An Omaha inquirer for employment informs us that it is rumored among the printers there that Columbus is coming to have another day. What are we coming to, anyway? Is the state not yet all enough of rumors concerning our beloved little city?

A good man and judge is William Marshall. Some republicans are going to vote for him and Sullivan; others for Marshall and Ewing; while others still will be for Marshall and Grimsom. We imagine there are very few who will vote for Marshall and Hollenbeck.

If I wanted to make the destruction of a child sure, I would give him unwatched liberty after dark. You cannot do a thing that will be so nearly a guarantee of a child's damnation as to let him have the liberty of the streets at night. - (Henry Ward Beecher.)

A. A. Shoemaker of Hermosa, S. D., was in the city a few hours between trains Saturday, on his way to Grand Island. Mr. S. lived here thirty years ago, his father going to the war from this city. He said he had not been in Columbus before in eighteen years.

A meeting of the Platte Farmers' club will be held at Mrs. Lockhart's at 2 p. m., Friday, October 30th. Our informant could not give any of the topics except that William Lockhart is to speak on November work, while Mrs. D. D. Eickert presents "Current Events."

E. V. Clark of Genoa was in the city Monday on his way home from a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Lillie Ackerman of Grand Island, who has been seriously ill from the effects of the grippe. While there, he met a cousin, W. H. Miller, whom he had not seen for twenty years.

If you are troubled with rheumatism or a lame back, bind on over the neck of pain a piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm. You will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. 50 cent bottles for sale by C. E. Pollock & Co. and Dr. A. Heintz, druggists.

A farmer tells us that engine No. 355 on the U. P. branch between Columbus and Oonoon, on Tuesday of last week threw out sparks that set fire to a meadow, burning up one stack of hay for W. H. Randall, and unless for prompt hand fighting of the fire by farmers interested in saving their property, very much more damage might have been done.

Some break took, supposed to be a tramp, broke into W. T. Rickly's office Tuesday night, and exchanged his old clothes for a suit belonging to Frank Taylor. An old pocket book containing deeds, notes, receipts, etc., belonging to W. T. Rickly was also taken. They are of no use to anyone but will probably inconvenience Mr. Rickly some.

Rev. A. Heinrich arrived Friday last at Platte Center, from his eastern trip of five weeks and four days. He passed through eight states and Canada, preached fifteen times and made as many short addresses. He enjoyed himself meeting old friends everywhere, saw good things everywhere, but likes Nebraska the best of all.

In answer to invitations, twenty-two little ones assembled in the lawn at the residence of J. H. Galley, Friday evening to make merry the seventh anniversary of Master Willie's birthday. Choice refreshments were served and all will remember the occasion as a bright gem in memory's casket.

Died.

Brennan - At the residence near this city, Tuesday, Oct. 13, of typhoid fever, Alvina, wife of Albert Stinger, aged 28 years.

The deceased was a daughter of John Brugger, of Bismark twp. She contracted the disease from taking care of a sister, who recovered. The fever was of a very malignant type.

A husband and two small children (Katie, aged 4, and Oella, aged 2) are left to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother, while all her acquaintances will cherish her memory as that of a noble minded woman.

The funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church in this city, Friday, conducted by Rev. O. A. Elliott, assisted by Rev. Gutcheon, pastor of the German Lutheran church of Nebraska. The remains were interred in the Columbus cemetery, whither a long procession of relatives and friends followed.

Prof. F. W. Hess was in town Monday. He is probably as certain of election as any candidate could well be. The republicans have not placed any in nomination for county superintendent of schools, and it would be, in our opinion, a very serious mistake for any of them to make, to cast their ballot for Rothlighter, the democratic candidate, whose ability for conducting the affairs of the important office is not to be spoken of in comparison with that of Mr. Hess. THE JOURNAL does not believe in inconsiderate praise or disparage, and is perfectly candid in this expression of opinion as between the two candidates, both of opposing political parties.

We are in receipt of a letter from Consul J. W. Love at San Salvador, Central America, but not any of his contents are for publication. A communication of his to the Bee of Oct. 11, gives a very graphic description of the recent severe earthquake. In that, Mr. Love says that San Salvador has been totally destroyed by earthquake fourteen times, between 1538 and 1873. He tells the Bee readers that if a total destruction must occur, he "will be present and witness it." Better come to your quiet home in Nebraska, Mr. Love. Even a man of your very active temperament can get along very well without the excitement of an earthquake.

Last Thursday's Omaha Bee contained a dispatch from Nebraska City, regarding an old man named Darrow, who left that place for Nance county, and who had not been heard from for several weeks. The old man was taken up here by the police, after wandering aimlessly about for several days. He is hopelessly insane and is being held until advice can be received from North Platte, where he claims to have friends. His only act of violence so far, was the upsetting of the stove in the jail last Tuesday.

The residence of L. J. Baker was crowded last Tuesday evening, the occasion being a surprise party on Henry Zinnecker, who left Minneapolis, Minn., where he will study for foreign missionary work. A handsome bible was presented him by L. J. Baker, from friends and members of the M. E. church; also $15 from the earnest workers, of which society he was a prominent member. Henry has many friends here who wish him success in his new line of work.

Humphrey and the surrounding country are having a terrible time with diphtheria. There is scarcely a day passes, we are told, that does not take some one to their final resting place. The authorities should do all in their power to prevent the disease from spreading. Quarantining will do good, there is no doubt about that, and it is a court of trouble not to take all the precautions that reason and good common sense suggest.

Will L. Smith and Miss Anna Kelley, both of Monroe township, Platte county, were married at the home of the bride, Thursday, Oct. 15. Miss Kelley is one of Platte county's daughters, being raised here by her parents from childhood, and has warm friends wherever she is known. Mr. Smith is one of the most successful of the young farmers in this county, and all unite in wishing them the happiest of happy lives.

Dr. R. L. St. John of Howard, Putnam county, Missouri, takes especial pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, because he knows it to be reliable. He has used it in his practice for several years, and says there is no better. It is especially valuable for colds and as a preventive and cure for croup. This most excellent medicine is for sale by C. E. Pollock & Co. and Dr. A. Heintz, druggists.

As a preventive and cure for croup, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has no rival. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant and safe to take. There is not the least danger in giving it to children, as it contains no injurious substance. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by C. E. Pollock & Co. and Dr. A. Heintz, druggists.

The authorities should do all in their power to prevent the disease from spreading. Quarantining will do good, there is no doubt about that, and it is a court of trouble not to take all the precautions that reason and good common sense suggest.
