IN THE EAST.

THE socialist strikers at Scottdale, Pa., did not hold a mass meeting Sunday, as projected, but held a delegate convention instead, attended by 100 ardent supporters. Jones and Delaber delivered speeches of the usual stripe. Jones, in speaking of the "coming revolution," said: "Bloodshed is not necessary, but should the Pinkertons attack you with guns, you know what to do." There will be another vigorous attempt to start the idle coke works, and that with numerous evictions will doubtless make a lively time. At present everything is
