Echo from the Encampment.

A great many good things have been said about the hospitable treatment our citizens gave the delegates to the recent encampment. Among others we notice the following signed "Old Sarge," in the last Albion Argus:

I would like to let the people of Boone county know just what kind of a reception the delegates of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. received at the hands of the citizens of Columbus. When we arrived at Columbus there was a reception committee to look after the members of the W. R. C. and escort them to places of private families. The old comrades had that their wives with them lost them, and for two days could not find them.

I remember of an instance of one old comrade coming to me with tears in his eyes, saying that he could not find his wife. The two first letters of his name was W. B. Daniels. I tried to console the poor old chap and finally succeeded in getting him to smile. Now comes another old comrade, come looking for his wife. This was the noted brick maker; I believe his name is E. T. Farmer. I told the poor old fellow that their wives must certainly be all right or they would be around kicking.

But never a kick came. They were two old men, and I told them that they could afford. I did not see my wife for two days either, but I kept my eye open and after a while I saw her but I did not let the other old chaps know that I was looking after my wife, too. Nevertheless, boys, we were just a little bit tired that the old fellas had been beaten us out of our wives, wasn't we?

I for one can say that the citizens of Columbus did all in their power to make it agreeable. The mayor of the city, in his address of welcome, turned over the city to the G. A. R. and W. R. C.

Mr. H. C. Muller of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, in company with the Petersburg delegates, stopped at the Lindell hotel, kept by one of the grandest old comrades I ever met, and both he and his wife did all in their power to make our stay agreeable. He let us down for a dollar a day and gave us a first-class meal.

Elmer E. Davis, editor of the North Bend Star, has sold his interest in the Star to his partner, R. C. Smith. Elmer will henceforth do the editorial writing on the Columbus Telegram. Mrs. E. E. Davis and children will move to Schuyler and make their home here. Mr. Davis will spend his Sundays in Schuyler. A Columbus man who owns a farm near the Platte county line has been missing some 400 bushels of oats that had stored on his farm. They had been stolen systematically by some person or persons unknown. The missed oats have been traced through Richland to Schuyler but the identity of the party has not yet been obtained. Though the officials of Platte and Colfax counties have clews which will probably lead to the capture of the thieves.—[Schuyler Herald.]

The following from the Omaha World-Herald, refers to a former Columbus resident:

"John H. Henselman, a grocer at Twenty-seventh and Burt streets, was arrested yesterday and brought into police court charged with inhumanely treating his 14-year-old daughter Mary. The case was set for March 8. The case was first brought before President Chase in Albany, N. Y., who directed it to Chief Seavey and District Attorney Van Slyck to investigate. The detective learned that the grocer compelled the girl to do all the manual labor about the store and upon several occasions beat her unmercifully. His wife is alleged to be a partner in the abuse and a warrant is out for her arrest. What the grocer and his wife have to say in their defense has not developed.

"I have just recovered from a second attack of the grip this year," says Mr. James Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexia, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days, against ten days for the first attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy, as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being struck with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting 'down.'

Miss Alice Turner came home from Lindsay Saturday where she has been teaching the past three months.

Mr. and Mrs. McCay of Ocoee were in the city Wednesday. They will move to Oklahoma Ter. in a few weeks.

Miss Cannon goes to Columbus this week, having been called to the sick bed of an old Lottie Murdock.—[Genoa Leader.]

W. B. Albro returned last Thursday from his trip to Garfield county. He was much pleased with that part of the country.

My homestead of about 560 acres, three miles west of Columbus, was fully improved, 100 acres of good meadow and farm land on Shell Creek, 2½ miles from Platte Center, living.

320 acres within one mile and a quarter of Ocoee on the loop, with about 100 acres of young timber, 2000 for 300 head of cattle, a stone house and stable and about 50 acres broken all under fence—an extra good stock farm, being well watered.

My homestead of about 560 acres, three miles west of Columbus, was fully improved, 100 acres of good meadow, large brick house, large barns in the county, stables for 300 head of cattle and horses, five corn cribs, two large granaries, a large feed yard with living spring water in it, with ten self feeders, 100 feed boxes, 400 feet of shedding and tight board fence, the largest and dryest yard in the state of Nebraska.

320 acres on the table land 5 miles northwest of Columbus, under cultivation, good buildings and well improved, at 10 per cent in any point.

80 acres improved 3 miles northwest of Columbus, Section 4, Township 18, East 1/2 west, $2250 per acre.

320 acres of fine meadow land as there is in the state, 5 miles from my homestead farm, all under fence, and within 1 mile of Ocoee.

320 acres 4 miles west of Columbus, 80 acres under cultivation, 20 acres of timber, frame house and stable, all under fence, and having living water at $18.00 per acre.

160 acres in Nance county, 5 miles from Genoa, with 80 acres of young timber and 80 acres of good meadow land.

Torna, Cash. For further information call on the undersigned at my farm three miles west of Columbus.

Occidental Lodge No. 21, K. of P., of this city celebrated the 28th anniversary of the order in their castle hall Friday evening. Long tables were spread to which about a hundred Knights, their wives, daughters, sisters and sweethearts feasted on the luxuries of life. Toasts were responded to by Carl Kramer, W. A. McAllister, Prof. J. C. Kramer, Mrs. Dilworth of Hastings, and Rev. Turrill of Genoa. Those who attended pronounced the occasion a very enjoyable one.

Hon. John G. Higgins of Columbus accompanied by Mike Welch, the pioneer mail carrier between Columbus and Boone county, was in the city this week.... Miss Lucy Taylor of Columbus was in town this week the guest of Miss Enos Clother.... Mrs. Freidhoff of Columbus came up last Saturday to spend a few days visiting with friends at Grant institute, but was called home Sunday evening by a telegram announcing sickness in her family.—[Genoa Banner.]

Wattsville.

Roads are in terrible condition.

Our school closed Friday afternoon with quite a lengthy program. Miss Idie Price has taught a very successful term and we hope we may have her among us again.

You are required to answer said petition on or before Monday, the 8th instant.
