

A. & N. TIME TABLE

Table with columns: From, To, Class, Fare. Lists routes between Columbus and Lincoln.

UNION PACIFIC TIME-TABLE

Table with columns: From, To, Class, Fare. Lists routes between Columbus and Lincoln.

FOR ALBION AND CEDAR RAPIDS

Table with columns: From, To, Class, Fare. Lists routes between Columbus and Cedar Rapids.

Society Notices

LEBANON LODGE No. 56, A. F. & A. M. ... M. H. White, Sec'y.

WILDEY LODGE No. 14, I. O. O. F. ... M. H. White, Sec'y.

ROBORGANIZED CHURCH OF LATTER-DAY ... Elder H. J. Hudson, President.

Until further notice, all advertisements under this heading will be charged at the rate of five cents a line each issue.

Dr. Nauman, dentist, 11th st. 9-11 ... Come to THE JOURNAL for job work.

Buy the kids new suits at Galley Bros.

Oil cake and rock salt at Rasmussen's.

Born, June 23d, to Mrs. Frank Taylor, a son.

Born, June 23d, to Mrs. Fred Haueter, a daughter.

Old newspapers by the hundred, 25 cents at the JOURNAL OFFICE.

The Platte river is quite high and somewhat dangerous to cross.

The first baby born in the city. Call on and see them. F. W. Herrick.

Dr. T. R. Clark, successor to Dr. Schleg, Olive st. in office at nights.

We understand Dr. Hanchett is starting a branch office in Schuyler.

Books, Toys, Pianos, Organs, Sewing Machines, E. D. Fitzpatrick, 13th st.

The Baby Brass Band didn't show Saturday evening, for lack of patronage.

Go to Ed. J. Niewohner for fine watch repairing—sign of the Big Watch.

A game of ball Sunday, 22 to 21, in favor of Punkin Ridge against Columbus.

Gerhard Loeske was in town Monday with his crop of wool—two thousand pounds.

Mrs. O. L. Baker was the first twin girl born in Omaha, and probably the first in the state.

D. B. Duffy, Schuyler, Neb., will do your house-keeping, in good shape and at reasonable prices.

Insure your property with North & Chambers. They will place your policy with the best companies.

A number of families, numbering in all about forty persons, spent Sunday at H. J. Hendry's grove, Osceola.

The celebrated Quick-Meal, and Monarch gasoline stoves, the best in the market. For sale by A. Boettcher. 4th.

J. D. Stires has traded four small tracts of Nebraska land for a thousand acres in the mineral belt of Georgia.

Quarantine has been established at the home of Wm. Burke, whose young daughter is afflicted with diphtheria.

The Baptist Sunday school will have a picnic in W. A. Way's grove, south of the river, tomorrow, Thursday.

The Maennerchor orchestra will give a dance at the Maennerchor hall the evening of July 4th. Everybody invited.

There will be a big picnic in A. W. Clark's grove about four miles northeast of the city on the 4th of July, we understand.

The creamery shipped a car load of butter to New York last week. Columbus creamery butter commands good prices all around.

L. M. Saley, at one picking the first of the week, gathered from a space equal to 400 square feet, 100 quarts of splendid, large strawberries.

Be sure to renew your insurance with North & Chambers. They will, in all respects, deal fairly by you, and protect your interests.

Ber. O. A. Elliott, Presbyterian pastor, here, has had the degree of Doctor of Philosophy conferred upon him by the University of Omaha.

Anybody prepared to furnish some well cured netting, hauled or loosed, please call on Wm. Becker, in Becker block, east Thirtieth street.

We are now showing the choicest line of sample carpets in the city. Call and see us. Galley Bros.

Among the recent marriages are Frank Van Alstine to Miss Nettie Donnan; Wm. Rathbun to Miss Mary Wolford; John von Bergan to Mrs. Alma Kallweit; Henry Ripp to Johanna Liebzig.

For Harrison wagons and Courtland spring wagons and buggies, call on J. A. Gutzmer, opposite Doty's drug store. He is sure to satisfy you in price and quality.

We have just received our spring stock of parasols and umbrellas, the best line in the city, at Galley Bros.

House and lot, with good barn and other out houses, for sale cheap for cash. Smith's addition. Inquire at Arnold E. Mohler's real estate office at THE JOURNAL OFFICE.

The ladies of the Baptist church give a lawn sociable this (Wednesday) evening at the residence of J. S. Hatfield, and a picnic Thursday, at Rieky's ranch, south of the river.

We have just put in a fine line of sideboards, business desks and parlor cabinets and millinarian furniture, also some of the latest novelties in picture frame mouldings. F. W. Herrick.

Bring your job printing to THE JOURNAL OFFICE. We have excellent material, nice type to do work with, and the best of new job presses. Work done as promised, and satisfaction guaranteed.

Clothing! Clothing! Call and see our new spring styles, the largest stock in the city, and the prices the lowest, at Galley Bros.

Miss Stella Morrison is stenographer at the office of the head clerk of the Modern Woodmen of America at Fulton, Ill. The banker believes that $1,000,000 will be received and disbursed by the order this year.

The Telegram correspondent was somewhat mistaken in stating in last Friday's issue of the daily that Miss Alice Watkins had given a party to her friends, as no such thing occurred to the knowledge of that person.

Mellie, the four years old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kudrna, died at Schuyler June 17th of diphtheria. Two more of Mr. K's children are down with the disease, and his wife is sick, work with watching, says the Sun.

Wednesday evening about 5 o'clock Bartholomew Bogus, a farmer eight miles southwest of Humphrey, in Burrows township, was struck by lightning and instantly killed; his team was also struck and killed at the same time.

A letter received from G. W. Turner (with the Wild West show), says that he leaves Omaha, June 30, with a business $20,000 clear, going to Arizona, and from there to Los Angeles, where they expected to show Saturday last.

Columbus must certainly take the lead with regard to mechanics. The fixtures of a gun were sent all the way from Baker City, Oregon, to J. H. Miles of this city to be stocked, with more to follow as soon as that one was returned.

The Grand Pacific Hotel, corner of Olive and Tenth streets, is now open for the accommodation of the public, J. W. Jenkins, proprietor. The house has been thoroughly overhauled and refitted, and will be conducted in first-class style in every respect.

THE JOURNAL neglected to mention last week that one of the most interesting features of the K. P. services Sunday week was the recitation by little Florence Kramer, who prepared her part on a day's notice, taking the place of her elder sister Vera, who was sick.

An old stage giving the following as, in his opinion, a portion of the independent county ticket: Sheriff, Eli Henderson; clerk of the court, W. Saunders; county clerk, Fred Jewell; county judge, J. S. Freeman; he couldn't pick out the candidates for treasurer.

The Omaha Bee says: "Columbus is one of the solid interior cities of Nebraska. It has never had an unhealthy boom, but enjoys a steady growth and complemently looks into a promising future. Columbus will always hold her place among the thriving cities of the state."

Mr. James Bell and his daughter Maud, will leave for the east the first of the week. They will visit friends in New York and Canada for a few weeks, after which they will probably sail for Ireland.

Julius Rasmussen, one of the pioneer merchants of Columbus, was in the city Monday—(David City Press).

Among those who went to Genoa to attend the commencement exercises Friday evening, were Judge and Miss Nellie Post, J. H. Galley and Walter Philip. Mrs. Charles Pollock, Misses Mary Bremer and Emma Wake and Mrs. J. C. Echols. Miss Maud Winterbottom, well known in Columbus, was in the class of graduates.

Those who went down to Schuyler Sunday to attend the K. of P. memorial services were Carl Kramer, W. B. Dale, George Spear, W. A. McAllister, Maurice A. Mayer, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Baker and children and Martha Turner. Carl Kramer was the orator of the occasion, and made an excellent address.

Wm. Hagel, sr., accompanied by his son Paul, went to Omaha Tuesday last, where the latter was placed under the care of an oculist. He is totally blind of one eye, and hopes by an operation on the other to be considerably benefited.

When he was small, one eye was injured by being struck with a knife, the other was a needle. A glass covering has been placed on the sightless eye. The young man is twenty-one years old.

Byron Dieffenbach shortly goes to take charge of the Fort Belknap (Montana) Indian school as superintendent, at a salary of $1000 a year, with Mrs. D. as seamstress, at $300 a year. They were engaged in responsible positions at the Genoa school, and we all regret to see them leave this part of the country.

S. C. Bissinger, a civil service clerk from Washington, takes Mr. Dieffenbach's place at Genoa.

Herna Loecke met with an accident Monday forenoon about half past ten that very fortunately was no worse. Something gave way on a seeder on which he was sitting and let him down, frightening his team, which ran off, dragging him quite a distance. He was considerably bruised, and suffered a comminuted fracture of the left leg above the ankle. Drs. Stillman and Evans were called, who dressed his wounds. Mr. Loecke's very many friends will be glad to learn that he is not dangerously hurt.

I. C. N. E. A. of U. S. Agents for International Convention National Educational Association of the United States which will meet at Toronto, Canada, July 14th to 17th. For this occasion the Union Pacific will sell tickets from all coupon stations to Toronto at one fare for the round trip. Plus $2.00 membership fee.

See that your tickets read via the Union Pacific.

Call on or write to me for particulars. J. R. McNEAMEN, Agent Union Pacific System.

Dr. T. R. Clark was in Genoa Thursday. J. M. Goodring was at Central City Friday.

George P. Moore, the boomer, was in town Friday. C. W. Hollingshead of Monroe was in town Monday.

P. H. Kelly was among Columbus visitors Thursday.

Miss Lena Gietzen went to Central City last Saturday.

B. F. Chambers of Niobrara has been visiting his son E. H.

Phillip Dieffenbach called at these headquarters Thursday.

George Turner started Saturday for his home in Vancouver, B. C.

U. von Bergen of Grand Prairie, visited his brother Emil Saturday.

Sup't. A. B. Hughes of the Schuyler schools was in town Wednesday.

Miss Stella Becher came up from Omaha Monday to visit relatives.

George W. Hulst and son have gone to their home at Rapid City, S. D.

Ralph Boyd will spend his vacation with the family of George Truman.

A. W. Ladd, editor of the Albion Argus, was a Columbus visitor Wednesday.

Ed. Grabanz, the miller and flour merchant of Creston, was in town Saturday.

Misses Kitty and Alice Cowdry of Lincoln are visiting friends in the city.

PERSONAL

For a number of years a few have been trying to form an "old settlers organization," but there were not enough took interest in it to make a success until a few months ago, when such a society was started, and now has one hundred and eighteen members, including children and grandchildren, all from parents who have lived here over thirty years.

It was this crowd that assembled at the opera house last Thursday for supper, and an evening of sociality, to review the times when they "lived on cucumbers and sourd cornmeal, and slept under a wagon bed for a covering."

After a bounteous repast was served the tables were cleared and a number of short speeches were enjoyed. C. A. Speice first introduced Guy C. Barnum, who has lived here thirty-one years.

He said: "We have been separated so long that there is a feeling we have grown from, each other; we scarcely look each other in the face, but I feel akin to you all." And with some reminiscences of the times when the Indians were so plentiful as they are scarce now, he finished with a blessing for all the old settlers.

Mr. Speice then introduced Leander Gerrard, who he said, had always had a desire to be a big speaker or lawyer, and who came to this county thirty-five years ago.

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

Mr. Gerrard said he did not see why we should call ourselves the old settlers for long before any of us were born, three hundred years ago, a lot of Spaniards came up from Mexico, and found a city where ours now stands, that was larger than Omaha is today. He told of first coming out to Omaha, how he went with a party of others to locate Fremont, what they called then a "steep fire."

FROM CALIFORNIA.

The Nebraska Colony in the Land of Sunshine and Flowers.

Ed. JOHNSON.—In your issue of May 20th, I read with pleasure a communication from James H. Hudson who has recently come to this state from Nebraska also an interview with Wm. Terrell regarding a number of Columbus people that I had not heard of for some time, and his travels in Washington and Colorado. I hope to make this letter as interesting to you and your readers as the ones noted above were to me.

First I will try to tell you about your old friends from Columbus that live in National City and vicinity, and later on about those living in other places in this state.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Mullen are having good health and are getting along quite well. Their daughter Mammie is married to a Mr. Charles Hard who is head clerk in a San Diego clothing store; they have one child, Fred, and James Mullen are employed in an irrigating pipe manufacturing which employs about fifty men.

Sam W. Smith, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Mullen, lived in Columbus a number of years ago but was more recently from Grand Island, follows his trade of house and sign painting. His family are in good health and are delighted with southern California.

John G. Bontzon is manager of Mrs. Dr. Potts' sanitarium, is one of our city trustees, and also does real estate and insurance. His family are all doing fine.

L. D. Clark, wife and daughter are well, and Lorenzo still trades horses, real estate, etc.

Mr. Wm. Liscoe, who lived across the Loup near Barrum's place, is ranching on a small scale—just to keep busy. His son Emma Liscoe is teaching in our city schools, and Miss Bell Liscoe has a good school about four miles from here.

M. E. Phinney has a nursery in the Sweetwater valley about four miles away. His wife was a Lincoln young lady. His father is with him at present. No doubt there are some Columbus people who still remember a family by the name of Bridges that lived there a number of years ago. One of the daughters, Miss Alice Bridges, is married to a Mr. Wm. Buser, an engineer, and they recently moved here.

George B. Smith is still in the printing business—with the National City Record. He is married and has a boy two years old.

Chap. D. D. Wadsworth and family are in San Diego keeping a hotel. His daughter Mate is married to a Mr. Griffin who has a fine ranch in the famous San Louis Rey Valley, some 45 miles north of San Diego.

Miss Amy Stevens married a Mr. Wm. Bryson and they live in San Diego. F. H. Zechel, at one time an agent at Columbus and later on was agent at Schuyler for several years, has a fine ranch near San Diego which he is improving.

Sam'l. C. Smith lives at Carlsbad, with his wife (nee Louise Lehman) and son Elmer. His oldest daughter, Mrs. J. E. Becher, still resides in Columbus. Mr. James E. Davis, who married Miss Nellie Smith, is the station agent at Fullerton, Orange county, California.

Mr. G. Schutte and family live at Carlsbad, where they have one of the finest country homes in this county. His oldest daughter Alma married a Mr. Longenbaugh and they live in San Francisco.

Mrs. J. A. Frazier at one time lived in Columbus, and was the widow of Mr. Bart. Hunt. Mr. and Mrs. Frazier were the pioneers of Carlsbad.

Mr. Dan Place of Silver Creek, Mr. Hess of Duncan, and a few others from Nebraska have lived at Carlsbad at different times.

Jack Ellis is ranching near Encinitas, about thirty miles north of here, and is doing well.

Charles C. Huber left Columbus several years ago for the west and is now living at Turlock, Stanislaus county, California.

Returning to National City we have a number of people from different parts of Nebraska, viz: George W. Beer, maker and family, W. M. Davis, Waboo; George W. Deford and family (Albion); Stenger, of Columbus; Fred Kellogg, Bellwood; George Castiday, Grand Island, and W. T. Munger of Fremont.

Your correspondent has heard of numerous other Nebraska people in this country