W. H. Purbough, a carpenter, is sick at the Lindell house with typhoid fever.

A. J. Arnold will give away a fine diamond ring and other valuable articles of jewelry on January 1, 1909.

Promptly repaying done all kinds of work. We have a large stock of furniture and household goods.

John Judge, on a writ of habeas corpus, gave the care of Mrs. Neisius Kennedy's two children to her, as better for the interest of the children, than to leave them with their father.

Clara Watkins has been selling some of his old corn at 50 cents a bushel at the crib. He thinks it would, as a rule, pay a farmer to hold his corn when the price runs below 20 cents, and feed it to stock.

Merrick county east 987 votes for prohibition and 710 against; 560 for license, 963 against; a majority of 69 against increasing the number of judges, and a majority of 185 against increasing the salaries of judges.

Monday, a man who works at A. Haight's farm (name not learned) had the thumb nail of his right hand pulled off, while trying to keep his team of horses from running off. Dr. Clark dressed the wound for him.

Everyone making a cash purchase of $1.50 at A. J. Arnold's jewelry store will get a chance in the drawing of January 1, 1909. A fine diamond ring and other valuable prizes will be given away.

We have not been able to ascertain the truth of the report that Miss Minnie Disher is again in a trance, as she was for so many weeks five years ago, when her case attracted universal attention throughout the United States.

Superintendent of the city schools J. M. Scott is on the program for the state teachers' meeting at Lincoln, Dec. 30, for a paper, the theme of which is, "The school as an educational qualification for school boards."

One warm day after election, and then it started in cooler, clouds coming Thursday with the wind from the north, where snow had evidently fallen. The political snow of Tuesday, however, was more chilling than the north winds.

Saturday last a tramp giving his name as Dool stole a sign overcoat in front of Tinkel, Williams & Co's store on Eleventh street, but Chief of Police Taylor being informed of the missing article, soon caught the thief and recovered the coat.

Monday last was the sixtieth anniversary of the birthday of C. A. Speice, and the forty-sixth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hudson.

The Maennerchor society jubilated Friday night at their hall over the defeat of prohibition. Speeches were made by G. S. Falgout, J. E. North, D. F. Davis, D. Schupbach and L. Jaeger. The supper and speeches were fully enjoyed by those present.

Jay Holphey has received his first payment on the beets raised by him for the Grand Island party. This will give him in the neighborhood of $67 as a profit for his crop. He was pronounced the finest lot of beets yet received at the factory. -Norfolk News.

W. A. Herndon and Aug. Dietrich, representing J. C. Echols, have been out to John Dietrich's painting line and have seen the very best and most dwelling houses in the country. From the upper story, Columbus, fifteen miles away, appears to view.

Another musical wonder is coming. The following have been made to secure the famous Norwegian violinist, Herr August Amold, and the wonder child pianist, Louis Ellor, to play in this city the fore part of December. Save your pleasure money and hear the second Old Bull.

It was the McKinley bill that downed the republicans," said an alliance man. "Not so," replied a republican, "it may have been the outcry against the McKinley bill. Wait till its operations begin to affect business, and you will find it the best tariff law we have ever had."

A surprise party was got up on Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hudson, Monday evening at the residence of their son-in-law, G. W. Phillips. About twenty of the family and friends were present and a very nice time was had. Jonas Welch and wife, J. E. North and wife and A. J. Arnold and wife were among the old friends who were present.

A story comes to us straight of a man (not necessary to say that he was not a republican) who, in speaking of the tariff, said it was a great question, it spread out wonderfully, he didn't understand it and he didn't believe there was one man in a hundred who talked about it that did understand it, but there is one thing, he said, "I do know and I wish it settled fast, and that is, the McKinley bill is just a—"

The racial who placed the tie on the track between Bellwood and the river a week ago last Sunday, has been arrested by a railroad detective, who has been on this vicinity for several days. Suspicion rested upon a young lad 17 years of age, who worked for Al Bouton all summer, and yesterday morning the detective went out into the corn field and commenced shucking with the lad, who in a short time revealed the secret, and was immediately placed under arrest. -Bellwood Gazette.

Besides the regular meetings of the county teachers' association, neighborhood meetings will be held at intervals to consider matters pertaining to school work. The first of these local meetings will be held at Palestine school house Saturday, Nov. 29th. The teachers of that locality will attend, and the county superintendent will call attention to certain points noted by him and the same discussed. The chief subject next Saturday will be the "development of language."

In May last, the general conference of the M. E. church directed the submission to the lay members of that church as delegates to the electoral and general conferences. All members of the church, 21 years of age or over, regardless of sex, were entitled to vote. In accordance with the call the voting took place here Saturday last at the church. While the votes cast were few, they were all in favor of the proposition.

Miss Lettie Jones, who had been teaching the public school at Duncan, closed the term the other day in an entertainment given by the pupils, at which she generally provided the little ones with a "treat" of candies and nuts. We learn that the children, in their recitations and songs entertained their visitors very agreeably. This was Miss Jones's third term in the district, where she is very well liked. Among the ladies present at the entertainment were Mrs. Witchey, Mrs. Barrett, Mrs. La-trop, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Schmeker and others whose names we did not learn. Miss Jones teaches next in the Blaser district.

Sunday evening in two of the churches of the city, the mice were unusually active—that is, one mouse in each of the churches referred to, at which the church members were particularly named. The proverbial church mouse is "poor." What these mice were we have not learned, but certain it is that the ladies of the choir of the churches, referred to, but not particularly mentioned, were considerably disturbed, and the solemn services were not sufficiently absorbing to make as might be expected, and the activity of the mice in the church mouse in the church.

On Saturday last Lorin Barum was 21 years of age and the consequence was that about noon Grandpa and Grandma Barum dropped in on him, accompanied by Mrs. G. S. Falgout, Miss Mrs. Barnhart and Miss Barnhart, all of Columbus, also Frank Proel of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kummer, Carl Olcott, Grand Olcott of Polk county, and Rev. J. C. Maxwell and wife of Bellwood. Of course, Mrs. Barum got a hint of the coming event a few days previous and on the arrival of the visitors had a banquet awaiting them, consisting of turkey, chicken, duck and in fact everything that a hungry man could desire. After dinner the party spent a few hours in pleasant conversation and to crown the event, presented the birthday cake to the citizens of the city at Fitzpatrick's hall, for Thursday evening next at 7 o'clock to consider the matter. Mr. Fitzpatrick generally donates the hall for the purpose. Let all turn out.

We noticed on October 4th, the day of the farmers' alliance rally here, that one of our business men had the courage and pluck to take a piece of chalk and mark in letters across his sidewalk, "Farmers' Alliance Store," and hung a banner indicating his sentiments on the front of his building. How did he know so long before the election that they were going to create such commotion, and work such a revolution in affairs? When we see the effect of the vote, we will be able to answer that question.

It is a fact that the fire at his place Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock destroyed his barn and sheds, two horses, two colts, two sets of double harness, some of single harness, his car, etc.; of a thousand bushels of oats, some were saved. The loss was probably not less than $1,200, with no insurance. The barn where the fire originated was forty feet long, and evidently it started somewhere in the middle of the building, and on the inside. The report that it had been from a pipe of Mr. Browner's is not true; he had not even been inside the barn for a month, and the man who tended the stable was not a smoker. The origin of the fire is not known at all. The neighbors turned out immediately, and there were more than a score on the premises within twenty minutes, and to them is due the fact that greater destruction was not done, as the ground was covered with very dry leaves to the depth of three inches, and the pump nearest the fire was too close to get at. It was very fortunate that the fire occurred in daylight, and when there was no wind to spread it.

H. S. Lathrop is one of Platte county's citizen farmers who has made a decided success raising small fruit, especially grapes. Ten years ago he set out a hundred grape vines, and three years thereafter about a thousand more, all Concord (which he finds the hardiest and best), the vines occupying not quite an acre of land. The first year, Mr. Lathrop was very careful to follow the prescribed methods of caring for the vines, especially during winter, but now they are very hardy, and receive only ordinary attention, but for several years past, he has been getting the benefit of his care and trouble. The past season he got 6,000 pounds of grapes, which at 4 cents a pound was $240 worth. During the season Borwick Bros., and Covert & Naylor disposed of sixty pounds a day each, regularly, while Ragatz & Co. were also supplied for sale. A ready home market was found for all the product. Besides the grapes, Mr. Lathrop has also made a success of raspberries (the Red Turner variety) and the Suider blackberries. Last year, too, he had some very fine, large peaches and apples which measured twelve inches in circumference. There is no doubt about fruit raising, when the right man gets at it.

Review of the weather near Genoa for the month of October, 1908. Mean temperature of the month 50.41; mean of each month last year 50.10; highest temperature on the 24 60.0; lowest do do do 32.0; clear days 12; fair do do do 10; cloudy do do do 10; calm days 14; number of days in which rain fell 12; for same month last year 12.5; prevailing wind NW to NE by N. S. on 13th, 16th, 17th, 19th, 26th, 27th, 28th, the last day 1/4 inch thick. Fog 24 and 25th. Thunder winds NW to NE on the 6th and 7th. The first ice last year was on the 6th of October, this year the first ice was on the 13th of September.

On the 6th day of November, 1908, I. Gluck of this city made the prediction that in 1992 Cleveland would be elected by the biggest majority any president ever had.

Mrs. J. N. Heaster is visiting her mother at St. Edward. Henry Zinnecker was at St. Edward two days last week. G. W. Clark of Humphrey was in the city Thursday on business. Mrs. G. W. Hulet and youngest son Nelson arrived in the city last Tuesday and are visiting with relatives. Mrs. G. W. Crotcher and family arrived in the city Tuesday of last week, after a several months' sojourn in Canada. Miss Eva McKean on her way to Spokane Falls, Wednesday, stopped a short time with Mr. and Mrs. A. Covert. Leo Borwick went to Duncan yesterday to be present at the commemoration of the anniversary day of his father's birth. Rev. Joel Warner, a Methodist preacher here in 1867, now a minister in the Presbyterian church, was a Columbus visitor Monday.

Mrs. Barclay Lamb and daughter Jennie of Fullerton, and grandpa Hays of this city, made The Journal office a pleasant business call Friday. Mrs. Benj. Moore and Miss Alice George of Perry, Ia., returned home Monday after a few days visit with The Journal families of Turner's. Samuel Weddell and G. W. Kibler of Leigh were in town Monday. Mr. K. sports a sore hand, but that doesn't interfere with his selling sewing machines. Rev. Samuel Goodale and wife have arrived in the city and will stay till about the 18th of the month, when they expect to start for Florida for a sojourn during the winter.

W. H. Chisem of South Dakota and Gilbert McCreath of Akron, Ia., were in the city yesterday morning, on their way to their homes, from a sojourn in the west—Washington and Oregon. They are very much pleased with that country in every respect, and purpose locating there. Mr. Chisem's foreman here is Mr. John Layne, and there is no doubt but he rushes work just as fast and as good as materials and weather will permit. It is a pleasure to see him parading his forces, having sight of nothing calculated to save time and push work.

Winter weather. About two inches of snow fell here Saturday. Corn husking is in full blast in this neighborhood; the crop is yielding from 1 to 25 bushels per acre. Henry Omsom returned home last week from a two months' visit to his old home in Washburn, Ia. Mrs. E. Omsom is sojourning with friends and relatives in New York. The Woodville literary society was re-organized last Wednesday night, electing J. E. Dress as president. S. J. Peterson was in South Omaha one day last week with a car of hogs; he found the market "way off," realizing but $185 a hundred. Grandpa Agar spent last week with his daughter, Mrs. Thos. Connor, near your city.

We ask your readers to bear with us this week for any lack of news or errors that may occur. We are feeling sad and dejected. The cause of our feeling thus, is the result of last Tuesday's election. We feel like our bird loons, accompanying these items—rather down our nose. "Our engraver happened to cut when this letter was set up, so that we could not picture his feelings. -Ed. JOURNAL.
