Action and progress are synonymous with republicanism, just as obstruction and retrogression are with democracy.

THE republicans are assured of the control of the United States senate for years to come, and if the voters of the country do their whole duty the party will also continue to control the house of representatives.

Ir has been estimated that the unnecessary roll calls of the house caused by democratic fillibustering during the past session of congress cost the tax payers of the country $85,000.

Or course the McKinley tariff law is a blow at British interests. It was intended to be. The money we have been paying English manufacturers will hereafter be kept at home to pay American trict as well in the future as he has in the past, and there is no reason to doubt it, the Third district will have no reason to regret his fourth term.-[Norfolk

THE good results of the McKinley tariff bill are already apparent. Austria, Germany and Spain are tumbling over each other, so to speak, in their efforts to secure reciprocity treaties with the United States, Republican legislation

THE republican party stands for one thing in every state in the Union. The democratic party stands for anything that promises to gain a few votes anywhere; it sends documents and speeches into one state that it does not dare to send into another.

Word has been passed along the democratic lines, south of the Potomac, to count out every republican elected to congress. If the orders are carried out it will certainly be the last time that voters are so wiped out in any section of this country.

Ir the republicans are defeated in their efforts to retain control of the house of representatives it will be the fault of those republicans who sulk, for one or another cause, and of those who are so confident that the party will win that they do not recognize the necessity for working and voting for its candidate. Continuing the Democrat says: "If Jim Boyd of Omaha with his 'barrel' and his unblushing salacious record is the best the democratic party has to offer the people, then the party should be buried out of sight at the ballot box." And this is all from a democratic paper.

EUROPEAN retaliation on account of the McKinley tariff law seems to be causing some of the democratic editors of the country great trouble. Just why, we cannot see. How can they hurt us? We could get along if there was never another dollar's worth of European goods reported and recommended that the dellanded in this country; in fact many of our profoundest thinkers say we should report was accepted and adopted. Laudable as it may seem in the eyes of the Great Thunderer, we are not just now engaged in that kind of business. The aim of our statesmen, the work of the party which happens just now to be in power, is mainly devoted to the derelopment of our own natural resources. to building up all the diversified industries of our own country, to building factories where needed, to fostering those industries that will give increased employment and bring added prosperity to the people of this land; to dig our gold and silver, coal and tin from our then adjourned.- Schuyler Sun. mountains: to furnish ourselves from our own forests, fields, shops, factories and stores, at least all that we ourselves

These things can be done. They will be done, in time.

Let us help bring them about in the The demand of the people must be

The Political Outlook.

The people of Nebraska have a pecul iar campaign to consider this fall. With the alliance movement well organized prohibition with a ticket, and the democracy after its own success, republicans can hardly afford to throw away votes for the democrats to pack up. The man who, on account of some personal grievence or prejudice, votes against the roost at the most convenient time.

The Pioneer calls particular attention to the danger of sending a democrat to erected until March 4, 1892, and will assemble in its first regular session in the succeeding December. The present congress has been in session but nine months, and a republican majority apconfidence upon a record still incomplete. It comes before the country, however, with this assurance: that if the tured. people really want what they demand, and if they believe in a party that keeps its provises, they must return the repub ans to power in this election.

Indirectly the administration which was chosen is 1888 is also before the people for a sign of their approval, and t, too, enjoys a similar confidence.

It is, therefore, of the greatest importance that republicans should cast aside personal prejudices and vote for the republican ticket - from congressman down. It is very easy to pick flaws in the public life of a man who has been in office, for he is sure to run against some valuable, if patentable, you should lose snags. But what do the other parties offer? The republican platforms. the men who are to aid in carrying out those platforms, are certainly far above anything offered by opposing parties. It is no matter of personality but one of political principle. Republican voters, let your wisdom be on the side which

THE Leland hotel, Syracuse, N. Y. was entirely destroyed by fire Thursday. Total loss $500,000. Twenty-five persons were killed, most of them on the fourth and fifth stories. The fire, which started in the kitchen, spread by means of the elevator well, which was near the stairway, and so all means of escape were cut off and those in the upper story were compelled to jump. The clerk of the hotel began sending in the alarm by telephone, but the flames spread so rapidly that he was driven from the instruown life. The firemen saved many lives. Nothing is left of the building except the elevator shaft and the chimney.

SPEAKER REED.

His Ringing Words at

New York. Thomas B. Reed, whose action during the session of congress has called attention to him from all quarters, delivered a speech last week at Rochester, N.Y. which we reproduce for our readers:

I thank you very heartily for this greeting, but I thank you more heartily because I think this meeting means something. * * * The lines are laid yery deep in the south. One man fol lows in the footsteps of his grandfather He does not believe he knows any more than his grandfather. Another man be lieves in progress; believes that the world is going forward. One man is a democrat, the other is a republican. It We have to go ahead and drag them. I do not say this in a partisan spirit. If a side of the creek. man thinks what I have said has a flavor of selfishness on our part, he has only to take up the principal events of the past thirty years and show what principles have been enunciated and when the different conventions have ratified them. The right of the people to rule is supreme. No king can successfully dare to outrage the public sentiment of his the majority. The majority of the dem der the lash of the southern whip. have heard democratic congress breath and say what they would do at some convenient time. But they never some democrats begin to see this thing rightly. Some are losing their interest in a losing game. Why do these people gather together at every election? do we deposit our ballot on election day? Our system of government is a system of counting heads. Some people think there is a better system. I believe the angels themselves could give no better system than that by which every man i lieve the average intelligence of the people can be depended upon. The government by the people means the right of every man to a place in the government. could such an audience as this be gath

We control over the house as they have over the ballot box. They were mistaken denounced it as an outrage that they physical presence, not their mental, in filled every city with the well-dressed sat through that. But when the question of giving a colored man his seat came up the democratic party was adequately represented by empty benches. Perhaps it was because Prof. Langston had attained to a high order of intelligence. For some reason, at any rate, hey got up and left the building. The tariff bill to pass for the sake of testing the constitutionality of the house pass ing it without a quorum voting. And a lemocrat has already decided that it is supreme court, I hope. But we have a decision by a power more supreme than United States. The people of the United States are not so misguided as to want a democratic house of representatives. If they do, let them have one, with all that it implies. If we get a republican house we want control. hey get a democratic house let them
