horse, and is in this condition. H. M. Miesler.

ESTATE NOTICE. Taken with my personal one and sent of ONE EIGHTED NOW. white mare in face, and white mare, white hind legs. She is a good horse, and is in this condition. H. M. Miesler.

ESTATE NOTICE. Taken with my personal one and sent of ONE EIGHTED NOW. white mare in face, and white mare, white hind legs. She is a good horse, and is in this condition. H. M. Miesler.

ESTATE NOTICE. Taken with my personal one and sent of ONE EIGHTED NOW. white mare in face, and white mare, white hind legs. She is a good horse, and is in this condition. H. M. Miesler.

ESTATE NOTICE. Taken with my personal one and sent of ONE EIGHTED NOW. white mare in face, and white mare, white hind legs. She is a good horse, and is in this condition. H. M. Miesler.

ESTATE NOTICE. Taken with my personal one and sent of ONE EIGHTED NOW. white mare in face, and white mare, white hind legs. She is a good horse, and is in this condition. H. M. Miesler.

ESTATE NOTICE. Taken with my personal one and sent of ONE EIGHTED NOW. white mare in face, and white mare, white hind legs. She is a good horse, and is in this condition. H. M. Miesler.

ESTATE NOTICE. Taken with my personal one and sent of ONE EIGHTED NOW. white mare in face, and white mare, white hind legs. She is a good horse, and is in this condition. H. M. Miesler.

WE ARE READY FOR THIS FALL'S COMBAT!

ALL OUR GOODS WITH THE EXCEPTION OF A FEW ARE IN AND WE ARE Ready to Supply ALL Demands!