John Eusden has had his dwelling raised and a porch placed in front, the appearance of the premises is greatly improved.

At the warm weather comes along, and more water will be used, the question of increased supply will be interesting to the citizens and taxpayers of the city. It seems as though we might look forward to a summer when extra care must be taken in regard to cleanliness and a full supply of good, pure water.

Charles Osterman of Genoa, who has been under Dr. Clark's treatment for the liquor habit returned home Friday, free from the dreadful disease. Aside from a matter of business, Dr. Clark is doing royal work as a benefactor of his race. From our observation of patients we believe Clark's cure is better than Keely's.

The Humphrey Democrat says:

What is the use of electing men to represent the interests of this section at the county board, who have no more mind of their own than a new-born infant?

In the language of the latest song we might echo,

What's the use?

What's the use?

Mr. Democrat? Why not be a little more specific?

A fellow in Iowa has visited several farm houses, and under pretext of being a U. S. detective, has demanded to see alone, a young lady member of the family, saying that he had a warrant for her arrest for passing counterfeit money. The villain didn't succeed in making any arrest, at least accounts, and it will be well for him, if he does not wander over into Nebraska.

The Humphrey Democrat says:

The City's Debts.

The statement of the city's indebtedness as reported by the committee on finance, shows the water bonds redeemable in 1906 $25,000; Loup bridge bonds, redeemable in 1917, $30,000; Extension water bonds, redeemable in 1908, $10,000; Plate bridge bonds, 1909, $30,000, making the total bonded indebtedness $73,000. The floating indebtedness consists of warrants, outstanding and unredeemed, from 1874 to 1891 $5,063,64, more than half this amount is warrants of Mr. Democat. The resources consist of the taxes due and uncollected for the years 1873 to 1901 inclusive, $6,093,35, all of which, if collected, would pay outstanding warrants and leave a balance of $3,061.71.

Mr. Dech stated at Lindsay that he had been offered a big salary to stay at home and keep quiet, but that he proposed devoting his days to the cause he is advocating. He didn't tell who or what had offered him a big salary to keep quiet. A little exposition of such methods of influencing public opinion would go a much longer way with the people, than mere general assertions that call no particular person to question.

Monday morning three companies of the Twenty-first U. S. infantry, Col. Jewett commanding, passed through the city from Sidney route for Buffalo, N. Y., where they will be stationed. Captain Einstein and Captain Duncan, with whom Col. Meagher of this city served, in this same regiment, twenty-five to thirty years ago, were with the troops having been on the plains about thirty years. Captain Duncan was born at Fort Concho, and has never been stationed east of the Missouri river. Fred Conner, a former resident of this city, and son of H. D. Conner, was with the troops, and a member of their regimental band. He was looking in excellent health.

R. L. Rosier returned Friday from a sojourn at Lindsay, where he was engaged in laying out the Howard road.

He says crops in that section are backward, and the day he left saw him go to the west.

A little exposure of such methods of influencing public opinion would go a much longer way with the people, than mere general assertions that call no particular person to question.

The lower story of THE JOURNAL block is now for rent. It comprises two rooms, which can be separate or together to suit lease—entire floor, 21x32 feet—from Eleventh street to alley in the rear—a very suitable building for a wholesale or retail grocery, a general merchandise store, or an extensive laundry. It is located on one of the best business streets of Columbus, and faces the Union Pacific passenger depot.

The upper story is for rent.

The population of Columbus is about 3,500, and we would say at least one-half are troubled with some affection of the throat and lungs, as those complaints are, according to statistics, more numerous than others. We would advise all our readers not to neglect the opportunity to call on their druggist and get a bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs. Trial size free. Large bottles, 50¢ and $1. Sold by all druggists.
